ALDRIDGE FINED.

Editor Aldridge of the Prineville News, was in Judge Deady's court this morning to answer to the charge of sending obscene literature through the mails. The article in question was carefully read and thoroughly dissected by Judge Deady. A part of the matter the court held to be not obscene, but the second count was obscene. It was language not fit for use in any way, or upon any occasion. It was vile, very vile, and we are surprised and pained to know that any newspaper man would publish such and thereby degrade and lower this, one of the grandest professions among all of the callings. After summing the matter up, the court ordered the defendant to stand up and a fine of $50 was imposed. This was certainly lenient on the part of Judge Deady. —Daily Dispatch.

THE GUN CLUB.

The regular monthly shoot for the diamond medal was held in Rosedale shooting grounds yesterday afternoon and the highest score was made by C. D. Gabrielson. This is the second time he has won the medal and he has to win it only six times more and it is his. Hereafter the medal shoot will be held every two weeks, instead of every month. The following is the score of yesterday's contest, being made on a possible twenty-five: La Follet, 14; Harrit, 20; Bent Jones, 19; Turner, 19; Howe, 7 out of 15; Gabrielson, 21; W. L. Jones, 16; Steeves, 15.

INJUNCTION DENIED.

Before Circuit Judge Geo. H. Burnett the injunction suit of Geo. D. Goodhue et al. vs. James McCourt et al. was argued and submitted and after having considered the arguments the judge denied the preliminary injunction prayed for. This injunction concerns the title to the Goodhue gravel beds on the island and the injunction was to perpetually enjoin James McCourt et al. from taking gravel from these beds.

CLEARING UP.

Howard & Son are busy clearing off the Adolph lot from which the buildings were burned last week. The rear part, which is still in fair shape, will be moved back, and the front part will be torn out. Work on the new brick will begin at an early date.

SUPREME COURT.

SALEM, July 12, 1892.

R. H. Morrow, of Portland, was appointed supreme court reporter. On motion E. P. Maroon was admitted upon certificate from the supreme court of Minnesota to practice in all the courts of this state.

All unfinished business in the supreme court will be continued until the October term, 1892.

Court adjourned sine die for this term.

At the Institute.

The work at the East Salem school is progressing without much of an unusual character, and a good program is being given from day to day. The following divisions have been adopted:

1st—The advanced—give special attention to those branches required in the examination for state diplomas.

2d—A department and class for the benefit of teachers holding first and second grade county certificates.

3d—A class for teachers holding third grade county certificates and those persons who expect to enter the examination in August.

A few more are being registered from day to day and the work is progressing finely, although a few of the teachers from the country think it would better subserve the interests of the county to give more attention to their particular line of work.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Salem Grange is 19 years old.

Mrs. William Sargent has gone to Silver Creek falls for a short visit.

Miss Batchelor is visiting Miss Fannie Reed at Knights.

Gov. Penoyer went to his Portland home today.

Mrs. Robert Evans of Portland is visiting at the home of Mrs. J. C. Smith.

Geo. Cline, civil engineer and surveyor, of Woodburn, visited City Surveyor Culver today.

Dr. Jessup went to Portland on a business trip today.

Johnnie Veatch of State street, is ill at his home on Marion street.

Mrs. Burze, of East Portland, who has been the guest of Mrs. Jay C. Smith returned home today.

The county clerk's office is being supplied with a fine new floor linoleum.

John McLaughlin, a prominent manufacturer from New York state, is the guest of Mayor D'Arcy.

Condon again has a lawyer. His name is George Goods, and he is from the city of Salem.—Fossil Journal.

Thos. Holman and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lunn left yesterday for a summer outing at Astoria.

O. H. Osburn and wife, of Brush Creek, Iowa, are in the city on a tour of the Pacific Northwest. They are the guests of T. A. King in Yew Park. They will remain until Friday.

FROM SODAVILLE.

SODAVILLE, Ore., July 12, 1892.

A fine shower first of the week made everything look fresh and everybody feel well.

Eighteen tents are now pitched in our town and others coming daily. The summer houses are also filled with resorters and health seekers.

The annual camping of the Free Methodists has begun. A large attendance is expected.

Considerable real estate is changing hands here as people are preparing to make homes here on account of the water and the new high school being built here.

Several hundred visitors were seen on our streets last Sunday. The Soda spring has great attractions.

A force of eight carpenters are working on the seminary as it must be finished and ready for school by September 5th. Prof. L. Barzee, who is the founder of this institution of learning, has sold a half interest to Prof. W. M. Brown, now of this county, but lately of Kansas. Prof. Barzee and Brown are young men of good education and untiring, ceaseless workers in educational matters.

Recommend Royal Exclusively.

The State Chemist of California, Prof. Rising; the San Francisco Board of Health; Prof. Wenzell, of the University of California; Dr. McGowan, health officer of Los Angeles, unanimously commend in their reports the great qualities of the Royal Baking Powder, which they agree is the highest in strength, the purest in quality of any of the baking compounds in the market. They recommend its use exclusively.

DIED.

SPANIOL.—Wednesday morning July 13th, 1892, of typhoid fever, John P. Spaniol, aged 28 years.

The deceased came to Salem from St. Paul, Minn., about three months ago, and opened a merchant tailoring establishment, which was burned out last week. He was ill at the time of the fire, and has since grown worse until death came to his relief this morning. The father of deceased is here from Stayton and will look after the funeral. The body will be buried at Sublimity tomorrow, beside deceased's mother, who was buried a month ago. A grief-stricken mother and two small children survive to mourn his death.

"Puzzled the Doctors."

MOST of the cases cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla have been given up by the regular practice. Physicians are recommending this medicine more and more, and with satisfactory results.

E. M. Sargent, Lowell, Mass., says: "Several years ago, my daughter was afflicted with large sores on her hands, face, and other parts of her body. The case puzzled the doctors. My daughter used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it resulted in a complete cure. Her blood seems to have been thoroughly purified, as she has never had so much as a pimple since taking this medicine."

"This is to certify that after having been sick for twelve years with kidney disease and general debility, and having been treated by several physicians without relief, I am now better in every respect, and think I am nearly well, having taken seven bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Maria Ludvigson, Albert Lea, Minn.

CRAZY WHILE AT WORK.

A Railroad Worker Violently Injures Himself.

Today at noon, S. N. Carter, who has been working on the electric extension on State street, took his dinner under state ground trees as usual, and then took a nap. From his slumbers he was suddenly awakened, in a wild and raving condition. He immediately started for the tools, and attempted violence on his fellow workmen. He was overpowered by several men and taken to the court house for examination. Mr. Carter has a home near the poor farm, and a wife and four children. He has lived in Salem for many years, and had been committed to the asylum about five years ago, but remained there only a few days.

COURT REPORTER APPOINTED.

R. G. Morrow, of Portland, was yesterday appointed official reporter for the Oregon supreme court. He has been in practice for about five years, is a son of the late Geo. Morrow, of the U. S. A., and was recommended by some of the best men of the state bar. Mr. Morrow is a bright young man, and said to be peculiarly fitted for the duties of reporter.

A Point for You.

In view of what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others, is it not reasonable to suppose that it will be of benefit to you? For scrofula, salt rheum, and all other diseases of the blood, for dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, catarrh, malaria, rheumatism, Hood's Sarsaparilla is an unequalled remedy.

On the Wrong Track.

He—Congratulate me, Miss Bella. In a few days Miss Goldthwaite will be mine.

She—I am glad to hear it; but I didn't know you were—

He—Of course you didn't, nor any one else. Didn't want any competition, see? But it's all fixed now. She'll be worth ten thousand a year to me.

She—Really? The name's unfamiliar. New York family?

He—No; Kentucky family, and one of the best. Sired by Bang Up, dam Queen Elizabeth—why you must remember her. She made 2:13 last season and not half trained at that.

She—Oh, I thought you were speaking of a marriage engagement.

He—Now, Miss Bella, that's a pretty hard. I know I spend half my time in the stable, but that's no reason you should take me for an ass.—Life.

Dangers of a Meat Diet.

The evils of a meat diet are being appreciated by many high livers in cities, and these are being counteracted partly by the wealthy in adding more fruits and vegetables to their tables during the winter. The cheapness of meat and a peculiar craving which the system seems to have for meat have gradually made it common for city people to live almost entirely off meat in the winter months.

Meat is eaten three times a day in quantities, and the excessive use of such a diet is that rheumatic and gout temperaments are acquired. These temperaments are on the increase, and they are largely due to the excessive use of meat. Lime-water counteracts the evils of this diet to a large extent.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Eagle as a Symbol.

In Europe there are still the eagles of Austria, Russia and Germany, besides others pertaining to minor principalities. An able writer remarks that "owing to the restoration of the western empire during the rub of the Byzantine Caesars the world has never since the time of Augustus been without one or two emperors of the Romans. The present Austrian emperor, though holding scarcely a province of Adria's, is the direct successor of Charlemagne, who was crowned in Rome, emperor of the Romans, the sixty-ninth from Augustus." The czar of Russia bears the double headed eagle, which was assumed by the Grand Duke Ivan Basilovitch, who in 1472 married Sophia, daughter of Thomas Paleologus and niece of the last emperor of Byzantium, Constantine XIV.

The German emperor reigns over some Roman provinces and bears a single headed eagle with the crown of Charlemagne. The single headed eagle, assumed with the imperial title by the first Napoleon Bonaparte, sets forth the union of the whole Roman empire as the traditional aim of his family. All this strikingly harmonizes with the admitted fact of the continuance of the present time, though in a divided state, of the Roman empire, and suggests thoughts as to what may be the ultimate meaning of the words, "Whosoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together."—Westminster Review.

Real Musk.

Musk—that is, the genuine grain from the musk deer—is now worth its weight in gold, so rare has it become, the wild eyed little animal from which it is obtained having been very nearly exterminated from its Asiatic haunts. A full grown musk deer will yield about an ounce of the grains, which are found in a sac in the skin of its abdomen. The grains are no larger than a pea, and some of them are as small as a pin's head. The musk is sold in the market in the pods or sacs in which it is found, but is frequently adulterated. So many of the deer have been killed before reaching maturity that the average musk bag imported, either Chinese or Russian, will not exceed half an ounce in weight.

The adulteration of musk is made possible by the use of a seed known as the musk seed. It grows in India. The Chinese musk is prized the most but is more open to suspicion than the Russian, which is seldom found with the sac broken. There are many artificial musks, and our common muskrat yields a pod that is the only near approach to the genuine imported musk.—Interview in New York Evening Sun.
