MORE ABOUT WILSON.
The Murderer a Greater Enigma
Than Ever.

Wilson, the murderer, demon, fiend, monster, lunatic, or call him what you will, is still a subject of public interest. Probably no person of so little consequence as a member of the human family ever before created so much talk and interest, and it is with reluctance that the JOURNAL fills space with his babblings. Sunday he was very talka-tive, but since then has been in a semi-comatose or dumb state, staring constantly at whatever meets his gaze. Sunday evening he asked to have handcuffs put back onto his hands, as he felt a spell coming on, and feared he might hurt the man in attendance.

A letter was received for him from his sister, Mrs. Lucy McMurray at Tacoma, which he has heard read with little interest. This sister he claims has been insane, and she speaks in her letter of getting better.
She also refers to "our fallings" in a way that would indicate their ailments were of a like character. She also hopes he may be freed from his "fits of melancholy."

Yesterday morning he felt a little better, and after seeing some visitors and sobbing like a child for a while, he said to the attendant, "Now you can ask me anything you want to, before I go back to mule-town." Speaking of the Walsh murder, he said: "Did you ever have a dream of being killed or of killing somebody?"

"Well, that's just the way the Mamie Walsh affair comes to my mind now."

A few days since he got the date of Mrs. Scott's murder from a JOUR-NAL reporter, and yesterday morning surprised his attendant by giving the exact date, although he then claimed to know nothing of who committed the crime. Many disinterested citizens who at first wanted to see the man meet his dues at once, now think it better to wait, both to learn how much he knows and how little he knows.

MISS ASHBAUGH DEAD.—Foreman Ashbaugh, of the state printing office, has been at Dallas the past few days, where his sister, Miss Ella Ash-baugh, died Sunday morning. The funeral was held yesterday, and was largely attended. The deceased was at one time a compositor on the JOURNAL, and has many friends in this city, who mourn her death.

TO THE ASYLUM.—Deputy Sheriff John N. Hoffman came down on the afternoon train yesterday from Linn county with a patient for the insane asylum named Antone Fleischer. His age is 63 and his native country Germany. His attack of insanity has lasted three years.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.—The appointments of the following notaries public were made yesterday by the governor: D. J. Holmes, Salem; O. P. Coshaw, Jr., McMinnville; Fred A. Daly, Thomas Ward, Portland; A. Taylor, Lewistown, Polk county.

THE FACTORY UNDER WAY.

Buildings Going Up for the Soap Factory—Machinery Coming.

A brief visit to the site of newly projected soap factory on Ferry and 13th streets will convince any one that Joseph Kuerton, the proprietor, not only means business, but that he is pushing the enterprise ahead on a grander scale than was anticipated by the most sanguine. A corps of carpenters are at work, who are now converting the old warehouse on the front of the lot into a two story building 24x65 feet, which will embrace the office, store-room and cutting room. At the rear of this will be erected a three story portion 24x65, which will be the factory proper. At the east side of the front building there will be a one story part 20x65 feet to be used for the box factory to be run in connection with the soap works. At the rear will be the engine and boiler room. A twenty-horse boiler will be put in to supply steam for a fifteen-horse engine and for boiling purposes. These have already been ordered, as also four Dopp's patent mixers from Buffalo, N. Y. The main kettle has a capacity of 50,000 pounds daily. It is 11 feet deep by 9 feet diameter, and it will be here today. This is to be filled with steam coils for rapid boiling. Three cocconut and vegetable oil remelters of 600 gallons capacity each are also on the way.
Five immense lye tanks will be connected with the steam. The moulds, dies, presses etc., for manufacturing toilet soaps, are coming from Childs & Co., of Chicago, which Mr. Kuerton says are of the finest known to the business. A variety of other machinery and apparatus will be necessary, much of which will be manufactured in Salem.
Everything put in is to be strictly first-class, and when completed the Salem soap factory will rank second in capacity on the Pacific coast.

Mr. Kuerton is already buying tallow and is prepared to contract for all that can be had. His chemicals will be bought in large bulk, some of which he will import direct from England. He expects to have everything in running order by Aug. 15th or Sept. 1st, and hopes to be able to make up a fine exhibit of soap for the State fair.

Mr. Kuerton has had a life long experience at his trade. His family have been soap makers for generations, and his pride in the business will allow him to make only the best article that can be produced. Salem really is to be congratulated upon securing so competent a mechanic at the head of this new business enterprise.

SHASTA SCENERY.
Coaches Running Over Scenic Route to Mount Shasta.

A Sacramento paper states that travelers over the Shasta scenic route of the Southern Pacific company have been provided with two elegant observation cars, to be attached to the regular passenger trains running between Redding and Sisson.

The scenery along that stretch of the California & Oregon branch of the Southern Pacific's lines is admitted by all who have traveled over the road to be the grandest and most picturesque on the Coast. That portion of the route between the Sacramento valley and Oregon is traversed by daylight, and while it is a grand ride under ordinary conditions, still it has determined that tourists shall be enabled to enjoy it under the most favorable circumstances.

A few weeks ago an order was received by H. J. Small, superintendent of motive power and machinery, Sacramento, for the construction of two comfortable observation cars, to be attached to the trains over the Shasta division. In the construction of these cars neatness and the comfort of passengers have been considered more than mere elegance. The finish is plain, and there is no upholstery of any description employed. Each car is 50 feet long, and has five openings on each side. These openings are about eight feet long, so that every passenger in the car will have an unobstructed view of the beautiful scenery along the route.

Sinola and Siskiyou counties are becoming favorite points of travel among tourists, while the many summer resorts in that region of natural grandeur are attracting great numbers of health-seekers and others.
The new tavern of Castle Craig, at Lower Soda Springs, on the bank of the Sacramento river, which was opened to guests only a few weeks since, is crowded to its utmost capacity.

AN ATTEMPT TO BURN.
Narrow Escape from Fire—Is it Incendiarism?

This morning unmistakable evidences were found of an attempt to burn the building in which Mrs.
Fleischer's millinery store and Mrs.
Ronco's ladies bath rooms are located. The building is on Court street, is owned by Leo Willis and is known as the old "Unitarian building." At the back end of the building there is a small hall, from which doors lead into both these business places. The outside doors have been removed, so, this stands open at all times. In this hallway two umbrellas stood in the corner. One of these was this morning found with the handle charred to coals, while the cloth covering was all consumed.
The floor was also somewhat charred under it. The umbrella had evidently been saturated with coal oil, and the floor is still stained with it. Oil was also poured under both the doors leading in, and on Mrs. Ronco's side two burned matches were found the door, showing evidences of an attempt to light it there also. Not over a pint of oil could have been used in all, but everything points plainly to the conclusion that it was an attempt to fire the place.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?
The police are investigating the matter very closely, as several other fires of late have looked rather suspicious. The only opinion that is ripe on the subject, is to the effect that some inmates of a fancy house near by, may know something of it.
During the past week a petition has been signed by some neighborhood people to have their place declared a nuisance and closed up. This the inmates resent severely, and have threatened to "burn up" the perpetrators in the Mercury, and in other ways have vengeance. For this reason some think they may be responsible for the crime, but inasmuch as neither Mrs. Fisher nor Mrs. Ronco would consent to sign the petition, it is hardly probable that the attempt came from that quarter.
The thing will be thoroughly investigated, and a close watch will be kept in the future.

AN ARTIST IN OIL.
A Beautiful Piece of Work—Natural Wood Polish.

Capt. W. W. Martin began moving into his new residence on Chemeke ta and Summer streets yesterday, and it was the privilege of the writer to take a glance through in company with R. M. Pinkerton, the hard oil finisher, which was no small treat. His explanation of how all the beautiful work was done is of intense interest. For Mr. Pinkerton, like a thorough artist, has labored for months putting the elegant natural finish onto the various rich woods used in the finish of this model residence. The hall and parlors are furnished in natural oak and Spanish cedar or West India mahogany. The library on the left and the dining room are wains-coted with native yew and oak, which make a beautiful contrast and take a dead finish which is only equalled by the finest made musical instruments. Mr. Pinkerton came back from California to finish this piece of work, for he considers that it gave opportunitiy to display his art which are seldom offered on the Pacific coast, and he certainly did it justice.

INCORPORATIONS.—The secretary

Mr. and Mrs. Beach arrived from Nebraska yesterday morning and are at the bedside of their son, C. A.
Beach, who is reported not to be much better. He is now suffering from tonsillitis.

Johnnie Veach is still lying quite ill. He thinks his chances of pulling through quite slim but it is to be hoped he will be around soon.

Last night about 8 o'clock, Robert McKay, of Junction, informed his wife that he intended shooting himself. As he had been acting somewhat despondent of late Mrs. Mc-Kay feared he might put his threat into execution and when he started from the house to the barn, she hurried to find assistance to withhold him from the rash act. Hailing a passer-by and informing him of the danger, she hurried to the barn, but before their arrival he had shot himself through the head, death being instantaneous.—Eugene Guard.

Henry J. Korthauer, travelling auditor of the Oregon Pacific Co., came to Salem today. While here he will transfer E. W. Wilkinson, and place Guy M. Powers, in charge of the O. P. wharf at this place. Mr.
Powers is a young man, who has been with the company a number of years.

Pimples.

The old idea was that facial eruptions were due to a "blood humor," for which they gave potash. Thus the old Sarsaparilla contain potash, a drastic mineral, that instead of decreasing, actually creates more eruptions.
You have noticed this when taking other Sarsaparilla. It is however now known that the stomach, the blood creating power, is the seat of all vitiating or cleansing operations. A stomach clogged by indigestion or constipation, vitiates the blood, result pimples.
A clean stomach and healthy digestion purifies it and they disappear. Thus Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is compounded after the modern idea to regulate the bowels and stimulate the digestion. The effect is immediate. A short testimonial to contrast the action of the potash Sarsaparilla and Joy's, Mrs. D. Stuart, of 408 Hayes St., S. P., writes: "I have for years had indigestion. I tried a popular Sarsaparilla but it actually caused more pimples to break out on my face. Hearing that Joy's was a later preparation and acted differently, I tried it and the pimples immediately disappeared."

Polytechnic Institute.
The directors of the Friends' Polytechnic institute of this city have issued their first prospectus, from which the following points are taken: ANNOUNCEMENT.
"The Friends' Polytechnic institute of Oregon," will be opened to students September 13, 1892. This institution will be under the control of the Salem Quarterly Meeting of Friends; but the instruction will be entirely un denominational, there being no attempt at the enforcement of any doctrine or creed. The students will be placed as near as possible under good moral and christian influences. The institution will be opened to students of both sexes, without regard to their denominational connections or religious beliefs.

What is known as the "Laboratory method of instruction" will be used as far as practicable, i. e.; the students will be led through the power of observation and experiments in the laboratories, to deduce laws and principles for themselves.

It will be the object in the work shop to teach the student the principles of the trades as well as to develop all his faculties and give him mental skill. The carpenter's bench, the turner's lathe, and wood carving will be used to train joiners and carpenters, as well as to familiarize the pupil with the properties of such common substances as wood and iron, and to teach the hand to work in unison with the mind.

Another object of the institution will be to teach by nature's method.
Instead of developing a tendency to depend upon a text-book, upon what others have said or thought, it is to create a power by which the student can make a text-book of his own, can do his own thinking and his own speaking irrespective of

The work will be divided into the following departments: kindergarten, grammar school, academic and polytechnic departments.

Arrangements are being made to open a boarding hall and dormitory here, students can obtain board at actual cost.

The directors of this school are:
H. J. Minthorn, president; F. M.
George, vice president; C. C. Johnson, secretary; J. H. Cook, treasurer; B. S. Cook, E. Morrison, all of Salem, and W. J. Hadley, of Marion.

The faculty consists of the following well known educators: Edwin Morrison, M. S., president and professor of chemistry and physics.
J. Henry Douglas, A. B., professor of German and French.
Mary E. Morrison, A. B., professor of mathematics.
Mable H. Douglas, A. B., professor of Latin and Greek.
Henry J. Minthorn, M. D., professor of political economy, anatomy and physiology.
Laura E. Minthorn, professor of English and rhetoric.
Nelson Morrison, superintendent of shops.

Like a Good Conundrum is life, because everybody must give it up! But you needn't be in a ciety and F. J. Beatty secretary.

A Denial.
ED. JOURNAL.—Sir: Please give this room in your columns.
The statement made by the Statesman some time ago in regard to my husband drawing money from the indigent soldiers fund and spending for whiskey is an infamous falshood. All the money we have drawn from that fund I got and paid rent with it myself and as for wash money, I have not done but one small washing a week since last fall and that did not go for whisky.
But I guess it is nothing new for the Statesman to lie.
Yours,
Mrs. W. H. Dawson.

THE GENUINE MERIT
Of Hood's Sarsaparilla wins friends wherever it is fairly and honestly tried. Its proprietors are highly gratified at the letters which come entirely unolicited from men and women in the learned professions warmly commending Hood's Sarsaparilla for what it has done for them.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, effective, but do not cause pain or gripe. Be sure to
