STRIKERS ADDRESS

Public, Stating They Will Abide by the Law.

HOMESTEAD, July 22.—The strikers' advisory board has issued an address to the public generally this morning. The address calls attention to the tendency to concentrate business in the hands of a few men giving them despotic power over the employees who constitute the great mass of the people instead of its being "the employees to manage their own business" its coming to mean manage the country.

The employees of the Carnegie company at Homestead have built up the town invested thousands of dollars of their savings in the mill in expectation of work there as long as able to work. The government taxes the country to foster this business and the state of Pennsylvania is spending large sums to protect the mills. Therefore the belief is expressed that the employees and public have equitable rights in these mills that employees have the right to continuous employment without regard to trades union affiliations. The committee wishes it known it will prosecute public and private interests in courts of law and equity and closes with a pledge to abstain from all violence and rest on the courts for the remedy.

All old employees occupying places owned by the company were served with eviction notices this morning. Under contract with the company they are obliged to deliver possession in ten days.

Governor Willey Satisfied.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, July 22.—Last night Governor Willey was privately assured that tranquility prevails throughout the Cour d'Alene mining region and that no danger of an outbreak is pending. He is also informed that there is no likelihood of trouble when United States Marshal Plukhan reaches Wardner this evening. He will not serve his warrants until the following day. Governor Willey is also advised that the starting story of Lieutenant Smith that he had discovered a pyre upon which he thought the victims of the alleged Fourth of July canyon massacre had been incinerated, had no foundation; that a fire had been kindled in that particular spot is not questioned, but that human bodies were cremated is ridiculous. Several days Lieutenant Henckle and a detachment of the Fourth cavalry passed over the same ground and they found no corpses, no traces of murder, and detected none of the effluvia which certainly would have proceeded from the bodies had they been concealed in the underbrush.

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—The stream continues to be dragged for the body of the late minister, but without success. The deceased was a member in good standing in the Masonic and Knights of Pythias orders. His life was insured for $7000 in the Masonic Aid association, the premiums of which has been paid to date, hence the family will not be left penniless.

To be Launched Next Week. PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—The swiftest, most destructive and most formidable naval vessel in the world, the much-talked-of Pirate, or cruiser No. 12, will be launched at Cramp's shipyards next Tuesday afternoon. It is believed she will come up to the requirements of 21 knots per hour.

Allice Mitchell's Trial. MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 22.—In the Allice Mitchell case yesterday, Lillie Johnson was cross-examined at length. Her testimony of the day before was not shaken. She said that she and Allice answered matrimonial advertisements just for fun. Allice was very high tempered; she wanted to have her own way, and generally had it. Frank T. Mitchell and Mattie Mitchell, brother and sister of Allice, testified at length, but their evidence in no way differed from the stories already told. The disposition of Dr. Comstock, of St. Louis, was then gone over again, and Judge Duboise wanted to know where the proof of hereditary insanity came in, the mother being afflicted with puerperal insanity only before or after childbirth. He wanted the hereditary tendency made clear. The case was then adjourned.

Latest From Homestead. HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 22.—Governor Pattison left for Harrisburg at 6 a. m. Just before leaving he stated emphatically no change had been made in the orders to the troops and none were contemplated. The departure of the governor cuts off the hope of the strikers he would interfere in their behalf. Strikers report their ranks are still solid but the line at the relief committee rooms this morning is nearly twice as long as before. The tension between the troops and strikers grows and serious results are likely to follow at any time.

Pinkerton's Side of the Story. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—The special committee of the house regarding into the Homestead troubles, heard the Pinkerton's side this morning. Robert Pinkerton presented a statement covering the history of his agency since its organization in 1850. Men were sent to Homestead only on assurance the sheriff would swear men in as deputies if necessary. Men were shipped from Chicago and ordered not to be given to the men unless deputized by the sheriff. As a matter of fact the boxes were opened until the strikers opened them and it became a matter of life and death. Klein had been killed and five others wounded before the strikers returned the fire. He stated that on the trials for murder it will be shown Pinkerton's acts were legal.

Have Enough Men. PHOENIX, Ariz., July 22.—The Carnegie company this morning began work on their expressed intention to put non-union men in Homestead mills. It looks as if the claim that the company has all the men necessary to start the mills, is true.

BOSTON, July 21.—Ex-Governor Henry J. Gardner, who was a governor of Massachusetts from 1855 to 1858, died last night of cancer.

Wind Storm in Iowa. OTTUMWA, Ia., July 22.—The town of Hateman was destroyed by a cyclone yesterday. Every house in the village was wrecked, and several persons were injured but none fatally. The storm extended over a wide area, doing great damage to crops at Mason City eight houses were struck by lightning and burned.

OTTUMWA, July 22.—Mining town Hateman struck by a tornado yesterday. The mammoth store of L. Hateman supply company, Wapello company's big hay barn, Welsh Union church and twenty dwellings were wrecked and a many more unroofed. Several people were hurt by flying missiles.

Fatal Accident. MASHFIELD, O., July 22.—Newly arrived at this city of a fatal accident near Brandon, last Monday afternoon, whereby Mrs. Louisa Turner lost her life. She and her husband were driving across a bridge and the horse became frightened and backed through the guard rail and off the bridge falling about fifteen feet, breaking Mrs. Turner's neck and killing her instantly, also killing the horse. Mr. Turner came out without serious injury.

Dragging the River. PORTLAND, July 22.—The stream continues to be dragged for the body of the late minister, but without success. The deceased was a member in good standing in the Masonic and Knights of Pythias orders. His life was insured for $7000 in the Masonic Aid association, the premiums of which has been paid to date, hence the family will not be left penniless.

To be Launched Next Week. PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—The swiftest, most destructive and most formidable naval vessel in the world, the much-talked-of Pirate, or cruiser No. 12, will be launched at Cramp's shipyards next Tuesday afternoon. It is believed she will come up to the requirements of 21 knots per hour.

First Brigade Ordered Out. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 22.—First brigade of state troops are ordered to be in readiness to go to Homestead. This brigade was ordered home only a few days ago. It is not known what this order pretends, but it is believed merely to relieve troops already there.

He Shot and Killed Both. SENDVILLE, Ark., July 22.—J. J. Bowles, merchant, had dealings with a couple of lumber men named Wilcox and Ace and they quarrelled over the settlement. Wilcox and Ace entered Bowles' store armed to kill him and Bowles shot and killed both.

Weaver Coming. ST. LOUIS, July 22.—The people's campaign through the silver states has been mapped out, and General Weaver and General Field will fire off the first gun in Denver, July 23 and 27. From there they go through Colorado, up and down the Pacific Coast, and back over the Northern Pacific.

Stevenson Going Home. NEW YORK, July 22.—The Democratic vice presidential candidate Stevenson leaves for Chicago tomorrow morning. He will make a few brief speeches from the rear of the car at some of the principal cities on the route.

Palo Alto is Dead. REDWOOD CITY, Cal., July 22.—The stallion Palo Alto, who holds the stallion trotting record, died at Senator Stanford's farm yesterday afternoon of pneumonia.

Wygant Has Majority. PORTLAND, July 22.—The recount of the Knapp-Wygant contest-electoral case for the fire commission is finished. The final figures give Wygant 5051 and Knapp 4904, a majority for Wygant of 147. The number of referred ballots is 508, which are about evenly divided between the two contestants. This virtually means that Wygant is elected beyond any question.

"Coal and Iron" Policemen. HOMESTEAD, July 22.—It is learned that the Carnegie Company intends to ask Governor Pattison to appoint a large number of "coal and iron" policemen. These are officers with all the power of policemen of the city of Philadelphia. These appointments were provided for in a law passed by the legislature in 1887, and a large part of the coal-mining districts of the state have been policed by these men ever since. The steel companies have had their workers

THE DENVER CLUB

Will Pass Through Portland En Route to Venetia.

PORTLAND, July 22.—Edward F. Bogert, editor of the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Daily Leader, has sent out announcements of the pilgrimage of the Denver Club Knights Templar of Philadelphia. The itinerary takes them to Chicago, St. Paul, Yellowstone Park, Helena, Spokane, Tacoma, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver and the East. They left Philadelphia July 13th, and will reach Homestead August 14th. The party consists of over 150 Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, who will attend the grand convocation at Denver, commencing Monday, August 9th. They pass through Portland, spending a day here, on July 29th.

Oregon's Naval Reserve. PORTLAND, July 22.—The Naval Reserve Association held an adjourned meeting in the office of W. G. Steel, for the completion of any unfinished business referred over from the first meeting held two weeks previous. While the attendance of the members was not large, those present showed a most earnest and energetic enthusiasm in the work.

John Gill was elected temporary chairman and John Colby temporary secretary, after which an election of officers for the ensuing term was held.

It resulted as follows: John Gill, president; H. R. Lewis, vice-president; John Colby, secretary, and B. J. Bretherton, treasurer. The executive committee, which is stipulated by the by-laws to consist of nine persons, is composed of five members and the four officers, and the following were elected on the committee. Frank Motter, Captain J. E. Lombard, J. P. Kennedy, R. McMurphy and Mr. Freeman.

This completes the work of the association as a whole, as the by-laws provide for the vesting of the powers in the executive committee, who will hereafter transact the entire business of the association, prepare a bill for the legislature and other matter pertaining to the interests and welfare of the society.

The association then adjourned and the executive committee went into immediate session. A motion was carried to the effect that a committee be appointed to confer with Governor Penoyer, Adjutant-General Mitchell and Colonel Beebe to make arrangements, if possible, for securing the battery quarters of the O. N. G. at the army, as it was stated that the present battery was in a disorganized condition and about to be disbanded. Messrs. Lewis, Freeman and Kennedy were appointed to act on the matter.

On motion of Mr. Bretherton, it was carried that the meeting of the executive committee, which occurs on the first Wednesday evening of each month, be open ones, allowing all members of the association to be present and note the proceedings. The meeting then adjourned.

The Fight Will be General. HOMESTEAD, July 22.—Hugh Dempsey, master workman of district assembly No. 3 Knights of Labor, was at the Amalgamated headquarters yesterday to have a talk with O'Donnell. He says that the report that the Knights of Labor in every way is correct, and added that the fight will no longer be a local one, but that every great labor organization in the country shall take part in it. Three hundred strikers formerly in the mechanical department of the Homestead works secured work this morning laying and grading the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad at Millvale, near Pittsburgh. The railroad company applied for hands in Homestead, and a notice stating that 100 men were wanted was posted at the headquarters of the locked-out mechanics and laborers. Applications were brisk, and no difficulty was experienced in securing the requisite number. Most of the men were of the poorer class of Poles and Slavs.

From Homestead. PITTSBURG, July 22.—At 6 p. m. yesterday the time fixed by the Carnegie Steel Company for the return of their old men expired and the company will give no further opportunity to them. In spite of the fact that few, if any, of the old men have returned to work so far, officials of the company today expressed themselves as confident that many would sign if they desire to go to work before the day is over. Mr. Lovejoy has from the first insisted that two-thirds of the old men would return to work, and this morning he was of the same opinion. There will be no chance in the time, plans or policy of the company regarding the works or men. Officials say every chance for the men to return to work has been given, and after tonight no further regard will be paid to the old men. Their places will be filled and the mills started. It may take a few days longer than was expected to get the necessary repairs made, but it is asserted that the repairs are nearly completed and that, in spite of statements to the contrary, the Homestead plant will be in operation about the week is out. Mr. Lovejoy said that the company meant just what it said about the time for men to return. It is the in-intention to run the mills non-union. He declined to go into any details or discuss the future intentions or policy of the company. He denied emphatically that there was any truth in the statement that the Duquesne plant would hereafter make steel rails, or that any changes in the mill layout to that end had been or would be made. The Amalgamated people are confident that there will be a firm front presented by the men today, and that there will be no break. One of them said: "If we get through today all right I believe there is no doubt about our winning the fight. If there is no general break, we are safe. That is all I have to fear, and we really have little fear of that; but that is our only danger. I wouldn't be surprised if some few went to work—say not more than 8 per cent. But that would be enough for the company to start with. We have every confidence the men will stand firm, but, of course, there are some men who may get weak and go to work. I believe we will win the fight, but we recognize today a critical one, and after this we will be able to hold firm."

At 9:25 yesterday morning the tug Tide left the wharf at the foot of Smithfield street, bound for Homestead. An official of the Carnegie company was present, and closely inspected the tickets held by the 65 or 70 workmen who were on the boat. Eight horses and another large supply of provisions were taken on board. A report received from Homestead stated that the Tide had arrived at Carnegie mill landing, but that not near the number of men disembarked that were on board when the boat left Pittsburgh. It is likely they deserted the boat as she passed through lock No. 1.

From Homestead. HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 22.—A secret conference of over an hour's duration was held last night between Governor Pattison, President Wellbe of the Amalgamated association, and W. J. Brennan, legal adviser of the strikers. At the conclusion neither of them would say a word as to the nature of the discussion. It is said, however, that the removal of the troops from Homestead and the bearings of that matter from each possible standpoint were gone into. Wellbe and Brennan denied that threats of any kind were made, and are reported to have stated privately to friends that if the conference proved as satisfactory as they hoped the whole trouble would soon be at an end. The best information obtained as to the governor's views, however, is that such a roseate view is justified, and that the troops will not be moved until workmen can enter and leave the mill at will, unarmed and unharmed. There has been riot and friction between the people and the soldiers yesterday. Early in the day one of the colored cooks of the 18th regiment getting a little too much beer into his system, became tired of camp life and concluded to go home. He was captured by a patrol near the depot and a lively scene ensued. A large crowd gathered, and Company G, of the 18th, was ordered to disperse the people. This was done in a very brisk manner. The strike leaders were promptly on hand, and had a hard time to prevent some of the men who had been drinking from attacking the soldiers. The strikers went to their headquarters, and some still feeling sore about the matter are said to have spit upon the soldiers stationed in front of the building. This is asserted by the military and denied by the strikers. All sorts of rumors are still rife about O'Donnell's trip to New York the latest being that he had a conference with ex-President Cleveland and the Democratic national committee.

From Cour d'Alene. WALLACE, Idaho, July 22.—The situation remains quiet. Several arrests were made yesterday, and a number of suspects were released. Among those released were Mr. Gahan and Mr. Barger, two business men. An affecting scene occurred at the prison. A number of little girls came from Burk and sang to the prisoners. Some of the girls broke down in the midst of the song and wept bitterly. The scene became so emotional that hundred of eyes were moist. It is not yet learned what will be done with the prisoners.

The mine owners are making preparations to resume work every where. Owing to the arrest of union men at Poorman and Tiger mines, the owners of that property are experiencing difficulty in getting men. Work was resumed there with half a force. Judge Advocate General Parsons and a corps of assistants began yesterday afternoon to take the testimony of prisoners as to the cause of their arrest, and as a result five persons have been paroled. The authorities are inclined to be lenient, and in a few days all union men who are not wanted for serious crimes will be paroled.

GENERAL HOLIDAY. The President Appoints Friday, Oct. 21, 1892.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—President Harrison yesterday issued a proclamation appointing Friday, October 21, 1892, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, as a general holiday for the people of the United States. "On that day," says the proclamation, "let the people, so far as possible, cease all toil, and devote themselves to such exercises as may best express honor to the discoverer and appreciation of the great achievement of four completed centuries of American life. Columbus stood, in his age, as a pioneer of progress and enlightenment. The system of universal education is in our age the most prominent and salutary feature of the spirit of enlightenment, and it is peculiarly appropriate that schools be made by the people the center of the day's demonstration. Let the national flag float over every school house in the country, and the exercises be such as shall impress upon our youth the patriotic duties of American citizenship."

Our Minister to Ecuador. NEW YORK, July 22.—Rowland B. Mahaney, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Ecuador, arrived in this city yesterday on the Pacific mail steamer City of Para, having been granted 60 days' leave of absence. Mr. Mahaney was appointed to his present office in February last, and sailed at once for his post of duty at Quito. He was overcome by the heat and was in a very feeble condition when he reached Ecuador. To get to the capital, Quito, required a journey of nine days on muleback, and Minister Mahaney was thoroughly exhausted when he reached his destination. His illness became so critical that his death was reported. Mr. Mahaney finally recovered sufficiently to return home, but his condition is still a cause of anxiety to his friends. Although physically very ill, while in Ecuador Minister Mahaney was successful in his diplomatic errand. This is understood to have been the securing of a coal station on one of the Galapagos islands, which has been much wanted by the United States government.
