Sudden Death.

Henry Rude, a German farmer living on one of the Sunnyside fruit tracts, which is 2 1/2 miles southwest of Turner, a part of the old J. Q. Wilson farm dropped dead yesterday while at his work. He had been burning brush, when the fire reached the fences, and greatly excited and exhausted the old man, while at this work he dropped suddenly dead at the work. Mr. Rude came from the east about one year ago, he was over 50 years of age, and his sudden death is attributed to heart trouble, as he was a large, strong man. He leaves a young wife to mourn his death.

Incorporations.

The Grand Rapids Improvement and Development Co. was incorporated in the office of the secretary of state yesterday by J. P. Burke, E. E. Cooper, F. E. Habersham, William Loeb and H. C. Thompson with a capital stock of $300,000. The principal place of business will be at Astoria. The Coast Mail Co. was also incorporated. The object is to publish a paper and conduct a job printing establishment at Marshfield, Coos county. John A. Gray, James Hall and S. B. Davis are the incorporators and the capital stock was fixed at $3000.

Home Again.

Geo. F. Smith and lady returned last evening from a four months' tour of the East and South. They visited friends in the Mississippi valley, and went as far east as New York and south into Florida. Mr. Smith returns convinced that there are no better opportunities for business anywhere than right here in Salem, and goes to work with renewed energy.

The Kettle Here.

The big boiling kettle for the Kureton soap factory is here, and being put in place. The buildings are rapidly assuming proportions, and everything is being pushed to an early completion. Mr. Kureton is evidently a rustler.

One Side Finished.

Geo. Goodhue yesterday completed the wetting and rolling on the west side of the south Commercial street improvement, having it thoroughly sanded. This gives a good surface, and heavy loads can now be taken over the hill with ease.

Discontinued.

Wells Fargo & Co. have discontinued their offices at Bonanza, Bly, Lakeview, Linkville, Oregon, and Adin, Beebe, Burney Valley, Fall River, Millville and Montgomery Creek, California.

Another Lash Wreck.

A Traction Engine Plunges Through a Bridge—Two Men Hurt.

Late Thursday afternoon as the engine and hay press of Ed. S. Arney was being taken from Frank Beatty's place to A. F. McAttee's a serious accident occurred. Elmer Kightlinger, of Salem, was acting as temporary engineer and Frank Boise, the engineer, was steering the 15-horse engine which was drawing the haypress. When they got to the first bridge east of the Indian school, on the Gilbert road, the engine only reached the second bent when the big drive wheels went through and down about 12 feet, carrying the two men down and under the furnace. The big steel baling press only missed by a few inches, going down on top of the helpless men. The rest of the crew, including two brothers of the engineer, were near by, and rushed at once to his assistance. Luckily in falling, the steam pipes broke near the front end of the boiler and on the lower side and most of the steam escaped without scalding the two men. Mr. Kightlinger was able to move about, but the tool box and steering wheel had to be knocked to pieces before Boise could be gotten out. By this time help had arrived from the government school, and the injured were kindly cared for by the post surgeon, and taken to the hospital attached to the school.

In a Cool Retreat.

A pleasant picnic was held at Crystal Springs, where participants enjoyed a refreshing refreshment away from the sun's rays. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. England, Mr. and Mrs. E. Breyman and daughter Lena, and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Waite. A good time was had.

The New Electric.

The iron for the Salem Motor railway is due to arrive today, and the work of grading is being pushed. A new crew was put on north of the bridge at noon, which will work northward. More men will be added from day to day. Several blocks on Oak street are worked up by the contractors, and they will no doubt complete their contract within the twenty days. With work in progress on all parts of the route, it ought not to take long to complete the work.

Free Traders Caught.

Ottawa, Ont., July 29.—The assault upon contraband whiskey that has been in progress in the Gulf of St. Lawrence during the last few days has come to a successful conclusion, and her majesty's forces, two officers, 69 men, and one gun have returned from their expedition with Brouhcad, the smuggler, under arrest. This contraband trade has been allowed by all governments for years and years to proceed unmolested. Everybody knew that the importation of whisky by way of the French islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon was regularly conducted. The "free-traders," as the smugglers are designated, were backed by men of capital and possibility of repute at the provincial headquarters. It was their task to sail to the French group, off the coast of Newfoundland, and there take on board the dregs from the Boston distilleries. This deadly stuff they carried down the gulf, distributing it among the poor fishing villages on either shore. Such portions as were not salable below Quebec were reserved for Quebec itself, but special opportunities for its carriage into town had to be secured. While awaiting a chance to land the liquor was usually concealed at a quiet resort on the Isle Au Coedras. La Minerve says: "The whole population is in sympathy with the smugglers, and in most cases are prepared to defend them with arms and their hands. Stories are told to glorify the bold outlaws. In the villages their exploits are recounted, and it is regarded as an honor to a parish to possess any of these unscrupulous free-traders."

Thousands Were Killed.

AMSTERDAM, July 29.—Hand-bill publishers letters from Celebes, giving details of the recent eruption on Great Sangir island. The eruption commenced at 6 p. m., unheralded by the slightest seismic warning. Immense volumes of flame and smoke, and masses of stones suddenly burst from the volcano. The stones fell all over the island, killing hundreds of natives, who were busy in the fields. Those who succeeded in reaching the supposed shelter of their homes found no refuge, many houses having been crushed beneath the weight of the falling stones and the roofs having collapsed under the weight of ashes, burying the inmates. Streams of lava flowed with frightful rapidity down the slopes of the mountains. It is estimated that over 1000 perished in the slopes of the mountains, and many hundreds more in the lowlands, but the exact loss of life is not yet known. The island is now threatened with a famine, all the crops having been destroyed. In many parts of the island the wells had become dry. The Dutch authorities are doing the best they can to alleviate the distress.

An Editor in Jail.

CARSON, Nev., July 29.—Yesterday afternoon the grand jury of Ormsby county were called to investigate the charge of malfeasance in office made by the Appeal against the county officials. Sam Davis, editor of the Appeal, was called upon to state the source of his information, but he declined, on the ground that it was unwritten law of the profession that confidential communications to editors were held inviolate, whereupon he was ordered to jail till he should decide to reveal his authority.

Davis is now out of jail.

Davis is now out of jail, L. Stevenson, the party who gave him the information, having come forward and released him from the obligation of secrecy. Stevenson, who was brought before the grand jury and asked to testify, declined to testify on the ground that it would incriminate him.

The Rioters' Case.

BOISE, Idaho, July 29.—United States District Judge Beatty will arrive here today. Application will probably then be made to release the Coeus d'Alene rioters on bail. The time for hearing the contempt proceedings against prisoners has not been fixed, though the warrants are returnable next Tuesday. F. B. Crosthwaite, special agent of the department of justice, has been instructed by Attorney General Miller to assist District Attorney Wood in the prosecution of the cases.

Wanted a Cocktail.

SEATTLE, July 29.—P. J. Dawe, proprietor of the Copper Chief saloon, was shot and killed while standing behind his bar this afternoon by William Murphy, ex-fire marshal, because he would not mix Murphy a "cocktail." Murphy was a dissolute person, and had been a friend of Dawe and had free drinks whenever he wanted them at the latter's place. Dawe refused to mix fancy drinks for him, and today when Murphy called for a "cocktail" and got whisky straight, he shot Dawe dead. Dawe was an ex-prize fighter, but was not quarrelsome.

Heat Insufferable.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Heat continues insufferable. In lofty, well-ventilated offices the mercury marks 90, on the open lake streets it is over a hundred. Up to 11:30 there has been 42 deaths from sunstroke and large number of prostrations. Last night was a sleepless one for more city dwellers, the temperature not going below 80. Over 200 horses have died since Monday.

Overcoats in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 29.—A decided drop in temperature accompanied by rain occurred here during the night. At 10 o'clock this morning the signal service thermometer registered 59 degrees, a fall of nearly 30 degrees, compared with the extreme temperature of yesterday. Overcoats are in requisition.

Powdery Attacks Pinkertons.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—Grand Master Workman Powdery appeared before the house judiciary committee this afternoon in the Homestead investigation. He denied the statements of the Pinkertons relative to the character of their employes. Referring to New York strike he accused Dewey of deliberately causing the strike then going to Europe. He said Pinkertons prevented a settlement of the strike.
