BUREN & SON.

A TRUSTY ESCAPES.

A. D. Webster, a Ten Year Man From Coos County, Gone.

Last evening, as the prisoners at the penitentiary were being counted in to supper it was discovered that one man was missing. On investigation it was found that A. D. Webster, a ten year con. from Wasco county, was the missing man. Webster was convicted from Coos county last October to serve ten years for manslaughter. He formerly lived at Albany. He has a wife and has accumulated some property at Bandon, Coos county, where he has been keeping hotel. His crime was the killing of an employe with whom he quarreled. He is an old sailor, having served in the navy during the war. He was considered a "tough," bold, loud-mouthed man, yet not dangerous.

Webster was made a trusty some months ago by the influence of his friends, and has since that time been at work in the front yard, looking after the flower garden. It was not suspected that he would take advantage of his liberty, but he had not heard from his wife for some months and had grown ugly and discontented, which is by some believed to be the cause of his departure. He never disobeyed the rules, but was considered a "kicker" among the employes. It is supposed that he has gone towards the coast in hopes of reaching a vessel.

Webster is described by prison officials as being 61 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches, weight 175 lbs, gray hair, blue eyes, sanguine complexion. He is an old navy man, as shown by the India ink marks upon his body. On his left breast there is a cross, blue band on right wrist, blue heart and arrows on inside right forearm, United States coat of arms on outside left forearm, six-pointed star on back of left wrist, ten-pointed star on back of left hand. He has also a scar between the eyes.

LIGHT FOR THE ASYLUM.

A Separate Plant Needed—Preparations Being Made.

It has been known for some time that there is not enough power under the present arrangement to supply the asylum with sufficient electric light and pumping force, so it has been decided to put in a separate water wheel to cover this need completely. The water ditch will be widened nearly ten feet for a distance of over a mile, and work will begin on Monday. Asylum employes will have charge of the work, assisted by the patients, and about fifty prisoners will be put on the work under guard.

In this move Supt. Rowland is planning to save the state great expense, for the asylum is inadequately lighted and under the new arrangement better light can be secured at much less cost. Now the gas bill in winter months amounts to over $400, and the wards are nearly all dark. It is proposed to have several lights in each ward in the future, which will be a great convenience and greatly lessen danger. The new infirmary which is to be built will be wired throughout for lights and supplied by this same power.

The water works at the big farm are being rapidly completed under the superintendence of Engineer McCarl. Water is brought from a big spring through 3 inch mains, a distance of 624 feet. It has a fall of 137 feet, and affords a pressure of 90 pounds at the buildings. Reservoirs are now being built. A rock-crusher is at work preparing material for the concrete to be used in the same and much of the labor is being performed by patients. When completed it will be a grand system, and the water will always be of the best quality.

LADY ANALYSTS.

They Play the Same Tricks Resorted to Here and Get Caught.

The Portland Oregonian gives the following amusing account of a lady expert, or canvasser, who was playing the house-to-house sample test dodge in that city:

The city for several days has been canvassed by a company of women who have called at private residences for the ostensible purpose of explaining the superior merits of their baking powder through a series of alleged chemical experiments. A lady who has been annoyed by the agents determined to test the efficacy of the experiments, and she brought out some of the baking powder which they are advertising. The agent submitted the substance to the usual tests and called the lady's attention to the presence of alum, ammonia and various other alleged ingredients, which could be distinguished by the peculiar odor, the residuum, etc. The lady of course saw all these unmistakable signs of so-called impurities, and allowed the agent full swing to expand upon the merits of her own cooking powder. The agent finally inquired of the lady what brand of baking powder she had been experimenting with. "That baking powder," replied the lady, "is the same that you have been cracking up so high." The agent turned all colors, and beat a hasty retreat. Our informant has not been bothered with taking powder agents since.

Bad Blood.

Impure or vitiated blood is nine times out of ten caused by some form of constipation or indigestion that clogs up the system, when the blood naturally becomes impregnated with the effete matter. The old Sarsaparilla attempted to reach this condition by attacking the blood with the drastic mineral "potash." Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is modern. It goes to the seat of the trouble. It arouses the liver, kidneys and bowels and invigorates the circulation, and the impurities are quickly carried off through the natural channels.
Charles Lee, at Reimlich's Third and Market Sts., S. F., writes: "I took it for vitiated blood and while on the first bottle became convinced of its merits, for I could feel it was working a change. It cleansed, purified and braced me up generally, and everything is now working full and regular."

BRUTAL ITALIANS.

They Take Possession of a Town in Indiana.
SPAR CITY, Ind., July 30.—Five hundred Italian laborers employed in laying pipes between the gas fields and Chicago quit their camp Thursday and took possession of this town. Stones and sticks were thrown through the windows of houses and stores, and the little community was completely terrorized. For half a day they paraded the streets defying the authorities, breaking windows and tearing down fences. The two saloons in the place were broken into and cleaned out, the desperadoes drinking all the liquor they could find and rolling the barrels out on the streets and demolishing bottles and glasses. Going to the railroad depot, the rioters broke the office of what money it contained, and assaulted H. B. Stanton, the agent, in a horrible manner. After beating him nearly to death, they dragged him out upon the street stripped him of his clothing and suspended him by his arms to a tree. He was rescued almost an hour later in an exhausted condition, and may die. When night fell the people of the village abandoned their homes and fled from the place to the surrounding towns where they could get protection. The rioters are still in control, and have secured whisky from other places, and the scenes are being re-enacted except that the fighting is among the rioters, as the citizens have not dared to return to their homes. The sheriff has endeavored to restore order, but the people are in such fear of the desperadoes that they refuse to obey his summons, and he is powerless. About one-fourth of the entire camp is engaged in rioting, and blood has flown freely; but it is not known that any one has been killed.

Opening the Canal.
The most acceptable proposition that can be made to persons troubled with chronic constipation, is to open that important canal—the bowels. That proposition can be carried out by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most effective, most gentle alternative cathartic. It is the mistake of many otherwise sensible people, that they resort to drastic, or, in other words, violent purgatives, without exaggeration, this is highly injurious, since medicines weaken the bowels, and thus cause constipation, and the stomach with pain. Relief sought from the Bitters comes freely enough, but they never produce pain, excessive action, or subsequent weakness of the bowels. Liver and kidney trouble, malaria, dyspepsia, and a host of ailments, for such their malism, are remedied by this pleasant substitute for dressing cathartics.
