SALEM WATER CO.—There was filed in the office of the county recorder yesterday a trust deed of the Salem Water Co. to the American trust and savings bank, of Chicago, trustee. The purpose of the deed is explained in a resolution adopted at a meeting of the water company held on June 22d, by which the company decided to issue first mortgage bonds in the aggregate sum of $150,000 for "the purpose of paying its indebtedness now outstanding and that incurred and to be incurred in the enlargement of and extension of its waterworks in the city of Salem, and for the purpose of providing means for making future extesions of the systems of mains and hydrant connections." The $150,000 is made into 150 bonds of the sum of $1000 each, and are made payable $10,000 each year until paid commencing with July 1, 1903. These bonds bear 6 per cent. interest payable semi-annually and bear date of July 1, 1892.

Now, as a sworn officer of the city, I deem it proper to advise you before bringing this suit, that the city will get beaten in such an action if it is brought, and you, as guardians of the interests of tax-payers of this city, certainly do not desire to waste their money in disastrous litigation. MINISTER IN DISGRACE.

He Was Chaplain of the Ohio Penitentiary.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 5.—The scandal about the Rev. James W. Traffit chaplain of the Ohio penitentiary, has grown to such an extent that Warden James yesterday afternoon brought it before the board of managers. Chaplain Traffit lives at 445 Kilbourne street and his wife has been away to her parents' home for two months. The scandal grows out of the alleged visit of the wife of a convict to the Traffit home. Mrs. William Sheppard, who resides at 444 Kilbourne street, was seen at her home yesterday by a reporter, to whom she made these statements: "The first time I noticed anything wrong at the Traffit residence was the night before Memorial day. I was in my room, the windows of which are directly opposite on a level with those of Mr. Traffit. I looked across the street and saw him with a woman. The shutters were closed, the movable slats being open, but a bright light was burning in the room. I have since seen the same woman enter his house at different hours during the day and night. When my husband and I retired on Sunday night I opened the shutters and raised the blinds on the front windows of my room. I awoke about 5:30 o'clock Monday morning, and as soon as I got up I looked out of the window to see if any of the neighbors were astir. When I looked out the first object to attract my attention was in the room of Mr. Traffit. I called my husband's attention to what I had observed. My husband called to Mr. Traffit to pull down the blinds. On another occasion I saw Mr. Traffit give the same woman some money at the corner of Spruce and Kilbourn streets." Mrs. Sheppard describes the woman she saw as handsomely dressed and attractive. Chaplain Traffit has sent in his resignation to the board of managers of the penitentiary and it has been accepted. This move on his part is looked on as an acknowledgment of the truth of the charges against him.

Pigmies vs. Giants.

Lilliputian as they are in size (being no larger than mustard seeds), they achieve results that Brobingnagian opponents utterly fail in. We refer to the efficacy of the powerful preparation known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, compared with that of their gigantic competitors, the old-style pill. Try the little giants, when dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, biliousness, or any kindred ills assail you, and you'll make no mistake—they'll disappear at once.

When the Dinner Bell Rings

People ought to feel hungry, and when they feel hungry they ought to have good digestion. But, alas! they don't—frequently. That plague alike of the just and the unjust; of the abstemious and the glutton; of youth, middle age and life's confine—the protean imp, dyspepsia—exacts dire penalties for appetite's appeasement in the shape of heartburn, wind on and uncomfortable distention of the stomach, and general disturbance in the gastric region. Dyspepsia is very generally accompanied by billousness, irregularity of the bowels, insomnia and nervousness, for each and all of which, as well as their cause, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the nations chosen remedy. Malarial, rheumatic and kidney troubles, lack of strength and flesh, and failure of appetite and the power to rest tranquilly, are also overcome by the Bitters.

Saved a Woman's Life.

Mr. J. E. Thoroughgood, writing from Georgetown, Delaware, says: "Two teaspoonfuls of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved the life of Mrs. Jane Thomas, of this place." He also states that several other very bad cases of bowel complaint there have been cured by this remedy. For sale by Baskett & Van Slype Druggists.
