THE FIRST TO PAY.

The fact that Judge J. J. Murphy was the first man to pay his street assessments is a very encouraging act. His assessment was a heavy one, as it covers property both on Commercial and Chiemeketa streets. In the first place, he was not very strongly in favor of the street improvement, yet since it has been done he accepts it. Judge Murphy is a good business man, and evidently concludes that he has got his money's worth, for he enters no complaint. Lastly he is a first-class lawyer, and knows if anyone does whether this is a legal debt. The fact that he has paid his assessment without a murmur goes to show what he thinks of it. On the whole, the Judge's prompt payment of this claim is a good omen for the tax collector.

OF INTEREST TO THE LADIES.

From Chicago, Mr. T. Holverson, our leading dry goods merchant writes that he found a splendidly stocked market this season, and has made purchases that will open the eyes of Salem's female population. ### THE NEW ROUTE.

A contract was let last evening by J. E. McCoy for building the new bridge to be put in by the Motor company across Mill creek near the depot, and the work will be pushed right through. Men are at work to-day grading the section from 12th street to the depot, and will follow at once by re-laying the track out on 12th from Oak into the Yew Park country. Tomorrow the work of putting up the trolley wire will begin from the car barn south on Commercial, up State, on Winter and Oak to the end. The grading is all done on the county road to the fair grounds, while the track is completed inside the fence. The present track will be taken up on Commercial north of the barn to Division, at which point it will connect with the main line. A horse car will be run from this junction to Highland Park school as the track from Highland avenue east to the fair grounds has been taken up and will be laid down the avenue on the present walk. Manager Derby says there is no doubt now but they will be running to the fair grounds before the state fair opens on Sept. 12, which will be a great accommodation to the public, as both electric roads will hardly be able to handle the great crowds. Long live the electric railroads.

SOUTHERN OREGON FAIR.

Eight Hours a Day's Labor.

The advocates of the eight-hour day have scored a success at Washington. The president signed on Monday a law which lately passed both houses prohibiting all employees of the government from working over eight hours a day, and extending the rule to those working on government contracts. This is one of the laws the passage and signature of which might be safely counted upon under existing conditions. What effect it will have, if any, in helping to bring about a shorter day outside of the domain of government employment remains to be seen.

How Mr. W. D. Wentz of Geneva, N. Y., was cured of the severest form of dyspepsia? He says everything he ate seemed like pouring melted lead into his stomach. Hood's Sarsaparilla effected a perfect cure. Full particulars will be sent if you write C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The highest praise has been won by Hood's Pills for their easy, yet effectual action.

The Sweating System.

The entire number of persons employed in the tailor sweatshops in New York city is put at 5000 men (of whom 800 are Jews) and from 20,000 to 23,000 women and children. The wages are reckoned by piece work, and (outside the finishing) run about as follows: Girls handsewers, earn nothing for the first month; then as unskilled workers, they get $1 to $1.50 a week, $3 a week, and as skilled workers $6 a week. The first-named class constitute 50 per cent of all, the second 30 per cent and the last 20 per cent. In the general work men are only employed to do buttonholing and pressing, and their earnings are as follows: Pressers, $8 to $12 a week; underpressers, $4 to $7. Cloak operators earn $8 to $12 a week. Four-fifths of the sewing machines are furnished by the "sweaters" (middlemen); also needles, thread and wax.

The Queen Pawned Her Jewels.

Queen Isabella of Spain, pawned her jewels to raise money to fit out the expedition that discovered the new world. Her sacrifice was not great, and is made by many women of America, who deny themselves many things in order to have money to buy Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for their sick husbands and children. This "Discovery" is more important to them, than the one made in 1492. For all diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Throat, and Stomach, the "Discovery" is a sovereign remedy. A trial convinces, its continued use cures. It purifies the blood, invigorates the liver and strengthens and builds up the whole system. Guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case, or money paid for it returned.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alternative and tonic acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. ### A GOOD WEATHER PROPHECY.

A Man Struck by Lightning Always Knows When a Storm is Coming.

A reporter knows a man who was struck by lightning five years ago and has never quite recovered.

"When I was first struck," he said, "I was dead for two or three days. Then consciousness returned, and with it a sense of most acute pain. My muscles were all contracted, and whenever I was at rest for ten minutes at a time the torture was positively unbearable. For days and nights I walked the floor, and when I wanted to sleep I got two of my friends to walk with me and I slept while I walked. Seven doctors worked on me constantly for weeks and they did not alleviate the pain in the least. So I let them all go and started traveling and kept up a perpetual motion.

"One thing I noticed. For two days before a rain or electrical storm there would be a rigid contraction of the nerves and my sufferings were intensified. Many a time I have predicted a storm when the skies were clear, and people laughed at me for awhile, but to this day I have never missed it. After the storm passes there is a relaxation to a certain extent. After the doctors confessed they could do nothing for me I was in despair for awhile. Then I tried hot springs and got more relief than from anything else. I drink water almost boiling now and it comforts me.

"I am getting a little more like myself now, but still suffer horribly at times. The least exposure brings on an attack, and during one of these spells my whole nervous system is for the time being perfectly shattered."

He was asked his recollection of the shock.

"I was standing by my house one cloudy day. Suddenly I saw a flash of light, which looked as if all the heavens were being opened and the stars running together. I could feel a pain as if men were sticking needles into a thousand different portions of my body at once, and then I knew nothing until I opened my eyes and heard a doctor say, 'He's alive, anyhow, and that's all.' It is unlike any other pain, and far more terrible to my notion."

The gentleman still keeps his body heavily protected from head to foot, wearing twice the clothes sufficient for ordinary mortals, and in damp weather he piles on still more.—Dallas News.

Alfred de Musset.

In his history of English literature M. Taine takes occasion in one of his comparisons between English and French poetry to speak in the highest terms of Alfred de Musset. An English writer who has published his impressions of prominent French men says of him that with his tall, slim figure, auburn wavy hair and beard, blue eyes and finely shaped mouth and nose, De Musset gave on the impression of a dandy cavalry officer in "misti Byron," which Preault, the sculptor, applied to him was, perhaps, not altogether undeserved, if judged intellectually and physically at first sight. There was a feminine grace about all his movements.

The "Confession d'un Enfant du Siecle" and his play, "Frederic and Bernerette," were apt to stir the heart of women rather than that of men; but was it not perhaps because the majority of the strong sex cannot be stirred except with a pole? And the poet who was so sensitive to everything rough as to leave invariably the coppers given to him in exchange. He was unlikely to take voluntarily to such an unwieldy and clumsy instrument to produce his effects. De Musset improved on better acquaintance. He was apt to strike one at first as distant and supercilious. He was neither the one nor the other; simply very reserved and at the best of times very sad, not to say melancholy.

It was not affectation, as has been said so often; it was his nature. The change of superciliousness arose from his distressing shortsightedness, which compelled him to stare very hard at people without the least intention of being offensive.

Prices of Business Signs.

The plain white sign with black lettering, or vice versa, was once much used, but at present gold lettering on a black ground is very popular, and seems to carry an impression of business solidity and dignity. The signs are never wider than two feet, which is the law limit. Their length is paid for, in plain signs at the rate of one dollar a running foot; in fancy signs, where there is an increase of gold, this price is doubled.

Besides these large signs over doors and under windows a smaller kind has come much into use, especially within late years. These are usually fastened right beside the door or on the corner of the house. Here, again, plain black lettering on brass seems to look most business-like, and is, on the whole, probably most used. The price, however, has dropped from five to three dollars a square foot.—New York Times.

J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old people should take, as the mineral portion which is in every other Sarsaparilla that we know of, is under certain conditions known to be enacting. J. V. S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing for old delicate or broken down people. It builds them up and prolongs their lives. A case in point:

Mrs. Holden an estimable and elderly lady of 80 Mason St., S. F. was for months declining so rapidly as to seriously alarm her family. Her husband had been finally afflicted with falling spells. She writes: "While in that dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J. V. S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my lost flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years." That was two years ago and Mrs. Holden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J. V. S.

A Three Days' Passage.

QUEBEC, Aug. 16.—Shortening of the trans-Atlantic passage to a three days voyage is in the Inducement now held out to the Canadian government by the promoters of a new Labrador railway scheme. The proposal involves the establishment of an ocean steamship port at Port Manaham, which is situated on Lewis inlet, about 60 miles north of the straits of Belle Isle. It is claimed that the short crossing between Port Manaham and Midford Haven, in Wales, could be easily made in 72 hours by the greyhounds now running between New York and Liverpool. It is claimed by the authors of the scheme that during the season of navigation almost all mails between Europe and America, as well as the bulk of the passenger trade would follow the shortest existing route. Public interest in the scheme is awakened in Canada by the publication of the report of a survey for a line of railway from Quebec to Labrador.

The Irish League.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—The annual outing of the Irish societies of Chicago carried unusual significance with it yesterday, in view of the just accomplished accession of Gladstone and the resulting crisis in the home movement. Among the speakers in Ogden's grove, where the outing was held, were Hon. M. V. Gannon, of Omaha, president of the Irish national league of America. Besides Gannon, the speakers were John F. Fierity and Hon. Matthew P. Brady. J. J. Fitzgibbon acted as chairman. Resolutions were adopted declaring that if the British parliament should again dash from Ireland's lips the cup of peace and justice, it will be the duty of all to consider and use other means to right the intolerable wrong that made Ireland a byword among nations. The resolutions urge upon the Irish leaders the absolute necessity of union and harmony, and applaud the resolves of both sections of the Irish party to act independently.

Governor Buchanan of Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 16.—John F. Buchanan, governor of this state, has bolted the nominee of the Democratic party for governor, and, in a lengthy address, announced that he is an independent candidate for governor, and asks the support of all citizens regardless of party affiliations. He bases his candidacy upon the allegations that he has been called upon by a majority of the rank and file of the party to run, that he and his friends were treated badly by the Democratic conventions, and he represents the true Jefferson Democracy, and the Democratic convention which refused to nominate him renounced the true principles of Democracy enumerated in former platform. Governor Buchanan's independent candidacy was expected, and but little surprise was expressed when the published announcement appeared.
