THE CAPITAL JOURNAL.

HOFER BROTHERS, - - - Editors. PUBLISHED DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY BY THE Capital Journal Publishing Company. (Incorporated.) Office, Commercial Street, in P. O. Building entered at the postoffice at Salem, Or., as second-class matter.

STATE POLICE WANTED. The Oregonian of the 16th in an editorial argues in favor of a state police system, to assist sheriffs in putting down labor troubles, this police to be armed and to take the place of the national guard or sheriff's "posse comitatus." Of the national guard, it says: "The men are all business or professional men, clerks or mechanics, to whom the time lost in this way is an important matter. Called suddenly from their offices or employment by an order issued at midnight they had no opportunity to arrange their business affairs, which must be suffering greatly. Many of them have lost the situations they were compelled to leave so suddenly, and will have to look for others when they return home."

Hence it says: "Some more flexible and permanent body of armed men is required." "Those who have read many fine articles on arbitration between capital and labor in The Oregonian may well express surprise at its demand for a body of armed state police, or constabulary, "armed, drilled and disciplined like soldiers, constantly in service and under pay and at the call of the sheriffs at any moment." This is its plan.

Who would pay for this state constabulary, providing such an idea could be tolerated for a moment by any intelligent self-respecting American? The tax payers, of course. It would heap up another load of taxes for this state police that would prove as inadequate in the Homestead or Coward' Aeneas affairs as Plunkerton's or national guards. The proposition is one worthy of an inmate of the asylum but would hardly be made even there.

The very idea of a state police force or state constabulary is obnoxious to American institutions and the establishment of any such system would be the first step to destroy civil liberty and lay the foundations of a military despotism. The disposition on the part of the state to use brute force must always be resisted and the plan to saddle upon the people a state constabulary is one of the most offensive projects yet offered by any American newspaper.

DANGER IN OREGON. The Republicans of Oregon should lose no time in fully organizing the party in this state and being prepared to get out every Republican vote, as there is some danger that with Republican apathy the election may be close. Oregon has a round ten thousand Republican majority if the vote is brought out. This should be looked after. Clubs should be organized early. Republican enthusiasm must be awakened. The enemy must be met and defeated.

There is no doubt but that a large number of Democrats will follow Governor Penney into the People's party, which is today the best organized and most active party in the state. Governor Penney is as likely as not to take the stump for the People's party. The Democratic party cannot be said to have a state organization. It is the People's party that is the potent factor. Republican's must face, as it is almost certain to poll a larger vote than the Democrats. Democracy as a political organization has almost ceased to exist in Oregon.

A vote cast for the People's party is indirectly a vote for Cleveland. For if that party should carry a few states and prevent any choice by the electoral college, the selection of the President will be left to the House, and he must be blind indeed who imagines the present house of representatives would elect anyone but Grover Cleveland. A vote for the People's party is a vote for Grover Cleveland so far as it will affect the election of a President at all. The pretense that General Weaver can be elected is all a sham. It is the duty of Republican's to get out the full Republican vote.

Mr. John Dutrich and his wife Catharine of Antrim township, Franklin county, Pa., will celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage on the 10th inst. at their home near Greenacres. Their thirteen children are all living, and they, with many grandchildren and great grandchildren will join in the celebration.

The arrest of forty milkmen at Cleveland, Ohio, for adulteration of milk calls the attention to one of the gravest and most serious crimes on the statute books. Wealthy people do not suffer so much as the helplessness poorer classes as it was shown that in Cleveland infant mortality was greatest where the adulterated milk was used. No punishment is too severe for such devilry.

John G. Carille, of Kentucky, is gaining national fame as a straddler on the silver question. At the session before the last he voted for free coinage, at the last session against and he now says: "My position upon this subject is briefly this: I am opposed to free coinage of either gold or silver, but in favor of unlimited coinage of both metals upon terms of exact equality." If anyone can understand this they can do more than the average journalist.

Blaine may make some five minute speeches in the Harrison campaign. He can say more in that length of time than most men in two hours, there is no man living whose utterances on the trifles are so feared by the Democrats as those of James G. Blaine.

Bill Nye and Mr. Burbank are coming to Salem to lecture and want us to announce it in advance. We take pleasure in doing so but cannot withhold the sentiment that it is a cheap and cheezy way to get free advertising.

The Welsh members of parliament have decided to support the home rule bill, provided Mr. Gladstone gives Welsh disestablishment the next place in the programme.

Two of the richest young women in America are Miss Perkins, of Boston, who is 18 years old, has $17,000,000, and Miss Green, the daughter of Mrs. Hetty Green.

Substance of the Queen's speech to parliament, "My lords and gentlemen, the country is all right, and has no use for you."

Great distress is reported among working people of New South Wales, 60,000 persons being out of employment at Melbourne alone.

The earl of Huntingdon is about to marry Miss Maud Wilson, a wealthy Australian beauty.

The Christian church has gained over 3,000 in membership during the last year.

Try the latest flavors, Red Messina, at the Spa, 110 State street. W. T. Stolz, manager.

California reports a very short prune crop for the season.

Pronounced Hopeless Yet Saved. From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "We taken with a bad cold, well settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, and determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Dan'l. J. Fry's, druggists, 225 Com'l St., regular size, 50c. and $1.00.

Minna Gale will play a season of twenty weeks next season. An American tour next season is contemplated by Stavenhagen, the pianist. Bob Hillard will play the leading role in A. V. Pearson's production of "The White Squadron."

Mr. Leslie Carter has a firm determination to play "Frou-Frou" in the next very distant future. Mrs. Shaw, the whistler, is going to make a tour around the world, beginning in South Africa in the autumn.

Mr. Daly's next Shakespearean production will be "The Tempest," and in it George Clarke will play the part of Prospero.

M. A. Kennedy, the rotund comedian of "Miss Helyett," weighs 280 pounds. Little Arthur Dunn, of extravagant fame, weighs 90. "Logan's Luck" is the name of an Irish comedy by Hal Reed, of Minneapolis, in which Edmund Collier proposes to star next year. Edwin Rostell, who for some years has been director of a school of dramatic art, will next season go on tour at the head of a company presenting classic and Shakespearean plays. Manager R. M. Field has engaged Freddie Forrester, who has recently been playing in one of Charles Frohman's companies, for the soubrette role in the Boston Museum theater next season. It is a curious fact that David Belasco, the American adapter of "Miss Helyett," is a nephew of the famous London comedian, David James, who has made such a hit as the Quaker father in "Miss Decima," the English version of "Helyett." Belasco's father and David James are brothers. Belasco is the family name.
