BUILDING MATERIAL.
Lime, cement, plaster, hair, fire and building brick, fire clay, sand, gravel, blacksmith and house coal, wood, all kinds, wholesale and retail. Office 95 State street.

HOPS HIGH.

It is rumored in Salem that hop buyers in the vicinity of Lincoln were Wednesday offering to contract a prime quality of hops at 35 cents. It is known positively that 25 cents has been offered near Salem for some time, but the 35 cents rumor was an astonishing one. Buyers concede the crop in England will be much shorter than had been expected, and only a small yield was counted on. Shortages are also being reported from California, where picking is in progress.—Dallas Traction.

ON INSTALLMENTS.

A few desirable lots in Pleasant home addition will be sold on installments at most desirable rates. 75 lots have been sold this season. Also fine city property at bargain. Wm. Bagley will have charge of the business during my absence. Wm. E. BURKE. 8-19-92

PROBATE.

The Republicans of Washington

state did not go back on their free silver record but inserted the following in their platform: "We favor the remonetization of silver upon a recognized parity with gold, and its restoration to the dignified place it has occupied for 40 centuries as money."

An electric road wagon, run by storage battery, was successfully run on the streets of Chicago the other day drawing five men at 10 miles an hour. It is the city wagon of the future.

Forest Grove creamery butter

sells at 35 cents per roll and cannot supply the demand, while farm-made butter retails in our stores at 35 cents per roll and is difficult to sell at that price. If the dairymen of Oregon were up to their profession and the men could appreciate the really fine points of butter the situation would be reversed.

THE SALEM SCHOOLS.

New Teachers Elected—More Room Provided for Increased Attendance.

All the directors were present at a meeting of the school board held this morning, and the following named teachers were elected for the coming school year: Mrs. M. H. Paesmore, Miss Mary Theils, and Miss A. Adelaide Beebe. Miss Hatie Cohurn, last year a successful teacher in the East Salem school, was elected principal of the Yew Park school.

The matter of seating one additional room each in Park and Lincoln schools to accommodate the increased attendance was considered, and it was ordered that the president of the board purchase seats for same on the best possible terms, quality and guarantee considered. The action of the superintendent in letting the printing of her report to the lowest bidder was approved.

The farmers are making a louder protest than ever before against volunteer non-residents killing grouse and other birds in their fields and enclosed ranches. They say these birds are raised and live and stay on their land and without their permission no man may take them. According to Blackstone the farmer is right, but what is to become of our city hunter? Has he no rights?

The state university of Iowa boasts that it was the pioneer among publicly supported institutions of learning to open all of its departments to women. It has produced 267 "bachelor girls."

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Potter

returned home this afternoon from Yachima bay.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Krause

were among today's returning pilgrims from the seaside.

Mr. Lander's Recommendation.

Mr. J. A. Lander, a prominent citizen of Clarkburg, Mo., and widely known in that state, says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy: "I have seen its good results and can recommend it." For sale by Baskett & Van Slype Drug gists.

For sox go to Jackson's.

Saved His Child's Life.

A. N. Dillfborough, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, as my wife says, 'from a death bed he was up playing in three hours.' It saved me a doctor bill of about three dollars, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clear conscience." For sale by Baskett & Van Slype.

A farmer informs the Valley

Record that the crops down the valley are turning out better than had been expected. Fordyce only expected 1300 bushels and got 1800 bushels from his place. Mr. Gordon reaped over 3900 bushels from 100 acres, and 20 acres on last year's crop ground yielded 533 bushels per acre.

STATE FAIR OUTLOOK.

Letters Received by The Supt. of

The Pavilion—A Letter from Mr. Wilkins.

The Hon. Wm. Savage has his hands more than full as Supt., of the enlarged and beautiful pavilion at the state fair grounds. His position is more onerous and trying than that of a congressman at present. Mr. Savage is getting letters from all parts of the state relating to exhibits. A. H. Carson, Grants Pass, writes that this is an off year with him and he cannot exhibit for lack of fruit.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE,

at Corvallis writes for a large space and will make a fine exhibit, rain or shine. They want considerable wall and table space and their exhibit will be of unusual interest.

OUR NATIONAL WORLD'S FAIR

commissioner has also been heard from and we print his letter below: Corvallis, Lane Co., Aug. 22, 1892.

Wm. H. SAVAGE,—Dear Sir

and friend: Yours of the 19th is at hand, in reply I will say that we have a very grand collection I will fill the to long spaces as usual and Amos will make entries that will occupy all the space that is possible to get.

WE HAVE ARRANGED TO SEE THAT ALL

will be filled as I have not anything definite from the Agricultural College as to whether they will fill their space as not so I am prepared for all.

Yours truly,
M. WILKINS.

THE DETECTIVES RETURN.

Exciting Chase After the German

Schneider by Ross and Cavanaugh.

James Ross and Jos. Cavanaugh returned last night from a six-day trip after the last batch of four escaped convicts. They were in the region of Gaston, Oregon City, Butteville, and Woodburn. The report that there was a crazy man who frightened women put them on track of one of the convicts, and they were soon convinced that it was Schneider. At the place where he entered the house the women called the head of the family and he drove him off with a rifle.

Schneider went from there down the river to Jacob Mile's landing where he was seen by Mile's son who gave a good description of him. At dusk he stole Mile's boat. The boy's heard him leaving and soon headed him off, Schneider getting off on the west side at Kruse's landing and turning the boat around. At 10 p. m. Friday he stole Kruse's boat and it was piked up at Canemah. After this the detectives could get no trace of him. There are some ex-convicts at Oregon City and he undoubtedly had help here to hide. That is the last of Schneider. Detective Ross says he does not know as he will make another tour after the quartet, as they have had ample time to hide, get away or disguise themselves. It is too much like searching for a needle in a haystack.

A CONVICT CAUGHT.

Schneider, the Escaped Convict,

Killed by the Cars.

A dispatch was received this afternoon for Supt. Downing, dated at Goble, Or., which without a doubt gives the final news of the career of Schneider, the escaped convict.

THE TELEGRAM.

A man supposed to be Schneider was found here dead this morning. He was run over by the cars. What disposition is to be made of his body? (Signed) H. WOODHAM, J. P.

Mr. Downing was at Portland

when the message arrived, and the same was forwarded to him, so he has without a doubt gone to the scene of action. Prison officials here feel confident that it must be the man.

PUSSY'S WONDERFUL RIDE.

A Kitten Had a Very Remarkable

Experience Last Night. A great many people are disposed to doubt the old saying that a "cat has nine lives." But last night an incident occurred in the engine-room of the Marquon block which tends to demonstrate that a half-grown kitten has even more than nine lives.

A. B. Bloomer, the chief engineer of the building, tells this story, which, were it not for the well-known character of the narrator for veracity, would be subject to serious doubts.

Bloomer says he has a pet kitten that stays in and about the engine-room all the time. Last night, at 5:30 o'clock, the engine was put into motion, and all the machinery was set whirling. All during the evening the kitten was missed, and Bloomer kept inquiring of John McLaughlin, his assistant, if he had seen pussy. McLaughlin noticed something in the rapidly revolving flywheel, and told Bloomer, jokingly, that he thought it was the kitten. But the latter did not believe it.

"If it is the kitten," said Bloomer,

"it is dead, anyhow, and we'll not stop the machinery now for it."

At 12 midnight the engine was shut down, and on examining the wheel, sure enough the kitten was found inside, all covered with oil, and limp as a dishrag. It was taken out, wiped dry, and laid down. The only signs of life given were a very slow, faint beating of the heart and an occasional feeble gasp. But after awhile, pussy came round all right enough, and, at the present writing, is as spry as a cricket.

"It beats anything I ever saw heard of," said Bloomer to a reporter. "Just imagine what the kitten must have experienced. The engine was started up at 5:30 o'clock, and did not stop until midnight. The fly-wheel makes 250 revolutions per minute, and every turn pussy traveled 17 feet. The engine was in motion 390 minutes, and during that time the kitten traveled a distance of 315 miles. How the creature managed to live during that time is simply wonderful. Remember, the wheel did not stop for an instant, and the cat was flying round through space at a fearful rate of speed. If any one can tell a bigger, and at the same time truer, story about a cat, or any other animal, I'd like to have such a person step to the front. Talk about a cat having nine lives, this kitten must have exhausted eight and one-half lives during its long ride."

It is needless to add that the kitten is now the hero of the engine-room, and an object of great curiosity and interest to all.—Evening Telegram.

ELECTRIC BITTERS.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A pure medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Last Tuesday Lee Kilburn of Baker, came in from his sheep camp in the mountains with a needle in the palm of his hand just above the little finger joint. Mr. Kilburn was clearing off the table after a meal, and in hurrying brushing his hand over the table a needle pierced his hand about an inch and broke off. Dr. Gann removed the needle.

BORN.

HATCH.—Thursday, Aug. 25, 1892,

to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Hatch, a daughter.

Let the World Know You are in It.

It seems almost a crime for a man to "hide his light under a bushel." If he has something new, that will benefit the human race, he should make it known. Old-fogy physicians tread the beaten path of their grandfathers, denounce advertised remedies, and never learn anything new. Medical science knows no parallel to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, compounded by a physician of skill and long experience, especially for the maladies which afflict women. It effects a permanent cure of those agonizing disorders which attack her frail organism, and is an anchor of hope alike to delicate girls and suffering women; contains no deleterious drugs. A guarantee on the bottle-wrappers, refunding the price in case of failure. Of druggists, $1.00.
