The Borden Murder Case.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 30.—The testimony brought out in the Lizzie Borden hearing yesterday caused a change of opinion among her friends who heretofore have stoutly maintained her innocence. They consider the strongest evidence against her to be that of Mrs. Addie Churchill, a neighbor whom she had known and loved since childhood. Mrs. Churchill stated positively that Mrs. Borden's room door was open when she and Bridget Sullivan first discovered the body of the murdered woman. It has already been stated. Lizzie Borden was in the hallway near the open door, when Bridget Sullivan opened the front door at 1:35 o'clock. Again Mrs. Churchill stated positively that Lizzie told her that Mrs. Borden received a note from a sick friend, but it has not yet been proven that such a note, or that Mrs. Borden had been at that time during the day. Like all the rest of the witnesses for the government, she failed to find any traces of blood on Lizzie's clothing or person.

Brown, the two Lane county convicts who were confined here pending the completion of the new jail at Eugene, made their escape from the county jail. Deputy Assessor Sterling had slept in the second story of the jail, but was not awakened by the noise made by the jail-breakers. They were evidently assisted to escape by some one from the outside, who forced open two doors and picked the combination lock of the steel cage in which the men were confined. They were committed for forgery.

His Reception at the Atlantic Garden.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—John L. Sullivan received a great reception on his arrival at Flatbush avenue depot yesterday from his training camp. The train was half an hour late, but that out no figure with the enthusiastic crowd. Waiting to avoid the crowd Sullivan hurried through a private exit, followed by an admiring crowd, who cheered him to the echo. With the assistance of two mounted policemen, he was escorted to his carriage and driven to Phil. Casey's headquarters at 47th street. Sullivan retired to a private room and declined to see anybody. A surging mob was outside the court. The great crowd rushed its way into Clermont avenue rink, in Brooklyn, last night to witness the reception tendered to Sullivan. The police bobbed up everywhere, and there was the best of order. The elite sporting fraternity was there to see what Sullivan looked like. Charley Johnson was smiling and happy, apparently looking forward to success. In the center of the immense rink was pitched a 24-foot ring and around it the multitude ranged.

The Columbus Monument.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The Italian steamer, Gagliano, with the Columbus monument on board, is hourly expected, and the United States cruisers Atlanta and Chicago are lying off Sandy Hook awaiting her arrival, when they will escort her to the dock in the North river. The Gagliano was sighted on the 16th at Gibraltar, and wind and weather favorable, she cannot fail to arrive within the next thirty-six hours at the outside. The committee of 100 of the Columbian celebration will go down the bay on a steamer to meet the vessel as soon as she is sighted, and after she has come to anchor in the North river, will go on board and be introduced to the commander and to Geatam Russo, the designer of the monument. On the day that the sections of the monument are transported from the river front to 50th street and 8th avenue, where it is to be erected, there will be a parade of all the Italian societies in New York and Brooklyn, and it is expected that the Chicago and Atlanta will be in the river to take part in the ceremonies.

A Mother-in-Law.

Succeeded in Having Her Son-in-Law Arrested.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Aug. 30.—An extraordinary scene was witnessed here at noon Saturday, when Alfred Cloutier, a prominent lawyer, passed from the courthouse to prison van, handcuffed like a common felon to Francois Paradis, an old penitentiary bird and desperate criminal. Lawyer Cloutier has been married a little over a year. A few weeks ago his mother-in-law uninvited, it is said, took up her abode with her son-in-law and immediately began to run the family. The lawyer tried all peaceable means to have her leave. Friday night there was an outbreak between the pair, and Cloutier claims that to save himself he had to resort to forcible measures. Saturday the woman applied to the police court for a warrant for her son-in-law's arrest, on a charge of assault. The court closes at noon on Saturday, and the rest was so timed that the prisoner arrived as the doors were closing. It was too late to attempt to secure bail. The prison van was at the door to take the ordinary prisoners away, and poor Cloutier, despite all protests at the indignity, was handcuffed to the criminal, bundled into the van and driven off. Among the crowd of amazed citizens, who stood witnessing what they deemed an unseemly outrage, was the delighted mother-in-law, who stood taunting her indignant son-in-law with his position. The lawyer remained in jail all night, only getting out Sunday evening.

A Clever Swindler.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30.—A man who is said to have served as an officer in the French, English and Egyptian armies, who is master of a half dozen languages, who went with General Woolsey to the rescue of the ill-fated Gordon at Khartoum, who talked with Stanley at Cairo, and who fought in half a dozen battles in the Sudan, was arrested in the Federal building on a charge of obtaining money in Boston by means of bogus checks. This noted individual calls himself E. G. C. Byron Dumas, and claims to be a cousin of Alexander Dumas, the celebrated French novelist. The charge is that while teaching fencing and language in Boston he forged the signature of the John P. Lovell Arms company to a check for $650, cashed it and fled. Traced to Chicago, he locked a detective in a hotel room and fled to St. Louis.

"Thick and Glossy."

THE PRODUCTION of an abundant growth of hair, of a silk-like texture and of the original color, often results from the use, by those who have become bald or gray, of Ayer's Hair Vigor.

It was rapidly becoming gray and bald; after using two or three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair grew thick and glossy and my original color was restored.—M. Aldrich, Canaan Centre, N. H.

A Magazine Rifle.

To Be Adopted by the United States Government.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—This country is to have the most effective magazine rifle in the world if Secretary Elkins adopts the conclusion of the board of experts which has been considering the question of small arms for nearly two years. The report of the board is now at the war department awaiting the return of Generals Schofield and Flieger, and its contents are as carefully guarded as official communications in times of actual hostilities. It is not likely that Secretary Elkins will dissent from the conclusions of the board. National pride at possessing the rifle in use may be dampened somewhat by the reflection that its inventor is a foreigner, and not a native of the United States. Officially the name of the successful weapon is to be kept secret until Generals Schofield and Flieger returned to Washington. The Krag-Jorgenson rifle is the invention of Captain Krag, superintendent of the royal manufactory of arms at Konigsberg, Norway, and is the rifle recommended for adoption. The Krag-Jorgenson gun recommended for adoption was made especially for trial by the American board, and is an improvement over the gun that has been adopted in Norway and Denmark.
