Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report. In ten years and five months of $217,747,612. But notwithstanding this enormous reduction no interest has suffered and there has been no disturbance in the exchanges of the country. The loss of contraction in this form of money has been more than made good by the introduction of other forms of paper currency. The silver certificates and treasury notes form an entirely new element in the circulating medium of the country, and the aggregate of these new forms have added over $144,000,000 to the nation's money supply since the inauguration of the system in February, 1878.

Put Up and Put Down.

I want a rowl to rhyme with ill. I have it now. Put down pills. I have it now. Put down pills. I have it now. Put down pills. I have it now. Put down pills.

To put down the old-fashioned, huge, bitter pills, that griped so and made such disturbance internally is more than a wise man will do. He will not put up with such unnecessary suffering. He uses Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. As a Liver Pill, they are unequalled. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. Put up in vials, hermetically sealed, hence always fresh and reliable, which is not true of the large pill in wood or paste-board boxes. As a gentle laxative, only one Pellet for a dose. Three or four of these tiny, sugar-coated granules act pleasantly and painlessly as a cathartic.

We mail agents any samples wanted on receipt of 25 cents each; Address The Matthews-Northrup Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Saved His Child's Life.

A. N. Diferbaugh, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 4-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, as my wife says, 'from a death bed he was up playing in three hours.' It saved me a doctor bill of about three dollars, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clear conscience." For sale by Baskett & Van Slype.

One of the Causes of Famine.

The wanton despoiling of Russian forests during the last thirty years has led to such widespread devastation in the woodlands that industrial western Europe is at present richer in woods than central Russia. The havoc wrought in the forests has had the result that the abundance of water in rivers and inland lakes has decreased; that immense masses of quicksand have been formed, which encroach steadily upon the cultivated land; that the Russian territory is becoming desiccated and nature impoverished; that the temperature in summer has increased by 3 degs. and decreased in winter to the same amount.

Mr. Lander's Recommendation.

Mr. J. A. Lander, a prominent citizen of Clarksville, Mo., and widely known in that state, says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy: "I have seen its good results and can recommend it." For sale by Baskett & Van Slype Drugists.

Baby cried, Mother sighed, Doctor prescribed: Castoria

"Where wor I drummer boy?" "Present arms, sir," responded the youth, and the inspection went on.—Youth's Companion.

Fattered Neither Way.

There were about 300 newspaper men in attendance at the Chicago convention, and their seats were pleasantly situated and were looked upon with covetous eyes. Outsiders were continually trying to slip into them. One morning an end chair was occupied for a few minutes by a prominent politician, who had come up to speak to one of the correspondents. He took out his pencil and fingered some paper to deceive the sergeant-at-arms, who was lynx eyed. It was during one of the speeches, and he forgot the role he was playing in his enthusiasm at some point made by the speaker.

He sent up a shout that took several of the correspondents almost out of their chairs. No one seemed to mind it particularly except a man who was busy with slips of paper headed with the name of a Philadelphia journal. When the first shout went up from the disguised politician, Philadelphia squirmed a good deal, but kept on working. As the second one he turned and glanced at the enthusiast, but three was too much. He said: "Stop that yelling! Stop it! I say! You are a fool!" The politician stared at him, as much as to say, "What am I here for?" but said nothing. Another Philadelphia correspondent turned around and said: "Any newspaper correspondent who will go to a convention to work, and then take part in the yelling, is—"

When Servants Were Deceit. In that remarkably minute chronicle of domestic life in England in the time of Henry VIII, Tussers' "Five Hundred Points of Good Household" the learned and pious author seems to take it for granted that the only way of dealing with maidservants is to thrash them unmercifully. He tells us in his indubitable doggerel that "alut aloofly must whine," and that "a maid must be forced to be cleanly," or she is to be "made to cry creek." Mistresses are advised "to go about with a holly wand in their hand, although they may not always have occasion to use it, and to pay home when they fight"—that is to say, thrash—"but not to be always chiding." As regards the laundry, the domestic serfs are "warned to take heed when they wash, or run in the lash, and to wash well, wring well and beat well, so that if any lank beating it will be themselves."
