

DRESS GOODS.

JACKETS -- AND -- CAPES.

MACINTOSHES. - UMBRELLAS.

SADSES FURNISHINGS AND NOTIONS.

The best values given in the city at

T. HOLVERSON,

301 Commercial Street.

THE CAPITAL JOURNAL.
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 14, 1902

GILBERT & PATTERSON,
Dealers in Groceries, Crockery, Glassware, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Brushes, Windowglass, Etc. Sole Agents for Epicure Tea and Big Can Baking Powder.

CROWDS GETTING LARGER.
The Fair's Third Day Here. Many Visitors.
The Pavilion the Center of Attraction—The Trials of Speed Quite Spirited—Special Races Arranged—Notes.

CHARLES BEAK,
Dealer in Hay, Straw, Grain, Oil Meal, Stock Salt, Flour and Barley Chop, and Mill Feed of all kinds. Terms strictly cash. 322 Commercial street, Salem, Oregon.

GEO. D. GOODHUE. K. CAHILL.
BUILDING MATERIAL.
Lime, cement, plaster, hair, fire and building brick, fire clay, sand, gravel, blacksmith and house coal, wood, all kinds, wholesale and retail. Office 105 State street.

Early this morning old Jupiter Pluvius gave his great big task a tip and the consequence was a slight shower of rain came down upon the hundreds of tents and campfires at the fair grounds, but this did not have a dampening effect on any body or anything. Even those fine specimens in the poultry department—the roosters—sent forth their clarion notes with as much vigor as though it was a beautiful spring morning. That fine large animal with a coat of gray and ears long enough for a flag pole—the mule-joined in the chorus and produced noises that would put the loud-mouthed peanut vendors in the rear of the procession, were one given expressly for big mouthed specimens. Every one expects the rain to fall during the week of an Oregon state fair and there would be no disappointment should several hard showers occur during the next three days. If it does not come, so much the better.

AT OPERA HOUSE.—A fine audience greeted the Wilber company last night in their presentation, for the first time in Salem of the beautiful new play "Shadows of a Home," or Woman against Woman. James R. McCann as "Harry Grantley" gave a strong and faithful interpretation of the part of that headstrong, misguided and yet without honest young fellow. "Mrs. Grantley," with Miss Kendall as the devoted, jealous bride, touched every heart. These artists are as yet young people, but nature has richly endowed them with histrionic ability which their industry and ambition lead them to cultivate to such splendid advantage that they are making rapid advances in their profession. Mr. Wilber provides for them excellent support, most of the other members, like themselves, being familiar to our theater-goers. Tonight by special request the company will repeat the famous Southern play "Octoroon" with special scenic effects, and as there will be a crowded house, parties wishing good seats had better secure them at Patton's.

Every train arriving today unloaded the usual number of visitors that generally come on a Wednesday from all parts of Oregon to the annual meeting which is the harvest season for Salem.

WOODBURN JOYS.—The following items from Woodburn may be of interest to Salem people: A. Hovendon was in the city yesterday. Mr. Hovendon has finished hop picking and finds he has this year 44 bales, as against 86 bales last year. The hops this year are of a better quality than those were last season. W.S. Hurst, of Aurora, is suffering with two felons, one on each side of the index finger of his right hand. They have eaten away to the bone, which is effected and for a time it was thought amputation would be necessary. In this city, Tuesday, Sept. 13, 1902, at the residence of Rev. H. L. Barclay, C. W. Corby, of Woodburn, and Miss Dora Woodward, of Howell prairie, Mrs. Corby is a daughter of Mrs. J. H. Baughman, of Chemawa. Mr. Corby has purchased the residence property of Rev. Barclay and he and his bride will make their future home in this city. They are at present at Salem, where they will remain during fair week.

IN THE BIG HALL.—Seldom has the pavilion contained as large and pleasant an assemblage as that which passed through its aisles today. Everything that is on display was scrutinized in the closest manner and the complimentary remarks of many were bestowed on the exhibition. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday are the fair's big days and this one is no exception. Every body is in attendance and not one has missed the pleasure of seeing the inside of the neatly arranged and full-to-over-flowing hall. The ribbons—blue and red, are noticed wherever you turn and the hearts of many are made happy by their appearance.

FREE ADVERTISING.—The Oregonian of the 13th inst. has the following:—The police authorities of this city report that about 50 bunches men passed through the city Sunday, en route to Salem, where they expect to work the unsophisticated country people at the state fair. They had no chance to operate here, as the police were "on" as soon as they arrived, and would have made it tropical for them had they remained. The police authorities of Salem will probably look out for this brigade of sure-thing men, and the visitors to the fair might just as well keep their eyes open, too.

THE RIBBONED SPECIMENS.—At 9 a. m. yesterday the judges were given the entry books in the different departments and this afternoon finds some who have completed their work, while others will probably not be returned before tomorrow night.

FURNISHED ROOMS.—Nicely furnished rooms to let. Call at 224 Front St.

OLD SOCIETY OFFICERS.—The officers of the Oregon State Agricultural society, (the old one), for the coming year were elected last night at the annual meeting of the board and the president is W. M. Galloway; vice president, R. E. Bybee; secretary, A. F. Miller; treasurer, A. Bush; member of the state board of agriculture, Hon. Z. F. Moody.

SPECIAL DAYS.—"Portland day" is what tomorrow will be called, and the usual amount of metropolitan people will, no doubt, come up. "Salem day" is down on the board for Friday. Every business house should close, during the afternoon at least, and give their employees the benefit of a half holiday and a few hours of recreation.

THE WATERMELON BOYS.—The watermelon boys are not biting the pool box very hard this time. The races today are the best ever held on the fair ground track, so says D. H. Looney, one of the judges. That new fangled horse collar in the pavilion attracts considerable attention.

Trunks, valises etc., at Jackson's

IT IS rather doubtful whether Holmdel will trot during this fair. He is slightly lame—and most of the other horses are too slow for him. The pneumatic sulky has not caused any record-breaking yet on the Salem track.

THE RACE TRACK.—The judges finally decided to call

The whip was applied pretty lively yesterday in the running dashes.

Have you seen the four Indians with their war paint on?
The receipts at the two gates—railroad and wagon for Tuesday were $820.50. The race track gate took in a considerable amount.

The eating places are eating money now.

The sprinklers are doing faithful work keeping the dust down.

J. H. McCormick has a fine short horn bull in one of the pens; he is a 3-year-old. This was overlooked in the JOURNAL's report heretofore.

Young Marquis is the name of J. H. Tanner's fine 7-year-old stallion in the draft horse department at the fair. He is a half-brother of Oregon Beauty and Oregon Wonder, the famous horses with the long manes and tails.

There are 62 cages of fowls now in the poultry department besides the pigeons and rabbits.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM.—The land concert last night in the pavilion drew a crowd and the sweet strains from the instruments made everybody joyous and happy. The program tonight is a splendid one in four parts as follows:

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

PART I.
1. March.....New Star
2. Refrigo.....Gospel Medley
3. Piano music by Whale.
4. Waltzer.....Fantasia
5. Tuba Polka.....On the List
6. Piano music by Will.

PART II.
7. White.....Eleonore
8. Selection.....Booms, or the Trombole of a Band on the 24th of July
9. Piano music by Whale.

PART III.
10. Alto solo.....Autumn Roses
11. Piano music by Will.
12. Trombone solo.....The Signal
Brooks, F. T. Lucas.

This is dairy evening with the Farmers' Institute. Last night's attendance at the tent was not large but the addresses were interesting. The program tonight is here given:

A comparison between Grain-growing and Dairying, Col. T. R. Cornelius.
Discussion.
Co-operation in Dairying, Hon. J. B. Looney.
How Can We Promote Dairying in This State, Hon. J. Voorhees.
Discussion.
Our Homes and the Gentle Butter Cow, C. Schmidt.

A MARION COUNTY BOY.—A foot race took place August 24th at Lonsburg, this county, between E. Taylor, of Melama, and Billy Moore, of Silverton, for $250 a side. E. Taylor came off victor and carried away the spoils. Negotiations are now going on between Taylor and the champion foot racer of the Pacific coast for a race to come off at Silverton in the near future.—Silverton Appeal.

DEATH OF JUDGE STRAHAN'S DAUGHTER.—Hereford Strahan, daughter of Judge Strahan, aged 23, died at Atlanta, Ga., on Monday evening. The notice was published by the JOURNAL yesterday, but under the wrong heading.

SPOKANE PLUCK.—The city of Spokane gave Jim Hill $2,000,000 to bring the Great Northern through their city.

VERY FISHY.

All the varieties of fish imaginable are to be found at Davidson & White's 94 Court street market, including California smelt, fresh mackerel and other fish imported from the Southern coast. Also plenty of trout, rock cod, halibut, perch, smelt, flounders, sole, oysters, cat fish, and the finest Chinook salmon. Remember the place, 94 Court street. Free delivery.

"IT HAPPENED YESTERDAY."—A business man got out his life policies, on which he had made many payments, to negotiate a loan with the company. He was surprised when informed that the policies had no cash value whatever. The Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. endorses cash and paid-up values on every policy. It costs no more to have this advantage. For further information apply to H. G. Colton, general agent, 233 Stark street, Portland, Oregon. 9-12 if

A fine line of made hats, the newest out. Also the latest novelties in walking hats. Miss Mascher, Cuttle block.

All fruit prime—Blue Front. Extra meals without extra price at the Willamette.

Lunch baskets—just what you want—Wm. Sargeant.

Caps given away during fair at Ed Jackson's 96 State street.

Popular prices at Jackson's. CASH vs. TIME—Blue Front. Silk hats renovated, Jackson's.

Wall paper—newest patterns—lowest prices. Wm. Sargeant. Beautiful neckties, Ed Jackson's. Surveys of all kinds, accurately and quickly made. D. W. Townsend, 115 State St. 8-20 1 m

In shoes Krause Bros. fear no competition.

Express wagons—Wm. Sargeant. J. Hughes has not only the finest store in the city, but has the largest stock. See his new place near the court house on State street.

EXHIBITS OPENED.

Some Salem Merchants With Most Attractive Exhibits.

The exhibits at the big pavilion, while all in yesterday morning were not fully arranged until today, so that the crowd of visitors could really tell who the store exhibitors were to be. But it did not take long for them to single out the most attractive displays and one could tell on short order, upon entering the pavilion where the centers of interest lay by the throngs about the booths. Among the very best were the following Salem business firms:

AN ELEGANT GUN AND ROD EXHIBIT

Among the most attractive displays in the grand pavilion, on the State Fair grounds, is that of Brooks & Harritt, the popular wholesale and retail merchants in all lines of sporting and outing outfits. A space of some twenty feet square is filled to the utmost with cases of gun and rod goods of the latest make, and a full line of the accoutrements that complete a sportsman's outfit. One case of stuffed China pheasants and another of grouse catch the eye of every one and incite an interest in the recreations of the gun and rod that insures a thorough inspection of every detail of this splendid exhibit. Messrs. Brooks & Harritt's exhibit is a credit to their enterprise in helping to make the fair a success and represent Salem's business interests. The attention they receive proves that the public appreciates their effort. Of course Messrs. Brooks & Harritt's fair exhibit is but a bagatelle of what their large saleroom at 94 State street contains. The public is cordially invited to call at the latter place and inspect their stock.

LIKE SESAME AND LILIES.
Whoever aims to beautify the home is not without appreciative admirers in this land where the house is the crowning glory of the nation. It is not too much to say that George F. Smith's art and picture booth at the state fair pavilion takes a first rank among its attractions. Its artistic arrangement and background for pictures and in their pleasing catches the eye and the really superior goods which make up his collection combine to hold the crowds longer than but few of his neighbors. Mr. Smith has just been east and selected the choicest and largest line of art works and art materials that has ever been brought to Salem. A few of these he puts on exhibition at the fair. The public can only learn of his vast reserve stock by calling at his saleroom on North Commercial street, where every line of bric-a-brac, in pictures, cases, mirrors and rare curios are on exhibition in profusion.

ART IN THE NEEDLE.
The state fair is distinctively a rendezvous for the ladies. Most of them are not artists with the pencil and brush, but all are connoisseurs with the needle or sewing machine. Hence it is that Burley & Wingate's Standard sewing machine booth, in the grand pavilion, is constantly crowded with interested spectators on the novels of the sewing machine artists beautiful products. Messrs. Burley & Wingate have on exhibit every conceivable line of work that women could wish to produce with a machine. The new high armed Standard, Domestic and Davis are their leading sellers and every lady who visits the fair is sure to go away with a resolve to own one of these acemes of sewing perfection, if she is not already supplied. The young ladies in charge of the booth are winning much praise for their clever art stitching and Messrs. Burley & Wingate are sure to receive many calls at their machine parlors No. 313 Commercial street, in return for their courteous attentiveness to the public during the fair week.

SERMONS IN STONES.
That is what the real architect is expected to evolve from his art, and that is what architect C. S. McNally has been doing in Salem and other cities in Oregon and California for years past. On the walls of the northwest corner of the pavilion at the fair grounds may be seen a few of many designs for large public buildings and costly residences he has planned and executed during his successful professional career. It is not often so young a man as Mr. McNally can point to so many large contracts, involving vast public outlay of money. That he can, is proof positive of his ability as an architect and of his success in managing vast details. For three years past Mr. McNally has been Oregon's state architect, during which time he has built the State Reform school building; the Asylum addition, hospital, etc. The new Capital National bank building is his design. Among the many elevations of large buildings he exhibits, is the design for the new Willamette

EXHIBITS OPENED.

Some Salem Merchants With Most Attractive Exhibits.

The exhibits at the big pavilion, while all in yesterday morning were not fully arranged until today, so that the crowd of visitors could really tell who the store exhibitors were to be. But it did not take long for them to single out the most attractive displays and one could tell on short order, upon entering the pavilion where the centers of interest lay by the throngs about the booths. Among the very best were the following Salem business firms:

AN ELEGANT GUN AND ROD EXHIBIT

Among the most attractive displays in the grand pavilion, on the State Fair grounds, is that of Brooks & Harritt, the popular wholesale and retail merchants in all lines of sporting and outing outfits. A space of some twenty feet square is filled to the utmost with cases of gun and rod goods of the latest make, and a full line of the accoutrements that complete a sportsman's outfit. One case of stuffed China pheasants and another of grouse catch the eye of every one and incite an interest in the recreations of the gun and rod that insures a thorough inspection of every detail of this splendid exhibit. Messrs. Brooks & Harritt's exhibit is a credit to their enterprise in helping to make the fair a success and represent Salem's business interests. The attention they receive proves that the public appreciates their effort. Of course Messrs. Brooks & Harritt's fair exhibit is but a bagatelle of what their large saleroom at 94 State street contains. The public is cordially invited to call at the latter place and inspect their stock.

LIKE SESAME AND LILIES.
Whoever aims to beautify the home is not without appreciative admirers in this land where the house is the crowning glory of the nation. It is not too much to say that George F. Smith's art and picture booth at the state fair pavilion takes a first rank among its attractions. Its artistic arrangement and background for pictures and in their pleasing catches the eye and the really superior goods which make up his collection combine to hold the crowds longer than but few of his neighbors. Mr. Smith has just been east and selected the choicest and largest line of art works and art materials that has ever been brought to Salem. A few of these he puts on exhibition at the fair. The public can only learn of his vast reserve stock by calling at his saleroom on North Commercial street, where every line of bric-a-brac, in pictures, cases, mirrors and rare curios are on exhibition in profusion.

ART IN THE NEEDLE.
The state fair is distinctively a rendezvous for the ladies. Most of them are not artists with the pencil and brush, but all are connoisseurs with the needle or sewing machine. Hence it is that Burley & Wingate's Standard sewing machine booth, in the grand pavilion, is constantly crowded with interested spectators on the novels of the sewing machine artists beautiful products. Messrs. Burley & Wingate have on exhibit every conceivable line of work that women could wish to produce with a machine. The new high armed Standard, Domestic and Davis are their leading sellers and every lady who visits the fair is sure to go away with a resolve to own one of these acemes of sewing perfection, if she is not already supplied. The young ladies in charge of the booth are winning much praise for their clever art stitching and Messrs. Burley & Wingate are sure to receive many calls at their machine parlors No. 313 Commercial street, in return for their courteous attentiveness to the public during the fair week.

SERMONS IN STONES.
That is what the real architect is expected to evolve from his art, and that is what architect C. S. McNally has been doing in Salem and other cities in Oregon and California for years past. On the walls of the northwest corner of the pavilion at the fair grounds may be seen a few of many designs for large public buildings and costly residences he has planned and executed during his successful professional career. It is not often so young a man as Mr. McNally can point to so many large contracts, involving vast public outlay of money. That he can, is proof positive of his ability as an architect and of his success in managing vast details. For three years past Mr. McNally has been Oregon's state architect, during which time he has built the State Reform school building; the Asylum addition, hospital, etc. The new Capital National bank building is his design. Among the many elevations of large buildings he exhibits, is the design for the new Willamette

CLOTHING.

Largest Assortment Ever Brought to Salem.
ALL HOME MADE.
BEST GOODS AND LOWEST PRICES!
WOOLEN MILL STORE,
299 Commercial Street, Salem, Oregon.

university which has been accepted. Another is the Kerne county court house California. Many private residences in Salem are of his design and the fact that his office is always crowded with work is evidence sufficient of the appreciation in which his services are held.

BISHOP WALDON AT THE UNIVERSITY.—Bishop Waldon, of the M. E. church, who presided at the conference lately held in Portland, "by chance," as he termed it, came to Salem yesterday morning, and visited the fair during the afternoon. Last evening, at the request of many of his friends, he spoke for about one hour at the University chapel to an audience of about 200, who listened with attention to all he had to say. He commended by stating that he had been requested to speak of his travels in Norway, Denmark and Sweden, and to give such items of general interest, as could be crowded into an hour's friendly talk. He then related incidents of his travels—spoke of the religious and social characteristics of the people of those countries. He said he found them especially hospitable, and fond of social amusement; that religious exercises were frequently followed by these occasions; and in not a few instances, coming under his observation these combined refreshments with the season of pleasure, quite frequently following a sermon from the pastor. He spoke of his great surprise to find in that far off land, Universities, with a corps of able teachers. Museums containing articles of interest and wonder which he had never seen in all his travels either in Europe or America. Among other strange and amusing matters he related, was, that nowhere in all the world had he seen such beautiful roses as he found in Norway. "You of Oregon and Washington," said he, "can boast of larger and more beautiful specimens of roses than we east of the Rockies, but you do not know what a beautiful rose is. I would not dare to speak of their size, else you would think that 'distance lent enchantment to the size, as well as the view.'" Of his travels in Russia, he said that he had been told that he would be tormented by officials throughout all his journey; that that land, but that only once was his baggage or papers examined, and that then the officer discovered a little silk American flag in his valise, which he said he always carried. "This little flag," said he, "was the officer's guarantee of my friendly feeling toward his country, and no one molested or interfered with me in any way thereafter. His remarks were exceedingly interesting and instructive, and we regret that no notice was given of his coming.

IRA HERB
Sash and Door Factory
Front Street, Salem, Oregon.
The best class of work in our line at prices to compete with the lowest. Only the best material used.

ED. C. CROSS,

Choice Meats.

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats of all Kinds.
Largest display in the city at my market. Best service and prompt delivery to all parts of the city.
95 Court and 110 State Streets.

HAD A CHOKING SPELL.—Minnie K., the eight-year-old pacer belonging to Dr. Reynolds, of Salem, had a choking spell this morning at the fair grounds. She had been out on pasture and has not learned to eat oats yet without being greedy, and this morning she went after them so fast as to cause her throat to become clogged and the veterinary surgeon, W. C. Mitchell, had to be called to her assistance. She is all right now. Her record as a pacer is 2:18.

GIVES THE CAKE.—If you want a good meal, one where you get your money's worth, don't fail to drop in to E. W. Wilkins' popular fair ground restaurant, nearest the horse-man's gate. Here you can get a good clean home-cooked meal, one that will just suit a hungry man.

ABOUT HOPS.—A lot of 150 bales of hops from the Levy farm, up the river, run by the Chinamen, is being stored in Herren's warehouse on State street. They are a fine lot and are the first of this season's picking to be delivered in Salem. The price now offered is 14 to 15 cents, but the market is dull.

TRIAL.—The case of John Fisher vs. C. M. Watson for $50, wages, did not come to trial today, but will probably come up Saturday.

A RUN.—Clark & Eppley have a big run on tea, owing to the excellent quality and low prices.

CONCERTS.—The second regiment band will give an open air concert at the opera house every evening.

The Garnett Merit
Of Hood's Saraparilla wins friends wherever it is fairly and honestly tried. Its proprietors are highly gratified at the letters which come entirely unsolicited from men and women in the learned professions warmly recommending Hood's Saraparilla for what it has done for them.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache, and constipation.

The state fair is nowhere compared with the display of choice fruits at J. G. Wright's Pioneer store.

HOLDING FAIR.—At Keller & Marsh's.
A rushing trade at the Blue Front these days.
Only four clerks at the Blue Front, but they do the work of a dozen.

Patent hygiene underwear, for ladies, misses and children, something entirely new for the fall and winter. Call and examine at the Palace.

Col. Wagner, of the Hotel Willamette, will serve his high grade meals throughout this week as usual, but no extra charge will be made.

Great lines underwear, Jackson's. Notions of all kinds—Wm. Sargeant.
Furnished Cottage for rent cheap to people who will take care of the lawn and flowers. C. B. Brown, 248 Commercial street. 9-24 if.

F. T. Hart, the merchant tailor, has as fine a line of goods as were ever brought to the Pacific coast, and the workmanship with which he puts up suits is sure to please.
For plans, maps, blue prints, etc. See D. W. Townsend, 115 State St. 8-30 1 m

Ed Jackson, the latter.

THE FRUIT PALACE.—Has the largest supply of California grapes imported this year. Sold wholesale or retail. Also peaches and Italian prunes.
M. T. RINEMAN,
132 State St.

She was Willing to Give Up All.
When Queen Elizabeth of England, found death approaching her, she cried despairingly, "All my possessions for a moment of time!" There are wealthy ladies today, the world over, who would gladly exchange their robes for sound health. Many are made wild and happy by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a severe falling cure for diseases so common to women. As a corrective for all functional weaknesses it is of universal repute among the sex, and thousands of pale, worn-out, enfeebled victims have been changed into vigorous women and girls by its use. Guaranteed to give satisfaction, or price refunded. Druggists have it.

MARBLE AND GRANITE.—I have just received a stock of marble and granite monuments and grave stones which during the next 30 days (sharp) I will sell at prices never before offered in this State. Call early if you want a bargain. Second door west of the State Insurance building. J. JAMES. 9-15-1w

BARGAINS IN HORSES.—Thirty head of first-class horses at private sale. Real bargains. Salem Motor Sale. Real Co.

Salem flour $1.00 per sack. C. M. Beak.

Baby cried,
Mother sighed,
Doctor prescribed! Castoria

A Generous Firm.
We are informed that the proprietors, Messrs. A. P. Ordway & Co., recently sent three dozen of their reliable medicine, Siphur Bitters to the Catholic Home for the aged which is highly appreciated by the directors and inmates. "As ye sow so shall ye reap."—Editor Catholic Union.

For the care of the sick. How to cure disease, its symptoms and causes, and other information of great value will be found in old Dr. Kaufmann's great book; 100 pages, fine colored plates. Send three 2-cent stamps to pay postage to A. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

WILLIAMS & ENGLAND
BANKING CO.
CAPITAL STOCK, all Subscribed, $200,000
Transact a general banking business in all its branches.
GEO. WILLIAMS, President
W. ENGLAND, Vice President
HUGH MURPHY, Cashier.

DIRECTORS: Geo. Williams, Wm. England, Dr. J. A. Richardson, J. W. Hodson, J. A. Baker.
Bank in new Exchange block on Commercial street. 9-15-02

ON TO WASHINGTON!

NATIONAL 26th ENCAMPMENT
Grand Army of the Republic,
WASHINGTON, D. C., SEPTEMBER 20th TO 26th, 1902.

Wisconsin Central Lines
AND
Baltimore & Ohio Railroad have been selected as the "Official Railroads" between St. Paul, Minnesota and Washington, D. C.

All desirous of taking advantage of the extremely "Low Rates" should call on their tickets read via this "Route" and secure their sleeping car accommodations in advance.
For full particulars address
G. F. McNEILL, City P. and T. Agt.,
19 Nicollet House Block,
Minneapolis, Minn.
AND
C. E. STONE, City P. and T. Agt.,
105 South 2nd St., St. Paul, Minn.

CAPITOL ADVENTURE COMPANY.

We invite the attention of close buyers to the best assorted and largest stock of
DRESS GOODS, TRIMMINGS,
JACKETS, WOOLENS, CLOTHING,
HATS, FINE SHOES,
GROCERIES, CROCKERY, ETC.,
In Salem.

PRICES ALWAYS THE LOWEST.

Agents for Royal Tailors. Suits to order from $20.50 up. Pants to order from $6 up.

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK, CORNER COURT AND LIBERTY STREETS, SALEM, OREGON.

DR. PRICE'S
Cream Baking Powder.
Used in Millions of Homes—40 Years the Standard.