THE RIVER.—The gauge at the U. P. wharf in this city shows that the water in the river is but a trifle above low-water mark, the rise of last week being about all gone. Concerning the condition of this stream above Oregon City, a paper of that town says: "The steamers Manzanillo, Elwood and Modoc are now busy on the river carrying grain, flour, hops, and merchandise, and have all they can handle. The late rains raised the water above the falls about eight inches and below nearly two feet, but this was hardly enough to warrant the steamers in going up to Salem. They ply from the Yamhill down. The improvement in progress at the falls has had the effect of raising the water some twenty-six miles up stream so that it was a preceptible aid to navigation. The coffer dam, however, raises the water more than the permanent dam will, the latter structure only raising the water about a foot at the brink of falls. But that raise will be of considerable benefit to navigation above the falls during the low water season for it only takes a few inches to make the difference between easy and poor runnig for the light draught uy river boats."

MORE ABOUT THE WRECK.—The Eugene Guard has the following to say concerning the attempted wreck of the overland on Wednesday night near Cottage Grove: "The north bound overland train had a narrow escape from disaster last night. About one mile north of Cottage Grove some miscreant had placed a 24-foot railroad rail across the track. The engine struck the rail and carried it about 500 feet when it caught in a cattle guard fence, tearing it out on each side of the track. The rail was then shoved ahead to a bridge, where it was fastened and bent almost double. The engine luckily kept the track. It is said there was a large sum of money in the express car and it may be that the rail was placed on the track with the intention of robbing the express."

Y. M. C. A.—Delegates to the Y. P. S. C. E. county convention will be in attendance at the mass meeting for men only tomorrow at 4 p. m. Short talks and an interesting meeting. Song service of twenty minutes. Association rooms at 92 State street. Welcome.

RACE TRACK AND CANNERY.—Here are two Eugene items of interest to Salem people: Lane county is going to have two kite-shaped race tracks, the first of the kind in the state. ...The cannery has so far canned 10,000 pounds of tomatoes and dried 12,000 pounds of prunes. More are being received daily.

A LONG BICYCLE RIDE.

A Noted Bicyclist and His Long Journey—Now in Salem.

Frank G. Lenz, the amateur bicyclist and photographer of New York city, is to arrive in Salem on Monday, coming from Portland. Mr. Lenz is a special representative of the magazine called the "Outing," and is making a tour of the world on a safety bicycle. He his now on his way to San Francisco, having arrived at Portland on Thursday, the 29th.

Mr. Lenz left New York on the 4th day of last June and has traveled 4128 miles in 97 days. His record for one day is 84 miles, and his average run, 55 miles. He usually makes from 50 to 60 miles a day. On several days he rode from 70 to 80 miles, but finding that this pace had a tendency to stiffen, he abandoned it and now seldom exceeds 60 miles. He has had six escapes from death, two of them very narrow, since he began his ride. Four of the escapes were by being caught on trestles by trains, and he had to crouch on the beams and hold his bicycle until they passed. While at Yellowstone Park he nearly fell over a precipice. He was nearly drowned in the Yellowstone river while trying to swim across to get a skiff to carry his wheel over. He reached the middle of the stream, and was carried by the current for several hundred yards and thrown on a sandbank. He managed to get back to land and did not make the attempt. Eastern papers have published several reports of his death by drowning and at the hands of Indians. One paper, the Pittsburg Star, recently had a long article about Lenz being captured by Indians, and was about to be scalped, when a bottle of firewater was found in his pocket and he was released. Lenz did not hear of his death, capture by Indians, etc., until he received a letter from his mother with the newspaper clippings enclosed.

He was five days in making the trip from Wallu a to The Dalles. The distance is only 126 miles, but, owing to the severe sandstorms and bad roads, he had to walk over 100 miles. A number of trains passed him on the way, and trainhands always asked him to "get on and ride a stretch." He refused, as he intends to write articles on the roads of the world, and wanted to gain some information about the roads of the Northwest.

From Portland, Lenz will ride to San Francisco, and, after passing some time there, will sail for Japan. He will pass the winter in that country, China and India. He will go through Persia, Palestine and Turkey in the spring of 1893, and will then ride through Europe. He intends to return to New York in 1894. When his journey is completed he will have ridden over 20,000 miles.

Lenz shows no signs of fatigue from his long trip. He says he has been sick but one day since he left New York, and that was caused by drinking alkali water in Montana. He is 25 years old, 5 feet 6 inches in height, and weighs 140 pounds. The bicycle on which he rides is so made that whenever he strikes a heavy grade he can change the gearing from 30 to 45 or 54 inches. The wheel weighs 57 pounds and Lenz carries 27 pounds of luggage, consisting of a repairing outfit, clothes, and materials for his camera, which he carries strapped to his back.

FUNG LEE, TOM LEE, AND THE LAWYERS.—The Chinese population of Salem now have to conduct themselves "alle same white folks"—they have something to talk about. That Fung Lee case, that was to have been heard yesterday by Recorder Goodell was dismissed at the request of Fung's husband, Tom Lee. But this is not all; later in the afternoon yesrerday Tom, through his attorneys D'Arcy & Bingham, begun suit against Mrs. F. Holt of the Woman's Home in Portland, for the sum of $2000 claimed as damages for the separation of the two descendents of China. A gist of the complaint is: "That Fung Lee is and all the times hereinafter mentioned the wife of plaintiff; that on or about the 3d day of March, 1892, while the plaintiff was living and cohabiting with and supporting and caring for the said Fung Lee in the city of Salem and while the plaintiff and his wife, the said Fung Lee, were living together happily and contented as husband and wife, the defendant wrongfully contriving and intending to injure plaintiff and deprive him of his wife, maliciously and wrongfully caused Fung Lee to be enticed away from her home in this city, and has, ever since the 3d of March, 1892, detained and harbored his wife against the consent of Tom Lee; that by reason of the defendant the plaintiff has been and is still wrongfully deprived of his wife and suffered great distress of body and mind in consequence thereof to his damage in the sum of $2000, and the plaintiff demands judgment against defendant in that sum and costs and disbursement of the action."

FASTED FOR SEVENTY-TWO HOURS—The wanderer, Mary Kamph is once more at her home in the country south of Salem. She made her appearance last night after the sun had gone down, being first seen by a conductor on the Capital City electric line, as he was going up the South Salem hill, and afterwards she was seen by her brother, who saw her in the road way near Mize's mill near the slough road. Here is the story as related by her last night, after she had arrived home and had been refreshed by some eatables: "I do not know why I left home, I just wanted to go, that was all. When I got to South Salem I stood under a tree in the shade quite a while, afraid to move for fear someone would see me. I then went down Commercial street until I came to a pile of boards on the east side of the street, opposite Amos Strong's house. There I crawled under the boards and laid there from that night until this evening, [Friday] and when I left there the town clock was striking 6. I didn't have anything to eat or drink during that time, and didn't feel hungry. I was afraid I'd be seen and put in jail. I saw pa going to town this morning but I didn't want to hollow at him for fear he would take me and put me in jail. I thought I would hollow at him tonight when he was on his way home."

TWO DRUNKS.—J. D. Clabourne and S. Barnes were before Recorder M. E. Goodell this morning to answer to the charge of being drunk. The latter was given five days to remain in the cooler, and Clabourne, being, an aged printer, wanted to see the printers at the state capitol, so he was given a couple hours time accompanied by Policeman Dilly, to interview the boys for the purpose of obtaining the wherewith to enable him to pay his fine.

UP STATE STREET AGAIN.—The cars of the Salem Motor company resumed making trips up State street today, the track having been torn up at the corner of Commercial and State streets for a day or two. This is the narrow gauge electric line, or in other words, the old "boss" line.

AT THE "SPA."

Wonderful Growth of Salem's Leading Confectionery House.

The "Spa," Salem's leading retail and wholesale confectionery house, now occupies the former John Hughes grocery store room. The whole floor is filled with the stock and parlors and, with the new plate front and windows richly displayed it presents a very fine appearance. Besides filling this large room of the Gray block on State street, the "Spa" now requires a factory in the rear of over six hundred foot floor space where three men are employed, who make all the latest creams and bonbons, besides the daily supplies of taffy and stock for a wholesale trade which has grown to large dimensions since the "Spa" was opened a year ago.

The firm and Walter Stoltz, the manager, are to be congratulated on their occupancy of these enlarged quarters, so much better suited to the large and growing trade. In volume of business and floor room they can justly claim to have the largest wholesale and retail house in the city. By keeping stock in large quantities they are able to meet all competition. A glance at some of the many rich details of the establishment must be taken and the "Spa" is well worthy a visit merely to see the new things to say nothing of tasting the delicacies that appear on every hand to tempt a sweet tooth or a cultivated palate. Besides the wholesale and retail glass cases there are hot and cold soda fountains,—the former a novelty just introduced from the east, and just the thing in cool weather; a $1000 soda fountain is now on the cars from the factory and will eclipse anything in the city; ice cream is served the year round by the freezer, in neat packages or served in the parlors adjoining; an expert oyster cook has been secured who will soon serve Eastern and Sound bivalves in all styles; also Strong's bakery bread, fresh daily.

State street and the city of Salem may well feel proud of this establishment which has grown up from a small stand to large proportions and give it the hearty patronage a first-class house of this kind deserves.

A PROGRESSIVE HEART SOCIAL.—The social season of 1892-'93 was ushered in last night in Salem by the "Progressive Heart" party held at the home of Miss Helen Edes, on Gaiety hill, being in honor of Miss Polly O'Meara, who has been in Salem some time and who will leave next week for her home in San Jose, California. The evening was one round of social enjoyment, progressive hearts being the principal amusement. Most delicious refreshments were served at a convenient hour and then a few hours of dancing followed. Those of the invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Boise, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Brasfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clarke; Miss Genevieve Hughes, Miss Mae Boise, Miss Edna Moody, Miss Lula Hirsch, Miss Lena Breyman, Miss Anna Breyman, Miss Reta Lowndale, Miss Ada Breyman, Miss Stella Cannon, Miss Hannah Chase, Miss Jennie Gray, Miss Nellie Litchfield, Miss Louise Huelat; Mr. W. B. Morse, Mr. A. E. Crosby, Mr. H. L. McNary, Mr. H. W. Myers, Mr. H. Kreiss, Mr. J. M. Keene, Mr. F. S. Dearborn, Mr. Milton Myers, Mr. Frank Meredith, Mr. Frank Hughes, Mr. R. S. Miller, Mr. E. C. Giltner, Mr. F. K. Lovell.

THE STONE WORK COMPLETED.—The last stone in the massive front of the Capital National bank has been placed in position and now workmen are putting on the ornamented roof over the front, which will be of wood and covered with slate shing'es. The new front is now being touched up with chisel and the seams are being penciled. Mr. Fox, from Seattle, will soon arrive in Salem to complete the work of carving on the large stone just above the big granite pillar to the right of the main entrance. This, when completed, will be a delicate and handsome piece of carving, but will be in comparison to the other ornamentation of this kind in different sections of the stone front.

PROBATE.—Margaret W. McIntyre has been appointed executrix of the estate of Thos. H. McIntyre, deceased, and W. T. Rigdon, Charles Clagget, and J. J. Basey, were appointed appraisers. The probable value of the estate is $5000, and there are four heirs-at-law. The executrix has also filed her inventory of all the real and personal property......The order of sale of the real property in the estate of Sarah W. Woodworth, deceased, has been continued on application of J. H. Albert, the administrator. The reason is that there is a prospect of selling the said estate without the sale having to be made.

WHAT TELLS.—The gravel teamsters have some spirited races with their teams in the morning when going to the gravel pits where the men are ready to load them. All these men work hard and the wear and tear on the clothes is severe. They will find it to their advantage to investigate working men's suits and working men's prices at Geo. W. Johnson & Son's clothing house.

Without a doubt Simmons Liver Regulator will cure you. It has cured thousands.

THOSE Y. M. C. A. BIDS.—There were fourteen bids opened at the office of the Y. M. C. A., in the Patton block, last evening, being estimates on the work of fixing up the new hall and rooms in the Minto brick, over Chas. Smith's hardware store. Owing to some misunderstanding concerning parts of the bids, the awards were not made, but will be at the meeting of the association on Monday night.

ARM BROKEN.—While assisting in hauling a load of rails this morning on the farm of Chas. Savage, about four miles north of Lincoln, O. Green had the misfortune to break his right arm one inch from the wrist joint. He was riding on the load, which was a large one, and in coming out of the timber, the wagon went into a rut in the road and Mr. Green fell off backwards to the ground striking in such a manner as to receive the above fracture. He was brought to Salem and Dr. J. N. Smith set the broken member. The accident happened about 9 o,clock.

SPARE THAT TREE.—There are still some after the trees. So long as the city leaves red, blue and unpainted poles of every size and kind, strung with wires, all over the city, it should not allow the axe to be laid to a few maples next to the sidewalk that are ornamental more than bare poles. Besides, the trees afford shade, keep the houses cool, are a defense against fires on the other side of the street and do not interfere in any way with business, pedestrians, or the use of the streets.

A SOCIAL EVENT.—A notable social event in North Salem this past week was the marriage of Louisa Wirth to Jas. O'Niel, Monday, Sept. 26, 1892, by Rev. J. S. White of St. Joseph's church. There was a reception given to Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil at the residence of the bride's father near the fair grounds and a large list of presents were received. The newly wedded couple are housekeeping in a cosy new house in North Salem, and are a welcome addition to society.

FOR HORSE STEALING.—Sheriff John Knight arrested Jacob Noll in Salem this morning. He is wanted in Lake county for the crime of horse stealing, having escaped from the jail in that county several times. When taken in by the sheriff he was working on the new building in the rear of Drake's iron foundry.

LEG BROKEN.—A laborer named M. J. White was working in the lumber yard near the old agricultural works and had the misfortune to have a pile of lumber fall over onto his right lower limb, breaking it just above the ankle joint. Dr. J. N. Smith furnished relief to the unfortunate man by setting the member.

TWO MORE.—Z. B. Setzer and Mabel Holtzclan, and J. L. McKinney and Anna Claussen, were the couples to whom marriage certificates were granted on this the first day of October.

AT SHERIFF'S SALE.—Two parts of the Vaughn donation land claim were sold at sheriff sale this afternoon; one piece brought $157 and the other $195. Sam. T. Richardson was the purchaser of one.

SAD NEWS.—R. B. Cannon, of this city, is saddened over the news of the death of a brother in Texas, who has been conducting a large ranch in which he is interested, and he expects to have to go and take charge of it at an early day.

FREE AGAIN.—W. W. Wallace was discharged from the reform school today, and left for Pendleton, Umatilla county, on the 1:40 train this afternoon.

THE FINE WEATHER.—It stimulates grocery trade because it gives people good appetites. That is what we are here for, that is why the people find the best the markets afford at Squire Farrar & Co's.

AT UNITARIAN CHURCH.—No services at the Unitarian church tomorrow, but Sunday school at 12 m., as usual.

Mrs. J. W. Crawford and daughter, Mamie, who have been in Salem since fair week guests of John Van Eaton and family, started on their return to Pendleton, Umatilla county, this morning. While here Mrs. Crawford went to Corvallis with her son Frank, who is now a student of the Agricultural college.

Mrs. R. W. Holton, a sister of J. H. Albert, returned from Mehama today, where she has been for several months. She was accompanied by her father, and J. H. Albert, who went to Albany last night to assist in her journey to Salem, she being an invalid.

In Woodburn, Thursday, September 29, 1892 Frank L. Moore and Miss Mattie M. Layman. Last Thursday afternoon the Methodist church, in that city, was comfortably filled with by about 500 persons to witness the above wedding ceremony The church was magnificently decorated for the occasion, roses being used in profusion. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Mulligan and at its close the happy couple went to the depot to take the afternoon train for their future home at Clatskanie, Oregon. Rev. Moore is an able minister of the Methodist church and is well known in this county. Mrs. Moore is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hon. Samuel Laymen.

HOPS AND WHEAT.

A. D. Pettyjohn, a hop raiser living south of Salem, has received a circular direct from Manger & Henley, hop factors, of 59, Borough, London, S. E., dated September 14th. It is as follows:

"Our market has been well supplied with the new growth which meet with a ready sale at prices ranging as follows: Low and diseased, 17@22 cents; medium, 23@26; choice, 28@34. The crop comes down lighter than was expected and growers are very firm believers in higher values. We are looking forward to your side to supply our deficiency and hope you are getting good quality and color."

Yesterday, a hop raiser at Butteville refused 22 cents a pound for his crop. Other reports are also of the same condition.

Wheat is now 63 cents, having gone down in price one cent yesterday.

That Dear Old World, Good-by, is a mighty sad one when it is the parting salutation between friends whom thousands of miles of salt water are about to separate. Mariners, buyers in foreign lands for heavy houses, commercial travelers who have made many trips across the stormy Atlantic, think little of an ocean voyage, but to the first voyager the initial trip is a momentous affair. Sea sickness is to be expected as a matter of course. How to prevent it? The finest remedy and preventive of the nausea provoked by the tossing of a vessel, the jarring motion of the screw of a steamship, or of a locomotive train, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, pronounced by sea captains, ship doctors, tourists, travelers and emigrants the finest stomachic and best defense against ailments of the bowels, digestive organs and liver in existence. Malarial, rheumatism, kidney trouble and debility are remedied by it.
