PAY TAXES.—THE SALEM JOURNAL

has figured out the insurance companies in the Northwest doing a farm business paid taxes as follows in Oregon and Washington during the past year: State, $924,37; Farmers and Merchants, $752,37; Northwest, $587,52; Continental, $359,19; Home, $332,74; Phoenix, of Hartford, $324,11; American, $294,72; Guardian, $234,11; Phoenix, of Brooklyn, $224,39; Sun, $188,37, and says: Under the laws of Oregon, outside insurance companies are simply required to pay a tax of one per cent on the net premiums received in the state during the preceding year after deducting return premiums, re-insurance, agents' commissions, taxes, expenses, licenses and losses paid in the state; which practically exempts many of the companies from taxation in this state; while a home company having its property located within the state must pay taxes upon it, which makes a discrimination against home companies and in favor of outside companies and is something that is not done in other states, and the state of Oregon is annually losing about $60,000 thereby.—Albany Democrat.

POSTAL IMPROVEMENT.—Postmaster Gilbert is about to introduce in Salem the latest device recommended by the department for the postoffice for the convenience of postoffice patrons. It is a box to be placed on residences for the receiving and delivering of mail by carriers. Out of 1200 designs submitted, the department has selected a few of the most practical. Mr. Gilbert will have a sample box on exhibition soon where it can be inspected, and when a majority of the residents on any carrier route are ready to place such boxes on their residences at their own expense, which is small, the same will be ordered, and the new service go into effect. Where this new system has been tried householders are delighted with it, being especially pleased with the convenience of posting a letter at any hour of the day or night without going outside their own door. It is to be hoped Salemites will adopt the new system.

NOT A FAKE STORE.—Our scale of prices are such that we cannot cash worthless 10 per cent coupons in order to get trade. We sell at close bargains and will not offer a premium of 10 per cent to have our patrons send money out of town for inferior cypripedias. Clark & Eppley.

A GREAT WOOD MARKET.—A citizen who has figured the matter closely estimates that the amount of wood consumed in Salem during a year will reach 100,000 cords. This means over half a million dollars a year for fuel, and a large part of that amount is paid for labor.

STATE HOUSE NEWS.

The Old Capitol all Torn Up—Personal Items—Big Pay Roll.

Work on the dome of the state house, reconstruction of the legislative hall and the heating and ventilating apparatus is being pushed by a large force of men. Legislators will not know the old structure as reconstructed.

Governor Penoyer is very happy over his Roseburg speech, where he broke entirely with his old ally, the Democratic party. He feels very much under obligation to Editor Kaiser, of the Ashland Record, for the interest he took to give the speech a big circulation.

Geo. W. Davis, of the School Land office, is home from a trip to Portland.

Work on the improvements at the state asylum for insane have progressed finely during the fine weather.

Geo. W. Meservey, a delinquent school clerk from Curry county, arrived last night for the state prison. He was sentenced one year for larceny of some of the funds, but there are favorable circumstances and a strong petition for his pardon accompanies his papers. He was poor and a creditor pressed him. He used the public money.

Commissioner Colvig, of the Railway Commissioners, has all the reports from the companies operating in the state except the S. P. Co. and the U. P. Co., and in hands of the state printer.

Commissioners Hamilton and Clow, and Clerk Miller, are making an inspection of railroads. They covered the Oregonian line from Woodburn to Natron.

The citizens of Tangent, a town of 300 people, on the S. P. Co., has no depot and has petitioned the Board to have one erected. The town makes a good showing of business.

State Treasurer, Phil Metschan is still a bachelor—his better-half having been in Eastern Oregon since July.

The quarterly payroll of the asylum was paid in warrants today and amounts to the sum of $10,706.89. Frank Hodgkin has put in a week at La Grande, Pendleton and Walla Walla for health, pleasure and a little business. He is expected back today.

Dr. Williamson, of the asylum, is another state employe who is growing a beard. Hodgkin is not alone.

CAPT. PRATT'S FIGS.—Salem has had one of the most successful growers of figs. For years he has grown the white Adriatic variety and only in an occasional season has the fruit failed to ripen. This year the captain is happy because he was awarded the prize at the Portland exposition for the best display of figs in glass. It is to be remembered that these figs were grown in open air.

PROBATE.—In the matter of the estate of F. E. Eldridge, deceased; petition for confirmation of sale of real property set for hearing October 8th.—In the matter of the estate of Elisha Barnes, deceased; petition filed for an order requiring the administrator to file final account.

ADRIATIC FIGS.—They have so far been unable to secure enough of these tropical fruits to supply their trade, but in all other varieties of Oregon and California fruits Squire Farrar & Co are on top.

ALL RIGHT AGAIN.—The big pump which was lately disabled at the water works, is again fully repaired, and the water supply will now be furnished with greater ease.

The court will go to Woodburn tomorrow to meet the Clackamas county court in reference to a joint bridge on the Seelye and Kemp road across Butte creek.

The assignment of James Nickless to the poor farm was confirmed by the court.

ROOM MADE.—A small beginning is frequently a good omen, and with energy applied, frequently result in good endings. This is proven the case with the grocery house of Clark & Eppley. The shelf room in their store has just been doubled and still they hardly have room for their goods. This firm has had a steady growth ever since its existence, and their prosperity is the result of honest methods and good service.

THE COUNCIL DECIDES.

What to Do With the Shade Trees, Gutters and Dirt.

At a special session of the council held last evening the following legal opinion was received from the acting city attorney.

"To W. M. Hunt, chairman of the committee on streets and public property: In reply to your question as to the power of the city to make changes in the manner of the work on a street improvement, the cost of which is to be paid by the adjoining lot owners, I beg leave to say, that, in my judgment, when it is found advisable to make changes in the manner of doing the work, the city can make such changes when they do not materially increase the cost of the work and do no injury to the adjoining lot owners. The city can do nothing which will materially prejudice the rights of property owners, but it can make amendments and changes which do not substantially impair the rights of the citizens.

"The lot owner has the right to have the work faithfully and properly done. As to the ownership of the soil excavated, I am of the opinion that the contractor has no right to it whatever. Where its removal is necessary to the general plan of the improvement, it can be removed from one part of the contemplated improvement to another, but when it is not so required, the city cannot so appropriate it against the objection of the lot owner, provided he will bear the cost of removal himself.

"Some courts have held that a city in grading a street may remove the soil and use it in grading that street, or any other street in the city, and that as between the city and the lot owners or owners of the fee, the city is entitled to all the surplus earth arising from improvement of a street.

"Whether our courts will follow these decisions or not, I cannot say, but to me they seem to be founded on good reason.

"Respectfully submitted,
GEO. G. BINGHAM."

On motion of Alderman Moore the city engineer was instructed to permit the contractor to use as much of the excavations as was necessary for fills, under the engineer's supervision.

STREET MATTERS.

On petition Alderman Collins was given a permit to improve the street in front of his Court street property, with broken rock.

Ladd & Bush's petition for a cobble stone gutter was lost.

The city engineer was instructed to widen the walk to sixteen feet on the west and north sides of the Willamette hotel. He was also instructed to run the gutter around the trees and watering tank at Ladd & Bush's bank, providing Ladd & Bush make the necessary repairs.

The city engineer was instructed to require the electric line and other poles to be moved outside of the curb lines.

The renunciation of the Willamette Valley Milling Co. against the travel of gravel teams over the covering of the race on front street was returned to the city engineer with power to act.

CLAIMS ALLOWED.

CITY CONTROVERSIES.

Suits in Which Salem is a Party—The Contest Over the Earth—Suits for Damages.

Acting City Attorney Geo. G. Bingham, filed a demurrer Wednesday to the complaint of Hattie Easton vs. the city of Salem in the circuit court. This is the suit for damages from the big fill south of the Commercial street viaduct encroaching upon private property and will come up at this term.

THE CONTEST FOR THE EARTH

is practically settled. The report of the council proceedings is printed in this issue. A reporter called Geo. G. Bingham, who has been doing the work of the attorney, says: The opinion he has given on the question between the city and contractors as to who owns the earth, has no binding effect and is only his judgment. My opinion is the contractor has no right to it whatever. Our street work is all pioneering, and we must go slow and keep within our charter. The street committee asked for this opinion Wednesday morning, for the evening special session. If the city has no use for the earth in question, it belongs to the frontage owner, as against the third party.

THE CONTRACTORS say they have never claimed any of this earth except such as was suitable to make fills on the street. Soft earth has been hauled to Willson avenue from places where the streets had to be cleaned. Bingham's opinion has no effect upon their contract, they say, and their work will go ahead.

THE POLL TAX CASE of the city against the county will be decided at this term of county court. It is likely a final decision will not be reached there, but a writ of review will have to be taken to the circuit court.

What Stronger Proof

is needed of the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla than the hundreds of letters continually coming in telling of marvelous cures it has effected after all other remedies had failed? Truly, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar curative power unknown to other medicines.

ROCK CRUSHERS.—It is not generally known that Salem has a number of rock crushers in successful operation, but such is the case. To be convinced of this fact one need only ride in the electric car along the new street improvements. They are crushing cobble stones every hour of the day.

STICK TO THE ORDINANCE.

MY DEAR JOURNAL—

The ever present "kicker" against street improvement has not had an opportunity given him to open out in regard to Commercial street work till the meeting of the council last night. The work has been going along quietly and to the satisfaction of the property holders, but the council—that never misses an opportunity to "put its foot in it"—last night took action that's likely to make another law suit even worse than Chemeketa street suit. The improvement of Commercial street is being done under an act or ordinance passed in due form and in accordance with the charter. This ordinance is specific in regard to the manner of improvement—how wide the sidewalk shall be—how deep and wide the gutters, and where they shall be located.

This is all well enough; but up jumps a member of the council and by a simple motion, amends an ordinance that has passed that body, been approved by the mayor and become a law.

I suggest that the council have another meeting and submit this question to the city attorney: "Can an ordinance that has become a law be amended on a motion of the council?"

CRUSHED ROCK.

Save His Child's Life.

A. N. Dilliforther, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's colic, cholera, and diarrhoea remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hands, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, as my wife says, 'from a death bed' he was up playing in three hours." It saved me a doctor bill of about three dollars, and what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clear conscience." For sale by Baskett & Van Slype.

That Dear Old World, Good-by.

It is a mighty sad one when it is the parting salutation between friends when thousands of miles of salt water are about to separate. Mariners, buyers in foreign lands for heavy homes, commercial travelers who have made many trips across the stormy Atlantic, think little of an ocean voyage, but to the first voyager the initial trip is a momentous affair, because it is to be expected as a matter of course how to prevent it? The threat remedy and preventive of the nausea produced by the tossing of a vessel, the jarring motion of the screw of a steamship, or of a locomotive train, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, pronounced by sea captains, ship doctors, tourists, travelers and emigrants the finest stomachic and best defense against ailments of the bowels, digestive organs and liver in existence. Malaria, rheumatism, kidney trouble and debility are remedied by it.

Mr. Lander's Recommendation.

Mr. J. A. Lander, a prominent citizen of Clarkburg, Mo., and widely known in that state, says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy: "I have seen its good results and can recommend it." For sale by Baskett & Van Slype Drugists.
