

BREVETTES

CHATS ABOUT MEN.

Senator Henry L. Dawes was a genuine New England schoolmaster for a few years after graduation from college.

Mr. James Crichton Brown, an eminent dental authority, is quoted as authority for the assertion that future generations in England are threatened with toothlessness.

Lord Rosebery is credited with this sarcastic comment on the taste of the people of Sydney, New South Wales: "They sit on twenty-two guinea chairs and look at sixteen shilling oleographs."

The estate of 10,000 acres on which Mr. George Vanderbilt is erecting a baronial castle in North Carolina represents forty farms, which were bought up from the mountaineers at a total cost of fully $600,000.

Stephen A. Douglas, son of the "Little Giant," Illinois' great Democratic leader, will be married in the spring to Miss May Tudor, now a student at Walla college. The marriage will take place just after her graduation.

John Boyd Thatcher, of Albany, has presented that city with the original bill, signed by Queen Anne and Earl Godolphin, to compensate Albany's first mayor, Peter Schuyler, for talking four Indian chiefs to England in 1710.

Mr. James Home-Spears, whose approaching marriage with the beautiful American, Miss Green, is announced, is thirty-one. He was in the Black Watch, but retired. He belongs to an old Scotch family. There was a barony in the family 400 years ago.

Congressman Henry Page, of Maryland, who has just been appointed chief judge of the first judicial circuit of his state, is the son of a Mr. Christfield, but he dropped the surname and began using his second Christian name instead while yet a young man.

Rev. Samuel Wakefield, D. D., LL. D., and wife, of Latrobe, are a remarkable couple. He is ninety-four years old, and his wife is but a few years his junior. They were married seventy-one years ago and have ten children living. No death has occurred in the family for thirty years.

Citizen George Francis Train addressed 30,000 Pennsylvania farmers the other day on "Red-hot Public Events." He began in this way: "I propose to talk treason, and if any little, one horse militia colonel attempts to hang me up here by the thumbs for doing it I'll kill him on the spot." Mr. Train talked "treason" for two hours and was not interfered with.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Maine has wild land worth $20,000,000 at a low estimate.

Almost every country on the earth has its own standard mule.

For every four shillings spent in England on drink only a halfpenny is expended on education.

According to a calculation published in a London paper, the entire population of the world could stand on a field ten miles square.

As a result of the widespread use of macaroni in Italy the peasants of that country consume more flour than the peasants of any other land.

Numerous experiments to determine the best fire resisting materials for the construction of doors proved that wood covered with tin resisted the fire better than an iron door.

The workers in the London hospitals amount to 6,000 persons, of whom some 1,300 are honorary medical officers who devote their time to the treatment of disease without fee of any kind.

The formation of a new island in the Caspian sea, near Baku, Russia, by upheaval is announced. Its surface is reported to be irregular and composed of blackish gray and yellow hardened mud.

The United States now holds twenty-one law firms made up of husbands and wives. In addition to these, there are at least 180 American women who practice law in the courts or publish legal publications.

Hand woven tapestries are now reproduced in such a perfect manner as to make a most satisfactory substitute for the real and vastly more expensive fabric, and constituting, in fact, an industrial art of positive importance.

WHISPERS ABOUT WOMEN.

The wife of Adlai E. Stevenson is a niece of the late General S. B. Fry.

Baroness Gustave de Rothschild's collar of pearls, worn by her at the opera, is valued at $40,000.

Miss Sarah Pollard owns a half section of land in Polk county, Minn., which she works without any help except in harvest season.

A Non-removable Railroad Ticket.

A young railroad man of Pomona has come to the front with an invention in the way of a ticket that will bring him fame and an enviable bank account. It is simply this: The purchaser of an iron-clad ticket is not to be required to write his name or make any formal declaration as to his intention in regard to the ticket. Nothing of the kind. The agent who sells the low rate round trip points his little camera at you while he gives you your change. It records the image of the purchaser in an instant. The agent pulls out the slide, rubs his chemical sponge over the sensitized paper and—there you are. In the upper left hand corner of the ticket he pastes that picture, puts it in under a stamp that embosses the edges, and unless you can find somebody that looks enough like you to risk the chance of a return on your image the ticket will carry the original purchaser and nobody else.—Pomona (Cal.) Progress.

A Plague of Flies.

An army of willow flies last night covered the city in swarms of millions. Passers by the electric lights were almost blinded by them, and women shrieked and ran as the flies clung to them or flew into their faces. The platform of the Union depot was a sight. They could be shoveled up or swept off by the bushel, and handfuls could be gathered in the air. They filled the waiting rooms and ticket offices, and when trains arrived they filled the cars. Bushes of them were swept up this morning, and could be gathered under any electric light, while the globes of the lights were packed full. The steamboats were deluged with them. The only gainers by this affliction appear to be the sparrows, who this morning ate so many that they could neither chatter nor fly.—Alton (Ill.) Democrat.

Small Boy and Big Fish.

The danger of small boys fishing for big game has been illustrated by John Keim, a lad of thirteen years, of Pottsville. He stood on the Schuylkill river bridge, and in attempting to land a five pound bass he was pulled over the railing and into the water thirty-five feet below. Friends pulled him out and found his leg broken, but he got the fish.—Cor. Philadelphia Record.

REAL ESTATE SALE BY THE OREGON LAND CO.

AUCTION SALE

IN TRACTS OF FROM 5 TO 20 ACRES EACH.

THERE WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER FROM 100 TO 500 ACRES OF LAND IN SMALL TRACTS OF FROM 5 TO 20 ACRES EACH, ON

OCTOBER 15, 1892

THIS LAND IS SITUATED FROM FOUR TO NINE MILES FROM SALEM, AND IS OWNED BY THE OREGON LAND COMPANY.

There will be no by-bidding or reserved bids, but the sales will be absolutely to the highest bidder. If sales are not satisfactory on the first one hundred acres the privilege is reserved to discontinue the sale. If satisfactory, five hundred acres will be sold. THESE TRACTS ARE IN THE SUNNY SIDE FRUIT FARMS, platted and improved by The Oregon Land company, and comprise a variety of tracts, some being set out to fruit trees, some being cultivated and suitable for setting out to fruit D for gardening, and some in timber. THE SALE WILL COMMENCE ON SUNNY SYDE NO. 5, 2 1/2 MILES S. W. FROM TURNER STATION AT 2 P.

TERMS OF SALE:--One-fourth cash; one-fourth on or before sixty days; one-fourth in one year; one-fourth in two years with interest at 8 per cent. annually.

THE OREGON LAND COMPANY has sold more than five hundred small farms in five years, and in the belief that money will be saved to both buyer and seller, makes this auction as an experiment. Parties wishing to look at these tracts before the day of sale will be taken to them free of charge, from the office of The Oregon Land Company, at Salem, Oregon. Parties desiring small tracts for fruit raising or gardening, convenient to railroad ad river near a good cannery where vegetables and fruits find a ready sale at good prices, and convenient to churches and schools, in a location where the roads are good and where there is already more than one thousand acres of young orchard now growing, will do well to examine these tracts, and take a look at the orchards in the vicinity, which are the best in Oregon.
