GOODHUE & CAHILL.

Gossip.—Is there anything more sentimental, degrading or demoralizing to the morals or fair name of a town than the ever wagging tongue which gossips as its theme. It looks into the minutest detail of every one's character, seizes upon the smallest foundation for a malicious story, as does the eagle upon the unsuspecting lamb and with equally bad results. It can and does rob oftentimes the fairest men and women of their only treasure—a good name. Such elements should not be tolerated in the least; it is like all other pickings of the character of others—ends in sorrow to all implicated. A great man, once robbed of his good name, but who yet retained great wealth, said: "Take my money; return my good name, and I will reach a summit to which few other men will ascend, but without that I am compelled to be content in the lowliest hut." How true are these words, but how often is their true worth fathomed?

A Good Move.—This morning Street Commissioner Culver started out the city cart for repairing all poor sidewalks. It is in charge of M. C. Starr, who takes along a good supply of material and ample help. Every broken sidewalk of which the owner has been previously notified will be repaired and taxed up to the property. This is a move in the right direction and will be the means of giving Salem better sidewalks than it has had for years. The law authorizes this, and Mr. Culver proposes to enforce the law.

Business Suits.—Success in business life depends much on external impressions and these are established by a neat appearance. When this can be obtained at one-half to one-third what tailors charge, it readily accounts for the popularity of a clothing house like G. W. Johnson & Son's at Salem. The above claim is true of their splendid line of gents furnishing goods.

Some Raspberries.—J. M. Baker, of South Salem, yesterday brought to this office a branch of black cap raspberries, fully ripe, and grown on a this year's vine. Is there a country that can beat this record?

Club Meeting.—The Republican club will meet at the club rooms this (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock. All Republicans are urged to attend. Per order E. M. Waite, president. J. J. Fitzgerald, secretary.

When It Comes.—to delicacies for the table, as well as all substantial, the old and well known grocery house of Squire Farrar & Co., heads the list.

Look Up Sharp.—Grade Jersey milk at the City Dairy, B. J. Sharp, opposite Oregon House.

Attention to the daily habits of the young prevents suffering. Take Simmons Liver Regulator. Tin fruit cans—one and two quart—at Steiner & Blosser's, State street. 10-1-11 Fine Poultry, Davison & White. You can buy a pair of ladies' gossamer rubbers for 30 cents, at Krause Bros.

"Puzzled The Doctors."

MOST of the cases cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla have been given up by the regular practice. Physicians are recommending this medicine more and more, and with satisfactory results.

E. M. Sargent, Lowell, Mass., says: "Several years ago, my daughter broke out with large sores on her face, neck, and other parts of her body. The case puzzled the doctors. My daughter used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it resulted in a complete cure. Her blood seems to have been thoroughly purified, as she has never had so much as a pimple since taking this medicine."

"This is to certify that after having been sick for twelve years with kidney disease and general debility, and having been treated by several physicians without relief, I am now better in every respect, and think I am nearly well, having taken seven bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Maria Ludvigson, Albert Lea, Minn.

DEATHS.

Tuesday morning, Oct. 18th, 1892, in South Salem, of kidney trouble, Gaines Fisher, aged 55 years.

Gaines Fisher was born in Maryland, and had spent about 15 years in Oregon. For many years he conducted a successful livery business in this city and about two years ago he removed to Newton, Iowa, where he remained in business about a year. Since then he was in Portland until very recently, when he returned to Salem. Last January Mr. Fisher was married to his present wife, and they had made all preparation to remove to Independence, Iowa. Their goods were packed and they had expected to start Monday, when Mr. Fisher was taken seriously ill on Saturday, which terminated fatally at 8 o'clock this morning. Mr. Fisher has a sister and several brothers living; also a son, Gaines Fisher, Jr., who lives in Portland. He was recently appointed a member of the State board of Agriculture, and was a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity. The funeral will be held tomorrow under the auspices of the Salem masons.

The city should remove all mud and filth off the present surface of the streets where a thin coating of gravel only is put on. Where cuts have been made, the contractors may as well do it.
