THE ENTIRE NOUS.—The second party of this social club was not well attended on account of the storm, there being only thirty odd couples present. A score or more who held tickets could not attend on account of the bad weather, but those who did report an excellent entertainment. The concert from 8 to 9 was heard by quite a number and consisted of choice renditions of twelve pieces. The new floor is still a little heavy but will improve with each dance. Prof. Huston's dancing academy used the opera house last night for the first time. Those eighty-five young people will soon smooth the floor.

THE TRAINS.—Last night was a serious one for the trains. The Roseburg local got as far as Milwaukee and stuck. The Albany local did not get up from Portland until 9 p. m. The overland came up at 4 a. m. The Albany local this morning was two hours late. The whereabouts of the northbound overland is unknown. No wire south goes farther than Marion. All the engines carry snowplows. This morning the wind is still in the north and no prospect of the snow going off.

Special prices to Xmas tree committees at Strong's.

DELIVERY WAGONS.—It has been a terrible season for delivering goods, and some people have been inconvenienced by it, but it must be admitted that the three delivery wagons of the Fruit Palace have not failed to reach a customer. Mr. Rineman, the proprietor, owns his wagons, and is not dependent upon anyone. The result is he is handling a mammoth Christmas trade.

Best prices, best candy, best nuts, best place in the city to buy Xmas goods is at Strong's.

AS USUAL.—Butter and eggs are very scarce, but as usual the Fruit Palace has a big supply, as in all other lines, wholesale and retail at M. T. Rineman's, 132 State street.

NO JOURNAL SATURDAY.

The Day to Be Kept as the Christmas Holiday.

THE JOURNAL keeps all the holidays and as Christmas and New Years days both come on Sunday, it has been decided to issue no paper tomorrow, Dec. 24th, and give its force of over a score of people a chance to put in the day shopping and preparing for Christmas. It has been very hard work to get out a good readable paper the past two days.

Only at great expense and almost endless trouble has it been possible to get telegraphic news and local news has been hard to find. With wires down, trains late, no street cars running, telephones useless, a great depth of snow covered with a crust of ice, making it very difficult to deliver papers except in the business parts of the city, we feel sure our readers will suffer no great loss by getting no paper Christmas eve.

We wish our readers all the joys of a most joyous season. In spite of storm and blockade by frost, Christmas trees will blossom out, stockings will be filled, tables will be loaded with Christmas cheer, and presents will pass from hand to hand. Send us in reports of Christmas festivities and social doings for Monday's JOURNAL, when if the roads are passable our carriers will call as usual.

STILL AT IT.—The man Lyons, who was convicted of using indecent language and threatening violence, is now in jail as S. H. Walpole. He has been convicted so often that he has an assortment of names. He makes the court house hideous by his noise and threatens to break out all the windows, throws the furniture around and may have to be put in the dark cell if he does not moderate in his methods.

EXPRESS MATTER.—Agent Thos. Reynolds and his force are overwhelmed with business in the holiday line. Shipments are unusually heavy, and an extra delivery force is required day and night. The office will be kept open all day Sunday. All the East Portland express matter was left at Salem last night. Agent Thomas says if anybody fails to get their present, to call at the office and he will try and find one for them.

A NEW PASTOR.—Rev. R. M. Thompson, of Kentucky, has been called to preach at the Congregational church for one month. Mr. Thompson is not a candidate for the church, but has consented to preach for a month to enable us to have regular service until a permanent pastor is provided. Mr. Thompson is an evangelist who has been working on the coast for some time, and comes highly recommended. He will conduct the service both morning and evening of next Sabbath.

CAME DOWN.—Several awnings came down Thursday night without any city ordinance providing for their removal, but simply by mandate of Jack Frost. The big iron-band awning about the Turner block fell at about 10 p. m., but did no damage. A force of men were at work all the forenoon clearing the debris.

LIGHTS.—There were no arc electric street lights last night. Poles and lines are down in all parts of the city. The linemen have been at work and say they will have lights burning on Commercial street this evening.

CHRISTMAS TREES LIGHTED.—With candles free of charge, if you buy your candies at The Spa.

Our telegraphic reports are still meagre, the associated press having the use of only one railroad wire at the depot, and sending messages down to the city on horseback.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES.—There took place on the hall floor of the East Salem school a very interesting Christmas program this Friday forenoon. The decorations were beautiful, the windows darkened and the hall illuminated. In the center was a large Christmas tree, ornamented with flags, popcorn and paper trimmings. Among the visitors present with whom the writer was acquainted were State Supt. McElroy, Prof. Larned and Baker, and the chairman of the board of directors. The exercises began with song and chorus by the primary department, quotations regarding Christmas by the pupils of six rooms; next dialogue by two boys from Miss Northrup's room which created great merriment; this was followed by a dialogue by several six year olds; recitations were next given by pupils of various rooms which were well received and applauded. The exercises in the hall closed with a song and piano accompaniment, "The Flag of Our Dear Country." As this was rendered the pupils turned at a sign from the superintendent, Mrs. Grubbe, to the patriotic magic lantern scene on the east side of the hall, representing soldiers saluting the flag of our country and over-head the inscription "Merry Christmas." Mrs. Grubbe addressed the pupils briefly on the holiday vacation and wished them all a merry Christmas and happy New Year. The pupils and visitors were dismissed and repaired to the rooms above, where exercises were held consisting of songs, recitations, etc. The schools were closed at 12 m. today and until Monday, Jan. 2, 1893.

The Verdict

OF ALL who have used Ayer's Pills for Biliousness and Liver Complaint it is that they are the best ever made. Being free from any mineral ingredients, and sugar-coated, Ayer's Pills are adapted to all ages, constitutions, and climates.

"Having used Ayer's Pills for many years in my practice and family, I feel justified in recommending them as an excellent cathartic and liver medicine. They sustain all the claims made for them."—W. A. Westfall, M. D., V. F. Austin & N. W. R. Co., Burnet, Texas.

"Ayer's Pills keep my stomach and liver in perfect condition. Five years ago I was afflicted with enlargement of the liver and with a severe form of dyspepsia, most of the time being unable to retain any solid food on my stomach. I finally began to take Ayer's Pills, and after using only three boxes of these magical pellets, was a well man."—Lucius Alexander, Marlborough, Mass.

CHRISTMAS DISPLAY.—"I am a daisy. I weigh 2256 pounds. It took $298 in coin to buy me." These are some of the inscriptions on the prize Christmas beef now dressed and suspended in Cross's market on State street. And a daisy is no name for it. Oregon can't be beat when it comes to a rich display of broad backed beef. The sides of Mr. Cross's establishment are decorated with beves that are not inferior one whit to the Queen suspended in the center. There are dadas of smoked meats all around next to the ceiling. Across the front over the counter is a snowy drop curtain of Southdown muttons. There are nice bouquets of dressed hogs and garlands of veal. There is nothing left undone in the way of artistic carving by the experts who handle and prepare meats for Cross's markets. His place is crowded with people to witness the unusual sight and the show has only begun. Your Christmas dinner need not be wanting whatever your choice, with such resources to draw upon.
