HORSE IN A WELL.—Some days ago a two year old horse belonging to John McFarland, during the night, in some unaccountable manner wandered upon the platform of a well, under a windmill, and the platform giving way it fell some 12 or 15 feet into the water being supported by the iron pipe of the pump against which it was wedged so that its head kept above the surface although there was many feet of water below it. The neighbors came to Mr. McFarland's assistance and a rope and tackle was brought into use and the horse was drawn up, the rope being fastened about its body. After being rubbed down and warmed up a little it quietly walked into the stable and took its feed, and is apparently none the worse for the night in the well.—Albany Herald.

NORTH SALEM REVIVAL.—At St. Paul's A. M. E. church a meeting was commenced last night and will be continued indefinitely. It is in charge of Rev. J. H. Rook, who is ably assisted by other ministers.

THE ELWOOD.—This popular boat is carrying wheat from Wheatland to the North Salem mill and will go on her regular run to Portland, leaving Salem Saturday morning at 6 o'clock. Passengers or freight inquirers call on Al. Herren at N. P. dock.

NEW YEAR'S JOURNAL.—The press work on the large edition of THE NEW YEAR'S JOURNAL is nearly completed. Several forms of statistical and historical matter are still to be printed, but all will be out in due time. The readers of the DAILY and of the WEEKLY CAPITAL JOURNAL will all be supplied with the matter prepared for the NEW YEAR'S JOURNAL. Thus all the New Year's matter will go to our large list of readers in the other coast states and the East. THE JOURNAL is in receipt of a large daily mail of inquiry about Oregon and indications are that, in spite of the World's Fair, there will be a larger immigration to Oregon from the east than for several years. In fact people will come from the south and Atlantic coast states attend the World's Fair on the way out, taking advantage of cheap rates of travel, will come on west to visit Oregon. THE JOURNAL carefully answers all letters of inquiry and nearly everyone who comes to Salem to locate first drops into a newspaper office. All such receive courteous attention at this office. This office has arranged to circulate thousands of extra copies in the eastern states and every copy of our NEW YEAR'S number will be placed where it will do the most good. THE JOURNAL office has developed into a kind of an information bureau for all new comers and always takes pleasure in directing people to reliable sources of information about lands, homes, fruit growing, etc. If you have not placed a notice of your business or property in THE NEW YEAR'S JOURNAL you have still two days to prepare it and bring it around. We are printing no cartoons of people but go in for practical sensible business results.

VALLEY CITIES.—The progress of the capital of a state is of interest to the people generally, as a whole state may be judged somewhat by its spirit and advancement. In this respect Oregon is well represented. Salem has shown a stable growth. Without any joking, the Democrat predicts the directory census just being completed of that city by a firm that does a thorough work, will show a population, including the immediate suburbs, practically the city, of pretty well up to what a local paper recently claimed, 12,000. It is a pleasing fact to notice in this connection that every one of the prominent cities in the valley, without an exception, has been experiencing a steady reliable growth, notwithstanding the alleged general depression. Oregon city, McMinnville, Woodburn, Independence, Corvallis, Eugene, Roseburg and Ashland have all shown a marked growth in the last few years, as well as Salem and Albany. This is a splendid evidence of the future prosperity of the country, indicating that it is not a jerky affair.—Albany Democrat.

HELP WORKING MEN.—The appeal in the JOURNAL for employment for Mr. Johnson Wednesday evening has resulted in several offers of help. Sampson Jones called and offered him a job of carpentering. Bill Anderson promises some practical assistance. Others are looking around where they can give a lift of a day or a half day of work. This is the practical way to help deserving needy men. Give them a chance to help themselves. It is hard that a man should suffer who is willing to labor.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

To the Presbyterian Church and Congregation:

Your committee appointed to draft suitable resolutions on Dr. Gwynne's resignation, beg leave to submit the following:

Whereas, our beloved pastor, Rev. F. H. Gwynne, D. D., has tendered his resignation in order to enter another field of labor, to which we trust he has been called by Divine Providence; therefore,

Resolved, that in accepting said resignation, we desire to assure our pastor that he carries with him the love and esteem of this church and people.

Resolved, that we congratulate the Home Mission board in having secured as Synodical Missionary for Oregon, the services of an able and fearless preacher of the Divine Word, a faithful worker in the Lord's Vineyard and a high minded Christian gentleman.

Resolved, that we tender thanks to the giver of all Good, for restoring our brother to health; and pray that His richest blessing may follow him and his excellent family wherever their future lot may be cast.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread on the church records, and that copies of the same be handed to Dr. Gwynne, and given to the press of the city for publication.

Respectfully Submitted,
G. A. ROCKWELL,
ANGIE McCULLOCH,
W. B. PECK,
Committee.

Salem, Or., December 26, 1892.

FROM MARION.

Sam Focht has moved to Salem. The Friends are having W. F. Ohm's house fixed up for a parsonage; which, when completed, will be occupied by the new pastor, Rev. C. R. Scott, late from Havaland, Kansas.

The Friends had a little Christmas tree last Saturday night. Harvey White played the part of Santa Claus.

The S. P. R. Co. has lately had the depot at this place painted, which adds much to its appearance.

Prof. J. M. Winslow of the Central Howell schools is spending his vacation here with his parents.

Rev. Stoops, of Jefferson, has been holding a series of meetings here which continued for more than two weeks, but was brought to a close by the storm. There have been some conversions, and some of the church members considerably revived.

George and Alice Henshaw, who have been attending the Polytechnic school at Salem, are spending their vacation at home. They will return again next week.

NO HAGGLING.

SALEM, Oregon, Dec. 24, 1892.
My personal property which burned near Macleay, Dec. 10 last was insured in our home company, the "State." They have just handed me a check for the full amount of the loss. There was no "haggling" on the part of the company. I take great pleasure in recommending the "State."
E. O. EOFF.

AFTER WHALEN.—One year ago yesterday Thomas Whalen escaped from the State Prison. Soon after he was sentenced from Tacoma one year for burglary and his term at Walla Walla state prison is just about to expire. Supt. Downing was notified that he was there and has gone after him, starting today.

Women troubled with headache will find Simmons Liver Regulator a relief in it.

FOUND.—A sum of money. Owner can have the same by proving property and paying charges. Call at JOURNAL office. 12 12 m

THE RIVER.—At Portland the river is still rising, but very slowly. It is evidently falling rapidly at Eugene, as the United States inspector there did not seem to think the matter of enough moment to send in a report. The current is still too swift for the Stark street ferry boat to run safely, and the steam launch Stephens is still in use. The running driftwood is lighter than usual, and is not interfering any with river traffic. A lot of drift collected about some of the piers of the Morrison and Madison street bridge during the night, and it required several hours' work with a tug to remove it. Work on the center pier of the new Burnside street bridge has been temporarily suspended.

CHEMICAL ENGINE.—At an adjourned meeting of Rescue Hook and Ladder Company, held last night, the committee recently appointed to arrange for the purchase of a chemical fire engine reported the favorable action of the city council, and the company authorized the committee to purchase an improved chemical engine, similar to the one used by the Tacoma fire department, at a cost of $875, to be subjected before acceptance to a thorough test. The engine will be ordered at once. It will be a valuable acquisition to the Albany fire department.

COLLEGE SOLD.—The Mineral Springs seminary at Sodaville, including the grounds and building, has been sold to the Cumberland Presbyterian church by Prof. Louis Barzee, who founded the institution. The building is to be completed and a full collegiate course taught. The school will accommodate 300 pupils and the new incorporated organization expect to make it a first-class classical institution of learning.

Rev. Sylvanus Lane Of the Cincinnati M. E. Conference makes a good point when he says: "We have for years used Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family of five, and find it equal to all that is claimed for it. Some people are greatly prejudiced against patent medicines, but how the patent can hurt a medicine and not a machine is a mystery to me."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

W. S. Hurst, the Aurora miller, was a Salem visitor yesterday.

Capt. J. W. Crawford, of Umatilla, was a Salem visitor today.

James E. Gaffrey and Wm. J. Clarke have retired from the R. E. Moores Printing Co.

The B. & C. City Daily Blade has suspended publication.

Fred O. Baker, with R. L. Polk at Tacoma, is at home visiting old Salem friends over New Year.

Martin Smith, of Mills City, has been lodged in the county jail for disturbing a public meeting.

Whit Boise returned to Portland this afternoon after a short visit at his old Salem home.

Mrs. J. H. Moores returned to Portland today, after visiting her children in Salem a few days.

F. McClaune, the Silverton banker, is reported much improved in health.

Ray D. Gilbert, who has been spending the holidays at home, left today for Eastern Oregon.

Supt. Geo. S. Downing left today for Olympia to secure requisition papers for a prisoner at Walla Walla who is wanted here.

Alderman Lamoreux made a flying business trip to Portland this afternoon.

In cases of severe and sudden cold Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, if used according to directions, is a sure cure. Ask for Ayer's Almanac.

The Portland Telegram, in a long double-leaded editorial, refers to the rumors circulated at Salem as "The Asylum Scandal." That is a little premature, but just what might be expected from a partisan Democratic organ. Rumors hardly constitute a scandal.

In estate of H. E. Harvey petition for order of final settlement, was dismissed by county judge Hubbard.

Judge Burnett today adjourned circuit court until the February term. The attorneys in the grave improvement cases have until Jan. 15th to file briefs.

Two vagabonds were sentenced five days each before Recorder Goodell.

A close friend of Dr. Rowland, superintendent of the asylum, says the Dr. is not disturbed over the rumors of a scandal at his institution, and welcomes the public or any proper committee or authority to investigate or expose anything wrong in the management.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, that cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of La Grippe, when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Harter, of Coopers, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free Trial Bottles at Daniel J. Fry's drug store, 225 Com'l St. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.

Nervous Prostration.

So prevalent, especially among women, the results from overtaxing the system, the sensitive organs becoming deranged, the blood grows weak and impoverished, and hence "that tired feeling" of which many complain. For all such cases, there is no remedy equal to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Take no other.

"Some time ago I found my system entirely run down. I had a feeling of constant fatigue and languor and very little ambition for any kind of effort. A friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did with the best results. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used."
—Frank Melhous, Chelsea, Mass.

"For months I was afflicted with nervous prostration, weakness, languor, general debility, and mental depression. By purifying the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I was completely cured."

INVENTOR OF THE BAGGAGE CHECK.

A Device That Made Its Way Rapidly to General Adoption.
The alleged origin of the decidedly useful baggage checks has been told by Mr. D. Merrill, of Union City, Mich., as follows:

John Palmer, of my town, is the inventor of the baggage checking system. I will tell you his story as he told it to me. John Palmer was born in England some eighty-two years ago, and came to the United States in 1829, and to Union City in 1835. In those early days he was in great demand, for his violin enlivened many and many a winter night. One great annoyance he experienced was the constant trouble people had in finding their coats, hats, wraps, robes, etc., after the party broke up. Well, it was announced that there was to be a big dance at Burlington on Thanksgiving evening about 1850, and Mr. Palmer was to have charge of the music. He knew that there would be a terrible crowd there, and that there would be lots of trouble with the clothing, and he went to work to devise a plan to obviate it.

Well, after studying on it for a long time he had solved the mystery. He got out eight cards and marked them in pairs—1, 2, 3, 3, 4, 4—and one of the greatest blessings to the business world was born. Now for the first test. He had four children, he took their shoes and stockings, tied each up by themselves, put tags 1, 2, 3, 4, on each lot and put them away. When the children got up they inquired for their shoes. He gave each one the check that corresponded with the check on their shoes, and told them to go into the other room and pick out their own by comparing the numbers. Each child got its own.

Now for a trial on a larger scale. He prepared a lot of checks in the same way for the guests at the party. About the first to arrive were the four railroad men from Marshall. Three took their checks; one would not have the thing and threw it on the floor. When they called for their clothes they had forgotten all about the checks and demanded their clothes. Mr. Palmer asked them for their checks. After hunting some time the three produced their checks and at once received their goods. They had to identify the goods for the fourth man.

Shortly after that there was another party at Burlington, and among the first to arrive were six railroad men from Marshall, including the first four. They said they wanted their things checked the same as before. They watched the plan the whole evening, and went away convinced that they had found a grand idea. Inside of three months it was adopted by the railroads of the United States.—Chicago Tribune.

Boston and Birmingham.

Any one who knows the two cities of Boston and Birmingham, England, which have about the same population (Boston 448,000 in 1890 and Birmingham 430,000 in 1891), will admit that Birmingham enjoys every result of municipal enterprise, and to at least as great an extent as Boston. Many persons would be inclined to state the case much more strongly in favor of Birmingham, which also confessedly possesses many developments of local activity not yet approached by the sister city.

Birmingham's government costs per year $2,610,000, and Boston's government costs $12,570,000. Is it possible to give any reasonable explanation of this discrepancy, which may well suggest misgivings to the minds of the American tax payers, and which goes far to account for the deficiencies in the services rendered by municipal government of which they complain?—Joseph Chamberlain in Forum.
