

THE MONSTER RIOT

At Bakersville, N. C., Called a Fake.

WHITNEY NOT TO BE IN IT.

Cleveland's Cabinet to Be Formed Without Him.

The President Ill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Friends of President Harrison are very much concerned about his condition and express a fear that his health may break down before the close of his administration. The death of his wife, to whom he was peculiarly devoted, was a blow from which he has not rallied and it left him unable to withstand the ill fortune that has since followed him.

Blaine Better Again.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—Dr. Johnson says Blaine had a good night and is better this morning. Dr. Loomis, specialist, left this morning to return to New York.

The Great Riot.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Jan. 5.—Following is a revised list of those killed at the Bakersville lynching Tuesday night: Members of the sheriff's posse, Tom Hall, J. N. Williams, D. F. Ritchie, B. N. Jones, F. R. Sams, R. E. Johnson, Wm. Reed, T. N. Beckner, W. Laws, N. R. Fannell, G. N. Hallfield. Members of mob, Jack and Owen Thomas, Wm. and John Osborne, John Worth, G. Balfour, Will Perry, Phil. Crowder, Jim Nance, Will Butler, Hager Byrd. No further particulars of the riot can be obtained, as the snow is 14 inches to two feet deep over the entire country hereabouts, and that prevents communication. It is reported that two men were killed in Madison county.

Riot or Fake?

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 5.—A dispatch from a prominent citizen of Mitchell county to the Chronicle pronounces the reported riot and lynching at Bakersville a gross canard. If any lynching occurred the report is greatly exaggerated. Many names reported among the killed are unknown in that section.

Not In It.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Wm. C. Whitney today said all he knew of Cleveland's cabinet was the fact that he (Whitney) would not be in it.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Hill introduced a resolution calling on the secretary of state for his opinion as to whether the Chandler immigration suspension bill was a violation of treaties. The senate bill, compelling witnesses to testify before the interstate commerce commission, passed. Consideration of the anti-option bill was resumed.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—Consideration of the private pension bills coming over from last session as unfinished business, was taken up, a bare quorum present. Finally the House was obliged to wait on the presence of a quorum, but the question was waived to enable that body to pass fortifications appropriation bill.

Republicans Organizing.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—Republicans met in caucus this morning to consider order business. Initial steps were taken towards beginning a bitter fight for control of the next senate. A committee consisting of Teller, Hoar, Mitchell and Higgins was appointed to take special charge of the subject of organizing and incidentally therein the matter of election of senators in western states where a fight is now on.

Republican Victory.

Topeka, Kansas, Jan. 5.—The supreme court this afternoon decided the Stubbs-Boonville legislative election in favor of Stubbs the Republican. This virtually insures Republicanism the organization of the senate.

Candidate Sentenced.

FRONTSPRING, Jan. 5.—In the United States district court today James Fisher plead guilty to the charge of counterfeiting. He was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Woman Amnestic.

WATSON, Jan. 5.—President Harrison has issued a proclamation which disables from law any person who has been convicted of a crime. The person named is Mrs. J. H. Watson.

Manuscript Senatorship.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The legislature assembled yesterday, and from now on the senatorial fight will be hot and bitter. Congressman Lodge tation under color of polygamous or plural marriage, who, since November 1, 1900, have obtained from such unlawful cohabitation, but upon express condition that they shall in future faithfully obey the laws of the United States herein before named, and not otherwise. Those who shall fail to avail themselves of the clemency hereby offered will be vigorously prosecuted.

Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Jan. 5.—Deadlock in senate continues.

Wheat Crop of 1892.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Agricultural department crop bulletin says the wheat crop of last year is slightly above the average yield. Only exceeded in '91, '84, '82. It is estimated that 515,949,000 measured bushels or 63.4 cents, the lowest ever reported, that of '84 being 64.5 cents. The weight of crop will be determined later, but it will probably be about 500,000,000 commercial bushels.

Exonerated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—The coroner's jury has exonerated Miss Clara King, who accidentally stabbed and killed Albert S. McCoy on New Year's eve during the performances of a charade at McCoy's home. The case will be called in the police court, when it is expected to be dismissed.

Engineer in Trouble.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—George Jeffrey, the Southern Pacific engineer, arrested in Oakland on the charge of having murdered Miss Ayre, was taken to Sacramento. Jeffrey has a wife and two children living in Oakland. His wife calls his arrest an absurd proceeding, but it is said to be known that he received a letter from Miss Ayre, asking him to visit her the night of the murder. To the detectives Jeffrey claimed that Miss Ayre knew him to have a wife at the time of her marriage with him. He also said that she sent him a form of contract of marriage several months ago. She wanted Jeffrey to sign and return it, but he refused. He further claimed that she wanted him to get a divorce and to live with her.

Minnesota's Governor.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 5.—In joint session the legislature listened to the address of retiring Governor Merriam and the inaugural address of Governor Nelson. The latter recommended the extension of the manufacture of binding twine at the state prison; calls attention to the necessity for action looking to uniformity in public school text-books; suggests a constitutional amendment for taxation of the gross earnings of mining, express, parlor and sleeping car companies; recommends the state inspection of all elevators.

To Prosecute Carnegie.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 5.—Members of the advisory committee of Homestead, Pa. have been here for some days, raising funds to prosecute the officials of the Carnegie company. Similar appeals are being made in other large cities. It is intended to raise $30,000 for this purpose.

A Reform Message.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 5.—Governor Russell today sent his official address to the legislature. He recommends legislation to define the objects of, and limit amount of, expenditures for election purposes and stringent laws to express lobbying.

In Michigan.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 5.—Governor Rich in his inaugural message to the legislature makes a plea for good roads; criticizes the miner law; favors two boards of election inspectors to facilitate the count of vote.

Way Up in Maine.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 5.—It stated an effort is to be made by leading Democrats to have Republican members of the legislature unseated under a section of the new ballot law which forbids any candidate to act as election officers.

Three Senators.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The Republicans of the legislature in caucus nominated Henry Cabot Lodge, to succeed Senator Dawes in the United States senate.

ARGUMENT, Me., Jan. 5.

The Republican legislative caucus unanimously re-nominated Eugene Hale for United States senator.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 5.—Senator Davis was chosen by the Republican caucus to succeed himself.

Massachusetts Senatorship.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The legislature assembled yesterday, and from now on the senatorial fight will be hot and bitter. Congressman Lodge strong and enthusiastic support. The legislature on joint ballot stands 198 Republican to 81 Democratic.

HARTER OBJECTS.

A New Scheme Proposed by Harter, of Ohio.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Representative Harter, of Ohio, objects to the silver purchase suspension resolution introduced in the senate by McPherson, of New Jersey, on the ground that it gives the secretary of the treasury greater control over the subject than any man could wish, and more than congress ought to place in the hands of any officer of the government. He offered in the house today a substitute in the nature of a house joint resolution providing as follows: "All further purchases of silver bullion by the United States of America shall cease from and after the passage or adoption of this resolution, and said purchases shall be resumed only when an agreement is made that shall at least include Great Britain, Germany, France and the United States of America, and such agreement shall fix the valuation at which silver bullion will thereafter be received for coinage, without limit as to quantity, at the mints of the nations parties to said international agreement."

Harter thinks this resolution would accomplish the same result and not be open to the same objection as the McPherson resolution. "It would, moreover," he says, "be a notice to the world that we are ready to join other civilized nations in the coinage of silver upon any agreed national ratio, and that, in the meantime, we declined going on raking their chests in for them at the risk of commercial disaster and national disgrace." Harter says he believes the silver purchases have greatly contracted currency during the last 24 or 25 months, and that, after counting in the notes issued by the government in payment of silver, the actual volume of currency today is probably at least $200,000,000, perhaps $250,000,000 or $275,000,000, smaller than if we had been out of silver speculation entirely.

Fire and Explosion.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Shortly after 3 o'clock a terrific explosion of natural gas wrecked the lower part of the printing establishment of Donohue & Hennebry, on Dearborn street. An accident occurred during the progress of a small fire and over a score of firemen were injured, including Chief Sweeny, besides a number of laborers, two dying, and several others so badly injured that they are not expected to recover. An employee of the natural gas company repaired connections in the vault and under the sidewalk during the morning, and about 3 o'clock flames were discovered in the vicinity. The alarm was immediately given and the vault doors thrown open, when a terrific explosion occurred. Ten employees were thrown to the floor, all more or less injured. Firemen rushed to the vault, where another explosion occurred, hurling several firemen across the room with terrific force. Before half of the injured could be taken from the basement, and while the place is swarming with firemen rescuing comrades, a third explosion more violent than the others, took place, and the would-be rescuers were laid beside the men they came to assist. The injured had just been taken out when a fourth violent explosion occurred, and bricks, mortar, and iron works flew in all directions. The gas company then shut off the flow, and when this was done the flames were soon brought under control. The building was badly strained and torn and every pane of glass in the whole eight stories lay in the street. The damage is fully $20,000. Some 800 people were employed in the building, and they escaped without injury or pain.

THE AU TOCRAT.

Grover Cleveland has confirmed his statement to the New York Times, that Edward Murphy is not fit to be senator, by a New York World interview, of same purport.

Democratic papers have hoped the interview as first printed was invented by Republican reporters. But it is not so. The Democratic president-elect is the autocrat he has been denounced for being. He glories in his assumption of the power of a political dictator.

No Republican president ever disgraced himself or his free country by such a line of conduct. Over our heads waves a flag of freedom. Under the constitution all men are political equals. The laborer is as big a factor, politically, as Murphy or Cleveland, or George Washington. The autocrat will find it a thorny road to travel when he assumes to dictate to the American people.

"And next the empire" is the comment fittest to express the situation when Cleveland assumes to be a dictator and says Edward Murphy is not fit to be senator. New York will say who is fit. What has become of the old Democratic doctrine of state rights that is a good thing to have around when men assume political power. The representatives of the people of New York will select a senator who is fit or not.

Business Men, from close application are especially liable to constipation—clogging up nature's great sewers—producing headache, biliousness, sluggish circulation and general derangement of the vital organs. A regular movement of the bowels is indispensable to perfect health; to neglect this is to imperil it. Compound Pile's Pleasant Pellets will cure you. No interference with business. Very modest expense. Mild in action, yet powerful in cleansing regulating the stomach, liver and bowels, curing constipation, headache and kindred ailments.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ad E. Burd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, and settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Dr. J. Fry's drugstore, 225 Corn 1st St. Regular size, 50c, and $1.00.

An Enemy Baffled. There is an enemy with whom thou shouldst fight. It is not the man who is born with a tendency to biliousness. It is this enemy they are continually battling with by medicinal means. Hooper's Stomach Bitters will battle it. More purgatives will not return a disordered condition of the liver indicated, but by constipation alone, but also by sick headache, nervousness, indigestion, biliousness, furrowed tongue and unusualness more particularly upon pressure on the right side upon and below the short ribs. Avoid drastic purgatives which gripe and weaken the intestines, and submit to the world famous anti-bilious compound which likewise removes malarial, stomatal and kidney complaints, rheumatism and nervousness. As a laxative it is the bowels, painless but effectual, it improves appetite, sleep and the ability to digest, and possesses the additional advantage of a standard tonic.

Why She Was So Particular. A young woman whose attire and demeanor betokened wealth and refinement attracted some attention in a fashionable candy store up town the other day by her persistent inquiries about the purity of the confections offered for sale.

"Are you sure that this candy is quite pure?" she asked.

"Yes, miss," answered the salesgirl; "we sell nothing but pure candy."

"Well, I want some that is not so-called," said the purchaser.

"Will these suit you?" asked the girl, producing a pan of plain white sugar drops.

"Are these the purest that you have?" questioned the young woman as she looked the pan over suspiciously.

"Yes, miss."

"And are they perfectly fresh?" "Made this morning," replied the girl.

"Well, I hope that you are not deceiving me," said the young woman earnestly, "for I am very particular about the kind of candy that I buy. I want it for my little dog. You may give me ten cents' worth."—New York Times.

THE VERDICT.

A Remarkable Scene in Court When the Jury Announced its Decision.

The court house at Waldron, Ark., was crowded. A half expressed murderer through every crooked street in the picturesque hamlet made it known that the jury in the case of the State of Arkansas versus Abner Ray were ready to return their verdict. What would it be? Did they believe the defendant the murderer of John Potts? As if by magic the old and the young, the busy and the idle, the curious and the indifferent had swarmed into the court room until every foot of space was occupied.

Outside the languid air seemed tremulous with the heat, and every leaf hung limp and motionless. The sultry July day was oppressive and the atmosphere of the room so stifling that those assembled gasped for breath. The scant furniture and bare floor, the rough, whitewashed walls and the rickety lamp with tin reflector sitting upon a little shelf behind the judge's chair, all told the same story of mountaineer simplicity and primitiveness.

A hag bent with age, was whispering the story of the crime to her plump young neighbor, and said that two witnesses had identified the body found in Mill creek. The clerk nervously upset his inkstand, and the black stain on the white front of his pine desk looked ghastly.

The judge ascended the little platform at the end of the room and bade the sheriff clear an entrance for the jury. The struggling crowd was parted a little way, and twelve good and lawful men filed in and stood facing the prisoner, who sat exposed to the gaze of all. His efforts to appear calm were pitiful. Great drops of sweat rolled down his swarthy cheeks, and he clutched the framework of the chair on which he sat. Ten feet back of him stood his sweetheart, the beauty of the village, sobbing softly and leaning upon her father for support.

In a thick, unsteady voice the foreman read from the paper in his hand, "We of the jury find the defendant guilty as charged in the within indictment."

The condemned man rose from his seat. His face was livid and his muscles rigid. He stretched out one hand as though he would speak, and the next moment fell forward almost at the foreman's feet—dead! His sweetheart's tears stopped falling and her white lips quivered convulsively, but she could neither cry out nor stir from her tracks.

Half a dozen strong hands were stretched out to lift the prostrate man, when, moved by a common impulse, though no syllable had been uttered, every head was turned and every eye was fixed upon the door.

John Potts had just stepped over the threshold.—New York Herald.
