ASYLUM INVESTIGATION.

Statement of Secretary Strong of State Board of Charities.

A JOURNAL reporter saw Secretary Strong of the state board of charities at the early train for Portland this morning. He said: "We are through for the present with our investigation at the asylum. We worked from 10 a. m. to nearly midnight and examined over 20 witnesses, people on the inside and outside. We had all the testimony taken down by the official stenographer of the circuit court, Mr. Sholes who will inside of a week reduce the notes to writing and file a copy with the governor and secretary of state. This investigation will be productive of great good to the state, as there is already a greater air of vigilance about the institution. A new arrangement as to use of keys on wards will be ordered by the board."

THE SECRETARY

is very emphatic in his belief that the work of this board is very important to the state, and appears to be guided by a desire to take the functions of the body and morals of the state right under his wing.

It is stated that Dr. Rowland was not allowed to be represented by counsel or to cross-examine the witness, or introduce testimony, and that the secretary and Dr. W. E. Carl prejudged the case by inserting in their report, which is already printed but not yet filed with the governor, the following, from which it seems there was a "preliminary examination."

"Facts sufficient to cast doubt on the efficiency of the control of the institution; liberties appear to have been permitted incompatible with proper discipline and a generally loose system of accountability for keys and admission to wards seemed to have prevailed. This preliminary examination having demonstrated the propriety of a full judicial investigation, the committee upon hospital has called a meeting for this purpose for Tuesday, Jan. 10th, 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m. at the insane hospital when all matters of complaint, and the general management of the hospital will be examined into, and a judicial investigation under oath will be had. While the result of that investigation cannot be given here, it will at once be reported to the governor, and will be in time for use by the legislature at the session."

It is stated that Dr. W. E. Rinehart and Rev. J. S. White, the majority of the Committee of the State Board of Charities on Asylum, disclaim all knowledge of the above.

A GOOD IDEA.—Mayor Gatch wishes to give notice that for the benefit of those who have any petitions, communications, complaints, etc., to make to the council or city officers, the chairmen of the principal committees and the city officers will be at the council chamber every Monday evening preceding the regular meetings from 7:30 to 9:30 consider such matters. This will save long speeches by citizens before the council.

A member moved to suspend the rules and his bill be read by title only. Ford suggested that to save time taken to suspend rules, which require an aye and nay vote, Clerk read title only and passed over rest rapidly giving house sense of same.

Mr. Geer suggested that a motion of this house could not suspend the constitution. The old way prevailed. It is a provision of Oregon's fossiliferous constitution that a bill be read in extenso when introduced unless rules are suspended and that requires a roll call. The bill then passes on a day when it is read by title and referred. In other states bills are read first and second times and referred to proper committees all in a minute. If the committee reports the bill back for passage it is then read in full and voted upon. By the old Oregon method much time is lost upon bills that are never afterward heard from except upon the calendar. The clerk read the bills so fast that the members could not catch on. He was then directed to read more slowly, and he did so consuming nearly the entire morning hour articulating pro-
