HAWAIIAN DEVELOPMENTS.

The Senate of the United States Favors Annexation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—There are some important developments in the Hawaiian situation. First, it is pretty clearly indicated that the administration is not in any way lukewarm in the matter as was first supposed.

Secondly, the action of the commander of the Boston against which Great Britain is about to file, or has filed, formal protest, has received the official approval of the president and cabinet.

The sentiment in favor of annexing the Hawaiian islands, and several members of the cabinet have expressed themselves in favor of it.

Although the course pursued by Minister Stevens in ordering the Boston marines on shore was without explicit instructions from the government, his action is fully approved by the president. In the senate there is distinctively a feeling in the Hawaiian question, which is not confined to any party.

There can be no doubt a majority of the members of the foreign relations committee look with favor upon the establishment of American dominion in the islands, but it is just what shape is a matter of details not yet considered.

The objection to Chandler's resolution on the subject, as offered today, is not looked upon in way of an annexation feeling, but rather as a fear on part of the opponents' anticipation bill, that if it had not gone over until tomorrow, the day would have been spent in its discussion and delivery of anti-union speeches have been prevented.

Delph, member of committee of foreign relations, said this evening: "The United States has been waiting fifty years for this opportunity, and now that it has come in such a way the problem can be solved without difficulty. I certainly see no reason why we should hesitate, a man who would oppose what is the manifest duty of the country in this matter is, I think, hardly deserving of a seat in congress. I certainly favor the control of these islands by the government of the United States."

Mr. Hiseck, another member of the same committee, also in favor of annexation, said: "I believe this government should prevent any interference in this matter on the part of any other power. It is a matter that concerns the United States wholly, and for one I may say I am in favor of the establishment there of a territorial form of government under the flag of the United States."

ORDERED TO HONOLULU.

VALLEJO, Cal., Jan. 31.—U. S. A. Adams, now at the navy yards, has received orders to sail for Honolulu tomorrow, but will not be able to do so on account of the time required for coaling.

NOT LIKELY TO INTERVENE.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Charge d'affaires of the Hawaiian legislation has received official news confirming the report of the resolution. A correspondent is reliably informed that Lord Roseberry intimated that Great Britain is not likely to intervene at present.

Lord Roseberry also hinted that England, France and Germany are not likely to consent to the annexation of the Hawaiian islands by the United States.

IN THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—In the house there was a diversity of views. Watson, of Georgia, voiced the people's party. "It is a job and nothing but a job," he said, speaking against annexation.

"This job put up by American property owners and sugar planters in Hawaii who are not looking to national prosperity but to personal aggrandizement."

The general sentiment among the members of the house seems to be that the United States should annex the Hawaiian islands, now that it has been invited to do so, but there are exceptions to this view. The British government has instructed Sir Julian Paucot, its minister here, to protest against the action of the United States officials and forces in Hawaii.

The protest, it is understood, will be lodged with Secretary of State Foster today. To what extent the protest goes cannot be stated now.

New York, Jan. 31.—A syndicate composed of Lee Higginson & Co., Seligman & Co., Bouscavin & Co. purchased about $1,000,000 of Oregon navigation consolidated five per cent. bonds and a proportionate amount of Union Pacific five per

FAVORS ANNEXATION.

What a Commissioner Says of Cleveland's Ideas.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—The commissioners who came from Honolulu in the Claudine, to induce the United States government to take the islands into its fold, are now on their way to Washington to lay their case before the president and his cabinet.

They have placed their version of the revolution in the islands, the deposition of Queen Liliouokalani and the organization of the provincial government, before the American people.

"So far," said Commissioner Thurston, "we are more than satisfied. The press, which is of course the reflection of the sentiment of the public, takes a favorable view of the proposition to annex Hawaii."

As you may suppose, we scanned very closely the telegraphed editorials of the leading journals of the country, and their reception of the proposal were sent to America to make us more or less than we dared to expect. This being the view of the country at large, we have cause to hope that the government will hold the same view."

CLEVELAND FAVORS ANNEXATION. "I received today," said Commissioner Castle, "a dispatch that satisfies us that President-elect Cleveland looks favorably upon our proposal. Naturally that has given encouragement to us."

Though the commissioners do not say that such is the fact, it is understood that if the United States were to take hold of the islands in any way, England will be the next power appealed to for protection. The question was put directly to the commissioners yesterday: "If you are unable to come to an understanding with the government at Washington, will you go to England and your proposals?"

"Our commission gives us no authority to go beyond the United States," replied Mr. Castle. "If we cannot arrange terms with the United States government, we will return home. If the islands have to turn to England, a commission will be sent there, but we hope that that will never be necessary."

"How long will you remain in Washington?"

"Until we learn definitely of the reception or rejection of our offers. Should President Harrison's administration not give us the answer we desire, we will in all probability remain until we can get another trial. In other words, we will then wait for Mr. Cleveland to assume control, and will resubmit our case to the new administration."

"You have stated that you have reassuring information concerning Mr. Cleveland's position in the premises. Can you give more definitely the nature of this assurance?"

"Well, immediately on our arrival here I sent a personal telegram to Mr. Whitney, asking him to place our matter before the president-elect and learn how he considered it. Today I received a reply from Mr. Whitney. While obviously cannot make public the reply, it being in no sense an official or public document, I will say that it was most satisfactory to us."

The next steamer from Hawaii is due here a week from next Wednesday. Paul Neumann is expected on board of her. He is attorney for the ex-queen and will probably go at once to Washington to present her protest and her complaint against Minister Stevens.

The British.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—It is learned on excellent authority that the British government has not instructed the British minister to the U. S., Paucot, to protest against Americans interfering in Hawaii, as Great Britain does not expect the United States to take any step to which Great Britain is likely to object.

Cleveland and Silver.

New York, Jan. 31.—A morning paper quotes a New York Democrat of national reputation, with whom Cleveland talked frankly about his plans, saying that Cleveland looks on the silver issue as the paramount one in politics, superior even to the tariff, and to be the first matter settled by his administration. Mr. Cleveland considers the Sherman act a peril to the country, and that it must be repealed before anything else is done. The cabinet and federal appointments will be shaped to this end.

WHISKEY TRUST EXPOSURE.

A Scheme to Secure a Profit of $50,000,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The Herald devotes four columns to an exposure of an alleged attempt of the whiskey trust to "work" a gigantic speculation in that product. The Herald says: "It involved the control of hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of goods and a prospective profit of more than $50,000,000. It was predicted upon legislation by congress, which was asked for ostensibly as a means of relieving the federal treasury from embarrassment and possibly averting a deficiency at the end of the current fiscal year. The annual consumption of distilled spirits being 100,000,000 gallons, yielding $30,000,000 at the present rate of taxation, the argument was made that if the tax were increased 35 cents a gallon, or to $125, as proposed by the bill that the trust proposed to have introduced, the revenue from that source would be increased $35,000,000, or $10,000,000 more than the highest assessed deficiency."

A CUTE CORNER. "Having got their bill introduced with a powerful lobby to push it, the trust proceeded to increase its products of spirits to the utmost, and raised the prices so as to discourage orders from customers. At the same time the agents of the trust began buying up the products of outside distilleries, thus absolutely cornering the market in high wines, and anticipating an inflation of their value 25 cents a gallon when the tax should be raised. Thus the trust hoped and expected to secure the increased tax, leaving the federal treasury really worse off than it now is. For the sale of the trust's 90 cents goods, after the law should be passed, would hold the market for two years to come, so that there would be no necessity for withdrawing any new goods from bond during that period, and of course until these accumulated stocks were all used up there would be no necessity for anybody to pay the increased tax, and the government would derive no revenue at all from that source."

"The exposure by the Herald of the scheme opened the eyes of congressmen, among whom, happily, were found a large number who would refuse to lend themselves to the perpetration of such a wrong against the government. Beyond this, the coming administration being pledged to a revision of the tariff, its friends insisted that the internal revenue should be left alone until it was known what the requirements of the government would be after the duties on imports should be arranged. This policy prevailed, and as a result the Scott bill to increase the spirit tax is a dead letter, and the great whiskey speculation is punctured."

Horses Sold.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—One of the largest breeders' sales of horses that has taken place in this country for some time opened today at the Dexter Park Horse exchange, with the veteran F. J. Berry in the box. It will continue six days. There is a big California consignment from the farms of U. L. Shippee, including Kalfort, son of the great Bourbon Wilkes; another one from the Bourbon stock farm, including Hamlet Wilkes, son of Red Wilkes, and John E. Wood, the great Indiana sire. The collection of S. Baxter Black, of Lexington, Ky., and also of Col. O. P. Aford, of the Lexington stock farm, will also be put under the hammer. Several hundred horses from other states are here to attend the sale, and the bidding promises to be spirited.

Mitchell Coming.

New York, Jan. 31.—A dispatch from London says: Charles Mitchell was released from prison this morning, having served his sentence of two months, less the good conduct reduction for his meritorious assault upon an insolvent old man. His withdrawal of the appeal and voluntary surrender to serve out his sentence in order that he might be able to leave for the United States to make a match with Corbett, has sent his stock up among London sports, and a large number of them met him at the prison gates and escorted him to a hall in Hammer-smith, where they gave him a breakfast. Mitchell will sail for the United States next week. His short confinement in prison, with plenty of enforced sleep and no chance to go on a spree, has done him a world of good, and he looks in better condition than for many years.

How poor, how rich, how subject, how august, how contemptible, how wonderful, is man? And it ought to be added, how "ignorant" is woman. With her peculiarly delicate and intense organization, she is the superlative degree of man. Even in diseases she excels him, having many which he has not. She has, however, found out a grand remedial agent for the cure of her diseases. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; a medicine suited to her nature, made for the express cure of those diseases which affect her. It is especially effective in all weaknesses incidental to motherhood, while it is also a potent restorative tonic for the feeble and debilitated generally.
