DAILY WEATHER FORECAST.

PORTLAND, March 23.—Wednesday, rain. Thursday, fair followed by rain. Friday, rain stationary. U. S. WEATHER SERVICE.

MORE HORSES COMING.—That Salem is coming to be something of a horse breeding center is shown by the following fact: Senator A. T. Devanter of King County, Wn., telegraphs B. O. Van Bokkelen today, that he has shipped a car of brood mares to be bred to Holmdel, and will ship another soon. The fact that Salem has a horse kept here of the character of Holmdel is a source of pride to every lover of the American standard bred trotter.

FINE HORSES.—Thos. Skillman, of Petaluma, Cal., has returned to the city with his stud of breeding stallions, including Coach, Suffolk Punch and Percheron. He is again located at the Willamette stables and prepared to make the season. R. R. Ryan has charge of them, and will have them out on show day. Mr. Ryan will also display his handsome Clyde, "Bar Noug."

MARTIN WINE.—The Wednesday afternoon bird shoot at Albany between Meeks and Martin resulted in the latter winning by twenty-four to twenty, out of twenty-five live birds, for pure of $200. Other pool matches of blue rocks were shot off and full detailed report of the days shooting is being prepared for Saturday's JOURNAL by one of the sportsmen present.

RATE CUTTING.—Ticket Agent Skinner at Salem has received notice that the Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific had agreed that no more cuts be made on tickets to points on either of these roads, any agent cutting rates would be required to put up the shortage out of his own purse.

WORLD'S FAIR.—The Salem art exhibit for the World's Fair will be closed next Tuesday, when the committee will pass on the articles. Intending exhibitors will take their articles to the residence of Werner Breyman. The State Commission meets at Salem Friday.

IMPROVEMENT.—G. W. Putnam is building a two-story residence on his property, corner Center and Cottage streets, to cost about $2,400.—Fred Hurst is erecting a windmill on his premises on South Commercial street.

Spring jackets.—The Palace. Since enlarging our store on Commercial street we now occupy the floor room of ten ordinary stores. BUREN & SON.

A BOLD BUNCO GAME PLAYED.

Twenty-five Hundred Dollars Exchanged for a Worthless Lottery Ticket and a Tin Box of Gravel.

Three strangers, who arrived at Hotel Willamette Monday and paid their bill and departed yesterday, relieved a farmer on the Polk county hills L. S. Skinner of $2500 in a very neat manner. They played the usual game, worked so successfully on "bunco" Jones last year, of wanting to buy his farm.

Mr. Skinner is well known at Salem principally for his penurious habits, and owns 340 acres of land across the river. The sharps, registered at Salem as D. C. Brook of Portland, W. B. Stapp of Salt Lake and D. J. Edwards of Walls Walls, offered him $40,000 for farm. They went all over his farm, pretended to believe there was an oil well on it, and the contract was to be closed yesterday. They were only waiting for the approval of a sister of one of the men.

THE LOTTERY SCHEME.

The men approached Skinner next in a confidential manner with a proposal to buy a lottery ticket, saying they desired to introduce their business here and knowing him to be a man of solid financial standing and a representative and responsible man he could give them a start by taking a ticket. The first ticket he drew was a prize of $5000. The bunco men immediately produced $1500 and told Skinner if he would give them positive assurance that he had financial standing in the city they would cash his ticket for $5000.

Wednesday forenoon they demanded that he put up $2500, which he immediately borrowed at the Williams & England bank, as reported in Wednesday's JOURNAL. He started on the run for his home across the river, the sharps met him on the bridge, took him in their buggy, put their $1500 and his $2500 in a tin box, and placed it in his keeping until they could raise the balance of the $5000 for his prize-winning lottery ticket. This was all done in the buggy driving over to the Skinner house, where of course they gave Skinner the "dupe" tin box, exactly like the one they put his money in along with theirs, but of course not the one. That was the trick that cost the avaricious farmer his $2500, for which he gave his note at the bank.

THE BOUQUET CITY.

Salem Floricultural Society Organized—Enthusiastic Meeting.

Wednesday afternoon about twenty-five lovers of flowers met at the Hotel Willamette and permanently organized a society by the above name. Mrs. R. S. Bean, the temporary president called the meeting to order, and a constitution was adopted. Under this any person interested may become a member upon payment of 50 cents. Regular floral shows are contemplated, and during the flower season meetings will be held frequently. One feature suggested was that the society hold a regular weekly floral day, when the members shall bring flowers and plants to a stated place for study and exchange of information. In short this could be made a regular miniature flower fair every week, which would be a great attraction in our city and largely increase the interest in floriculture. This new society has many good things in store for Salem.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Wm. Brown; vice president, E. M. Waite; secretary, Mrs. A. N. Moore; treasurer, Miss Minnie Colwell. Executive committee, Mrs. H. W. Cottle, Mrs. Geo. Burnett, Mrs. D. F. Wagner, Mrs. J. H. Strickler and Wm. Lund.

The next regular meeting will be held at the hotel Wednesday, April 5th at 3:30 o'clock, to which all interested are invited.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

His name was Skinner but now it is skinned. Dr. Jennings, the Newport dentist is in Salem.

Thos. Kay, of the Woolen mills, is at Frisco.

The Salem Telephone Exchange has connections with all the principal towns of Oregon and Washington.

Circuit court at Albany will probably be adjourned today.

Attorney General Chamberlain is in the city.

Carroll E. Hughes, of Portland, is in the city for a few days.

Dr. Conriss fills teeth without pain. School shoes, such as will suit you, lower than ever, at the Columbia, 118 State street.

Hon. John Hall, of Portland, stopped off a few minutes this morning to see Salem friends, en route home from Linn Circuit court.

Miss Ada Breyman went to Portland today to conduct her art class in that city.

Miss Emma Fletcher of McCoy is visiting friends and relatives in our city.

Dr. Conriss fills teeth without pain. We propose to double our stock within the next ten days. BUREN & SON.

It is a strange fact that the man who pinches the eagle the tightest on a penny is usually the first to let go of a big lump to the bunco man.

Rev. Roland D. Grant's lecture had a large attendance and the Endeavor Union nets about $15.

Miss Dollie Hubbard is reported improving.

Gus Hofer, the Aurora and Fairfield stage route man, is in the city.

Judge Geo. H. Burnett returned from Albany today, having adjourned Linn county court until April 24th.

W. J. D'Arcy was a passenger for Oregon City this afternoon.

Miss Julia Metachan left this afternoon for a short visit in Portland.

The hobo who would not work yesterday got his dose of bread and water digested and concluded to shovel gravel today and get full rations.

Sons of Veterans meet at the Good Templar's hall for muster at 7:30 this Thursday evening.

Fresh from the deep blue sea, crabs, clams, oysters, fish and salmon eggs; also poultry and eggs fresh every day, at Davison's Court street market.

Osborn & Harritt is the firm name of the new management of the opera house grocery store. It is composed of W. H. Osborn and W. B. Harritt, two well known Salem business men.

Another milliner store is to be opened in the city. It will be in the former Leo Willis real estate office in the opera house block.

Society news should be handed in to the city editor tomorrow if possible, as owing to an extra demand for space the society page must be in the hands of the typesetters Friday evening. But personal and social items can be received Saturday.

E. T. Furness, district claim agent of the N. P. R. Co., from Tacoma, Wn., was in the city today settling claims for baggage lost in the Buckley wreck, last January. Three cars were burned to save the rest of the train. He has been with the N. P. Co. for eight years, and thoroughly understands the work of his department.

A Wall Paper of Postage Stamps.

The little village of Bersted, near Bognor, possesses a unique curiosity in the form of an innroom papered with postage stamps. The department is fancifully decorated with many descriptions of used stamps, and even the passage leading to the room is similarly papered. Some five years ago was occupied in making the collection, which numbers some thousands of stamps. The room, being completed in 1887, received the name of the "Jubilee Stamp room." Indeed some members of the royal family, interested in the collection, are said to have added to it a number of stamps on their own account.—Philadelphia Times.

A Boxing Cat.

A young broker who recently joined an athletic club in this city has a mania for boxing. He spends his leisure moments boxing with imaginary adversaries and often finds himself unconsciously making passes at a chair or some other article of furniture. He was greatly surprised and mightily pleased when he found that the office cat had taken notice of his boxing proclivities and was disposed to put up her paws with him at any time. He has trained the sportive feline so that she can go through about all of the motions of a human being who is learning to box.—New York Times.

Typhoid Fever.

Speaking of typhoid fever in Dublin, Sir Charles Cameron said he had come to the conclusion that there and perhaps elsewhere it was miasmatic or earth born. In Dublin during the last decade 1 person in 144 living on clay soils had typhoid fever and 1 in every 92 living on gravels. The disengagement of the micro-organisms of the disease took place when the soils became dry, and this occurred more frequently with gravel than with clay.

When all the organic debris produced in towns was quickly removed, and when the dangerous subterranean atmosphere was prevented from entering our dwellings, or even our streets, when sewage flowed steadily day and night through well constructed main sewers, and when our soils were thoroughly drained and kept free from filth, then we might expect to see a substantial reduction in the mortality caused by typhoid fever and by other diseases.—Medical Record.

Tallest Structures in the United States.

The highest structure now existing in the United States is the Washington monument, the memorial shaft erected at the national capital in honor of the memory of the "Father of His Country." It is 550 feet in height.

Next after the Washington monument, the tallest structure is the tower on the Madison Square garden near Madison square, New York city. The lookout gallery at the summit of this tower is the highest point of vantage in New York city, and with the exception of the summit of the Washington monument the highest in the country. From the pavement to the electric lights on the forehead of the gilded Diana there is an interval of 341 feet.—Washington News.

The Prices of English "Chaperonage."

A serious drawback to the cause of higher education for women in the English universities is reported from Oxford. The cost of "chaperonage" has risen. The older women, who are considered indispensable escorts to the girl students who attend examinations and lectures, are demanding and receiving higher pay than ever before. In many cases the students cannot afford to meet this increased expense, and a daring reformer has suggested that chaperons be dispensed with. While this has horrified the conservatives, it has pleased the independent young women, who are beginning to realize that there is no lurking peril in the streets of Oxford.—San Francisco Argonaut.

She Is In Dead Earnest.

Lady Florence Dixie has taken off the gloves, if I may so put it. The time has come, she declares in her latest manifesto, for woman to assert herself and to dethrone that too long worshipped and dreaded tyrant—man! And there is only one way, cries Lady Florence, in which this can be done. Women, as women, can never hope to effect the desired revolution. Women, if they wish to do anything, "must disguise themselves as men." "Patriotic mothers" are invited "to train up their girls" with a view to this new plan of campaign. "If I had a girl," added Lady Dixie, "I would do it." "Unfortunately," she adds, "my two children are boys."—London Truth.

Conscience Money Sent to Stamford.

Town Treasurer Robert Stewart of Stamford, Conn., recently received an anonymous letter postmarked New York inclosing a $1,000 treasury note. The letter reads, "Please put this $1,000 to the credit of Stamford taxes of 1879." The letter was not registered, and no one has any idea of the identity of the sender. It is supposed to be conscience money.
