PROGRESS AND ENTERPRISE LED CAPTIVE.

The Chicago Inter Ocean celebrated its 21st anniversary by issuing a sixty-page world's fair number with supplement in colored illustrations. That was cosmopolitan. It sold for two cents. That was American.

No one, thousands of miles away can read this brilliant manifestation of journalism without feeling the catching spirit of the age prevailing at the world's fair city. Its significance is, that there progress and enterprise are led captive and the Inter Ocean is a dominating influence. Out-stripping advancement itself, that city and that newspaper have leaped to the startling proportions of activity and vigor where no check can be laid upon them by accident or decadence. Their future can be measured only by the boundless immensities of imagination. When that stage is reached business depressed becomes an absurdity, hard times a solecism.

To look through the mammoth Chicago daily is a revelation. What giant forces are here stretching themselves in the morning son of a re-discovered America? A youthful colossus sits sprawling on the shore of Lake Michigan, kicking his legs miles out into the water and spreading his arms far back into the black-soiled prairies. Estimate the electrical current; compute the power of steam; but do not attempt to measure the fecundity of American enterprise; that requires an infinite calculus.

To summarize, and reduce to a focus within the visual range of an ordinary mind, that newspaper then contains: some five hundred illustrations; a score or more of full page advertisements; several thousand smaller announcements; advertisements in German, Italian, French, Scandinavian and what-not; a hundred columns describing how to go to the world's fair from any part of the world; a detailed account from each department of the world's fair exhibit; letters from half a hundred colleges; its own growth illustrated from a two-story brick in 1872 to a twenty-story palace in the twentieth century; two hundred thousand copies printed; the mind that could conceive, organize and carry all this to completion could move armies. Napoleon would be nowhere.

SUGGESTED COMMENTS.

Astorian: Allow us to move to amend the game laws so as to make it lawful to shoot calamity howlers during the entire year, on the grounds that they are nuisances and make humanity tired. Will somebody second the motion?

All the Rod and Gun clubs of Oregon will appoint committees to look after violaters of the new game law. The Albany club have appointed their committee and people with guns will have to look out, or they will be reported to the state game protector, who means business.—Democrat.

Telegram: Squire Abingdon Baird may have been a sport, but he was no fool. He had an immense fortune, but he was not a profligate. Recently a report was sent out that he had left his wealth to Lily Langtry. This was most unjust. He may have been a close friend to this actress, but he loved and respected his mother above all women, and to her his entire fortune is willed.

"Fat Doctor Bills Make Lean Wills." but Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy costs less than one doctor's visit. Catarrh is a loathsome, dangerous disease, and the time has come when to suffer from it is a disgrace. No person of culture and refinement cares to inflict upon his friends his offensive breath, disgusting hawking and spitting and disagreeable efforts to breath freely and clear the throat and nose—hence the cultured and refined use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. And no wise and prudent man cares to run the risk of leaving his family without a protector, by letting his "slight catarrh" run into serious or fatal throat, and lung troubles, hence the wise and prudent use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. The proprietors of this remedy are so confident of its curative properties, that they have made a standing offer of a reward of $500 for a case they cannot cure.

FROM SUNNYSIDE.

ED. JOURNAL: I read your paper with much interest as it seems to be independent in its course of giving all sides of every question. We farmers are interested in what you have published on extravagant legislation. We do not understand how that two million and over of money was honestly appropriated by the late legislature, and how it happened that the mortgage tax law was repealed or what made it necessary to build an asylum in Eastern Oregon or construct a jute mill; and that worlds fair appropriation is a puzzler and also that big militia appropriation is a mystery.

We farmers have been talking these things over and wondering how much bigger the taxes will be next year. Taxes are the thing that causes the farmer to think seriously in these days when what he raises on the farm is at a very low price in the market. Some of us are beginning to think that free railroad passes and too many clerks had a bad effect upon the members.

We favor women as well as men holding clerkships but why the great member? I learn there were over a hundred drawing from five to ten a day and that they all got the Oregon laws and Supreme Court decisions thrown in free along with the members. I also understand that this was only a repetition of the way they did things in the legislature two years ago. The question is will the tax payers of this state be called upon to foot the bills for this sort of expenditures two years from now. That clerk extravagance ought to be exposed and I am certain your paper would be further appreciated by the farmers and tax payers if you would get the names and publish them of all the clerks with the amount each drew set opposite the name and the number of clerks on each committee and foot up the amount at the end of the list. This I believe would be very beneficial and read with much interest by the tax payers and I hope you will set down the names and accounts and publish them in your valuable and according to my way of thinking very independent newspaper. A FARMER.

Make Haste to Defend Yourself

If you live in a locality where malaria is prevalent, with a preventive that experience indicates as the most reliable of medical safeguards—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Entirely free from the objections—and they are valid ones—which attach to the mineral alkaloid quinine, it is far more effective, and its effects are not evanescent, but lasting, unlike those of the drug. There are portions of our land—and none more beautiful and more fertile—exempt from the malarial scourge. In such regions Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has undergone a continuous test for the past forty years, with results which have established its reputation beyond all cavil as a special defense against every form of malarial disease. For biliousness, also, it is an acknowledged specific, and it is a potent remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, rheumatism and an impoverished condition of the blood.

"I have been led to address you from a deep sense of gratitude for the great benefit I have received from Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Hearty Welcome.

"Those who have not been afflicted with dyspepsia, have no conception of the misery I endured, and those that have need no description of the horrors of the unfortunate dyspeptic.

"This is why I changed my mind in regard to patent medicines: An old friend had been afflicted for many years with dyspepsia, and for a few months I noticed that he had been wonderfully improving. I ascertained that the great change had been wholly wrought by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He advised me to 'try it by all means,' but the idea of me taking 'patent medicine' was a very bitter pill to swallow. But urged by my great sufferings to do something, I finally yielded and began to take
