AN IMMENSE ADVANTAGE.

Letters continue to roll into this office from male applicants for matrimonial relations with the lady who announced in this paper that she had a little property and wanted a life partner.

No ladies are responding to a similar offer on the part of a gentleman who has also advertised. It must be that there is an immense advantage in the marriage relation for the men.

BASEBALL.

The effort being made to organize an amateur baseball league at Salem should succeed. There are some good players here, several thousand dollars invested in a baseball park, good transportation facilities and if properly managed an appreciative baseball public.

It is still the American game. There is unabated interest in baseball all over the United States and a city of the size of Salem without a league club is out of the world.

By adding a few strong players a Salem club could easily bear the pen and one game a week would be well sustained here.

THE SUCCESSFUL POLITICIAN.

Here are a few suggestions to some of our tired, weary and hungry Democratic friends about successful politicians in general:

They always reward their friends with a smile—nothing more.

They are never guilty of a sympathetic interest in anything without expectation of profit immediately or soon thereafter.

After they get into office those who put them there are liberally endowed with the riches and blessings of hope—but there they draw the line.

BETWEEN THE SHAWERS.

These notes are necessarily brief at this season of the year in Oregon.

Dust is indispensable to poultry. It takes a good big sackfull to keep any.

About the only profitable harvest in sight is the crop of Democratic spoils of office and that is not a sure yield.

A large extra edition of the JOURNAL is printed tonight to supply the demand for the society and sporting supplement.

An extra session of congress is what our country needs to fully paralyze her few remaining resources under a Cleveland administration.

Next thing the striped laborers at the state prison will organize a union and refuse to bear preaching by non-union or "scab" ministers.

An exchange says the Roseburg papers have abandoned all claim to have the Soldier's Home located there. They never had any claim to abandon.

If the state board of horticulture would send out a recipe for a spray against your neighbors chickens it would be universally appreciated.

A country editor says hell is poverty. There must be some mistake about that. We had supposed from all accounts that the devil was a national banker.

The farmers are not so busy but that about five thousand of them can crowd to town Saturdays and put in the day on the street corners talking politics and cursing the bad roads.

The demagogic press always cringes to the labor unions. Witness the striking Salem ministerial union has picked up three newspapers. Are they subsidized with advertising?

The Soldier's Home should be located at Salem because the constitution says so. There is a stronger reason in the fact that there is an abundant supply of good pure drinking water.

The ministerial union should adopt some regulations as to proper hours of the day to call at a man's house so as to always be sure to find him at home. If it is the men need looking after.

A number of Salem church members complain that they have to listen to so many imported evangelists while their own pastors even to think their time can be more profitably employed converting householders, criminals and lunatics.

"RECONSTRUCTED REPUBLICANISM."

A Portland Paper Threatens Defeat if the Party Plants its Root in the Country.

(Oregonian, April 28)

The CAPITAL JOURNAL (Salem) wants the Republican party of Oregon reorganized on a plan or basis that will leave Multnomah county out. It wants "a machine" that will draw its inspiration from the country more than from the city of Portland.

A CHATHAM MIRACLE.

DR. CARL VERRINDER'S VICISSITUDES OF TORTURE AND OF HEALTH.

He Survives Them all, and Recounts His Wonderful Deliverance From Poverty and Death, and His Restoration to Prosperity and Vigor of Mind and Body—Good Words for the A. O. U. W.

(Chatham Planet.)

In a Raleigh street residence there lives with wife and one child—a little ten-year-old daughter—a musician known throughout Ontario, if not the whole Dominion, as a prince among pianists, organists and choir masters—a veritable maestro and "Wizard of the Ivory Keys," and no one who has ever listened to his manipulation of the great organ in the Park Street Methodist Church, or heard him evoke "magic music's mystic melody" from the magnificent Decker Grand in his own drawing room but will declare that his eminence is well deserved, and his peers can be but few among the professors of Divine Art. The doorplate bears the following inscription:—

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

DR. CARL VERRINDER, Director.

To sit, as did a Planet reporter a few days ago, in a very atmosphere of sweet harmony, created by Dr. Verrinder's angelic-like touch was an experience that might well be envied, and one calculated to inspire the most sentimental reveries. But sentimental moods finally vanish and leave one seeing the sober and practical side of life. The music ceased and the conversation took a turn leading to the real object of the reporter's call.

"There are stories abroad," said the newspaper man, "regarding some extraordinary deliverance from death, which you have met with recently, doctor. Would you object to stating what foundation there is for them, and, if any, furnish me with the facts for publication?" Dr. Verrinder shrugged his shoulders and laughed. "I have not," he replied, "been given to seeking newspaper notoriety, and at fifty five years of age it is not likely I shall begin, and yet," said the professor after thinking a moment and consulting Mrs. Verrinder, "perhaps it is best that I should give you the circumstances for use in 'The Planet.' The story of my rescue from the grave might fittingly be prefaced by a little of my early history. We resided in England, where though I was a professor of music, I was not dependent on my art, as I had acquired a competence. My wife was an heiress, having £50,000 in her own right. Through the assistance of a broker she was robbed almost of all her fortune, while by the Bank of Glasgow failure, my money vanished forever. It became necessary for me then to return to a profession in order to live. I do not speak of it boastfully, but I stood well among the musicians of that day in the old land. My fees were a guinea a lesson, and it was an uncommon thing for me to give twenty in a day. We came to America, landing in Quebec, where I anticipated getting an engagement as organist in the cathedral, but was disappointed. Subsequently we moved to St. Catharines, in which city I procured an organ and choir and soon had a large clientele. Later, in order as I thought to better my fortune, I took up my residence in London, first filling an engagement with a Methodist church and afterwards accepting the position of organist in St. Peter's Cathedral. In those cities I made many warm friends, and their tributes and gifts I shall ever retain as among the most precious of my possessions. It was while living in London and pursuing my art with much earnestness and labor that I received a stroke of paralysis. Perhaps," here the speaker rose and stretching himself to his full height, thus displaying his well-built and well-oiled frame—"I do not look like a paralytic. But the truth is I have had three strokes, yes, sir, first, second, and third, and yet the third is fatal ninety-nine times out of one hundred. Yet here you see before you a three stroke victim, and a man who feels both in body and mind, as vigorous as he ever did in his life. My ultimate cure I attribute to my testing the virtues of a medicine whose praises I shall never cease sounding as long as I live, and which I shall recommend to suffering humanity as I am now constantly doing, while I know a case and can reach the ear of the patient. After removing to Chatham I had not long been here when my health began to further give way. Gradually I noticed the change. I felt it first and most strongly in a stomach affection which produced constant and distressing nausea. It grew worse and worse, I myself attributed it to bad water poisoning my system. One doctor said it was catarrh of the stomach. Another pronounced it diabetes, still another a different diagnosis. I kept on doctoring, but getting no relief. I tried one medicine after another, but it was no use. Grippe attacked me and added to my pain, discomfort and weakness. At last I took to my bed and it seemed that I was never going to get well. Nothing of a nourishing nature would remain on my stomach. No drugs seemed to have a counteracting influence on the disease which was dragging me down to death. My wife would sit at my bedside and moan, my life with diluted spirits which was all that could be done to relieve me. Besides three local doctors who gave me up, I had doctors from London and Kingston whose skill I believed in and to whom I paid heavy fees, but without receiving any help or encouragement. It is true that a stomach pump operation afforded temporary relief, but yet I felt that my peculiar case needed some special and particular compound or remedial agent which I knew not of. But, at last, thank God, I discovered it. I had been for eighteen months a miserable wreck, unable to
