PACIFIC COAST CELEBRATIONS

In Honor of the Supreme Court Decision.

UPHOLDING THE ANTI-CHINESE LAW.

Bonfires Blazing, Cannons Booming and Fireworks Illuminating the Skies.

The Chinese View.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—Mr. May, counselor to the Chinese legation said the contest against the law doubtless be transferred to congress when it meets in the fall. Under present conditions it would be impossible for the officials to execute the law literally, because there is practically no money with which to carry its provisions into effect. Mr. May called attention to the fact that when an effort was made to secure the insertion of the item of half a million dollars in the appropriation bill for the purpose of enabling the executive authorities to carry out the provisions of the law, Holman antagonized and defeated it, and as a consequence congress appropriated only $50,000, a sum heretofore annually provided to deport Chinese who might unlawfully secure entrance into the United States and be detected. It was an unfortunate and deplorable condition of affairs, he said, which threatened the existence of the peaceful and peaceable relations of China and the United States and left hundreds of natives of each country in the territory of the other, practically hostages for each other.

NO ORDERS YET.

No orders had been issued at the treasury department at the close of business today as to deporting Chinese under the Geary act. The instructions under which the collectors of internal revenue and the United States marshals now operating direct them to make no arrests of unregistered Chinamen until further orders. These orders may be given tomorrow after the cabinet meeting, or be deferred for a longer period. Secretary Carlisle, soon after he heard of the decision of the supreme court, went to the executive mansion and had a conference with the president on the subject. Attorney General Olney said until the line of action to be pursued by our government was mapped out, he could say nothing on the subject, except the department of justice had no money available for deporting Chinese. A conservative estimate places the amount necessary to deport the unregistered Chinese at $6,000,000 with only $18,806 available for the purpose. Intimations are heard that congress may be convened to consider the matter.

The suggestion is made in official circles here that the unregistered may now go to the courts and ask to be allowed to register and remain in the country. In any view of the case the treasury officials expect to experience great difficulty in carrying out the mandate of the law that the Chinese must go. They look to the cabinet to solve the problem at the meeting tomorrow.

IN CALIFORNIA.

Citizens of Santa Rosa are holding a celebration tonight in honor of the supreme court's decision sustaining the constitutionality of the Geary Chinese law. Huge bonfires are blazing in the streets. Fireworks illuminate the heavens and are being fired to express the approval of the people at the result of the test case.

Congressman Geary, interviewed by an Associated Press representative, said that he did not think it would cost a very great sum of money to enforce the law and that it would be unreasonable to think the government would have to be deterred from executing the law because an expense would be incurred in so doing. He said that owing to the time required in deciding each individual case and the belief that the Chinamen can be deported for about $15 per head, that the fifty thousand dollars left in the treasury for that purpose will be sufficient to meet the expense until congress meets. He also stated that in his opinion when the Chinese saw the government meant to enforce the law, they would voluntarily leave for Cuba, Brazil and other countries, rather than remain here and incur the risk and trouble of being sent back to China. He thinks the highbinders and other criminals will be the first to be tried under the act. The congressman said the Chinese have nobody to blame but themselves for not complying with the law and that any hardships resulting is the just penalty for violating it.

The War Outlook.

NEW YORK, May 16.—A Washington special to the Post, says: "The outlook for war with China is now regarded in naval circles as not unfavorable. The decision is a great blow to the Chinese legation here, where it had been hoped down to the last moment. The act would be declared unconstitutional. NOT GUILTY OF MURDER.

Dress Reformers in Congress at the World's Fair

CHICAGO, May 16.—There were lively times today in the seven different simultaneous meetings. All the sub-divisions of the women's congress are in session in the great art palace on the lake front. The halls and corridors of the big structure are crowded with famous women. Topics ranging from dress reform to evolution are under discussion. Mrs. May Wright Sewell of Indiana, president of the international council of women, presided over the department on dress reform. She appeared in a reform costume, with a full skirt cut eighteen inches from the floor, and the limbs below the border were enclosed in neat fitting blue leggings. A number of ladies in the audience wore reform costumes.

Street Railway Trouble.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 16.—The St. Louis City Street Railway Company, operating 32 miles of electric lines in this city, passed into the hands of a receiver after a consultation with the Eastern creditors. James F. Peavy, president of the company was named receiver by consent. The plant is valued at $1,000,000. The floating indebtedness is $275,000. A receivership was thought advisable because of the difficulty in floating consolidated bonds to secure $525,000 of first mortgage paper. The creditors consider the company's embarrassment only temporary.

A meeting was held at Creswell Saturday, and it was decided to offer a bonus of $20,000 and a block of land in the city to secure the location of the county-seat there. THE CLEVELANDS MOVE.

President and Mrs. Cleveland have moved out to their country house. The Star says the members of the family are looking forward to an interesting event to occur, it is stated, in July. The expected event explains why President and Mrs. Cleveland have been somewhat anxious to get into their own country home for the summer.

Altman. The vote was the largest ever held here, there being 487 ballots cast. The water faction was very much elated over the election of their candidate for mayor and one councilman, while the anti-water people are rejoicing over the success of the councilmen on their ticket, one of whom, however, was endorsed by the other side.

Without Preference.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Erastus Wiman made a general assignment for the benefit of his creditors. Wiman would not make a formal statement merely, saying his assignment was without preference.

ENFORCE THE LAW.

What has become of President Cleveland's famous expression about the plain duty of the executive in enforcing the laws of our country.

Congress passed the Geary Chinese exclusion act. The Chinese refused to comply with it. Cleveland suspended the operation of the act of congress.

The supreme court declares the law valid. Having failed to register as required by law the alien Chinese race has no rights in this country.

The Oregonian says the law cannot be enforced. The Chinese say Cleveland will not enforce it. The three seem to agree. The Oregonian, Cleveland and the Chinese are in perfect harmony.

Chinese consuls everywhere threaten injury to American residents and American interests in China. It must not be forgotten that our people have the same rights in China that all other nations have. And any other race that comes to our country, and refuses to become, or is incapable of becoming an integral part of American citizenship according to the constitution can be ordered out of our country just the same as the Chinese have been. The threat of retaliation by ill-treatment of Americans in China ought not to deter President Cleveland a moment from putting the Geary law in force.
