I. O. G. T. LODGE.—Mrs. E. M. Vandeventer, D. G. C. T., organized Progressive lodge of Good Templars at the Riekey school house, four miles east of Salem, with twenty-two charter members, and the charter will not be closed until after their next meeting to give others an opportunity to become charter members who wished to but could not be there last night. The following officers were elected and installed: Mr. J. Bowerman, C. T.; Miss May Staley, V. T.; J. D. Horner, Chap.; H. Staley, Sec.; Miss Martha Bowerman, A. L.; Grant Kesterson, F. S.; Ethelbert Miller, Treas.; Ralph Bowerman, M.; W. R. Pinnig, C.; C. H. Horner, Sent.; O. C. Hutchens, L. D.; Mrs. Jennie Hutchens, S. J. W.; N. Shrum, P. C. T.

ROAD MACHINE.—The county judge and commissioners were out Wednesday afternoon to witness a trial of the Austin road grader. A half mile of road was thrown up with six horses in a few hours. The machine is made entirely of steel and after the ground is plowed it throws up a 40 foot road in five rounds of the machine. Oak roots two to three inches in diameter were taken off smooth and fir roots three to four inches in diameter. The machine is a great success in the opinion of the court. The machine costs $350 and takes six heavy horses. Judge Hubbard says it will make road without plowing where the ground is dry.

STOLEN.—A golden spangled Poland hen. She was a great pet and belonged to Mac Hofer of South Salem. If the person who was seen with her will return her no questions will be asked; if any one has bought her they will confer a great favor by leaving word at the JOURNAL office. This fowl was awarded first premium in her class at the poultry show last winter and was so perfectly tame anyone could pick her up anywhere. She would sit on the house all day in the most delighted manner and as a layer she was unequalled by any in the flock. A person who would steal such a pet to kill is not fit to live.

TRUTH.—There is a publication called "Truth" on sale at the news stands in Oregon that should be driven out of the trade. It is filled with pictures in high colors that border upon the loud and suggestive if not positively obscene. There is an opportunity for the W. C. T. U. or Christian Endeavor societies or police magistrates to do some good work.

PROBATE.—Petition for the confirmation of the sale of real property in the estate of Martha Ashcroft, deceased, J. B. Dimick being the administrator, granted.—J. B. Early, guardian of the minor heirs, Ivy May, Francis and Edgar Walter, filed his inventory. The value of the property was found to be $3,762.

THE 2D REGT. BAND.—It has been rendering exceptionally fine music at the races and a street parade at the noon hour daily does much to draw out immense numbers. A march played by the band at the fair grounds yesterday sells well today reeled off the phonographs at the cigar stores.

CITY BONDS.—The advertisement ordered by the city council for bids on city bonds to refund the city debt has not been issued, Mayor Gatch not having signed the same.

I prescribe Simmons Liver Regulator and it deserves all the praise it receives.—Dr. D. W. Atkinson, Silcan, Ark.

City, County and State warrants are at par, but not much sought after by Salem banks, as money is worth more than 8 per cent at present.

SWELL VISITORS.—It may swell them up in their own estimation and look bigger in print but it don't make them any bigger in reality—Salem people who register at the World's Fair as coming from Portland.

CITY BONDS.—There is a hitch about refunding Salem's city debt. The attorneys differ as to the amount of bonds that should be included in the tender of bids asked. Mayor Gatch's opinion is that the advertisement for bids includes the warrants for street improvements and in all it amounts to $57,000. He is of the opinion that a warrant drawn against a special fund cannot be counted in funding operations as city debt. The present is not a good time to sell bonds.

HORTICULTURAL INTERESTS.

State and County Societies to Meet at Salem 11 to 13th.

Horticultural interests will command attention at the capital city next week and Salem Horticulturists are preparing for the proper reception of members of the State Society on the occasion of its annual gathering. There will be prominent men and women here who are practical fruit growers. The fruit interests of Marion and Polk counties should be well represented.

President Cottle is working hard to enlist all the workers. He has appointed the following committee on decorations for the meetings which convene at the county court house: Mrs. Olive S. England, Mrs. R. E. Wahds, Mrs. Ida M. Babcock, T. L. Black, Supt. Miles, E. Hofer, C. B. Moores. Mrs. England has been asked to act as chairman of the committee. The state meeting has not been enthusiastically received heretofore at this city, and it is desired that the hall be decorated more grandly than a room ever was decorated before in the state of Oregon; that the decorations be got from the woods consisting largely of Oregon grape (which has been made the state flower of Oregon) and beautiful bunches of ferns, of cedars and pines, wild flowers and vines from the woods. In fact it is desired that there be such decorations at this meeting as were never before seen gathered together in the Northwest, and such as will be a surprise and a revelation, as it were, to not only the society but to all the citizens of Salem. This can be done. Several of the committee have teams and propose to see what the woods contain and make a grand earnest effort and perhaps surprise themselves with the array of wild flowers and flowering native shrubs that can be produced.

WILL TAKE DRIVES.

One of the features of the state meeting will be the opportunity offered for all to visit the orchards in the vicinity of Salem in the mornings and evenings. For this reason, and through the kind invitations of the citizens and fruit growers of Salem and Marion county. The program has been extended and so arranged that it will occupy three days instead of two, as heretofore, leaving the early forenoons for driving and the inspection of orchards. Much benefit will be derived from these drives, and all fruit growers are earnestly requested to be present.

OREGON AT THE FAIR.

L. H. Bailey writes about strawberries received at Chicago: "On June 17th, a lot of Clark's Early, a new variety, was received by the Oregon people in good condition, after having traveled 2,500 miles without refrigeration. Six days after its arrival this berry is still firm. It is medium in size, exceedingly solid and tough, reminding one somewhat of the Glendale. The color of both exterior and flesh is very dark dull red. The berry is not high in quality, but it certainly gives every promise of being a good shipper."

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. JULY RACE MEETINGS

At Salem Are a Phenomenal Success.

BLONDIE BREAKS A WORLD'S RECORD

Friday the Last Day With Immense Program.

Wednesday made an Oregon horse worth $20,000 in less than five minutes. Blondie, sired by Lemont, lowered the world's racing record for a two mile dash from 4:45 to 4:43, and had speed to spare.

It was the last trot of the day and anywhere but in Oregon would have been heralded as a world-wide event and telegraphed across the continent. Here it will probably occupy three lines in "the Oregonian." It was the last race of the day and attracted no unusual attention. But it proves that Oregon breeding is coming to the top.

The management of the July races has been excellent and the meetings are a great financial success so far. Friday is the last day and the crowning events of the meeting will take place. There should be an immense attendance and all lovers of racing should give over the afternoon to their favorite pleasure. The program for today's races is as follows:

Three-eighth mile running race—horses entered, Black Alder, Lancer, Roan Oak, Innocence Abroad, Black Prince, Lida M., Arago, Violas, Sleepy Dave, Ben.

One mile running—horses entered, Nipper, Silvia, Nehalem, Undine. 2:25 trotting—Phalmont Boy, Frank O'Neil, Kate Lee, Walter, Pandora, Anita.

Two-year-old pacing—Alta Wood, Primrose, Addie R., Ann Alene. Ladies were admitted free to the grounds and grand stand and it was taxed to its utmost.

WEDNESDAY'S SUMMARIES.

Running, half-mile and repeat—Paddy Ryan won, Lancer second, Rocklan Boy third; time, 0:49. Billy Ayres also run.

Three-year-old special—Daisy II, won Springsteen second, Multnomah Boy, third, Daley D. fourth; time, 2:39.

2:35 trotting—Hamrock won, Anita second, Tybalt third, best time, 1:26.

HALF FARE.—The S. P. railroad will sell half-fare round trip tickets for the Salem races from all points between Portland and Eugene. The tickets will be on sale beginning the 4th and will be good to return until the 8th. 6-26-39

The Merriest Girl that's Out.

"Bonnie sweet Bessie, the maid of Dundee," was no doubt the kind of a girl to ask, "What are the wild waves saying?" or to put "a little faded flower" in your button hole, she was so full of vivacity, and beaming with robust health. Every girl in the land can be just as full of life, just as well, and just as merry as she, since Dr. Pierce has placed his "Favorite Prescription" within the reach of all. Young girls in their teens, passing the age of puberty, find it a great aid. Delicate, pale and sickly girls will find this a wonderful invigorator, and a sure corrective for all derangements and weaknesses incident to females.

Narrow Escape of a Salem Young Man from Highwaymen.

W. H. Butchard, the photographer man was waylaid last night about 11:25 as he got off the car on State street and was going across to his home at J. P. Johnson's on Asylum avenue.

Two men followed him a block, when he stepped into a yard, and they stopped. The men had run after him to overtake him, down the middle of the road. He ran about half a block, when they were right onto him. Thinking it was his home, they tried to turn it off, and asked for a light for a cigarette. They were hard looking characters. It was very dark and Mr. Butchard feels sure they wanted something besides a light. He had nearly a hundred dollars on his person, and as one tried to head him off, the other was just behind him. It was a narrow escape for Mr. Butchard, as the city was full of hard characters attending the races and circus.

No Theft. A lady from Buffalo had quite an experience in a large Berlin hotel. She was a brave little woman "doing" the continent alone with her two children, without being able to speak a word of any language except United States. One night, having retired early with the little ones, she was suddenly awakened by a peculiar noise, which she soon became convinced was caused by some one trying to open the door between her room and the one adjoining. She "wasn't a bit scared," but got up quickly, turned on the electric light and rang the bell, which resounded through the whole house. The sound at the door ceased suddenly, and after a slight delay a "Dutchman," as she called him, appeared to answer the bell.

"Speak English" (the usual question.) "I speaks heem a leetle," was the reply.

"There is some one in the next room trying to open my door," excitedly. "No, he is out," positively.

"But there is some one there—a robber, a burglar. Don't you understand?" "He is out!" He will be out at half past twelve.

"No, a robber! a burglar! a thief—a thief, I tell you—a thief in the next room!"

"Well," meditatively, "I do not think he can be a thief, for he has out. He will be out at half past twelve, and I—well—tell—beem—sat—you—want—to—see—beem."—Exchange.

Unexpected.

He had just received a letter from his son at college and was reading it aloud to his family, when he came to this passage:

"I am taking lessons in fencing, and as the fee must be paid in advance will need another remittance."

"Waal, now, that do beat all," said the old man, "what on airth does anybody need to take lessons in fencing for, I'd like to know? I've been fencing for 40 years and never had to go to college to learn how."

"But times have changed, father," said his wife. "Fences ain't made as they used to be when we clim' them in Root hollow."

"That's so," said the old man. "Ed don't say it's a wire fence or a rail one, but I reckon he'll learn both ways. But, I run, I never expected a boy of mine would hev to go to college to learn fencing. It do seem queer."

Then he wrote out another check and forwarded it by the next mail.—Detroit Free Press.
