

THE CAPITAL JOURNAL. PUBLISHED DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY, BY THE Capital Journal Publishing Company.

HOFFER BROTHERS, - - - Editors. If continued conventions and great gatherings of people are an index of city life, Salem is a city.

SALEM A CONVENTION CITY. Last week there were spending contests that drew the horsemen and lovers of sport on the Pacific coast all to Salem.

FOSSILIZED PEDAGOGS. The stone giant found in New York a few years ago was a harmless bumbag compared to the fossilized pedagog who at this season of the year seeks to instruct the green young minds of incontinent would-be educators at teachers conventions and institutes.

FROM MARION. The Sunday school was reorganized at the Friends church. J. J. Cook was elected superintendent.

LETTER LIST. The following letters remaining in the Salem postoffice July 12, 1893, un-called for.

SELECTIONS. THE FATE OF A LOVE LETTER.

Hard Hearted Competitors Make Merry Over the Effusion of a Reporter. One of the Herald men is in love. His name is withheld for reasons which appear later on.

It was rich. Words of undying devotion, words of burning affection and sincere, glowing, ardent devotion.

The Sister of Charles Dickens. Letitia Mary Dickens, whose death has been recently announced, was born in St. Mary's place, Chatham.

At the age of 30 she married Mr. Henry Austin, a civil engineer of some repute. He worked for the government when the insular condition of some country districts seemed an invitation to the cholera.

Object Lessons in Dress by a Woman. Dr. Root of the New Century club in Philadelphia has been showing us how much time we waste in the making and arranging of our gowns by donning the regular India dress for the benefit of the club.

GENUINE HOSPITALITY. What to Do to Make One's Guests Feel at Home.

A great deal has been written about the need of young housekeepers board their means and the folly of entertaining too many guests.

We must, in the honest old phrase that has such a ring of true hospitality about it, "take one's friends as come." In order to do this we need not set up a gorgeous table and deck out our house in rivalry to their own.

A New Toaster. A toaster that will allow of the bread being toasted on both sides without being removed or handled after being once toasted is indeed a novelty.

The New Silks. A large part of the silk importations for the coming summer are made up of gauzes. These are usually black, striped with satin or crossed by quadrille lines of satin in two brilliant contrasting colors.

Good For the Hair. Sage tea is said to darken the hair and will undoubtedly be as efficacious as the application of henné.

Don't Waste. A penny saved is a penny earned. There is no need of wasting as is usually done, a good sized piece of gimp or any trimming that ravel in the cutting.

EMPIRE TEA GOWNS. THEIR RESTFULNESS ADDS GRACE AND BEAUTY TO THE WEARER.

Not the Old Fashioned Wrapper, but a Thing of Beauty When Made of the Numerous Light and Beautiful Materials Now Used in Their Construction.

The tea gown has been brought rather into disrepute of late, the New York Sun thinks, from the fact that people think they can "run them up at home" and that they can make them out of odds and ends, tied round with a scarf of something else, until the woman who wears one reminds you of Billy's "rag."

getty man" or an animated bargain counter. The perfect man, some one has said, is most perfect in motion, the perfect woman in repose, and what so conducive to that ideal grace of restfulness as the tea gown in its highest form of expression?

And what more important gown than this in which one presides at breakfast, than most trying meal of the day, when it isn't easy for a great beauty to be anything but plain and a plain woman to rise above being ugly, particularly if one is obliged every morning to sit opposite the one man on earth for whose good opinion she has a miserable craving?

AN IDEAL TEA GOWN. sleeves of black corded silk, slashed at the elbow, with rose pullings through, and about the bottom the gown is cut at intervals of four or five inches, the slits buttonholed with black, and in and out is threaded a broad black ribbon tying in a bow on either side of the front.

Don't Waste. A penny saved is a penny earned. There is no need of wasting as is usually done, a good sized piece of gimp or any trimming that ravel in the cutting.

New Potatoes. To remove the skins of new potatoes readily rub them with a stiff vegetable brush.

HEALTHY CHILDREN. Are a great blessing. All children will be perfectly rugged and healthy if raised on the GAIL BORDEN EAGLE BRAND Condensed Milk.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE NOY RIP. Do you wear them? When sent is used by a pair. Best in the world.
