LOCAL DATES.

Saturday, Aug. 5.—State Dairy-men's convention, court house, 10 a. m.

MILITARY PROMOTIONS.—The competitive drill of members of I company O. N. G. for promotion to non-commissioned officers, was held Wednesday, and examining board consisting of Cap. D. C. Sherman of B Co., Lieut. R. H. Leabo of H Co., First Lieut. Percy Willis and Second Lieut. J. A. Evans, of I Co., made a report upon the examination last evening as follows: Eugene Henry First Sergeant; Uri J. Lamson, quartermaster sergeant; E. M. Townsend, second sergeant; Leon Holland, fourth sergeant; and Simon R. Dineuf, fifth sergeant. There were other contestants who did not reach the 60 per cent mark. On September 13 another drill for four corporals will be held.

OUR OREGON.—The Willamette valley is now in the midst of her three months clear summer season. The skies are a pale cerulean blue; the billowy clouds are soft and fleecy like the lace work around a bride's neck; the mornings greet you as deliciously cool as when you open the door of an ice chest, the evenings are bracing from a stiff Pacific breeze. The land is rich with the perfume of new-mown hay and musical with the rattle of the harvesters, while for all who labor there is a rich bill of fare in fruits, vegetables and juicy fish and meats.

JOKE ON THE PROFESSOR.—We have heard a good one on Prof. Gatch, formerly president of Willamette university, now in charge of the Washington State university at Seattle. Two young men seemed overly fond of escorting a couple of young lady students. During a certain lecture he charged the boys to never again be caught out with less than a ten foot pole between them and the girls. In a few evenings he met the quartet going out for a walk, each couple having an upright ten foot pole between them.

DALLAS HOPS.—Nearly all the yards around Dallas are in good condition, and though a few lice may be found in all of them, there are not yet enough to do any damage. The crop promises to be of good quality but not extra large. Not a pound of last year's crop now remains in the county. Eastern and foreign hops will have an unusually small yield this season, which will be in the interest of our growers.—Itemiser.

TO THE FRONT.—Mr. E. M. Walte and Wm. Brown took the 11:40 train this morning for Idanha, the new station at the Oregon Pacific front. Mr. Walte combines business with the trip, and Mr. Brown goes in the interest of some twenty Salemites, who intend camping there during the month of August, if his report as to the location, and convenience for camping are favorable. This locality seems to be attracting considerable attention at this time.

A SAD CASE.—Captain N. B. Humphrey, whose leg was amputated by reason of a fracture sustained July 5, has been wildly delirious several days at Pendleton. He was adjudged insane and sent to the asylum. He left last evening, accompanied by his brother, George Humphrey, deputy United States marshal and Deputy Sheriff Halloy, and will reach Salem this evening.

EVANGELICAL ASSOCIATION.—German church, corner Liberty and Center streets. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 5 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. All Germans are cordially invited. A. A. Engelbert pastor.

MACHINE OIL.—Farmers, buy your oil at the Blue Front, and save 25 per cent.

A METROPOLITAN SERVICE.

To Meet the Growing Trade of the Fruit Palace

RINEMAN ISSUES HIS ULTIMATUM

And Leads all Salem Houses in Volume of Trade.

"While others are squealing and kicking at hard times you may say that Rineman the Fruit Palace grocer is not in it with that procession. He is right up on the bit so far as the grocery trade is concerned and has reasons for congratulating the public and himself for the magnificent growth of business," said M. T. Rineman, the State street grocer this afternoon.

"Have you any facts to prove this?" "You may say that up to my last annual inventory my books show that for the year ending March 12, 1893 trade at the Fruit Palace increased one-third over the preceding year. From March 12th to the present our increase has been over one-half. Does that look like hard times?"

The reporter said he should think not.

"To what do you attribute this remarkable gain in trade when times have been so dull elsewhere?"

"We have simply been extending our trade on every side and carrying the life and activity and inspiration of wide-awake business methods into every suburb of the capital city, and besides taking care of our large city trade, giving to the little farming communities every advantage equal to city life.

"There is Rosedale in the Red Hills, and other fruit growing centers, as far out as eight miles, reached regularly by our free delivery service, soliciting one day and delivering the next, just as easily as Englewood or Lincoln Park. We are adding new territory every day and extending the advantages of a first-class modern grocery to the fruit tracts that are doing so much to build up the business of this city. We own our own teams and have business enough to keep them employed."

STILL IMPROVING.

"Many persons have called to express surprise at your item the other day about our adding 1500 feet of shelving for our grocery department alone. One of a firm who used to run the crack grocery of this city, remarked that the Fruit Palace already had two or three times as much shelving as any grocery in town, and wondered what it needed of any more?"

"Well, you see under this new plan everything will be arranged systematically by tiers. There will be one ten-foot tier reaching to the twenty-foot ceiling of baking powders, another tier of canned tomatoes, another of corn, another of pound goods. Everything is by itself in solid array and not all mixed up."

ROLLING LADDERS

glide back and forth, clerks are ascending and descending like the angels in the patriarch Jacob's dream. The people appreciate our efforts because we employ no half-way methods but assume and retain leadership in the grocery trade upon merit. In fruit we lead, of course. It would not be the Fruit Palace if we did not. We had the first tomatoes, the first peaches and pears. Our first watermelons arrived today. It is useless to enumerate all departments in which we carry complete stocks, such as tin, granite, woodens, chinaware, silverware, willoware, crockery, cutlery, glassware, pickles, mustards, canned goods, bottled goods, meats in every form, cheese."

"Cheese, did you say?" asked the reporter, breaking into Rineman's 2:04 Nancy Hanks gait.

"Yes, cheese. I am the cheese man of Oregon today. Besides Cranstons, Eastern, Brick, Swiss, Limburger, Parmesan and Cottage cheese, I am negotiating with that man you discovered making that Roquefort cheese which is said to be a dream on the palate of the epicure hitherto unrealized in the grocery trade of this city."

"In vegetables we own and control the entire supply off one hundred acres of green stuff."

And the busy proprietor was called away. M. T. Rineman is a remarkable man in many respects. There is something magnetic in his business methods that seems to please the people. He is a master of the details of his business and everybody who trades there gets the full benefit of his experience and enterprise in giving the people a metropolitan grocery service.

J. N. Harris, 3 Fulton Market, New York City, says: "I have been using Brandreth's Pills for the last fifteen years. There is nothing else to them as Blood Purifiers and Liver Regulators. But I wish to state how remarkably they cure rheumatism, and how easily; I was affected by rheumatism in the legs. My business (wholesale fish dealer) naturally leads me into damp places. I could not walk, and at night I suffered terribly. I tried Balm, Sarsaparilla and all kinds of tinctures, but they did me no good and I was afraid of being a cripple. I finally commenced using Brandreth's Pills. I took two every night for ten nights, then I began to improve. I continued taking them for forty days and I got entirely well. Now, whenever sick, I take Brandreth's Pills. 'They never fail.'"

AFTER HIS MISSING CHILD.

J. W. Miller on the Trail of the Gypsies Who Stole His Girl.

Last summer mention was made in these columns of the fact that a little daughter of J. W. Miller, who lives in Unatilla county, had suddenly disappeared from her home, and there was every reason to suspect that the child had been stolen by a band of strolling gypsies who were in that vicinity at the time. Mr. Miller made diligent and persistent search for his child, but without avail. Circulars giving a description of the personal appearance of the little girl were printed, and sent all over the country to sheriffs, city marshals, chiefs of police, etc. Sheriff Kelly received one of these circulars. But all efforts proved futile, for not a single trace of the missing child was ever discovered.

A band of gypsies passing through The Dalles the other day had with them a little girl answering the description of the little daughter of J. W. Miller, who was stolen from Summerville. Miller is now on the trail. After arriving in The Dalles he made inquiries, and the description of the little girl was very nearly that of his child. He has a piece of her dress, which, it is said, was found at the gypsy camp, near this city. Wednesday, before the arrival of Mr. Miller, the gypsies left their camp near the East End, and were seen the following day near Dufur by a freighter. It is expected that they are making for Prineville or the Barlow road over the Cascades; but they may be overtaken, and Mr. Miller is urged on by motives that will admit of no delay.—Portland Telegram.

Hawkers and Peddlers.

What ear-splitting cries we hear daily in the streets of every large city! But these itinerant dealers who hawk their wares about are, when under proper regulations, a useful portion of the community, and not such nuisances as catarrh hawkers. This is a stubborn disease to conquer, but Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy does it. It is mild, soothing and antiseptic, unlike snuffs that irritate, or solutions that burn. It corrects offensive breath, and restores taste, smell and hearing. Nasal catarrh often ends in consumption. Apply the only sure in time. Price 50 cents, by all druggists.
