LOCAL DATES.

Saturday, Aug. 5.—State Dairy men's convention, court house, 10 a. m.

A HUMANE MARSHAL.—This official at Lebanon was criticised for arresting some boys for abusing a dog. He says: "The boys were not arrested for caning the dog; but for inhuman treatment of the dumb animal. They dragged it from the bank on Main street up to the Methodist church, choking, rooking and dragging it until it was almost dead. If I have ever caned a dog in Scio I have no recollection of it. I want it distinctly understood from this on, that any man or boy who treats a dumb animal in the way the boys were treating this dog, will be courtized to the full extent of the law."

HABEAS CORPUS.—The case of Mrs. Duncan Ross of Salem, for writ of habeas corpus against Albert Sheldon to produce the body of one Hallie Sheldon came up for a hearing before Judge Burnett this afternoon. Bonham & Holmes for plaintiff and D'Arcy & Bingham for Sheldon. Latter moved to dismiss applications for writ and same was argued. The boy was over fifteen and the case grows out of a divorce suit.

COLD AND HOT.—The crowd to welcome Vice President Stephenson at Salem this morning was not very enthusiastic. It was evidently too hard times. The unemployed at Portland will not whoop it up for Adlai. The audience at Salem seemed to enjoy the roast Governor Pennoyer gave Cleveland and Stephenson and the whole Democratic party. Oregon's governor sustained his reputation as national kicker and will sleep sweetly on his well earned fame.

FOUND HOLES.—City Engineer Cullen inspected the big steel bridge yesterday that spans the river at Salem and found 24 holes in the Polk county approach, and two in the main bridge. On the Salem approach there are no holes. It is double planked and in good shape. The rest of the bridge should be put in order at once as it is now positively dangerous.

CORRECTION.—This writer was in error in saying that the "solid vote of military organization of Roseburg was cast for Capt. D. C. Sherman" etc. This is an error and should be corrected in justice to the new major and the officers of the Roseburg company, who have not as yet received their commissions, therefore cast no vote at the election.

SURPRISE.—Merchants who have examined the lists of the DAILY MAIL JOURNAL are astonished. More JOURNALS are mailed to Salem people at the Salem postoffice than the total issue of some papers that are published. Subscription lists are opened to inspection of advertisers.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST.—A Bible reading will be held at their place of worship, in Salem, immediately after the Sabbath school, on Sabbath (Saturday) 29th. Subject—"Home of the Saved."

PROBATE.—John O. Estes administrator of the estate of W. W. Saunders, deceased, was yesterday granted the power to sell the real property of the estate.

SAMPLES.—Of fruit, preserved with antifermentine, on exhibition at Gilbert, Patterson & Co's.

IN THE COOL.—The Salem Rod and Gun club will contest for the Diamond medal at 6 o'clock this evening.

A. J. Bolden, of Englewood, was fined $20 and costs for beating and abusing his wife when he was drunk, which he paid.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

Farmers should take a daily paper from now until their crops are sold. At low prices it pays to watch the market. Try the JOURNAL by mail, $3.00 a year.

The introduction of the penny daily newspaper among the farmers is the precursor of free railroad delivery.

Miss Mae B. Iise, Miss Ethel Cusick and Mrs. R. P. Boise, Jr., chaperoned by Mrs. E. P. Thompson, went to Wilhoit Springs today.

The livery barn of Robt. Mulligan, at Amity, burned to the ground Saturday night. It was a frame structure and was totally consumed. The loss was $1,200. The building was insured for $500 and there was $300 on the contents.

Heavy crops mean plenty of money in Oregon even at low prices.

There is to be a special meeting of the Myrtle Creek stock-holders at Eugene August 15th.

THE ONE CENT DAILY had the first news of the actual condition of the German hop crop. It will have special reports of all imported hop news by wire from New York and Europe right along and no hop man can afford to be without this information. Reliable hop news will be found in its columns nearly every day. 25 cts. a month by mail.

Miss Carrie Royal of South Salem, arrived home last night accompanied by her cousin Miss Carrie Royal of Dayton, daughter of Rev. T. F. Royal.

J. W. Withrow of Eugene, was a Salem visitor yesterday.

Mrs. George Millican has returned to Eugene.

Messrs. Churchill and Starr of Salem visited this city Wednesday. Our people may know them better later on as they think of locating in Silverton.

Mrs. Fischer, mother of our popular painter, John Fischer, came from Salem Wednesday, to visit her son. They will take a little spin into the mountains during her stay.—Silverton Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson and children returned home from Portland yesterday.

Sunday, August 6, a new Congregational church will be organized at Willard, P. S. Knight assisted by Salem members will be present to conduct the service.

In the sweet bye and bye the best things in this world will do you no good. Get sweet bread now by using the Salem Mills Pride of Oregon flour.

There is no mystery about the matter at all. Van Eaton sells more and more groceries simply because he has fresh goods, excellent delivery and polite clerks.

Mrs. Susan Harrison, mother of Mrs. N. Rosenbaum of Rosedale fruit farms, started East for her old home in Virginia.

As fast as people are flading it out they are ordering the ONE CENT DAILY. A month's trial satisfies anyone that they cannot afford to be without it.

Perfect haying and harvest weather. Supt. Rowland, wife and grandchild, went to Yaquina bay today for a few day's rest.

The vagrant Leabo who destroyed a lot of furniture in the county jail last night was today bound over to the grand jury for wilful and malicious destruction of property.

Geo. Jackson, who was a little too hilarious at the Stephenson blowout was fined $10 and costs.

John M. Rennie went to Sodaville today.

Take the bull by the horns and swear off on all other cheeses but the Little Nertuccos, sold only by Clark & Eppley, Salem.

A petition was today presented for the pardon of Joseph Jennings recently convicted for showing obscene pictures. It is signed by everybody at Hubbard nearly.

Mrs. J. G. Browley, aunt of Mrs. Jas. Rennie, left for Soda Springs this morning.

Joseph Schindler was today appointed and took the oath as deputy sheriff.

BEAUTIFUL! BEAUTIFUL!

Vice President Stephenson at Salem.

WELCOMED BY THE GOVERNOR

To this Beautiful and Glorious State of Ours.

FIRST-BORN OF THE PACIFIC!

Declines to Measure Swords With Our Executive.

PENNOYER PORTRAYS THE CALAMITIES

That Cleveland and Stephenson are Called Upon to Remove.

Stephenson Answers Him With a Glittering Generality.

Governor Pennoyer and Mayor Gatch, representing the great state of Oregon and its Capital City in their official capacity, were at the Southern Pacific depot at five o'clock to meet Vice President Stephenson and party, travelling through to Portland in their special car from San Francisco to Portland. As the train drew in nearly a thousand people were in waiting, the regimental band was playing, and a detail of the Oregon National guard was firing a salute.

The people cheered as the governor, mayor and local committee consisting of Col. Wagner of the Board of Trade, ex-Governor Chadwick and other prominent Salem Democrats, and a JOURNAL reporter mounted the rear platform and were presented to Adlai E. Stephenson, late of Illinois, who in turn presented them to the gentlemen of his party, among whom were Judges G. B. Burnett of St. Louis, Wm. S. Ewing of Chicago, Chief Justice S. P. Shope of the Supreme court of Illinois.

The Governor and Vice President after greetings stepped out before the vast audience and were received with clapping of hands.

THE GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Vice President: On behalf of the people of Oregon and as its chief executive officer, I bid you a heartfelt welcome to the state. We have a beautiful country with varied resources. Look around you and behold the vision of beauty which greets your eyes on every side. No fairer land upon the whole earth is visited by the sunlight of heaven than our own Oregon. And yet with all our wealth of resources many of our industries are at a standstill and hundreds of our laboring men are without employment and their families are without sufficient bread. This condition of affairs we believe is the legitimate result of a departure from the financial policy of our fathers, which was made two decades ago, and which still exists. (Applause.) (An old fellow yelled "Good for Pennoyer," and Stevenson let go his hand and he dropped back into the crowd.)

Believing this, we appeal to you to use your utmost influence to procure a return to the policy of the government which was successfully followed for eighty years. The simple repeal of the Sherman law, thus leaving our financial system on a gold basis, by the great political party which elected you to the next highest office in the gift of the people, which has gained control of the legislative and executive branches of government, and which pledged itself to the people in its last national platform, "without discriminating against either metal," to secure the coinage and use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, would be a most flagrant breach of faith, which all honorable men would justly subject the party perpetrating it to the unmeasured contempt of the nation and the world. Nor would it be of any benefit. The people of Oregon therefore beg you to aid in carrying out the written pledge of your party by a restoration of the former financial policy of the government, which would result in a return of prosperity, a revival of our industries and the employment of the vast army of the unemployed. Again, Mr. Vice President, I welcome you to Oregon and wish you a pleasant visit here, a safe journey home and continued health and prosperity. Ladies and gentlemen, I present to you the honorable A. E. Stephenson, vice president of the United States. (Cheers.) MR. STEPHENSON'S REPLY. GOVERNOR PENNOYER, gentlemen of the committee, ladies and gentlemen: I can only thank you for the kind words and generous welcome extended to me at this early hour in this beautiful valley and city of your beautiful and glorious state. I am profoundly grateful for this manifestation and shall carry the memory of it to my latest hour. All through Oregon, the first born of the states of the Pacific, I have received only kindness that has touched me deeply and for which I am profoundly grateful. I can only say it is fully appreciated and I shall bear back the memory of it, across the mountains, plains and rivers to our distant homes. In response to the words of your distinguished executive I can only say that to the best of my humble ability I will co-operate with those who on a higher plane than partisanship will co-operate for the best interest of our common country." (Applause.)

The vice president bowed to the crowd and his remarks were well received. The train slowly pulled up to the switch where the spiral car of the superintendent of the S. P. Ry. Co., awaited him in charge of the Portland committee.

THE GOVERNOR

was very much pleased with the result of the reception. He said: "I am glad we did what we did and that it passed off so well. I regret that he could not stay longer and that we could not have shown him more of the city." As the governor jumped off the car the vice president extended him another cordial handshake and said: "We hope to see you on the other side of the Rockies some day." The governor did not expect a reply to his remarks of a political character. He said to a friend at the state house after it was over: "He agrees with me on finances. We are in perfect accord, but he would not say a word. Courtesy dictates such a course on his part. He is meeting all classes of men, hard-money, gold-bug and free-silver, and he takes exactly the right course in refusing to express an opinion on such occasions."

STEPHENSON INTERVIEWED.

"How can congress best relieve the country?"

"By doing its duty to the people who sent it there."

"What will be the probable action of congress?"

"I cannot tell."

"What would you suggest as a remedy for the evils our country is suffering?"

"Excuse me, I am out on a pleasure trip, and—"

"How do you construe the president's policy as announced in Sunday's World when he urges that the financial problem be solved before his party undertakes to deal with the tariff?"

"I do not construe it."

"What do you think of the financial situation?"

"I am unable to give you any views as I am only out on pleasure."

"How was present financial distress precipitated upon this administration?"

"You tell."

"Has the worst of the financial situation been developed?"

[Here the train was already going at such speed that it was only at the risk of breaking his neck the reporter jumped without waiting to finish the very interesting and lucid interview.]

THE PORTLAND COMMITTEE.

who came up to Salem last night in a special car and took charge of the vice president, his family and party here after the ceremonies this morning, was composed of Col. Moffett of the Telegram, ex-Senator L. F. Grover, ex-Secretary of War Geo. H. Williams, ex-Minister to Turkey Sol Hirsch, Hon. L. L. McArthur, Hon. C. A. Dolph, Hon. J. F. Flerney. The vice president declined in advance to be interviewed by any of the Portland reporters. A special telegram to the writer as special representative of the New York World was handed him asking his views on the financial situation, the probable action of congress on the silver question, what he would suggest congress should do to right matters, his views on the question of the relative importance of finance or silver, etc., etc., were all met with a blank smile and an affable declinatory handshake and headshake.

NOTES. There was a large attendance of ladies to welcome the vice president. State Treasurer Phil Metchan was present to pay his respects.

The vice president travels on a regular passenger train—not a special.

Three cheers for Stephenson were given with a will as the car pulled out. Grover was not in it. But don't you imagine he would not have beep if he had been here.

Col. Tom Wait was present but he had nothing to say. But it was plainly not Tom's celebration.

The cannon was fired with great eclat and the band played well.

The street car lines did a big business early in the morning.

HERE YOU GO!

Hard times and too much stock. As we are overstocked with gilt wall paper and high grade stock, and, as it has always been known that the border has been the expensive part of papering a room, we will sell all our gilt wall paper this week, at the regular price and will give the borders free of charge, simply as a present (and this offer is for this week only.) Some of our stock however, is marked down at greatly reduced prices and we will limit the amount of border to be given away. We will give 1 1/2 yards to every roll of wall paper bought thus allowing enough for each room. If you do not wish to paper your home now, buy your paper and have the work done at any time. C. W. HAWES, 7-22-4t 97 State street "Yellow Front" ment of the vast army of the unemployed.
