SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, siness, duliness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve ce; that indigestion dyspepsis, neuralgis, eind in atomach, etc.; arisa from the derangenent of the nerve centers supplying these or-ment of the nerve cogiors supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, lust as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every action; large or small. Ordinary physicians full foregard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause they treat the

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author
of many noted treatises on the latter subject,
long since realized the truth of the first
statement, and his Restorative Mervine is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as
headache, nervous debility, prestration, sleeplessness, dizziness hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee,

my of the Advantages and Disadvantages of a Crush Party or Beception.

"Yes, I like crushes in a way. said the brilliant woman of the world whose wonderful vitality is an inspiration to all who come with in the range of her influence, and whose capacity for stinging surcounmakes her friends, who are many, shrick with laughter and her enemies, whose name is legion, quiver with wrath and pain. "I like crushes because there you can get away from the people you detest or make them miscrable, as you elect. Next to the pleasure of seeing your friend, in my opinion, is the delight of smiling on your pet detestation. Oh, I mean it.

'He-for he sometimes is a mansees you coming and tries to move out of your way, but the crush prevents him, and in a moment you sail down upon him and in your most beautifully distinct voice and with your most telling smile say the one thing that you know will make him writhe. Then he smiles and tries to look as if you had not given him a deadly thrust and makes a clumsy attempt to get even with you, in which of course he succeeds only in seeming boorish to the interested spectators. I really think that I value my voice with its unusual distinctness more than even my figure. It is such fun to know that your vic tim is certain that everybody within 10 feet has heard you tell him that you just met his wife or his sweetheart on the public garden with the man he most detests."

"And I," said the other, "adore crushes, because you can so easily escape from observation and drop down in a corner beside some one you like without attracting comment. Of all functions deliver me from an ill assorted dinner, where you see the brightest man you know compelled to devote himself to the subjects, who are ruled by a bureaucstupidest girl while you are obliged to listen to the inanities of a dull creature whom you detest. It is particularly exasperating when you know that your feelings are fully shared by the man with the stupid girl and that he would give half his dinner to sit beside you. On such occasions, however, one can loathe one's hostess. For my part I think that a proper understanding of the duties of hospitality requires a hostess to put the right people together. There are some houses to which I accept a dinner or luncheon invitation with fear and trembling, knowing that there are ten chances to one that I shall be doomed to see my latest adorer take in a girl I hate. It is a peculiar dispensation of Providence, suppose, to teach me endurance."-Boston Transcript.

Burlesquing Webster.

Like All Gaul.

A French vegetarian society, like ancient Gaul, has become divided into three parts. One wing calls itself cerealite, to indicate that it believes only in eating cereals; another will be known as fruitarian, because it thinks fruit the only proper food, and another has been dubbed tuber ile, because it believes in eating roots. Each wing thinks that the happiness and stability of the human plants; second, by the spontaneous divi-sion of the animal into two individuals, and, third, from eggs. race depend on the adoption of its views.—New York Tribune.
