GOING TO CONFERENCE.—Rev. G. W. White, of St. Paul's African M. E. church, leaves Tuesday for Seattle to attend conference. He will be succeeded here by another young colored man from Philadelphia, who will probably return with him. Rev. White started to build the African M. E. church in North Salem March 1891, and in May, 1892, the first service was held, when a fine $1500 property was presented to the conference, Presiding Elder Green and Rev. Kellerman, of the First M. E. church preaching. Rev. White has preached acceptably to 25 or 30 people every Sunday at the African M. E. church, the only one in the state outside of Portland. He has been a hard student at Willamette university for two years, and has had the hearty good will of the pastors of all the churches. There is quite an element of colored people in and about Salem.

AFTER HER CREDENTIALS.—A drummer at Albany thought to be smart with the secretary of the Salem Humane Society. On her credentials being asked for she went to the baggage room of the S. P. R. R. and asked for her baggage that had been left there, remarking that she wanted to get her credentials. Opening her valise she pulled out a savage looking revolver at least a foot long and placed it in her hip pocket. It has never been learned whether the credentials were accepted or not. Miss Hall of Salem, takes "none" from no drummer.

DEAF-MUTES.—The Oregon school for deaf-mutes, located at Salem, will reopen for the next regular term on Wednesday, September 13, 1893. Parents will confer a favor on the teachers and officers of the school by returning the pupils promptly on the opening day, and it should be borne in mind that places cannot be reserved in the classes or in the dormitories for pupils who fail to arrive at the proper time. Address B. Irving, superintendent.

ROSEDALE.—That is getting to be a great fruit region south of Salem. The orchards there growing will supply car loads of fruit in the next year or two. The Cottle orchard is yielding wagon loads of Hale's early peaches.

BLACK AND WHITE.—Perhaps the finest line of lums and maulages ever offered in Salem, is now held in stock by Dearborn at lowest market figures.

GOOD TO KNOW.—It is always good to know just where to get satisfaction in dealing. Go to Van Eaton's, the grocer's, with this safe assurance, always.

OUR EXHIBIT.—State Supt. McElroy shipped today 3333 copies of Arbor Day pamphlets and catalogues of the Oregon educational exhibit for distribution at the world's fair.

PROBATE.—Orders were made today in the J. L. Taylor estate, for sale of personal property and allowance to widow of $900 a year.

SCHOOL MATTERS.—The Salem school board met Tuesday, Aug. 15th, to consider question of electing a principal and other business.

ADVERTISERS.—Come in and see THE JOURNAL's list of three thousand of the best people in Oregon to do business with. Try our columns if you want actual returns for every two-bit piece or dollar you invest.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—J. C. Johnson and wf. to S. T. Richardson, 1 H. I. J. and K. Garden Fruit tract, Marion county, $5,000.

SPECIAL SESSION POSSIBLE.

Governor Pennoyer May Have to Convene the Legislature.

Governor Pennoyer received a number of letters today urging him to call a special session of the legislature to relieve the distress of creditors in several counties of the state where many mortgages will be foreclosed. The general assembly will be asked to enact a stay law, or most of the farmers will be turned out of house and home, in Umatilla and other counties. A law staying execution would relieve matters some and the Governor will probably direct a letter to the members of the legislature asking their advice. He says: "Things have stopped all but the machinery of collections, and we may have to stop that to prevent mortgaged farms from being sold out at half their value."

THE WOMAN AHEAD.

Terrible Conclusion of the Perkins Family Row.

A woman and two children go to Kansas, a husband is crippled and goes to the poorhouse, a grandfather goes to jail, and the preacher who caused the trouble has disappeared.

A tragic scene was enacted on Trade street in Yew Park Sunday afternoon, which was the closing act of a domestic tragedy unparalleled in the history of this city. It was the final chapter of the Perkins family trouble. Mrs. M. D. C. Perkins has been referred to in the Salem papers as a young married woman too intimate with one ex-Rev. Campbell, County Judge Hubbard had secured her a ticket for Chapman, Kan., where she was going on the 1:40 train with her two little boys. She was all ready to go when about one o'clock old man Perkins, who has lived with his son, made a dash to kidnap the youngest boy.

The woman was too quick for him and they struggled fiercely in the street for possession of the child.

Perkins, the father of the boy, came out on the porch on his two crutches and encouraged the white haired old man. The woman fought like a tiger for her baby boy. It seems the old gentleman had also formed a great affection for the little fellow.

"Pull him in two before you let her have him," yelled the rheumatic on the doorstep. It was his last yell for a while. His crutches flew out from under him and he fell headlong down the steps off the front porch. When he was picked up his right leg was broken at the thigh, his right arm above the elbow, and the bone protruded. Mrs. Perkins had got away to the train with her two little boys, leaving the grandfather in the clutches of Policeman Latourette, who marched him to jail, and her husband in the hands of Dr. Byrd, who arrived and set his withered limbs. Shortly after he was removed to the county poor farm. This was a tragic conclusion of a family row that has kept the Perkins' neighborhood in Yew Park hot for the past week. The preacher, Campbell, who has been the cause of all the trouble, is hiding in Southern Oregon in the brush somewhere. He was trying to get Mrs. Perkins to fly with him. He has been expecting her to go to Kansas via Southern Oregon. But the county court "got onto" his combination and sent Mrs. Perkins north via Portland.

Goodrich Bros. started out with their threshing outfit on Saturday morning, August 12th. They began on F. J. Beatty's winter wheat which made 23 bushels per acre.

A Mr. Edwards has rented the Gilbert place and will take possession this fall. He is from Canada.

Mr. R. Hughes is wrestling with his beaver land oats now. They will thresh about 100 bushels per acre. At the present price of 20 cents this will pay expenses.

Worth Knowing.

That Alcock's Porous Plasters are the highest result of medical science and skill, and in ingredients and method have never been equalled.

That they are the original and genuine porous plasters, upon whose reputation imitators trade.

That Alcock's Porous Plasters never fail to perform their remedial work quickly and effectually.

That this fact is attested by thousands of voluntary and unimpeachable testimonials from grateful patients.

That for rheumatism, weak back, sciatica, lung trouble, kidney disease, dyspepsia, malaria, and all local pains, they are invaluable.

That when you buy Alcock's Porous Plasters you obtain the best plasters made.

Dr. J. C. Smith of Salem is attending to Dr. Hawk's patients during the absence of the latter M. D.

J. J. Murphy and son went to Newport today.

POLICE COURT.—Three drunks got five days each and old man Perkins was discharged.

FROM CAMP COMPSON.

The Gladstone Park National Guard Encampment.

GLADSTONE, Or., Aug. 14.—The troops arrived in camp at about 5 o'clock on the 12th, without any exciting incidents, and were assigned to their quarters. A great rush was made for shady tents. The boys were allowed to select their own camp sites, and everything passed off all right. Dress parade was dispensed with, and after guard mount nearly all of the boys turned in as everyone was tired.

SUNDAY.

This morning divine service was held in a fine grove about a mile from the camp grounds, Rev. C. C. Stratton, of Portland university, delivered a very impressive sermon. Companies were formed and marched back to camp.

At 2:30 o'clock troops were formed in three battalions on account of the arrival of Brigadier General Compson. A salute of nine guns was fired and troops dismissed.

Nothing very interesting happened today only that Adj. Roblin and Major Sherman made some very graceful dismounts from their horses. Adj. Roblin walks now. Major Sherman's horse was frightened by the band at dress parade, and turned out to be a thorough-bred bunch-grasser, the major had a very narrow escape from being badly injured.

Every body has settled down to camp life like old soldiers, and everything is running smoothly. The weather is pretty warm and the boys are getting a very healthy color.

Nearly had a strike of "B" Co., over the "grub" question, but we are eating better now.

PERSONALS.

Capt. Meyers is supposed to be the best looking officer in camp.

General Compson is on the field at present.

Colonel Beebe, 1st. Regiment is Camp Commander.

Corporal Geo. Thornburg salutes Col. Beebe when he meets him now.

Major Sherman says he wants a single action horse.

The field music needs practice in bugle calls and horse-back riding.

Co. "B" boys have the best quarters in the camp.

Corporal Fagan is the only man in "B" Co. who turns out for roll call at 10:30 p. m.

After Breakfast.

To purify, vitalize and enrich the blood, and give nerve, bodily and digestive strength, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Continue the medicine after every meal for a month or two and you will feel "like a new man." The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is proven by its thousands of wonderful cures. Why don't you try it?

Hood's Pills cure constipation. They are the best after-dinner pill and family cathartic.

Pecculiarities of Senators.

Twenty of the senators served in the Confederate army during the war and 16 in the Union army. The man with the longest time to serve is Edward O. Walsh of Grenada, Miss., who has been re-elected by the legislature of his state for the term ending 1901. The most cultured senator is Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, who is an author, artist, linguist, scholar and society man.

The handsomest is Charles H. Gibson of Maryland. The most senatorial is Alfred H. Colquitt of Georgia, whose father and grandfather sat in the senate before him. The haughtiest is J. Donald Cameron of Pennsylvania, whose unique distinction it is never to say a word in the senate unless he moves to adjourn.

The richest, now that Stanford is dead, would seem to be John P. Jones of Nevada, who bestows gold dollars on the beggars of Washington. The one most celebrated outside of his own country is John Sherman. The most abused is Matthew Stanley Quay of Pennsylvania. The most punctilious is Calvin S. Brice of Ohio, who changes his shirt three times every day. The most temperate is David B. Hill of New York, who neither drinks, smokes, swears, gambles nor eats dainties. The strongest is William B. Allison of Iowa, whose old almost fell an ox with his fist.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.
