Salem Improvement Co.

SESSION ENDED.—The board of equalization ended their session Saturday. Besides the Southern Pacific railroad, the Benedictine fathers of Mt. Angel were the only ones to enter a very vigorous protest. This association has 3800 acres of land in the vicinity of Mt. Angel, and since it is assessed on a basis with other land without any deduction for indebtedness, will make a material difference in the taxes on their property. A strong plea was made by the fathers for exemption, and they were favored by Egan but Hubbard and Coffey both held that under the law they had no right to exempt when it was divided into different tracts or unnecessary for the support of any charitable institution.

A BAD KICK.—Os West received a very painful kick from a horse on French Prairie last evening. Os and Willie Sanford, both clerks in Bush's bank were out hunting yesterday, and toward the close of the day had killed fifteen birds and were ready to start home. When young West approached his horses to hitch to the buggy, one made a fierce kick, and Os threw up his arm catching the force of the kick on the elbow of the left arm. The boys drove rapidly to town, called on Dr. Byrd to dress the wound. The ulna bone was found broken about an inch and a half from the elbow, besides a fracture of the process on the end. Swelling has been so intense that the doctors have as yet not been able to set the broken bone.

GOOD PHILOSOPHY.—When a business man (that is some business men) wants to retrench on account of the stringency of money and general hard times, he begins by stopping his advertisement in the local paper and virtually withdrawing his support from it. And yet the newspaper man is expected to keep up appearance, make a lively and valuable paper, invite capital, stimulate enterprise, and do a thousand other good and necessary things for the welfare of the community at his own expense and on a thinner diet than faithful fast. The live business man does not stop his ad.—Jefferson Review.

TURNED OVER.—Frank Bernardi and Mr. Goodale started to Silverton in a buggy at an early hour yesterday morning, and returned a foot in the afternoon inquiring for a lost team. It seems they drove off the grade and their buggy inverted, leaving the driver by the side of the road. The horses passed on, almost demolishing the buggy and were caught in the vicinity of Howell Prairie postoffice by a farmer and stabled with no serious injury except to the buggy. The men seemed to have lost the direction of their team and walked to town.

NEW LIGHTS.—Since Saturday the question is frequently asked "What is the purpose of the covering over the are lights." They are simply for a protection against winter weather. The last of 40 new Thomson-Houston lamps was swung Saturday and the city is now lighter than ever before. Lights will hereafter be made to swing over cross streets instead of being attached to poles as formerly. The lights at the four corners of the state house will be removed to shine from the outside of the dome in a few days.

HELD FOR COMMITMENT.—Roy But-ton, a 12-year-old lad is now held at the Reform school, awaiting proper commitment. He is the first boy sent from Columbia county, and they are not quite up on the modus operandi. A charge of incorrigibility was presented by his mother, to the recorder of Rauler, who made out the papers and sent the boy to the house of the disordered. Commitments can only be made by a county court or circuit judge, and Roy will not be formally received till the proper papers are sent.

WILLAMETTE STUDENTS.

Willamette university begins its 51st year of work today, and the Capital Business college its 5th year. Young men with books under their arm and girls with the regulation square hat going to and from college, are again common sights on the streets.

We welcome the boys and girls among us again. We take off our hat to the college student. Whether in for only a limited business education or for a thorough college course, there is an inviting future and great hope for the student.

They have, many of them, left their homes and came to sacrifice the fleeting pleasures of the day, to subject their minds to that rigid discipline without which they might be followers but never leaders. His or her presence evidence that they have made the first and most difficult step toward obtaining an education, having conquered and determined to develop the mind.

We admire the student for what he will be. We can see in his devotion to work, in his throwing off vicious and adopting regular habits a sure foundation for future eminence and usefulness. The student of today is the successful business, professional and cultured man and woman of the future.

The successful student has many sacrifices to make, many temptations to overcome and the more complete the sacrifice, the more determined the resistance in the beginning to the seductive temptations that environ them, the easier will be their work and greater their possibilities for achievements.

The thought of burning midnight oil in looking into the complications of accurate bookkeeping, delving into the intricacies of higher mathematics or spending weary hours poring over past history, loses its horror and becomes a source of actual pleasure to the student who comes with high aspirations and makes a complete resignation to the cause of education.

However humble may be the station, the ambitious student possesses a growing influence and devotion to his work makes them a useful factor in society and assures them the esteem of those around them. We welcome the students and wish them a prosperous and successful year.

Big Blaze at Zena.

ZENA, Sep. 4.—About 3:30 Saturday morning the writer was aroused from his slumbers by the roaring of what he supposed was a regular old Minnesota storm. But after jumping out of bed and rushing down stairs, he discovered that it was Mr. J. T. Hunt's blacksmith shop on fire. Then the cry of fire was heard and before we could arouse our family, and get into our clothes Mr. J. G. Crawford and son had arrived and were tearing down the burning fence as that was all that could be done to check the spreading of the fire. There was no insurance on the building and its contents and the whole was burned. Mr. Hunt estimates his loss at about $500—and while this may look like a small affair to some, it is a great loss to Mr. H. as well as to the many farmers in this section who depended in getting their various kinds of work done at this shop. At present the origin of the fire is unknown.

HOME AGAIN.

Supt. and Mrs. W. H. Savage returned Saturday from Chicago, where they have been in charge of the Oregon agricultural exhibit. Mr. Savage comes to do his work as superintendent of the pavilion at the state fair, when he will return. He reports that the prospect for a good fair here was never better.

—Tom Graham was thrown in for drunkenness last night. Today being legal holiday he could get no audience with the court and will not come before the recorder till tomorrow.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache, after a Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them. If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take. If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness, or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

Oranges, the best at Westcott & Irwin's.

SLAGLE HAS ARRIVED.

The Josephine Murderer Safely Lodged in the State Prison.

Chas. Slagle, the Josephine county man who was convicted of murder in the second degree by the jury at Grants Pass Tuesday and sentenced Saturday has arrived in Salem and was committed to prison today.

Slagle was convicted on purely circumstantial evidence but it was very strong and public sentiment in the vicinity of the crime says he richly deserves the gallows. The crime charged is the murder of Antone Joseph on Williams creek, June 28, 1892.

The sorrel pony rode by Slagle was tracked by its peculiar shoes. The ball taken from the victim's skull, was proven beyond a doubt to have passed through the pistol barrel, found in Slagle's possession. Many other incidents point to the convicted man as guilty.

In appearance Slagle is a large, robust, rugged looking fellow, about twenty-five years of age, an unshaven face of dark beard, and long hair. He held up remarkably well during the trial, but wept like a child when his verdict was read.

BORN.

FROMM.—To the wife of C. H. Fromm, North Salem, Monday morning, Sep. 4, 1893, a daughter.

Our Public Schools.

Are the mainstay of our republic. In them are being cultivated the minds which are to be our future lawmakers and leaders in every walk of life. How essential it is that these minds should be united to strong, healthy bodies. So many children suffer from impurities and poisons in the blood that it is a wonder that they ever grow up to be men and women. Many parents cannot find words strong enough to express their gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla for its good effect upon their children. Scrofula, salt rheum and other diseases of the blood are effectually and permanently cured by this excellent medicine, and the whole being is given strength to resist attacks of disease.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

The latest style of evening toilet has quite a ruff appearance. "Mercury wings" and compact rosette trimmings are the decorations now most used on yachting turbans and sailor hats for wear on land or sea.

Of the latest innovations in straw millinery the "sunburned" straw hats and bonnets are certainly very acceptable, and they are likely to maintain their popularity throughout the autumn.

Among the wondrous variety of pretty afternoon toilets worn this season are those made of "Kensington" crepe, with crinkled surface exactly like India crepe and of the most delicate and beautiful tints.

Wiry chevrons of coarse quality are preferred to the flannels formerly used for bathing dresses. They are made with the princess garment, combining waist and knickerbockers, and a short, full skirt is belted on.

Very attractive and dainty are the dresses of India mull, the softest and most graceful of all white muslins, that are this season made up over half low underbodies and skirts of elegant Swiss embroidery.

Finest French cashmere in beautiful colorings and qualities only waits to be taken into fashionable favor once more, and among autumn fabrics is putting on its most attractive guise in order to attract special attention.

One of the much worn butler blue linen dresses, made with an untrimmed bell skirt, has a Princess May coat faced with black moire, the lapels very wide and the serpentine blouse beneath made of black china silk dotted with blue.—New York Evening Post.
