In Congress.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—It is stated that thirty-three senators have arranged to speak, and ten or a dozen others may decide to take a hand before the conclusion of the repeal bill. Should this prove true, more than probable snow will fly before the matter is settled. Even if a compromise is ultimately agreed upon, a final vote will not be taken earlier than the first week in October. Silver senators still insist the vote cannot be reached at all without cloture rule. It had become evident that if the expressions of the ways and means committee develop, that the tariff bill will be much more moderate than if framed some six months ago, but there is practically unanimity in the committee in favor of putting wool on the free list and making a heavy cut in wool manufactures. The same members of the committee will work hard for free lumber.

Senate—Stewart submitted a resolution for a committee of five to report whether any senators are interested as stockholders or otherwise in any national bank. Hill objected to it on the ground of the reflection on senators. The bill went over until tomorrow. The repeal bill was taken up, and Pugh, of Ala., spoke in opposition to it.

A Fiend Incarnate.

SPOKANE, Sept. 11.—Special—Geo. Muloch, a well known business man of this city, late candidate for mayor and president of a political organization known as Little Tammany, was Saturday charged with the heinous crime of having outraged his 18-year-old daughter Maud. For several days past rumors have circulated to the above effect and the facts could not be verified until late last night, when the victim escaped from her brother's close confinement of her and she made known her terrible story.

Soon after men to the number of about 50 gathered together and went up to Muloch's residence for the purpose of making him the central figure in a lynching bee, but he had evidently become aware of their intentions and skipped, as no trace of him could be found.

Today a complaint was filed and warrant issued for Muloch's arrest, the officers are now scouring the country for him.

From the story as related by Maud it seems that nearly two years have elapsed since her father first committed the unnatural crime and he has since repeatedly subjected her to his lust, he also swore that if she ever disclosed his crime that he would kill her and himself. She says many times she has been on the point of disclosing all to her mother, but fears of her father's carrying out his threats deterred her and it was until she could no longer conceal her condition that she told the story to her horrified mother.

Muloch's family consists of a wife, two daughters and a son, the victim being the oldest of his children. She is a winsome girl and favorite amongst a large circle of friends. Muloch is a prominent member of the Baptist church.

The indignation of citizens is so strong against Muloch that if captured he will be lynched.

Murdered His Mother.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 11.—A shocking murder was committed Saturday in a prominent office building at "Junction" the most prominent location in the business district of the city. Mrs. Jane Wright, better known as Madame Wright, the well-known employment agent, was killed in her office. Her face had been cruelly beaten and her hands and feet securely tied with a stout wrapping cord. Deep red imprints of human fingers on her throat, discolored face and protruding tongue and eyes showed how the murder had been done. There appears to be no clue to the murderers.

Late in the evening Mrs. Wright's son, Albert Froisey, was arrested. Nothing drastic in TUTT'S PILLS.

Unostentatiously Buried.

GADSDEN, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Simple funeral services without any address or eulogy, were held over the remains of the late Hamilton Fish this morning.

LARGEST IN FIFTY YEARS.

The Vote in the House of Lords on Home Rule.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Sir Henry Ponsonby, the queen's private secretary, passed last night at Blackrock castle, where Mr. Gladstone is taking a holiday with Mrs. Gladstone and a party of friends. In the morning he and the prime minister had a long interview, and before noon Sir Henry left with a special dispatch from Mr. Gladstone to the queen, concerning the government's attitude toward the defeat of the home rule bill in the house of lords last evening. It is significant that Sir Henry's mission was not undertaken at the queen's instance, but at the suggestion of Mr. Gladstone two days ago. The queen is known to have awaited with unwonted anxiety Mr. Gladstone's decision as to his course after the rejection of the bill by the house of lords. The royal idea is that Mr. Gladstone should appeal at once to the country, and the determination which is understood to have been expressed by Mr. Gladstone in his special dispatch, to hold on indefinitely will not suit her majesty at all. According to constitutional precedents, the queen certainly had some reason to expect that after the overwhelming majority of the lords spiritual and temporal, had condemned him, the aged premier would resign or ask the electors again to justify his policy. It is surmised that Mr. Gladstone intimated in the dispatch carried to Balmoral today the readiness of the cabinet to submit to the queen's prerogative to dismiss her present ministers. This intimation would mean little however, as he knows he can rely on the queen's discretion to take no step involving the crown in the popular outcry against the house of lords. A large and influential body of the ultra-party expect such direct intervention from the queen, but their expectations will hardly be realized. On the other hand, the queen's opinions as to the proper course for Mr. Gladstone will weigh with him undoubtedly in hastening his appeal to the country.

AN UNPRECEDENTED VOTE.

Before last night's sitting of the lords the highest vote recorded in the upper house was 375. This was given on the question of repealing the corn laws in 1846, and included the proxies of absent members. The attendance and vote last evening, therefore, were quite beyond precedent. No such gathering of hereditary legislators had been seen previously in London. Many of the peers who came to town to vote against the bill had never seen the interior of the house before, and 50 of the were obliged to sign the roll for the first time, before voting. To render the duty of attendance less irksome, some 50 or 60 peers loafed in the refreshment and smoking rooms during the debate. Several, finding the outside of the restaurant of the house unseasonable to their taste, had their own ovens, wines and meats brought in for the occasion. One, for instance, gave a dinner prepared by his own chef, served on his own plate by his own servants. In neither its public nor its private aspects did the house reveal any characteristics likely to strengthen its chance of a long existence.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

ELBERTON, Ga., Sept. 11.—The arrest of twenty-three men scattered through Jackson and Elbert counties, charged with wholesale counterfeiting silver dollars, has stirred up the whole country.

World's Fair.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—An event of world-wide historic interest, took place here today. It was an assembling of a parliament of religious followers. Jehovah, Christ, Confucius, Buddha, Mohammed, with various sects thereof, stood ready in turn to give without controversy reasons for the faith that is in them.

Must Be Deported.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 11.—United States Judges McKenna and Morrow rendered a decision in the case of Ying Lee today. The judges decided that under the law warrants for the arrest of Chinese who have not registered must be issued on the complaint of any private citizens. The court said that whenever it is shown that there are no funds to deport the Chinese, the cases of those on trial shall be dropped immediately, but until that is shown deportation must go on.

Chinese Unlawfully Landed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The loug fight over the admission of the Chinese at this port came to a head in rather a sensational manner Saturday, when the official of the Ward line of steamships landed two Chinese against the protest of the United States customs officer on the dock and the orders of Collector Kilberth, who decided the men should not land and must be returned by the steamship company.

This is the first case of the kind that has occurred here and created much excitement in customhouse and steamship circles.

The People Lose.

OLYMPIA, Sept. 11.—The commissioner of the general land office has decided the case commonly known as that of the Pennsylvania syndicate lands, involving 43,000 acres of timber of an estimated value of $150,000. Local office decided in favor of the entrymen and the commissioner of the general land office sustained the decision, holding that the government's case was defective for the reason that there was no positive proof of fraud, the evidence being only hearsay. The government sought to prove that the syndicate had hired William Jamieson and others to enter the lands, the syndicate paying the fees and other expenses.

Medicinal Value of Water.

The human body is constantly undergoing tissue change. Worn-out particles are cast aside and eliminated from the system while the new are ever being formed from the inception of life to its close.

Water has the power of increasing these tissue changes, which multiplies the waste products, but at the same time they are renewed by its agency, giving rise to increased appetite, which in turn provides fresh nutriment. Persons but little accustomed to drinking water are liable to have the waste products formed faster than they are removed. Any obstruction to the free working of natural laws at once produces disease, which, if once firmly seated, requires both time and money to cure.

People accustomed to rise in the morning weak and languid will find the cause in the imperfect secretion of wastes, which many times may be remedied by drinking a full tumbler of water before retiring. This very materially assists in the process during the night and leaves the tissues fresh and strong, ready for the active work of the day.

Hot water is one of our best remedial agents. A hot bath on going to bed, even in the hot nights of summer, is a better reliever of insomnia than many drugs.—Hall's Journal of Health.
