A SAD CAREER ENDED.

Edward Morgan buicides With a Dose of Morphine

A room at Wm. Sargeant's lodging ouse in Reed's opera house block was the scene of a life's ending last night. Ed. Morgan, who had lived in Salem many years, and was employed in the Salem Iron works for eight years, came in from his present home in Polk county with his younger brother yesterday, and shortly after midnight was a dead man. It seems he has long been addicted to excessive drinking, and that marks made to his brother it was evident that he contemplated something serious. He engaged a room, and informed his brother that he would not return home with him. On telling at home what Ed. had said and done the younger brother excited the suspicion 8 o'clock they found him in bed in an unconscious condition. Dr.W. H. Byrd was at once called.
