Salem Improvement Co.

A SAD FATE.—As will be seen by the doings of the county court today A. N. Gilbert has been ordered to the county poor house for an indefinite period of time. This will be a surprise to the many friends of Salem's popular postmaster. In fact it was not believed that such a petition would have received favorable action at the hands of our county court. Some think Dan Fry's recent return from Washington has something to do with the case. Surely if Wagner was going to be his successor he would at least furnish free board for a while.

MARION COUNTY COURT.—In county court yesterday little but purely routine business was transacted. The clerk was ordered not to file the bill of E. C. Small, 60 cents for socks at the county house, if the same should ever be presented for refiling. J. E. McCoy was awarded the contract to repair the Dimmick bridge over Pudding river for $75, the improvement to consist of a full set of needle beams. It is a joint bridge between Clackamas and Marion counties. John Scollard was appointed constable for Champeog precinct.

THE EQUINOX.—The storm raging on the coast for 38 hours past struck Salem last night. Propelled by a straight south wind the rain drove hard all night and this forenoon. No particular damage was done to crops as they are all out of the way. But many people were inconvenienced about going about. Farmers were kept at home and merchants felt the effect in diminished trade.

HELD UP.—Chas. Brown, who has been doing some insurance soliciting, is evidently suspected of carrying large amounts of coin on his person, for two attempts have been made to hold him up within the past week. The first time was near the reform school Wednesday night, and the next was Thursday evening in Polk county, but his feet were broken away from the high-wheeler each time.

FIRST M. E.—All interested in the advancement of morality, are invited to attend services at the First Methodist church, tomorrow. The pastor will discuss the following subjects: 11 a. m., "Faith." 7:30 p. m., "Belief vs. Unbelief." Honest doubters invited.

The Southern Pacific has placed the price of round trip tickets, good for 10 days to the Portland exposition at $3.35, including one admission to the exposition. Tickets on sale Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays only.

BIG FRUIT WANTED.—The Oregon Fruit & Produce company will ship several boxes of large winter pears and apples to the world's fair Oct. 10th, and want all persons who have any good specimens to bring them in.

UNDERWEAR SALE.—Garments worth $1.00 sold at 50 to 75 cents, at the Ladies' Bazaar, Insurance block.

Capital City Drug Store, LUNN & BROOKS, HOLMAN BLOCK.

Mrs. H. B. Holland will sing a solo at the W. R. C. Leaf social Monday evening. All invited.

The leading feature of the W. R. C. Leaf Social will be one of the grandest lunches ever served in Salem. G. A. R. hall Monday night. All for 25 cents. School books reduced 20 per cent., at Dearborn's.

At South Salem M. E. church next Sabbath. Preaching by the pastor. Morning text, "The righteous shall flourish like the Palm Tree." Evening text, "Which Things the Angels Desire to Look Into." Baptismal service in the morning. You are invited to be present. J. M. Shulze, pastor.

LITTLE LOCALS.

It's a warm rain for all but the poor cattle that stand shivering out in it. Salem expressmen are talking of keeping another horse in case of driving over a live wire. Some Populist papers are referring to "our governor" as "violinist of the constitution." Several editorial letters from Newport await space in our columns. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Goitra of Portland, September 28, a son. Mrs. R. A. Miller, of Oregon City, is visiting friends at Salem. Today 400 bales of hops will be shipped from Salem over the Sunset route for the East. Two car loads from Jefferson, one from Albany and one from Silverton will also be shipped East. Greatest bargains ever offered in crockery at Sroat & Gile's closing out sale. Died, at North Salem, Thursday, October 5, 1893, of Bright's disease and dropsy, Henry F. Brewer, aged 30 years. The funeral will take place from the German church in North Salem at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Mr. Feltzer will officiate and the burial will be in Lee Mission cemetery. Councilman Olmstead and Fire Chief Low returned today, from their visit to the Santiam country. Mrs. Geo. W. Anderson and Miss Lena Biers, went to Portland this afternoon to attend the exposition. Chas. D. Gabrielson and daughter Ruth went to Portland this afternoon to meet Mrs. Gabrielson and Carl on their return from a six weeks' visit in Iowa and at the world's fair. W. H. Downing went to Portland today for a short visit. Miss R. F. Hall returned today, from Seilo. Agent R. O. Thomas, of Turner, is in the city. One hobo appeared before the recorder's court this morning, and will contribute five days of his valuable time to the city. Evangelist J. W. Smith will address the gentlemen at the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN.—At 10:30 we will hold our regular semi-annual communion service. Sunday school at 11:45. Y. P. S. C. E. at 8:30 p. m. Preaching 7:30. This evening at 7:30 will be the regular preparatory services preceding communion. Every one welcome. Church 417 High St. J. E. Blair, pastor.

Called Meeting.—A meeting of the directors of the Auxillary of the Y. M. C. A. is desired next Tuesday afternoon Oct. 10, 3 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. By order of chairman.

AGAINST THE TRUST.

The State of Salem Exposure of the Conspiracy of the Pacific Insurance Union.

A GIGANTIC TRUST

A Combination of Stock Jobbers

Seeking to Maintain Exorbitant Rates of Insurance in Oregon.

Replying to a correspondent "Z," of the Albany Herald, an Albany business man thus expresses the methods of the trust:

The P. I. U. is a combination of San Francisco stockjobbers and manipulators of trusts who have secured the Pacific coast agency for a lot of foreign insurance companies. They colligated together and called themselves the Pacific Insurance Union, and began to levy exorbitant rates of insurance on property owners, and govern the county in fire insurance with an iron hand. By degrees they have become so arrogant they now order city councils to curtail or broaden fire limits, and construct houses according to their dictates. If councils fail to obey the mandates of this arbitrary, self-constituted set of bosses the threat is made that all insurance companies will be ordered, by this compact, to cancel policies on all property in towns refusing to bow to this infamous trust. That they might more certainly secure the execution of their demands they say to the insurance companies of this state "If you refuse to do as we of San Francisco demand, who have no interest in the state of Oregon, only so far as the money we can abstract, either fairly or unfairly, from your state, we will attempt your bankruptcy by buying up the policies which you have out, and with our combined strength we will underbid your risks. When we have driven you out of the field we will then bleed your property owners, whom we have hood-winked, until all the losses we have sustained in destroying you are recovered."

"Z" says these foreign companies are the bone and sinew of this country because each of them has deposited $50,000 in U. S. bonds with our state treasury. Indeed they did, because the law compels them to do so, but they don't pay the state a cent of taxes on their deposit, and when they cease to longer do business in the state they withdraw their bonds from the state. Now, "Z," where is the bone and sinew apparent to the state of Oregon by the P. I. U.?

It is plainly the duty of the citizens of this state to put their foot on the perpetrators of such outrages as are being ordered by the P. I. U., and keep their foot there until the next meeting of the legislature, when attention will be called to it and legal enactment provided for the protection of Oregon property owners against being held up on every corner by foreign monopolists and their pockets looted and justice rified of its power.

In proof of this, as soon as the State of Salem refused to be accessories to the proposed wholesale system of apparent confidence sharpers of San Francisco in essaying to rob our farmers and business men with a high hand, and kill the growth of our towns and cities and to compel us to pay tribute to foreigners, this insurance trust of San Francisco sent secret orders to their local agents, to proceed with the system of dishonesty, in offering exorbitant sums to those insured in Oregon companies if they would withdraw their support from their companies and give it to these foreigners. The man who will stand before the tax payers of this state and uphold such a gigantic swindle of a set of confidence sharpers, is unfit to be at large within the border of our state and there should be a law to handle him as an accessory to high-way robbery.

UNITED BROTHERS.—Services at the U. B. church tomorrow morning at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Rev. L. B. Baldwin, pastor.

THE WEATHER.—Well, what about it? It is raining, but that does not keep people from calling for their Sunday groceries at the post office grocery of Harritt & McFartyre. They will go where they can get the best for the money.

WILLAMETTE NOTES.

Collegian mailed today. This has been a week of steady, earnest work, with very little outside of regular routine duties.

Mr. O. E. Bennett, who registered at the first of school, but was unable to enter then, is now in class.

Miss Cora Winters, senior '94, who has been teaching at Malport, will enter school Monday.

Several visitors have been present at chapel this week, including Dr. Tower, president of Montana university, former financial agent of Willamette, who addressed the school on Wednesday morning. His words were very earnest and encouraging; he said he had heard that W. U. was dead, but such a live corpse he has not seen for a long time. He still has kind regards for Willamette.

The Philodorian held their regular semi-term open meeting last night. The halls were filled, and every one returned home feeling that the Philodorians were a success as entertainers. The program was as follows: Instrumental solo, Ernest Wilson; lecture, Floyd Field; recitation, W. A. Morris; flute solo, C. V. Fisher; story, L. Reynolds; pantomime, tomboys; violin solo, Homer Kruse. All was well rendered. Mr. Reynolds touched on the idea of an athletic club which was enthusiastically received, and the pantomime brought down the house. After the usual good social time, at exactly 10:30 the company dispersed.

Put Up and Put Down. I want a word to rhyme with ill. I have it now, I'll put down pills. Excuse me, though, but put down pills I'd rather suffer some big ills.

To put down the old-fashioned, huge bitter pills, that gripped so and made such a disturbance internally is more than a wise man will do. He will not put up with such unnecessary suffering as does Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. As a liver pill, they are unequalled. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. Put up in vials, hermetically sealed, hence always fresh and reliable, which is not true of the large pills in wood or paste-board boxes. As a gentle laxative only one pellet for a dose. Three to four of these tiny, sugar-coated granules act pleasantly and painlessly as a cathartic.

Hop Picking Dances.

Hop dances are about as important a feature of the hop harvest time as the picking of the hops, and both are at their best just now.

Did you ever pick hops or go to a hop dance? Then you have missed experiences of which nothing can take the place. The work is hard, the hours are long in the field, but the fun when the work is over, and the field has been deserted for the day, and the sun has set, is fascinating enough to make it all up. At least that is what thousands of hop pickers think about it.

Most of the pickers are boarded and lodged by their employers and on large farms the "hoppers" boarding houses" are sometimes quite important structures, with separate dormitories for the men and women. On smaller farms less care is taken with these places. All men and women alike, are expected to make their beds. The food in most cases is abundant and good and include a liberal allowance of pie. Modye and fun are what they are after, and the fun comes after supper. Then the dances, then the moonlight walks, then the drives about the country in buggies—all these for the young folks who are inclined somewhat to sentiment, for the men and boys who don't want to be bothered with the girls there are wrestling matches and stories and pipes and sometimes a little cider for change but not often any disreputable proceedings.

A hop dance is a social function that possesses its own forms of etiquette, although these vary with the locality. Is it possible, by the way, that dances of another grade were first called "hops" because the terpsichorean festivities of hop harvesters are called "hop dances"? Usually the hop dance is held in the barn. The floor is swept clean, and the fanning mill is set out side along with other agricultural implements that are usually stored there. The light is furnished by kerosene lamps—sometimes by candles.

Sometimes dudes from town invade the hop dance and try to monopolize the attentions of the prettiest girls. When that happens look out for storm. It won't do, however, to assume that it is always the dudes who get the worst of it, although, that is usually the result of a contest between them and the pickers, owing in some measure possibly to the superior numbers of the pickers who generally stick to each other.

Hop picking is a healthful employment, and many persons engage in it for a season or two simply as a recuperative measure. As manual labor goes it pays well, and there are probably in every hop raising neighborhood whole families who earn almost all the money they expend during the entire twelve months, at hop picking time.

A Weak Digestion strange as it may seem, is caused from a lack of that which is never exactly digested—fat. The greatest fact in connection with Scott's Emulsion appears at this point—it is partly digested fat—and the most weakened digestion is quickly strengthened by it.

The only possible help in Consumption is the arrest of waste and renewal of new, healthy tissue. Scott's Emulsion has done wonders in Consumption just this way.
