President Cleveland's Happiness Great

OVER PROSPECTS FOR REPEAL

His Party Will Get a Black Eye

IF IT FILIBUSTERS ANY MORE.

Cause of the Sudden Face About of Democrats.

Cleveland Gratified.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—President Cleveland is very much gratified at the turn affairs have taken in the senate, though he has believed all along that the unconditional repeal bill would pass. The president will have no suggestions to make as to adjournment or recess after congress passes the repeal bill, though he is anxious to have the bill extending the time in which Chinamen could register passed before the dissolution of congress.

There is an impression at the White House that no message will be sent in until the regular session in December. Arguments are advanced by the administration Democratic leaders, which caused such a sudden about-face in the position of anti-repeal Democrats yesterday, were that up to the present time Democrats had by no act given countenance to filibustering. They had made no speeches for delay, and had come to the front and helped make a quorum during the long night sessions.

To continue the fight longer they must take an active part in filibustering, which it was urged with the record they had made, they could not afford to do. Such a course would only result in giving the Democratic party a very black eye, as it would appear their course was prompted by the desire to defeat the administration measure, which was already endorsed by the Democratic house. They were informed they would not have a corporal's guard with them in such a course, and that the party could not be held responsible for any such disgrace as it would bring on the senate. This had the intended effect.

Quiet in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—There was no quorum present at the opening of the senate this morning. But the silver men paid no attention to the fact. There was a general air of relief that the struggle was over, extending to even the silver men themselves. The silver men count on getting more votes for some amendments than on the bill itself.

The Faulkner, Squire and Quay amendments meet with most favor. The twenty-to-one and sixteen-to-one coinage amendments, it is expected will catch a number of votes which finally will be cast in favor of repeal, especially the 16 to 1 ratio, where Populists are concerned. There is some talk to the effect that the Republican repealers will unite with the silver men on some of the amendments and put them through, but in such cases it is likely to lose as many anti-repeal Democrats as it will gain of R-publicans.

BLAND GIVES UP.

The last doubt as to what might be done in the senate on the repeal bill seemed to be removed this morning when Bland, the free silver champion of the house gave up all hope. He said to an associated press reporter he had no idea any further effort would be made to prevent a vote on the Voorhees bill in the senate; that speeches would be made, and when completed, a vote would come.

NOTHING LIKE SEW'S

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC is totally unlike any other blood medicine. It cures disease of the blood and acts by removing the poison, and at the same time supplies good blood to the system. It is not a stimulant, but a restorative. It is not a cathartic, but a purifier. It is not a poison, but a life-giver. It is not a drug, but a medicine. It is not a cure, but a relief. It is not a remedy, but a cure. It is not a medicine, but a life-giver. It is not a drug, but a medicine. It is not a cure, but a relief. It is not a remedy, but a cure. It is not a medicine, but a life-giver.

House Repeal Struggle.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Democratic repealers in the house to the number of twenty-three had a meeting Tuesday. There was a discussion of the situation in the senate and the methods that the friends of repeal should take when the repeal bill reached the house, but no action was considered advisable and the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. There is a disposition among the repeal Democrats of the house to concur with the amendments of the Wilson bill if it comes over in the shape now known as the Voorhees bill. The recognized leaders of the repeal bill say there is nothing in the Wilson bill except the declaration to the effect that it is the only policy of the United States to use both gold and silver as the standard of money and if that is satisfactory to the senate they are willing to adopt it.

The repeal Republicans say they are willing to support any bill which the repeal Democrats in the senate endorse. This disposition in the house is not to delay the passage of the bill by asking for a conference or disagreeing with the Voorhees bill. Further than this there is a tendency to encourage the concurrence in the senate bill. The silver men realize that any fight by them would mean defeat in the end and will probably content themselves with voting against the bill after a short debate.

After the silver bill came the matter of adjournment or as some prefer a recess. The difference of opinion over the recess or adjournment involves the question of mileage. Some think if an adjournment is taken now the members would again be entitled to mileage for the regular session while a recess would prevent the mileage being allowed. Others maintain the mileage for both sessions must be allowed whether it is an adjournment or recess. Most of the Republicans, the Populists and many Democrats of the senate said they expected congress to adjourn early next week until the first Monday in December. The leaders of the Democratic party, upon whom the decision will largely rest are not quite so confident of adjournment.

Senator Harris said there was a great deal for congress to do and he did not see why it should not proceed with the work without interruption. Senators Voorhees and Gorman refused to discuss the question at all saying it has not been canvassed. "We were ready to go on," said Peffer and Kyle in union with an Associated Press representative, "and could have continued the fight for some time with little assistance, but were willing to quit when the old parties did so. We feel badly to have silver receive this set back, but politically we view the situation with complacency. We cannot mourn, for it is not our funeral. We expect the result will make millions of votes for the Populists."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

How a Deaf Mute Will Be Tried.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 25.—Edward Wheary, a deaf mute, charged with the murder of his brother's wife, will soon be tried under a novel method of procedure. Four juries will be sworn in. The first one is to find out whether the prisoner is mute by pretense or visitation of God. The second jury will inquire whether the prisoner is capable of pleading to the indictment. The fact that he had been shown to be able to read and write, was taught in a deaf mute school, and when the indictment was given to him he read it, and made signs that he was not guilty, will doubtless be held to be sufficient evidence for the second jury to return an affirmative verdict. The third jury will find whether he is sane. If this jury finds the prisoner is sane, a fourth jury will try the prisoner upon the indictment, as in ordinary cases, except that the verdict must be interpreted to the prisoner.

News About the Oregon Pacific Railroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—It is said here that the Southern Pacific company is desirous of controlling the Oregon Pacific railway and tributary water lines which will be placed on the market in the early part of next month. The Southern Pacific has recently had Division Superintendent L. R. Field, of the Oregon division of the Southern Pacific system, looking over the Oregon Pacific road. Mr. Field has been accompanied by an engineering expert and it is reported that the Southern Pacific people are favorably impressed with the Oregon Pacific's plant and that there are possibilities of the former making the purchase. Other railroad companies, however, are interested in the northern road. One of them is the Great Northern railway company, James I. Blair, of Blairsville, N. J., and many times millionaire, one of the largest shareholders in the Oregon Pacific. Blair is also one of the principal backers of the Great Northern and it is for this line that he is making a fight to control the Oregon Pacific.

It is the intention of the Great Northern to make connections with the Oregon line, thus allowing it a rail and ocean route to San Francisco. The third party in the fight is the representative of numerous small shareholders on the Oregon Pacific. If the Southern Pacific should get in control it will have the same hold on the Willamette valley that it now has on San Joaquin valley in California.

At present the Oregon Pacific operates a line of steamers on the Willamette river which holds the Southern Pacific down to low rates. General Agent E. R. Vaughn, of the Oregon Pacific, said: "The plant of the Oregon Pacific is valued at about $15,000,000. There is $250,000 in labor claims that will have to be satisfied in addition to the outstanding receiver's certificates amounting to about $60,000." The road is bonded for $25,000 a mile. The requirement of proprietorship of the Oregon Pacific system by the Southern Pacific would give the latter company supremacy over the whole of Western Oregon from the California state line to Portland.

THE MEN OF ULSTER.

Parliament Assembles to Resist the Home Rule Bill.

BELFAST, Oct. 25.—The Ulster parliament has assembled to make measures to resist home rule. The meeting of the parliament aroused a great deal of interest in the city. The streets were crowded with people, and the neighborhood of Ulster hall was packed to its utmost by people desirous of witnessing the assembling of the anti-home-rule delegates. The meeting was conducted in private, but it transpired that the Duke of Abercorn was unanimously elected president, after which the national anthem was sung amid great enthusiasm. While the Ulster parliament was in session a simultaneous conference of unionist women was sitting in assembly hall. A heated discussion took place on the question as to whether all unionist people should be included in the contract conference. Two Presbyterian clergymen moved that only 10 should be allowed to sit in council, and this motion was carried. Cans supported the amendment, and the result was threats were made to de throne him from the mastership of the Orange society. Most of the members were dissatisfied with the proceedings and left the hall. The meeting resolved to raise a quarterly fund which should not be called on until a parliament was established in Dublin. Resolutions carried unanimously declaring allegiance to the United Kingdom and thanking the house of lords for rejecting the home-rule bill.

WILL FIGHT ANYHOW.

Mitchell and Corbett Will Do Battle in Some Southern City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—It has been practically decided the Corbett-Mitchell prize fight will come off anyhow. Mitchell held a conference today with Brady, Corbett's manager. It is not decided where the fight will take place, but it is thought it will be in some southern city.

THE CORWIN CASE

Before the State Congregational Association.

TRIAL OF A MISFIT SHEPHERD

For Errors of Conduct While a Minister at Salem.

PORTLAND, Oct. 25.—A gray haired old gentleman apparently 60 years of age, with slightly stooped shoulders and an anxious expression in his face, was on trial this afternoon before the Willamette Congregational association on charges of immoral conduct. He was Rev. C. L. Corwin, late pastor of the Salem Congregational church against whom charges of immorality were brought by members of his congregation at the regular meeting of the Willamette association held in Corvallis last April, resulting in his suspension from the ministry pending an investigation of his conduct.

The matter was first brought before the association at its April meeting in the form of reports, without written charges being made, and a committee of twelve was appointed by the moderator to investigate these reports and submit their findings to the association. The committee held frequent meetings, taking the testimony of several witnesses, and endeavored to have Rev. Corwin appear before them to refute the accusation. He, however, failed to comply with the committee's request, and they reported accordingly to the association and were discharged.

In the meantime written charges had been preferred against the minister by members of the Salem congregation, another committee of twelve, the members of which were the same as of the former committee, was appointed to further investigate the conduct of Mr. Corwin and report to an adjourned meeting of the association, to be held in this city this afternoon, preceding the opening session of the state association of Congregational churches in the First Congregational church this evening.

The committee met in the first church this morning and adjourned at 12:15 o'clock without having finished its work. One of the members told a reporter that the evidence was strong against Rev. Corwin.

He came to Salem from Denver about two years ago. In earlier life he was an attorney at law, and it is said, an infidel, being converted by Moody about five years ago. He at once entered the ministry, in which his career had been one of marked success to about the time of his suspension last spring. He has been married but divorced, his former wife being at present a resident of this city and a member of the First Congregational church.

At 1:30 Tuesday the committee reassembled in the church and proceeded with the investigation of the charges. Rev. Corwin being present. He asked for a rehearing of the testimony taken by the committee in order to permit of the introduction of evidence by himself in rebuttal. The committee was unable to prepare its report for submission to the association at the hour set for it to convene, and the meeting was postponed until such time as the committee could conclude its work.

The Grand Trunk Victims Nearly Wrecked Again.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 25.—The Grand Trunk train bearing the wounded from the Battle Creek disaster to Chicago, barely escaped a repetition of that horror, through gross violation of orders, similar to those which caused the first holocaust. The train ran by a station at which it was to await an east bound, heavily loaded passenger train, and but for the fact that east bound crew infringed the rules by remaining over time for the men to lunch, the trains would have met at full speed between the stations.

"ADAM BEDE."—The local union of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the city have engaged Miss Mabella Biggart of New York City to deliver her dramatized reading of George Eliot's "Adam Bede" in the M. Admission to the entertainment will be 25 cts, proceeds to be used for the local union expenses.
