HIS OWN TESTIMONY.

Convicted Rev. C. L. Corwin-Salem Selected for the next Meeting.

PORTLAND, Oct. 27 .- "The committee of 13, appointed by the Willamette Association of Congregational churches | and ministers at its annual meeting at Corvallis, April 18, 1893, to investigate grave charges touching the character and conduct of the Rev. C. L. Corwin, formerly pastor of the First Congregational church of Salem, beg leave to report-that they have thoroughly and onscientiously examined the evidence which has been laid before them in reference to said charges: that they have given the Rev. C. L. Corwin full and ample opportunity to meet and disprove said charges, by citing him to sppear before them at Portland, May 26, 1893, and upon his failure to appear before them at that time, by further itation to appear before them at an adjourned meeting of the committee, October 24, 1893; that in the light of all the evidence before the committee, including Mr. Corwin's own sworn statements, indicative as they are of great And Parachute Descent at Salem moral obliquity, they are compelled, though sorrowfully, to find the Rev. C L. Corwin guilty of conduct unwo.thy of a Christain minister; and that they recommend to the Willamette Association of Congregational churches and ministers to withdraw fellowship from the Rev. C. L. Corwin."

The report was signed by ten members of the committee, the remaining three being absent from the city. It was adopted by a large majority. The testimony in the case is withheld from publication, but it is understood that it fully justified the action of the committee. The few persons who voted in his favor were prompted to do so, it is said, y a feeling of charity, created by the dvanced age of the accused, who has seen 60 years come and go, and by a betlef that it was not exactly fair to disgrace him without at least censuring some of his partners in the alleged acts of immorality.

When the Corwin case was thus dis posed of, Rey. A. Rogers read a paper on "Our Churches and Church Erec tion, and Rev. J. J. Staub made a short addre s'on "The Foreign Classes."

There was a full attendance at the state association at all sessions.

The narrative of the churches was ead by the registrar, Rev. Daniel Staver. As a rule, progress has been made in the church growth throughor t the state, and the outlook was hopfur and very satisfactory.

The air was clear and the day perfect. Between 500 to 600 peop'e went out on the electric lines to the state fair grounds to witness the event, the preparations for which were very complete, and carried out promptly at 3 p. m. as advertised. The mid-air sensation was a success in every respect. Miss Keyes was accompanied by her trained companion, the monkey "Yan Yan" whose part of the programme was as well done as her own. The aeronauts reached terra firma about one-fourth of a mile from their point of departure, having been absent from earth perhaps ten or twelve minutes. Everyone was well pleased with the exhibition, and its epetition, which will occur on Sunday at the same time and place, will, no doubt, attract a far greater multitude.

SEVERE ON ENGLAND.

How the British Colonists Treated the Matabeles. LONDON, Oct. 27 .- An interview with a colonist named Davis, in reference to the Matabele raid at Fort Victoria, and alleged atrocities committed by the British, was recently published in the Pectoria Press. Davis is well known Thursday Evening, November in Nataland in the Congo Free State. He went to Mashonaland in January last, hoping to make a fortune in farming and other pursuits, but becoming disgusted he abandoned his property and returned to Pectoria in September. In reference to the Matabele raid at LIDERALS Fort Victoria, Davis declared that the yarns about Mashonas being assaulted in the streets were unfounded. The impi, he said, never entered the town, but Dr. Jameson summoned the Matabele bead men, who were deferential while Dr. Jameson himself brusquely Miss Amalia Bertha Rippe. gave them an hour in which to cross Among other celebrities of this grand organization is the celebrated plan at the Matabele border, 30 miles distant. Davis thus describes the pursuit:

"We overtook the impi seven miles from Victoria. They were going at a musical event will be the 22 Regiment Band musical event will be the 24 Regiment Band accompaniment of Sig Liberati in one of his Jameson immediately ordered us to Are. Our men were mad, and shot down the Matabeles like rats, shooting indiscriminately at the dead, the dying and the wounded. Twenty-five of the Matabeles were killed. Each body contained enough bullets to kill a dozen.

The Matabeles never turned when was immediately brained. Another 25 cts a month. Matabele was brained with a gunstock which was smashed by the blow. It was sickening work, yet on returning tures of this great event will be the to Fort Victoria we were cheered as playing of a solo by the great Liberati, though we had won a second Wateraccompanied by the 2nd Regiment loo," Davis added that the climate of Victoria is unhealthy and prospectors run great risk of death.

The chartered company's officials in Cape Town refer to Davis' statements as the calumnious charges of a disappointed colonist. Sir Henry Loch, the governor and commander-in-chief, is nvestigating the charges. He is also inquiring into the recent arrest, at Tait, of the three leaders of a small party of Matabeles, who had entered the town, one of the leaders, Sobenguelos, brother of Goborgubo, who says he was intrusted with a mission to Dr. Jameson.
