THE ONE CENT DAILY.

A daily newspaper for $3,00 a year is printed on the Pacific coast, the only is no longer an experiment. It is a success. At the end of six months it has pearly trebled its circulation. Farmers who try it say they would never be again without it. They are discontinuing weekly papers and taking the ONE CENT DAILY. One enthus iastic farmer writes: THE ONE CENT DATLY is a library. It is an encyclopedia, a poem, a history, a dictionary a time table, a romance, a guide, a political resume, a ground plan of the civilized world, a low priced multitue in paryo. It is a sermon, a song, a circus; an obituary, a shipwreck, s symphony in coli lea!; a medley of life and death, and a grand aggregation of man's glory and his shame. It is, in fact, a bird's-eye view of all the magnanimity an i meanness, the joys and sorrows, births and deaths, the pride and poverty of the world-all for Another farmer, who recently ordered the ONE CENT DAILY for a year says: "I would not be without it. It just supplies my evening's reading. I shall get rid of taking several weeklies, Anyone who can get your ONE CENT DAILY has no use for a weekly."

WHY ARE THEY IDLE?

Why are three or four hundred prisoners idle to the Oregon States Prison? Did not the last legislature appropriate money to build a one-hundred loom jute will. That jute mill would today employ every idle prisoner. The legiscollector has collected it from the peo ple. The people have paid it or their property has been sold for delinquent

Why has the jute mill not been built? There was great demand for all the sacks that could have been made, The farmer who has to sell wheat at 35 to 45 cents a bushel cannot get sacks any too cheaply. Where is the taxpayer's money? It is in the hands of boodle county politicians and bankrupt banks. Fully half a million of mone due the state and already paid as taxes by the people is held back unlawfully, paying the state no interest, while state warrants are drawing eight per cent, enough to build several jute mills.

The question arises, is it not the duty of the executive officers of Oregon, if there be any such, to enforce the laws, collect this money, build the jute mill.

HOW JUDGE HUBBARD WAS BUNCOED

MURDER OR SUICIDE?

It seems incredible that with one gash of a razor a demented man should have been able to almost sever his neck. as was described in THE JOURNAL Monday, in the case of O. Mitchell, who was found dead near the Reform school Sunday.

Examination of the cut across the at showed that not only did the gash extend through nearly six inches of the thick skin of the neck, and through the muscles and cords, but the hard gristle of the windpipe, right through the thickest part of the Adam's apple, was severed.

Only by holding the head back so hat there would be a tension could one cut even of a large sharp knife make uch a wound. It is impossible to remove the doubt that Wilson may have een murdered.

CO-OPERATION AND INVESTIGATION.

That is the idea behind the work done by our city board of charities. So far as it has had means this organized charity and bureau of relief has done good work. It should be encouraged and assisted by our citizens as much as possible. Good business judgment, cooperation and investigation are necessary to systematically come to the relief of the poor. Individual work for the lature appropriated the money, the tax | poor should not stop, nor should charity stop at individual effort to relieve the poor. "Shrewd, practical, observant business men," as the Post-Intelligencer of Seattle well says, must grapple with this question of organized charities, and give the board hearty support.

The time was the night before the election and the place the parlor of the Johnson homestead at Greenville, Tenn.

Whether both these young people had private knowledge of the Democratic victory which was to sweep their state on the morrow, or whether they were merely amusing themselves with "lovers' perjuries" for Jove's and their own amusement, cannot be known, as the wedding day was settled for them by the result of the election, and their marriage was solemnized at their Green ville home on Dec. 13, 1856, David T. Patterson having been elected judge with the same unanimity and on the same ticket with his future father in-law.-Ladies' Home Journal.

A Bishop on Sermons.

One does not look to a prelate for frank fun, but the bishop of Wakefield, unasked, has voucheafed some genuine humor on the subject of preaching. He has clearly made a study of the art, and he divides the modern sermon in seven species. Thus we have:

"The sesquipedalian-big words hiding little thoughts. "The wishywashy-no explanation re-

Who does not know each and all of these? This is a form of pastoral which congregations as a rule will not disap-

In connection with this severe episcopal utterance there is a story on the other side going the ecclesiastical round. A clergyman prepared to preach two Sundays since and gave out as his text, "The devil, like a roaring lion, goeth about seeking whom he may devour." In the same breath, before beginning his discourse, he continued, "My friends, you will probably have heard of Manchester has announced his intention of visiting every church in his diocese, and consequently we may very shortly expect to see him among us."-Black and White.

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, diminess, duliness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these or-ment of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise irue of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system as will be seen by the accompanying ut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fall to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom they treat the they treat the part affected.
