ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

The Associated Charities of Boston is a clearing house for all cases of want which are discovered in that city

"It is one of the evils of the separate operation of the various dispensers of charity, or of temporary help, that persons in need are frequently helped from several sources at the same time"

"One of the necessities, therefore, is a bureau of information where all may be known in regard to every case for relief that arises."

If the business men of this city will take enough interest in the work of the Salem Board of Charities to contribute a small amount monthly towards carrying it on, and at the same time make the bureau of charities a medium for securing such help as they may need, they will materially assist in promoting the interests of the deserving poor of the city.

BANK CIRCULATION.

St. Louis Globe Democrat: A check has come upon bank note expansion. Probably there will be a falling off in November. Or, if there be an increase, it will undoubtedly be insignificant.

SUGGESTED COMMENT.

That was not the first snow storm of the season in the East yesterday. The first was Nov. 7.

One of the best and most progressive men in the state—Judge Wm. Galloway of McMinnville—has been elected president of the State Board of Agriculture. Oregon "do move."

CHINESE PHEASANTS.

Many of the fish, game and poultry dealers of Portland stoutly maintain that they are allowed by the law to sell the Chinese pheasant and other feathered game at this time of the season.

The law on the subject, which Mr. McGuire claims is very conclusive, is as follows:

"Every person who shall, within the state of Oregon, sell, exchange, or offer for sale or exchange, for money or anything of value, or shall take or kill for sale or exchange, any grouse, pheasant, quail, ring-necked or China pheasant, golden pheasant, copper pheasant, green Japanese pheasant, quail or bob white, jack snipe, or prairie chicken, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that it shall be lawful to sell, or take, or kill for sale, any of the birds hereinbefore enumerated during the period commencing October 15 of each year and ending November 15 of the same year, except as hereinafter provided in section 12 of this act."

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Local Correspondence from Towns in the Valley.

Friday evening a number of young people of this vicinity met and gave Miss Myrtle Clark a surprise party, celebrating her fifteenth birthday.

Those present were Messrs. Charlie Hoover, Bruce Jones, Eugene Coates, Willie Jones, Elam Shaw, Jole Jones, Guy Looney, Edith Shaw and Frank McClard; Misses Alma Chapman, Argie Jones, Ione McClard, Bessie Chapman, Otie McClard and Myrtle Clark.

After presenting their presents the party adjourned. All present report an enjoyable time.

Mrs. McClard was down Wednesday evening. Bruce Jones drove to Salem Monday. The hard times social given by the Epworth League was a grand success both financially and socially. The net proceeds amounted to $8.10.

Miss Edna Perkins was awarded the first prize for being the most horribly dressed person present. Johnny Hughes carried off the second prize.

Rev. Royal, Prof. Myers and a few others were fined for being dressed up.

Work and Wages in China.

Apprentices in China work long terms, much of the time doing skilled work at a total cost to the employer of less than $1.50 per month. Sixty cents to $1 per month and board would include uncounted thousands of boatmen, clerks and household servants, and perhaps overstate the facts considerably. Many of the blacksmiths, coolies or burden bearers, basket and bamboo workers, and others would almost likely fall into the same category. Carpenters working by the day get about 15 cents per day and clothe and feed themselves, but take the risk of course of lost time. Other "journeymen" work, so far as I know, does not vary much from this figure—carpenters, masons, bricklayers, etc., being about the same. Almost any of these, however, would doubtless be glad to get work at $4 per month gross.

But the difference in wages does not give a correct idea of the difference in cost of doing work. The Chinaman goes at a leisurely gait. Carpenters will come late in the morning—perhaps at 9 o'clock—and as a prelude to work take a long smoke and chat while sitting on the timbers or stones of the unfinished building. Twelve or 1 o'clock brings the dinner hour, followed by another smoke, and at 5 or 6 o'clock they bundle up their tools. Chinese contractors submit to this. It seems to be the custom, and custom is law with them. Those who work by the month, however, keep longer hours, and many who work for themselves are steadily at work from early morning till dark.—Langhorne Leitch, Late Missionary to China.

Not Quick Enough.

She wasn't blessed with much beauty, but she was well dressed and had the appearance of being exact. She came into the Union depot and tripped into the ticket office. The clock on the wall said it was exactly—p. m.

"What time does the next train leave for Chicago?" she asked. "It will start in five minutes."

"How much is the fare?" "Twelve dollars."

"I thought it was only $10." "Twelve dollars is the usual fare."

"Will it be any cheaper tomorrow?" "Not a cent."

"Well, I'll take a ticket." "Here you are."

"Can you change a $50 bill?" "Yes, change $500 bill."

It took some time for her to gather up her change and stow it away. When she had performed the operation, she smiled and asked:

"What time did you say the train went?" "The train is gone. There will be another one to Chicago tomorrow morning."

Remarkable Feats of Strength.

Louis de Bouffiers, who lived in the sixteenth century, could break a bar of iron with his hands. The strongest man could not take from him a ball which he held between his thumb and first finger.

While standing up, with no support whatever, four strong soldiers could not move him. He remained as firm as a rock. Sometimes he amused himself by taking on his shoulders his own horse, fully harnessed, and with that heavy load he promenade the public square, to the great delight of the inhabitants.

At about the same time there lived a Spaniard named Pedro, who could break the strongest handcuffs that could be put around his wrists. He folded his arms on his chest, and 10 men pulling in different directions with ropes could not unfold them.

Augustus II, elector of Saxony, was a man of great strength. He could carry a man in his open hand. One night he quietly threw out of a window a monk who paraded his palace, pretending to be a ghost.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

Washing a Rug Carpet.

My rag carpet had covered my dining room floor all winter and spring and was very dirty. I took it up, dusted it thoroughly, then ripped the breadths apart. Each breadth was 5 yards long. I filled the wash boiler half full of soft water and put in half a cupful of washing powder. Then I put in a breadth of carpet and boiled it half an hour, stirring them constantly. The water and carpet were emptied into a tub and the carpet run through the ringer, rinsed twice and hung out on the line. Each breadth was treated in the same way, getting clean water for each one and using plenty of water to rinse it. It is now on the floor again and looks like a new carpet.—Minneapolis Housekeeper.

A Hot Weather Meeting.

A Dutchman the other day, reading an account of a meeting, came to the words, "the meeting then dissolved." He could not define the meaning of the latter, so he referred to a dictionary and felt satisfied. In a few minutes a friend came in, when Honty said: "Dey must have werry hot wedder dere in London. I ret an account of a meeting vere all de people had melted away."—London Tit-Bits.

Deaf for a Year

Catarrh in the Head

Catarrh is a CONSTITUTIONAL disease, requires a CONSTITUTIONAL REMEDY like Hood's Sarsaparilla to cure it: "Three years ago, as a result of catarrh, I entirely lost my hearing and was deaf for more than a year. I tried various things to cure it, and had physicians, but no improvement was apparent. I could distinguish no sound. I was intending putting myself under the care of a specialist, when some one suggested that Hood's Sarsaparilla might do me some good. I began taking it without the expectation of any lasting help. To my surprise and great joy I found hearing was returning. I kept on till I had taken three more. It is now over a year since I was afflicted with the catarrh. I consider this a remarkable case, and recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who have catarrh."

A Fresh Translation.

The small boy had been irritating his father with many vexatious questions about a psalm he was studying for Sunday school next day.

"Father, what does selah mean?" was the latest. "Shut up!" said paterfamilias.

"The boy said nothing, but in Sunday school the psalm was under discussion. "Who knows what the word selah means?" asked the young superintendent.

The small boy's hands went up, and he was halfway out of his seat. No one else raised a hand. "Well!" said the superintendent.

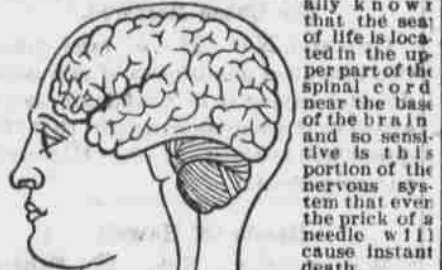

"Shut up!" said the small boy. And seeing the look on the teacher's face added: "It is. I asked papa and he said 'shut up!'"—Toledo Blade.

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally understood that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord near the base of the brain. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a disease primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

Dr. FRANKLIN MILLS, the celebrated specialist has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, neuralgia, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Mills' Restorative Nerve is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

Dr. MILLS' RESTORATIVE NERVE is sold by all druggists on a postpaid basis. It is also sold direct by DR. MILLS MEDICAL CO., Eureka, Cal. Full receipt of price, $1 per bottle, 10 bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is so simple neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.
