Interview With a Famous French Anarchist.

STATE OF AFFAIRS IN SAMOA.

No Disturbances, but the Natives Are Not Quiet.

APIA, Nov. 24.—In Samoa the state of affairs remains in the old half-and-half style. There is no actual disturbance of the peace, but the natives are far from quiet. Fear is the sole reason that prevents a new outbreak of one of their so-called wars.

H. M. S. Katoomba left here on October 14th for Fiji, but was not replaced until October 25th, when the Rapid arrived from Fiji. The German man-of-war Sperber left today. She is to call at Fakaofo and take Mataafa to his new home in the Marshall Islands. There is some talk of disarming the natives, but up to now no steps have been taken.

The new house of King Malietoa is now finished. It is a one-story building, and though not very pretentious is yet ample for Samoan requirements. The Mariposa arrived on the 3d, having H. C. Ide, chief justice-elect of Samoa, and W. Lee Chambers, United States land commissioner.

Upon arrival I. H. Denver, clerk of the supreme court, proceeded to the steamer in King Malietoa's boat, manned by native police in uniform, and brought Mr. Ide on shore, where he was met by the three consuls. Proceeding in carriages to Mulliken, they were met at the courthouse by Chief Justice Cedrorantz, and the British consul, as senior, introduced Mr. Ide officially. The retiring chief justice welcomed Mr. Ide to Samoa in a few well-chosen words, and Mr. Ide responded. The consuls then took their official farewell from C. Cedrorantz and left for Apia. The two judges remained and held a private conference. In the evening Chief Justice Cedrorantz left by the Mariposa for Europe. A large number of friends were on board to say farewell. By the same steamer Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stevenson returned to Apia from a pleasure trip to Honolulu. Mr. Stevenson looks remarkably well, and appears to have entirely recovered from his late indisposition.

The French Anarchist.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—In an interview with Louise Michel, the famous French anarchist, in regard to anarchism, she declared the throwing of bombs in the Lyceum theater, Barcelona, sprang from the blood of Pallas, the man who attempted to assassinate General Martineau Campos. She added that increasing poverty and severer means of repression warranted more terrible means of defense. The European international agreement for the suppression of anarchism was worthy only of derision. Explosives formed the best and most element means of extending the propaganda. Anarchy in the United States was flourishing, and bombs had not been recently used there, because the evils had not become firmly rooted. The execution at Chicago converted thousands to anarchism. She declared the anarchists were unconnected with the attempt on the Nelson monument at Montreal.

A Gresham Rumor.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 24.—A Washington special says Gresham has attempted to absolve himself from all responsibility for the Cleveland administration Hawaiian policy. In conversation with a personal friend, he stated he had nothing to do with framing the policy, which was inaugurated by (Paramount) Blount, and which was sought to be enforced by Minister Willis.

The Lehigh Strike.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Advices from various points on the Lehigh valley road show no essential change in strike situation.

MERCURIAL

Mr. J. C. Jones, of Pulaski, Arkansas, says of "Mercurial": "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poisoning. Leading physicians prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, but with unsuccessful results, but which brought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that made my life one of agony."

RHEUMATISM

"After suffering four years I gave up all remedies and began using S. S. S. After taking several bottles I was entirely cured and able to resume work. It is the greatest medicine for blood poisoning to-day on the market."

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Jones, of Pulaski, Ark. S. S. S. is sold by all druggists.

Reichsrath in Session.

VIENNA, Nov. 24.—The Reichsrath resumed its sittings. Premier Windson Graetz, in announcing the policy of the new cabinet, said the government's chief task would be to bring about extensive electoral reform, according to the agreement of the three great political parties. While maintaining the interests of the existing parties and the various provinces, the franchise would be conferred upon classes hitherto deprived of it, especially workmen, and would also assure the political rights of peasants and citizens, and lead to an increase in the number of deputies and to a revision of the electoral districts. Pending the execution of this great reform all other questions will remain in abeyance.

Chinese Registration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The new regulations for issuing certificates of residence to the Chinese under the provisions of the amendatory act recently approved by Congress have been submitted to Secretary Carlisle by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Miller. According to its provision the Chinese must swear he never committed a felony in the United States and the fact must be testified to by white witnesses, a photograph of the applicant must be attached to the affidavit and two other likenesses must be transmitted to the collector of internal revenue and the treasury department. Collectors of internal revenue and the deputies are instructed that all classes of skilled and unskilled manual laborers, including Chinese employed in mining, fishing, huckstering, laundrying and peddling, shall be classed as laborers. The persons to be exempted from the operation of this law must be engaged in selling merchandise at a fixed place of business the paragraph in the old regulations exempting persons from the operations of the law who are owners or part owners of mercantile establishments is stricken out.

DEMOCRATS OF INDIANA.

Meeting at Indianapolis Addressed by Voorhees and Turpie.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 24.—About 200 representative Democratic leaders from various parts of the state met in this city yesterday for a conference. C. L. Jewett, of New Albany, was elected to preside over the meeting. Senator Voorhees was the first speaker. In his address he said he believed that congress would pass the tariff bill soon after meeting and he predicted the bill will be signed by the president before the 1st of February. He also said that the federal election law would be repealed soon after the meeting of congress. The members of the party pricked up their ears as the senator approached the pension question. He announced that he was opposed to the policy adopted by the administration. He said he had always believed in the extension of the fullest liberality to the veterans of war. The rolls, he said, were being reduced rapidly enough by death. He declared he did not believe in countenancing fraud in any department of the government, and he did not approve the policy which provided for the employment of many men at an enormous expense to ferret out ways and means for taking pensioners off the rolls.

He said if this wrong were not righted by the administration it would be righted by the legislative department of the government. The senator defined his position on the money question. He declared he was a bimetalist. He spoke of his connection with the long fight in the senate, which resulted in the repeal of the Sherman act purchasing clause, and said he took pride in what he did. The repeal of the act was a necessity. The next step, he said, would be the adoption of a bimetallic standard.

SENATOR TURPIE FOLLOWED.

Senator Turpie followed Senator Voorhees. On the subject of pensions he went further than his colleague, and said, with much emphasis, that he did not believe the pension of any veteran of war should be suspended until there had been the fullest investigation, at which the veteran had a hearing. The senator was applauded when he declared: "I believe that when the people elect a Democratic president they also elect Democratic postmasters at 'Henpeck' and 'Pinnock' and they should be allowed to take their seats."

The other speakers were Governor Matthews, Secretary of State W. R. Myers and Congressman George Cooper and John W. Kerr.

Another Bimetallist Effort.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Belief in general an effort will be made early next year to bring about another international monetary conference.

HAWAIIAN DISPATCHES.

Further Details of Minister Willis's Report.

A BIG SURPLUS IN THE TREASURY.

Shows the Provisional Government is Not a Failure.

More of Willis.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Further Associated Press correspondence from Honolulu says: Some are of the opinion that action will be taken between the sailing of the Alameda today and the arrival of the Monowai on the 23d inst. This opinion has been expressed on board the United States steamship Philadelphia within the last few days. Minister Willis's delay in action, coupled with his refusal to divulge or even hint at officially what the policy of the United States is to be, has caused the political strain to become very great on both sides. As a consequence, rumors are as thick as bees in spring. The government has in consequence been on the lookout for the past few days for a threatened attempt of the royalists to seize the executive building under the theory that if they could hold it an hour the United States would support them as the existing government. Some of the leading royalists deny that any such attempt has been contemplated. Others remain silent when questioned. As a further precaution, the government has issued thirty rounds of extra ammunition to each member of the citizens' reserve guard between dark and 12 o'clock last night.

At Washington.

There was a lack of excitement in the reception of the Hawaiian news. The copyright letter from Honolulu was read to Gresham by an Associated Press representative. At the portion where Willis is reported as having said he would be glad to see the American flag over Hawaii and every other island in the Pacific, the secretary said: "I don't believe that." Even as modified by Willis with the subsequent clause "under proper conditions," the secretary said the minister must have been incorrectly reported.

"Willis is a capable man," he said, "he ought not to have talked on that subject at all and I don't believe he did." Upon reading the statement of Admiral Skerrett being recalled from attending a ball given by the annexation club Gresham said: "Absurd." Regarding the assertion of Willis where he said he would do nothing until he heard farther from the state department, Gresham declined to say anything. The statement reported as coming from Philadelphia that some action was to be taken during the week following the departure of the Alameda was regarded as significant, tallying as it does with the well-defined rumor circulated at Washington on Tuesday that the queen was restored that day.

It was largely a day of speculation in the capital regarding the situation in Hawaii. It seems the report which came by way of New Zealand, that Cleveland had determined to restore the queen, was a surprise to the administration.

The manner in which Willis has been performing his mission only adds more mystery to the situation. The theories and speculations are indulged in all the more because up to 5:30 this afternoon it was denied at the state department that Willis had made any communication to the department by the Alameda. It is believed, however, that some official information has been received, the nature of which is impossible to obtain.

The dispatches seem to indicate to the administration what they heretofore asserted, that the provisional government still stands because it feels it is backed by the moral support of the United States and thus far its acts have been approved by this government.

Two cabinet meetings were held yesterday to consider the situation. At the first were present, besides the cabinet, several members of the advisory council, together with Colonel J. H. Boper, of the military, and Marshal Hitchcock, of the police department. At 11 o'clock this morning President Dole paid a visit to the United States steamship Philadelphia, and was received with a national salute of 21 guns. At 11:30 he returned, and was accorded the usual salute.

This afternoon the minister of finance will submit a statement at a regular session of the councils, which will show that the favorable condition of the finances of the government continues.

ular sessions of the councils, which will show that the favorable condition of the finances of the government continues. The statement will show that the cash surplus in the treasury stands at $136,850,73, and that the total amount of bonds sold to date under the loan act is $167,000. This will allow the government to carry out all the appropriations authorized under section 2 of the appropriation bill for which no provision had been made, and will leave a balance of $68,850 on hand besides the cash surplus. The minister of finance states that all current expenses of the government to November 1st have been ordered paid, and that under the present favorable conditions he soon expects to largely increase the surplus cash in the treasury.

The Hawaiian Star in an editorial under the caption "Time for a Response," says: "It is now over ten months since the provisional government of the Hawaiian islands asked the American government a fair question, and yet there has been no answer for nearly a year, and for no obvious cause the people of these islands have been kept in a state of suspense, which has been, and is yet, detrimental to business and immigration. Even the coming of Minister Willis has not thrown any light upon the matter of an annexation. We submit that this reticent policy on the part of the United States has been and is unfair and unjust to the government and people, and especially to American interests in these islands—interests that have a right to look to Washington for a ready and helpful hand. We submit that every day which is allowed to pass without the announcement of Mr. Cleveland's policy is a day which adds to the sense of an injury under which all the people of Hawaii are smarting. Let us have an end of this business soon. This is the common hope of the royalist and annexationist alike."

I have just had an interview with Minister Willis. He declares the first part of the reply that he made to the American league should be qualified to "I would like to see the Stars and Stripes waving over," etc., "under proper conditions." He says he never said the result here would be such as "Americans would not regret," and added that "nothing would be done nor would any action be taken until he again heard from Washington after the Alameda left." He said this at 2:30. The steamer sailed at 3 p. m. His last words to the Associated Press representative were that any trouble precipitated on either side would be stopped by the United States forces at once, when his attention was called to a dispatch saying the ex queen would be restored he declined to express his opinion. It is believed here that the dispatch is a fake.

At the last moment the provisional government declares they have no further information, but are certain they will be able to maintain peace.

Just before the Alameda sailed from Honolulu for San Francisco the Honolulu Commercial Advertiser issued an extra edition containing a dispatch dated Washington, November 2, which had been published in an Auckland, N. Z., paper of Nov. 4, and received in Honolulu by the Alameda. This dispatch stated that President Cleveland was preparing a message to congress advising the restoration of the monarchy in Hawaii. Minister Willis, upon being shown this dispatch, refused to say anything in regard to it. The belief seems general in Honolulu that the dispatch is unfounded.

Pacific Coast People are Angry.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 24.—Congressman Hilborn, of California, who has been confined to his hotel on account of illness, said, in regard to the Hawaiian situation, that he thought Californians must be surprised at the action of the present administration. The trade relations between San Francisco and the islands is so close that Californians cannot bring themselves to think of Hawaii as a foreign country. Continuing, the congressman said the dispatches from his district demanding the impeachment of Cleveland were very significant, and showed the excited condition of affairs in California. Pacific coast people are also incensed by the president because of the non-enforcement of the Chinese act. In conclusion he expressed a hope that the matter would soon be amicably settled, and asserted that the restitution of the queen meant a reign of corruptive influences.

PENNOYER'S COLD WAVE

Sets in All Over the Central North-west.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 24.—Thermometer in various parts of the city, registers 5 to 10° below zero this morning. Late reports are being received from all over the state, also from North Dakota and Manitoba. Colder weather is promised for tonight. Sault Rapids, Minn., reports 24° below; Farmer, N. D., 25° below.

Men Killed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—A rumor current to the effect that a man escaped from the new Brazilian cruiser Nicotero which sailed from here a day or two ago and reports three men on board killed.

The Corbett-Mitchell Fight.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 24.—Billy Delaney, Champion Corbett's trainer, has arrived here. Delaney will make arrangements for a training group. Henry Mason received a cable message last night from the Chadburg Wood club of London requesting him to reserve 100 seats near the arena for the contest. A big contingent of the sporting element is expected from San Francisco. A telegram was received from there today, asking if 500 seats can be secured.

Beaten By Rowdies.

HEPPNER, Or., Nov. 24.—L. V. Briggs, manager for the P. U. Thompson grocery house, was waylaid by or 20 young men of Heppner, and was very badly beaten by them. He was an article for the Heppner Gazette, concerning them for their misconduct in the revival meetings which are being held here. Arrests will follow by the wholesale, as several men seem to be implicated.

Tariff Tinkering.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—It has been definitely decided by the full committee on ways and means that the income tax will be adopted as a part of the revenue system and the details of the plan are left to McMillan, Bryan and Montgomery. The changes in the internal revenue schedule contemplate an increase of ten cents a gallon of whiskey and a slight modification of the tobacco tax. Several hundred petitions today inundated the committee from the tobacco manufacturers of the United States asking that the McKillop tariff import duty of $2 per pound on leaf tobacco in suitable wrappers be repealed and a duty of 35 cts. a pound be imposed on all leaf tobacco. It appears to be the intention of the committee to reduce the duty from $2 to about $1 a pound.

The latest proposition regarding the sugar schedule and one likely to be adopted, is to make the duty ad valorem instead of a specific rate. It will probably be 25 per cent, which would amount to one-half a cent a pound of 2-cent sugar and 1 cent a pound on 4-cent sugar worth 4 cents.
