THANKSGIVING DAY.

[By Mrs. M. A. Fisher.] Wake up, wake up! Ye little ones, Ye little ones! Oh, hear ye not the stirring sounds. In kitchen, and in hall? Oh, know ye not the silver, my dears, Beginning with the dawn; The busy feet, the voices sweet, On this Thanksgiving morn.

THE SPIRIT OF THANKSGIVING.

Governor Shortridge, of North Dakota issued a model Thanksgiving proclamation. Here it is: In observance of the time honored custom, and in conformity with the proclamation of the president of the United States, I do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 30th day of November, as a day of Thanksgiving, and do most earnestly request, that on that day our people lay aside all secular occupations, and assemble in their usual places of worship, and with grateful hearts, thank Him, "The author of every good and perfect gift," for the many blessings bestowed upon us as a people, during the past year, humbly imploring a continuance of divine favors in years to come.

THE GREAT CHANGE.

Wisconsin has until within a few years been a great manufacturing state. It was also Republican. But last year it went Democratic and elected Cleveland president and Peck governor. Ten months ago the great iron mines in the famous Gogebic range were employing 5000 men at wages that made money plenty. Now these are all closed, the men idle and at least 10,000 people in Hurley, Bessemer, Ashland, Dogwood and other towns must depend upon charity alone for food, clothes and fire through the winter that is already upon them.

WAITING FOR THE VERDICT.

The time that has elapsed since the passage of the repeal bill has been sufficient to show that the business depression was not, to say the least, entirely due to the silver purchases under the Sherman law. It is not to be doubted that repeal was a good thing, and that it has had a beneficial general effect; but the fact remains that it has not fully restored public confidence and brought back the former degree of prosperity. Trade is still dull, industries are still drooping, uncertainty still prevails in all directions. This means, plainly enough, that the people are apprehensive with regard to something that did not figure in the repeal controversy and that was not settled by the result of that memorable legislative battle. It is not difficult to see what that something is, and how it operates against the revival of good time. Any intelligent person can readily understand that the menace of tariff reduction is the controlling cause of the trouble. The policy of protection enters so largely into our commercial and industrial affairs that any threat of disturbance by legislation against it is regarded with alarm, and business movements are regulated accordingly. It is not reasonable to suppose that men will go on buying and selling with their usual energy and confidence under such circumstances; and that is what is the matter at the present time.

OSWEGO IRONWORKER.

This fool administration is now going to monkey with Hawaii by placing the big, fat, gross negro queen on the throne. Every turn it makes increases the prospective majority for McKinley and Reed in 1896. We mean Tom Reed and not that fraud Whitehair.

PARAGRAPH FROM THE SOUTH BEND JOURNAL.

In regard to smoking salmon for shipment East. Without doubt there is money in this business. Nearly everywhere smoked salmon is regarded as a delicacy. Try a little for breakfast and see if you ever saw a better appetizer.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

Demolishes the proposed income tax as the height of legislative wisdom. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Rep., denounces an income tax as the most iniquitous of all taxes.

The English sovereign's sons and grandsons, when created peers, are entitled to seats in the house of lords at the left of the throne, but when, by the death of their father, they become only collaterally related to the sovereign they sit among the dukes.

"People need not suffer from corns or other pedal troubles if they will change their shoes three times a day," asserts a man who has tried the experiment.

"Where one pair pinches another sets easily, and frequent changes of footwear keep the circulation in order and the toes unindured."

She Looked Like It. Considerable advantages attach to the custom adopted by the girls of wearing costumes practically indistinguishable from those of their male relatives. One of them was made apparent a day or two ago to a young lady, who, arrayed in an ulster coat reaching to her heels, standing collar, eyeglass and knowing little felt that without any feathers or trimming, ensconced herself in a ladies' waiting room at a railway station to await the next train. She was warming herself by the fire in the most approved style, when an old, somewhat short-sighted, but eminently respectable lady came up to her and said: "I don't know if you are of it, sir, but this is a ladies' waiting room!" Both Had Eczema In Its Worst Form

After Physicians Failed, Hood's Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cured.

Great mental agony is endured by parents who see their children suffering from diseases caused by impure blood, and for which there seems no cure.

This is turned to joy when Hood's Sarsaparilla is resorted to, for it expels the foul humors from the blood, and restores the diseased skin to fresh, healthy brightness. Read this:

"To C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "We think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most valuable medicine on the market for blood and skin diseases. Our two children suffered terribly with it."

Worst Form of Eczema for two years. We had three physicians, but neither of them succeeded in curing them or even in giving them a little relief. At last we tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a month both children were perfectly cured. We recommend it."

Hood's Sarsaparilla as a standard family medicine, and would not be without it. Mr. and Mrs. M. M. SOLLER, 1412 2nd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.
