REPLY OF BILL ANDERSON.

He Writes an Open Letter to Rev. J. M. Shulze. DEAR SIR: In making reference to the death of R. McGee I hope you will not "wrest the Scriptures" nor the facts as that would be "bearing false witness" or lying; the facts are, that I entertained all visitors on Thanksgiving Day with a bountiful free lunch and a bowl of egg-nog. Among the many who partook there happened to be a half starved man who made a perfect glutton and bog of himself and suffered the natural penalty. No reasonable man will say that I am half as responsible for the gluttony of my visitors, as the men in your "business" who send so many into insanity and a suicide's grave, by sensational and emotional preaching. The papers are full of such cases, and who is responsible for it? The Scripture you quote as your intended "text" is perverted and falsified as your conclusion must be. Will you please be honest and quote the Scripture as it is? For fear you will not, I will. Heb. 2, 15—"Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink—that putteth thy bottle to him and maketh him drunk, also that thou mayest look on their nakedness." By turning to Gen. 9, 21 you will see what a crime that was in those days. Noah got drunk and Ham accidentally "discovered the nakedness of his father," as Noah lay "uncovered in his tent."

For "looking on his nakedness" even though it was accidental, his father cursed him most bitterly. If you apply your text to me, please show that I caused his gluttony and drunkenness and that I did it that I "might look on his nakedness." Again please show that God ordered a great crime when he commanded those who lived at a distance to sell their "oil and corn" and "turn it into money" and then "bestow that money for wine or for strong drink, or whatsoever his soul lusted after." Again will you please explain the criminality of Jesus in manufacturing 108 or 162 gallons of genuine wine for the guests who were already "well drunk?" At the marriage feast in Cana of Galilee? Then will you please explain why you do all your work and make all your money upon "the holy Sabbath" instead of obeying the command "to rest and do no work" as I do? As the papers are so full of the crimes of frail and lecherous preachers, I might ask you to preach upon the proper remedy for such intemperate excesses. But doubtless all good men deplore gluttony and excess of every kind as much as does BILL ANDERSON.

Nervous Dyspepsia. Senator James F. Pierce, of New York, writes: "For the past two years I have suffered very much from an aggravated form of nervous dyspepsia. I have resorted to various remedial agents, deriving but little benefit. A few months since a friend of mine suggested the trial of Alcock's Pepporin Tablets. Following the suggestion, I have been using the same with the happiest of effects. To those similarly afflicted let me suggest the manner of their use. I place one over my stomach, one over the hepatic region, and one on my back. The effect is excellent. From the day I commenced their use have been slowly but surey improving, and am quite confident that by continuing I shall again be restored to my accustomed health."

It is stated that in all 10,000 people attend the services at St. Paul's cathedral, London, every Sunday, the morning and afternoon services each attracting 2,500 worshippers, and the evening service 5,000. The fact that the musical portion of the service is said to be the most perfect of its kind in Europe has no doubt a great deal to do with its popularity.—London Letter.

Sponges are being propagated in a cheap way just now. About three years ago a cute German divided a few healthy specimens of live sponges into a goodly number of parts and placed them in deep water, with the result that he now has a crop of 4,000 at the initial expenditure of $20.
