ROASTING CLEVELAND.

Senator Hoar Scoring the President.

MAKING COMIC COMPARISONS.
Charging Gross Violation of the Constitution.

THE RESOLUTION IS LAID OVER.
Date Changed for the New Tariff to Take Effect.

Tariff Date Changed.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The Ways and Means committee has changed the time when the tariff bill will go into effect from March 1st to June 1st, 1893.

Roasting Cleveland.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Hoar introduced a resolution calling upon the president for further information as to his action on Hawaiian affairs. The resolution by imputation attacks the president's appointment of a commissioner without the consent or advice of the senate. Hoar, in course of his remarks on the resolution said: "It is true that the president, (the senate being in session,) authorized an officer to exercise paramount authority in another country, with which the United States was at peace, he was standing on slippery ground and had better step onto terra firma rapidly and at once. (Laughter.)

"The ostrich puts his head in the sand so," said Hoar, "and thinks he will not be seen. The rhinoceros hides in his mudpuddle and breathes through his nose and thinks he will not be seen but neither of these are fit and suitable precedents for the president of the United States. The people will know the truth of the matter." Senator Gray said he believed the policy of Cleveland was not only that of justice and magnanimity but one of non-interference.

HOAR REPLIES:
Hoar said that if the allegation, that the president on March 7, (the senate being in session) commissioned a person as paramount representative in the Hawaiian islands, were true, it seemed to him as gross a violation of the constitution of the United States as ever was charged upon or imputed to any public official. The resolution was laid over until tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The President has nominated Henry W. Mellen of Indiana, Commissioner for Alaska, and Andrew F. Snelling Register of land office at North Yakima, Washn.

Work of French Anarchists.
PARIS, Dec. 10.—The names of deputies who had been wounded were given out very slowly, consequently many reports got abroad and scores of friends and relatives of deputies crowded to the Palais Bourbon to make inquiries. At 6 o'clock this list was obtained:

Professor Lemire, a Catholic socialist, elected to represent the first district of Hazebrouk; Count Paul Henry Laajutials, a union conservative, who has been a member of the chambers since 1889; M. Leflet, a Republican, an ex-lieutenant of the navy and sits for Chignon; Comte de Montalembert, Catholic conservative for the Nord, severe cuts, none serious; Henry Boucher, Republican for the Vosges, and captain in the last war, slightly bruised; Baron Gerard, conservative for Calvados, many bruises; Georges Osbery, Republican for the Loire and chevalier of the Legion of Honor, severely cut and bruised; M. Le Foulon; M. de Casanova de Pradine; Baron Rene Charles Reille; Jean Plichon and Alexandre Dumas, a lawyer, slightly injured. M. Dupuy was out in the cheek by a flying scrap of iron, but he stopped the slight flow of blood with his handkerchief and declined medical aid. M. Mourier, the restaurant keeper of the chamber, suffered a painful wound in the arm, and his friend, M. Dufois, was injured seriously in both arms and legs. General Jean Baptiste Billot, senator, ex-minister of war and grand officer of the legion of honor, was watching the proceedings in the chamber when the bomb was thrown. Several scraps of iron struck him, inflicting painful but not dangerous flesh wounds. Aethiol Greville, parliamentary reporter and editorial writer on the staff of the Echo de Paris, was wounded severely but not dangerously, in the head. A Roumanian nobleman, who is passing his furlough from the army in Paris, was in the front row of the gallery when the bomb exploded. He was hit in the head by a ragged piece of metal and fell unconscious and bleeding to the floor. He was carried to one of the committee rooms for treatment. Physicians there pronounced his injuries serious, although probably not fatal. Altogether over 80 persons were wounded.

Federation of Labor.
CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—The thirteenth annual convention of American federation of labor opened here today. About one hundred delegates from all parts of the country were present when President Gompers called the body to order. The western delegates want a Western man for President to succeed Gompers.

Cowan Gives Bail.
PORTLAND, Dec. 11.—J. L. Cowan, president of the defunct Linn County National bank; who was indicted by the federal grand jury, has furnished a one thousand dollar bail bond. The indictment charges Cowan with wilfully and unlawfully abstracting and misapplying a large amount of money, credits and funds of the bank between dates of June first and seventh, 1893.

Got Away With Gold.
PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Dec. 11.—H. Cochran, a former weaver at the mint, convicted of robbing the government of gold bullion to the amount of $139,300, was today sentenced in the United States district court to seven years and six months at hard labor in the penitentiary, and to pay a fine of $1000.

Bank Resumes.
HELENA, Mont., Dec. 11.—The Montana National bank, which closed last July, reopened this morning.

DIGGING THEIR OWN GRAVES

Latest Offense of Intolerant English Lords.

FINANCES IN THE REICHSTAG.
Extent of the Injuries From the Anarchist Bomb.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The house of lords virtually rejected the employers' liability bill last evening by inserting a clause which would allow workmen to exempt themselves by contract from the provisions of the measure. From the first the contest concerning the bill has centered upon this so-called "contracting out" clause. The government will not be able to accept the measure with the amendment, which is calculated to render the whole law futile. The labor members of parliament and the leaders of trade unions have bound the cabinet by both public and private pledges to withdraw the bill in case the lords should insert any provisions for contracting out, and now the ministerial promises must be fulfilled. The mutilation of this essentially popular measure adds to the reactionary record against the lords and means that a bitter reckoning will be made with them at the coming election. As seldom before in recent years, the peers have been following, without deviation, the lines of Tory intolerance. All bills sent up from the commons, even those of petty importance have been treated in this spirit. The first on the list is, of course, the home-rule bill. The rejection of it seemed to give the peers courage to assert themselves, and ever since they have extingished in rapid succession the smaller measures, such as the chapel enfranchisement bill, providing for the purchase of sites on fair terms for chapel buildings, as well as the betterment proposals of the London county council, aiming to obtain from landlords a fair share of profits arising from improvements. The peers seem to think this record of legislation-wrecking will not recoil upon them and to have few fears that the people will take revenge for this misuse of power for the benefit of class interests. The radicals and labor members say that the upper house is steering the conservatives straight to defeat. One of the loudest cries in the next election campaign will be, "Away with the house of lords."

German Affairs.
BERLIN, Dec. 10.—The week's debate in the reichstag has added almost nothing new to the arguments for or against Herr Miquel's financial measures. In the general debate Miquel had made a hard stand, inasmuch as only a decade ago, as burgomaster of Frankfurt, he headed a position against taxation of business on exchange. There is a growing agitation against the proposed tobacco duties, and this imperils the taxation program scarcely less than the unpopularity of the proposed wine duties. It is safe to say the only tax that will be adopted intact is the house tax, yielding 37,000,000 marks yearly. The sum of 56,000,000 marks is absolutely required to meet the army bill. Other expenses will have to be made up by a modified increase in the duties on tobacco and higher priced wines. The coming week will be occupied by second and third readings of the commercial treaties, and then German and Russian delegates will resume negotiations with much improved prospects of success since it is seen the reichstag is likely to adopt the proposed commercial treaty with Russia. It is now expected the end of January may see the treaty arranged.

The emperor has congratulated Catholic Prince Fuerstenburg upon his vote against the repeal of the Jesuit law, and a distinct movement is beginning to manifest itself in evangelical circles against repeal. The conservative party has received an earnest request from Breslau appealing to them to protect the interests of the Protestants upon the occasion of the third reading of the bill in the reichstag and dwelling upon the dangers the church and fatherland might be involved in by the readmission of the Jesuits.

ANARCHIST'S CONFESSION.
The Man Who Threw the Dynamite Bomb

IN THE FRENCH CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES
His Room Found to Be An Arsenal of Explosives.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—Sunday morning the prefect of police was in possession of several police reports which made it clear that the man in the Hotel Dieu with his nose almost blown off was a dangerous anarchist named Vaillant, who was born at Mezieres. Vaillant is about 35 years of age. He has passed several years in Buenos Ayres. In 1887 he returned to France and married and now has two children. Vaillant, however, soon deserted his wife. Since 1884 he has been identified with the extremist branch of the socialists and with the regular anarchist groups. He made himself prominent by the incendiary nature of his speeches and eventually became a member of the committee of the revolutionary socialist group of the eighteenth arrondissement of Paris. Early in the day M. Leprieux, prefect of police, the public prosecutor and examining magistrate visited the Hotel Dieu and had a long interview with Vaillant, who at first protested his innocence, and was quite indignant at the questions put to him. Finally the public prosecutor said: "Your name is Vaillant and not Marchal, as you claimed when you came to the hospital."

Vaillant said the bomb he used was a little iron saucapan, which he bought at a bazaar near the Hotel de Ville. The saucapan, when loaded, contained, he said, a number of nails, which were found on the floor of the chamber. Inside the saucapan was a tube with a compressed center. In the tube were picric acid and prussiate of soda, these being separated at the point where the tube was compressed by a small balloon saturated with sulphuric acid, which at a given moment would be consumed by the sulphuric acid, thus allowing the picric acid and prussiate to mix and cause an explosion. The anarchist then described a variety of objects which he said would be found in his lodgings at the Hotel du Union, where he lived under the name of Marchal. He added:

"I wished to deal a thoroughly dramatic blow at the institutions of the country and wished to cause a great sensation. I endeavored to aim the bomb at M. Dupuy. I glory in the act, and I only regret my hand swerved and that the bomb did not explode near its mark."

After a moment's hesitation the suspect admitted his identity and confessed he had thrown the bomb. When questioned as to the reasons for attempting to take the lives of so many people, Vaillant replied defiantly:

"But if you are going to search my room, you had better be careful in disturbing things unless you want to be blown to pieces. I advise you especially to be careful in handling a box which is full of explosives."

It is estimated that an average of more than 2,000 vessels and 12,000 lives are lost in the various seas and oceans every year, the value of ships and cargoes being roughly averaged at about $100,000,000.

SHIPWRECK ON THE LAKES.
Twenty-three Lives in Danger in a Storm.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—The excitement resulting from throwing a bomb in the chamber of deputies Saturday has somewhat subsided and people are now looking to the chamber to enact measures to stamp out the reds. It is believed the act will result in joint action by France, England, Spain, Italy, and Austria for extradition and severe punishment of all proved to have engaged in anarchistic conspiracies.

Steamer in Peril.
WILWAUKEE, Dec. 11.—The steamer F. and P. M. of the Flint and Pere Marquette line went ashore in a terrible easterly gale and snow storm six miles north of here this morning. The sea was so high that the surf beat could not be towed to the scene and life saving apparatus is being taken overland. The steamer is in a perilous position. There are eighteen passengers and a crew of fifteen on board.

Late this afternoon the passengers on the steamer were brought ashore.
