A GOOD WORK .- M. Scheydecker, the landscape gardner, has been engaged by Secretary of State McBride to name, classify and re-arrange the shrubbery on the state house square. He is at present engaged with an as sistant placing the botanical names onto each individual shrub. Later he will place the local name by which the plant is known on the reverse side of each of the tags. At the proper season the planting of the entire grounds will be re-arranged, and when all the trees and shrubs are in their permanent positions a perfect diagram of the place will be made, giving a number to each plant, whereby its name can be ascertained. The square contains some rare and valuable plants. They have attained a good growth, and will prove a greater source of beauty to our city from year to year. This classification and naming will be a means of education to our people, young and old, and will do much to encourage the beautifying of the entire city for years to

World's Fair Novelty.

Capt. W. W. Martin, the Jeweler has constructed and set in operation in the window of his establishment next door to the Ladd & Bush bank an exact miniature of the Ferris wheel at the World's fair. It is about four feet high and made of bronzed wood and steel. Sixteen travs take the place of the revoiving suspended cars containing elegapt displays of watches and jewelry. The wheel makes two revolutions a minute, presenting the glittering gems, diamonds, and gold and silver articles from any angle of view. The power by which this wheel is driven is a little I hope by fair dealing a continuance of water motor, but it may be driven by Quartet-Prof. Parvin, Dr. Epley, electricity later on.
