Local Dates. Jan. 13.—County road convention. Jan. 20. By Perkins—comedy.

ROBBER AGAIN.—The aerialist who was robbed at the fair grounds just before leaving Salem, was robbed again at Sacramento. The Bee says, Jan. 8: The room of Hazel Keyes, the female aeronaut and parachute jumper, in the Clunie building, was robbed of $105 yesterday afternoon, while Miss Keyes was viewing a neighboring row from one of the windows of her room.

CUT RATES.—Agent Mitchell, of the Altons, quotes $1.25 a ton on general merchandise to and from Portland. Passenger rates are $2.00 for the round trip. The Elwood and Modoc carry passengers at 50 cents, and remit all costs on freight.

B. Co. LECTURE.—A military lecture will be given at Reed's opera house Saturday night by Sargt. Campbell, one of the heroes of the Union armies from Illinois, under the auspices of B. Co., O. N. G. Give the boys a lift and hear a good lecture.

No CHINESE.—Thorough search has been made on the pay rolls of the S. I. steam laundry, and none are found registered there, for Colonel Olmsted employs only white labor. That is why people like to patronize him.

Azro P. Gordon, late chairman of the Democratic county committee, arrived this morning from Central Point. He has two cars of fruit enroute to Montana, and starts for there today.

TWO COUNTERFEITERS.—Were today brought to the state prison. Geo. Norden gets one year, and F. L. Smith gets six months, for manufacturing silver dollars out of pot metal.

THE POOR.—People sometimes think they cannot get enough to eat, but it need not be the case, when they can buy goods as cheap as Clark & Eppley are selling groceries.

WEEK OF PRAYER.—Temperance and other reforms occupied the attention of christian people the world over last night, as the opening night of the week of prayer.

The Oregon Pacific train, on Saturday last was struck in a snow bank between Mill City and Detroit.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Mild moist weather. Mrs. E. Wilkin, who lives near the fair grounds, has been quite ill, but is now some better, and her many friends in the city will be glad to learn of her early and complete recovery. Try the JOURNAL's classified local announcement column. Miss Wilkin, the dress maker, in the Hughes block, has been detained at home by the illness of her mother but will be at her rooms afternoons from 1 to 3. JOURNAL advertisers report a continual clean-up of stocks and a steady trade. A People's party club was organized at McCoy, Polk county, on Saturday, January 6th. The next meeting will be held on Friday, the 19th, at 1 o'clock p. m. E. Bell is the secretary. Judge Batchelor is still in the ring but weighs in at the ringside 20 lbs. lighter than a few weeks ago when the grip tackled him. Mrs. Wm. England returned from Portland today. D. E. Swank this morning returned to his home at Aumsville. No Eastern mail for two days. Pay day on the Consolidated street railway puts several thousand dollars in circulation.

PERSONALS. Dr. Griffith, of the asylum, went to Portland this afternoon. Rev. Father Bronsseau returned to Mt. Tabor this afternoon. Herman Schellberry, of Sublimity, is in the city for a few days. Mrs. Mark Skiff was a passenger for Portland this afternoon, where she will spend a week. Mrs. Dr. L. E. Pratt, arrived last evening from Portland and will visit a few days at the residence of Mrs. J. F. Babcock on Commercial street.

The little son and daughter of D. J. Cooper, of The Dalles, were severely scalded last Thursday, while carrying a pail of water down a flight of stairs. McKintley Mitchell, of Gervais, has been quite ill for some time. W. S. Taylor was at Salem yesterday to procure help to nurse him through his convalescence.

L. D. Lindsley, who is a train dispatcher on the Erie road, has been visiting his uncle, A. L. Backingham, and started for his home at Norwalk, Ohio, today, whence he is called by the death of his father-in-law.

Capt. D. C. Howard and daughter Mrs. Burley arrived home last night on the overland train, from Lewes, Wash., where they have been visiting his son W. J. and Geo. Howard, and daughter, Mrs. J. W. Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Branson are expected to arrive soon from Eureka, Kansas. They come to Salem for their health and while here they will visit their son, H. M. Branson. The Bransons of Kansas were backers of old John Brown Osawatomie.

Lecture. Sargent Campbell of the 38th Illinois infantry, is in the city and will deliver a lecture and give panoramic scenes of the late war, under the auspices of Company B., O. N. G., Saturday night, January 13th, at Reed's opera house. He comes highly recommended by the G. A. R. Admission 25 cents, adults. Children, under 15 years, 10 cents. 1-11 St.

Populists Provoked. The Populists are seriously provoked at the county court having refused to allow them a judge of election at each polling place in this county. Some of the leaders say they will try to make a court case of it.

The Potato Case.

Judge Edes' court was crowded all the forenoon in the trial of E. A. Payne, the partner of W. N. Parker. Parker is bound over on another charge, and will not be tried for this. Mrs. Parker witnessed the whole proceeding.

Larceny by bailee was the charge and the question was whether the Withers sold the potatoes to Parker or Payne.

S. T. Richardson assisted A. O. Condit in the prosecution. Kaiser & Hayden defended the case vigorously. They introduced defendant and Kerr.

Judge Edes reserved his decision until Friday at 10 a. m. Mr. Kerr, of Richey, Robert & Kerr, the Portland commission house to which the potatoes were consigned, was crowded pretty hard by Attorney Richardson, and took exception to the cross-examination, but he finally quieted down.

Keeley League.

At the first regular meeting of the Keeley League for 1894, the following officers were elected: President, Walt D. Pugh; vice pres., Ed. N. Eley; secretary, Geo. W. Armstrong; treas., W. H. Beach. The boys are taking a great interest in the work of the order. It was decided by ballot to take in associate members. The various committees were appointed under the rules of the National League, to wit: committee on entertainment, employment, library and care fund. The next meeting is Jan. 17. All graduates requested to be present.

Good For Wilko.

Frederick Wilko, who was assisted to get work through the JOURNAL last winter, has been living at the poor farm for some time. He was formerly a Lutheran minister and school teacher, and a well educated German. He received a letter from Pierce, Nebraska, yesterday, offering him a position as teacher in the parochial school on a small salary. Mr. Wilko was overjoyed at the prospect of again becoming an honorable member of society, and J. B. Stump of the Board of Charities, is seeking to help him off.

Reed Mad.

A serious mistake occurred in THE JOURNAL yesterday. Reed advertised colored veillings at ten cents a yard. The type made it fifty cents. The fifteen ladies connected with this office are all going to wear Reed's ten cent veilling to keep him from killing two or three proof readers and the advertising solicitor.

Shipping Hedge Plants.

W. H. Millhollen, proprietor of the Orleans Nurseries, at Oakville, has 140,000 Orange orange plants, ready for shipment to the Oregon Hedge Co., at Salem. The plants will be used in the construction of their patent system of "Oregon hedge fences," which they are planting in this state.

U. B. Revival.

The United Brethren Mission chapel is crowded every night at the revival services, conducted by that bouncing expounder of the gospel, Elder Barclay.

Another Postmaster.

Report has it that the name of Ex Gov. Chadwick is also before the administration for consideration in connection with the Salem postoffice.

A Mrs. Palmer, of Boston, who went to South Dakota to obtain a divorce from her brute of a husband, was astonished that the judge in Sioux Falls refused to accept the fact that Mr. Palmer when he came home late at night would walk up stairs with boots on as an evidence of cruelty meriting a divorce. Mrs. Palmer ought to go back to Boston and feel thankful that Mr. Palmer takes his boots off before he gets into bed, even if he does not take them off at the bottom of the stairs.

The flunkysiam, extravagance and corruption prevailing in politics at Washington, received a severe rebuke at the hands of Governor McKinley by his insisting on an inexpensive and unostentatious inauguration. In courteous recognition of the fact that his political opponents were assisting in doing him honor, the governor totally abstained from any partisan references in his inaugural address, confining himself entirely to the condition of the state, to an expression of pride in rapid growth and achievements, to the promise to give his best energies for her further advancement, and to cooperate with the legislature in the enactment of laws to that end. He also made a plea in behalf of the workmen thrown out of employment by the hard times.

Bravest Deed of the War.

An act of heroism is related by Colonel Higginson, of Dr. Minor, at one time mayor of Seattle as follows:

I am asked to record the bravest thing done, within my immediate knowledge, in the civil war. On mature reflection, passing by some half-breath escapes, I should award the palm to something done by a young assistant surgeon of mine, not quite 21 years old, Dr. Thomas T. Minor, then of Hartford, Conn. It was at an exceedingly convivial supper party of officers, at Beaufort, S. C., to which a few of my younger subalterns had been invited. I saw them go with some regret, since whiskey was rarely used in my regiment, and I had reason to think that it would circulate pretty freely at this entertainment. About Dr. Minor I had no solicitude, for he never drank it. Later, I heard from some of the other officers present what had happened.

They sat late and the fun grew fast and furious, the songs sung becoming gradually of that class which Thackeray's Colonel Newcome did not approve. Some of the guests tried to get away, but could not, and those who attempted it were required to furnish in each case a song, a story or a toast. Minor was called upon for his share, and there was a little hush as he rose up. He had a singularly pure and boyish face and his manliness of character was known to all. He said: "Gentlemen, I cannot give you a song or a story, but I will offer a toast, which I will drink in water, and you shall drink as you please. That toast is 'Our Mothers.'"

Of course an atom of priggishness or self-consciousness would have spoiled the whole suggestion. No such quality was visible. The shot told, the party quieted down from that moment and soon broke up. The next morning no less than three officers from different regiments rode out to my camp, all men older than Dr. Minor and of higher rank, to thank him for the simplicity and courage of his rebuke. It was from them I first learned what had happened. Any one who has had much to do with young men will admit, I think, that it cost more courage to do what he did than to ride up to the cannon's mouth.

It may interest some readers to know that this young surgeon, after the war, had charge of two different military hospitals on the Pacific coast; that he finally became mayor of Seattle; and that, when he was accidentally drowned on a hunting trip, 10,000 people—the newspapers said—walked in procession at his funeral.

"Woman's Suffer-ago." Was what a witty woman called that period of life which all middle-aged pass through, and during which so many seem to think they must suffer that Nature intended it so. The same lady added: "If you don't believe it, 'woman's suffer-ago' there is one ballot which will effectually defeat it, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." This is true not only in middle life, but in all ages when women suffer from uterine diseases, painful irregularities, inflammation, ulceration or prolapsus, the "Favorite Prescription" so strengthens the weak or diseased organs and enriches the blood, that years of health and enjoyment are added to life.

An earthquake shock was felt at North Yakima a few days since, and the inhabitants were terribly alarmed for a short time.

GROVER, THE ROVER.

(Air: "O'Brien and His High Water Pants.") Oh, my name it is Grover, the Rover. In Buffalo I released my raven; I'm a Democrat—Alpha, Omega—And doing my people up brown.

I shoot snipe down at Hog Island, or ducks and geese at the bay; What care I though people are starving, so long as I'm sure of my pay.

Oh! they tell me "Go over to Sandwich," And there to enquire my dear Lil; Shoot snipe or hunt ducks at Hog Island, Go fishing and bring in my bill.

I went last fall to the caucus Along with the Democrats gay; We there pledged to tinier the tariff, So the devil will have it to pay.

Raw material shall go on the free list, and whisky shall likewise be free; The farmers and laborers will bankrupt, And drink to their health in our glee.

In Oregon Governor Penoyer Warned me of the danger so near; Told me how it should all be avoided And our debts could be paid without fear. But I heeded him not in his pleading, And blight is upon every hand;

Staring women and children were reading While poverty stalks through the land. CHORUS.

Next election I'm going to travel With Barnum or Best Nancy Hanks; My people are all dead or dying, So the only man left in the ranks. So to knot for the flaming posters, The stuff of Propher is sure to eat; A Democrat will be the attraction, And draw mighty crowds to the show.

Kind people this moral I leave you, Though morally I may be wrong; For the surplus has long since departed, 'Twas soon gobbled up by my throng; But I promised the same when elected, To my prom see for once I was true; So please don't be sad and dejected, It fits and I put on the shoe.

Oh! they tell me "Go over to Sandwich," And there to enquire my dear Lil; Shoot snipe or hunt ducks at Hog Island, And never come home with my bill. —HILMER M. COOK, McMinnville, Or., Jan. 10.

Where Their Wealth Came From. The New York Sun has been investigating the Four Hundred and prints a number of receipts bills of the last century showing that a Stayvessant sold handkerchiefs; a DePyster, beans; a Rhineland, hats; a Brovoort, pewter spoons; a Beekman molasses, and a Roosevelt, lamplack; their plutocratic descendants may not like it, says the Atlantic Constitution, but if the old pioneers were honest traders there is nothing to be ashamed of in their record.
