STICK TO AMERICAN DOCTRINE.

Enthusiastic Democrats are sounding through their newspaper organs the praises of free trade in wool. One of the arguments relied upon by them as having great weight, is the statement that two or three woolen mills in California were obliged to go out of business because there was a duty on Australian wool, which made it so dear that they could not afford to mix it with other wool as required by the demands of commerce. These organs at the same time shed tears over the white men and women thus thrown out of employment under the baleful rule of protection.

As a matter of fact, a large majority of persons thrown out of employment by the closing of the woolen mills were Chinese. Hence, those Democratic tears for rich syndicates are shed in vain. There are no tears in stock for the poor farmers and sheepherders all over the United States, whose means of subsistence will be cut off if Australian and French wools should be admitted free of duty.

The closing of all the woolen mills in California would not throw one white man out of employment to 100 who would be thrown upon the world under the proposed rule of free wool.

The American doctrine of the "greatest good to the greatest number" is having a hard time of it in the Democratic congress.—Sacramento Bee.

EASTERN AND WESTERN PAPERS.

The New York Tribune and Chicago Inter-Ocean offer to club their weekly editions with the JOURNAL at 25 cts. a year. It is intimated that in order to conduct a vigorous tariff campaign this low price is made to the Oregon newspapers. The New York Tribune contract has this clause:

"The Weekly Tribune at 25 cts. per year, used as a premium with other papers, has proved a splendid success for all concerned.

"If you desire to try it for six months, kindly execute enclosed contract, without alteration, offering both papers for the price of your own, or for 25 cts. additional."

The contract provides that a two column advertisement be given to the Tribune for six months, copy to be furnished by them and advertisment to be paid for by the papers we club. Thus they would really supply the papers for nothing. People of Oregon have no interest in circulating these big metropolitan papers under such circumstances. They are to say the least suspicious. They are to promulgate eastern tariff and finance ideas, contrary to western interests.

ATTENDING TO BUSINESS.

If Governor Pennoyer were attending to his business and protecting the people of this state against the boodling populist officals of Multnomah county, who have got away with nearly a half million of public funds, there would not be necessary a committee of 100 taxpayers. But his time is all taken up writing letters to Cleveland telling him how to conduct the office of president, His main occupation in the Governor's office is reading letters he receives from cranks and lunatics all over the nation who are captivated by his advertising methods, but do not know the real character of the man, nor his political methods, which to say the least are entirely selfish.

A CORRECTION.

ED. JOURNAL. — Last week you stated W. J., and J. H. Foster had brought two bear scalps and got three dollars apiece for them, and that was about all the way the mountaineers had of getting money. Please correct and say if we had to depend on that for money we would never see any; the county gives paper.

[The correction is proper. Mr. Foster must have some way of getting money, as he remitted a silver half dollar and will receive THE ONE CENT DAILY at Gates P. O., for sixty days.

SCRIPTURE FOR THE OREGON PACIFIC.

It is probably as profitable to quote scripture to a soulless corporation as to sing psalms to a dead horse. But here is a text from the book of Psalms in the Bible that is worth considering in view of the hundreds of poor families on the line of the road:

"For the needy shall not always be "forgotten; the expectation of the poor "shall not perish forever.

"When he maketh inquisition for "blood, he remembereth them; he forgeteth not the cry of the humble.

"The wicked shall be turned into "hell and all that orget God."

HELPING THE PEOPLE (?)

Murphy's circular as chairman of the Democratic central committee in 1892, "Help Cleveland by voting for Weaver electors" caught the Oregon Populists and was a success. They have got their pay as well as Murphy. The latter got a fat office. The former are living on Salvation Army soup at Portland. The country got silver coinage repealed first, and $50,000,000 gold bonds issued second, as a result of the fusion between Rorer and Grover. Hurrah! Rork for congress and Pennoyer for the senate, and the country will be saved

What Cured Him.

Disturbed, disturbed; with pain oppressed
No sleep, no rest, what dread ful test
Can be for one restrained from
Dyspepsia all night, all day.
It really seemed had come to stay;
But, I guess you, in a word cured him?

It was Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That is the great cure for Headche, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Kidney Disease, Liver Compliant and General Debility. An inactive Liver means poisoned blood; Kidney disorder means poisoned blood; Constipation means poisoned blood. The great antidote for impure blood is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Acting directly upon the affected organs, restores them to their normal conditions. The "Discovery" is guaranteed to benefit or cure in all cases of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

Transformation of Japan.

Their railways, of which 1,750 miles are now open, are well constructed and well regulated, and the first homemade locomotive was built in Japan last January. The post and telegraph system leaves nothing to be desired. The Nippon Yusen Kuisha (Japanese Steamship company), which owns 47 ships running to Chinese and other ports and carries a large trade, now intends to enlarge its operations by starting a first class line for passengers and cargo to Sydney and Melbourne. As the present service is excellent and the accommodation good there is every reason to anticipate success for this new development. Coal mines are being rapidly opened up, and the production of iron is steadily increasing. The manufacture of cotton fabrics is sixfold what it was eight years ago, and cheap labor enables Japan to be a formidable competitor with England in the markets of the east.—Countess of Jersey in United Service Magazine.

Boston's Bells.

Miss Charlotte W. Hawes, the musical composer, is making an effort to have the noted bells of Boston put in order and rung in the interest of the musical education of the people. The chime of bells in the tower of Christ church, Salem street, is a fine one and was presented to the church by the citizens of London in 1744. These bells were formerly rung in the old English fashion, and when General Lafayette visited Boston in 1824 the city had the bells put in order, and they rang out a royal musical welcome to the noted Frenchman. They were rung by eight old bellringers for some years after this event; then the old method was abandoned, and the plan of one man ringing the tune over was adopted. Miss Hawes has undertaken the revival of the old English fashion of bell ringing, such as prevails in London. Miss Hawes is assisted in her patriotic work by many leading residents of Boston.—Boston Advertiser.

She Got a Pass.

Mayor Joe Rhinock of Covington the other evening related to his friends an amusing adventure of the day before. A colored woman, burdened with a lusty, squalling baby, called at his office.

"Am dis de mayor?" she wanted to know.

"It am," responded the chief executive.

"Den jest you sit down and write me a pass to Pruitts, Ky," she ordered, without any palpable waste of words.

His honor explained that this was not one of his prerogatives and that her request would have to be laid before the chairman of the council relief committee.

"It does, eh?" asked madam. "I'ze got to catch dat 2 o'clock train. Gimme dat pass, or I leave de baby!" She made a motion to drop the pickaninny into Mr. Rhinock's lap. That settled the argument. She got the pass.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

New Danger In Cards.

The London Globe says that the microbe threatens the enjoyment if not the very existence of many old customs and pastimes, for instance, card playing. Dr. Rappin, a distinguished specialist of Nantes, is investigating the bacteriology of cards. Working on cards played by patients (consumptive and other) at the hospital of Nantes, he found no less than 6,160 bacteria on a square centimeter of the card, most of which were the potato bacillus. On cards used in public cafes and in private families he has found the staphylococcus pyogenes aureus, one of the agents in suppuration. He recommends people to be careful of contamination when playing cards, especially with consumptive persons.—London Globe.

Lady Lytton.

Among the most able lady journalists of the day in London is Lady Constance Lytton. She inherits her literary qualities, as her father was the late earl of Lytton, formerly viceroy of India, and afterward English embassador in Paris. It seems the young lady, who is only 25 years old, was editor of the amateur newspaper which the earl started in his family for their amusement and for amateurs. She has rapidly developed into a professional journalist of high qualifications.—Liverpool Mercury.

Ireland and Irish Banks.

So far as playing a helpful part in the employment of Irish resources and the development of Irish production, trade and commerce are concerned, the banks of Ireland might almost as well be in Mexico. Irish banks in practice exist for the purpose of getting together Irish money and sending it away for investment elsewhere. Of the Bank of Ireland's £12,000,000 of capital, over £10,000,000 are in the use of the government outside of Ireland.

There is always Irish money forthcoming for harebrained gambling ventures in the Argentine or at the cape, or for dubious schemes somewhat nearer the center of English finance. It is only when a question of utilizing a little of this money in Ireland is raised that a conservative chill benumbs the processes of Irish banking. Then you encounter the most mercilessly vigilant caution, the most rigid insistence upon a surplus of security. In effect, no man can get money from an Irish bank for Irish industrial or commercial purposes unless he can prove that he does not need it. To grant a loan on prospective profits, to lend upon mercantile security, is unheard of.—Fortnightly Review.

Love's Winning Ways.

In order to soften the heart of an offended lover an Austrian maiden has had herself photographed in a coffin dressed in grave clothes. So far from the device being successful it has driven her young man out of his mind, and indeed it strikes one that she might have rendered herself more attractive. This is not, however, always the object of a photograph.

There is a story of a young gentleman who distorted his features so horribly while his portrait was being taken that he frightened the operator. "You are not a criminal," he remonstrated, "compelled to be photographed by the police and anxious to avoid identification, are you?" "No," said the other, "but I want to get off my engagement with Mary Ann. I've told her I am still hers if she wishes it, but I've had a railway accident which has rather blemished me." "Very good. When she gets this you will be a free man," said the photographer. — London Illustrated News.

A Use For Everything.

What is rubbish today is an article of commerce tomorrow. Time was when 40 per cent of a beef steer ran off into the sewer. Today the steer is driven into the abattoir and goes out as beef, blood sausage, oleomargarine, bone dust, hides, hair, horn and fertilizer. Corncobs, once thrown into the muck heap, are now made into pipes. Cottonseed, except what was necessary for replanting, was spread on the soil. Today cottonseed brings the planter almost as much as his cotton. The lint that surrounds the berry is pulled and made into shoddy; the oil from the seed is made up into a hundred shapes, and now a genius who was experimenting with oil to make a varnish for pictures discovered that it can be converted, with the addition of 18 per cent of crude india rubber, into an imitation of rubber which can in no way be distinguished from the product of the trees of the Amazon valley.—Exchange.

A Lawyer's Misgivings.

"A lawyer has some queer experiences," remarked Judge Kohn as he leaned back in his chair while waiting for the jury to agree upon a verdict. "Now, some years ago I was defending a case where my client was charged with stealing $7,000 and a pair of diamond cuff buttons. Was he guilty?" Then Mr. Kohn laughed and there was a twinkle in his eye. "In any event," he continued, "the case was tried, and after a desperate legal struggle I secured my client's acquittal. His innocence was clearly established. A few days after the trial, however, the man whose character I had proved to be as white as snow went to the prosecuting witness and gave up the diamond cuff buttons. How they came into his possession I am not prepared to say, but it was certainly a strange case."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Why No Record Was Made.

Patrick—Yes, sor; some say it war an Oytalian thot discovered Ameriky, and some say a Chonyman, and some say wan an some say another, but iverybody in ould Oirland knows it war an Oirishman that first discovered Ameriky.

Bystander—The Chinese claim to have a written record of the voyage of their discoverer. Is there any record of your Irish discoverer?

Patrick—No, sor. He knew if he said he'd found a country wid no Oirishmen in it no wan would believe him, so he kept quiet.—New York World.
