The Tariff Fight in the Senate.

QUAY A FREE SILVER MAN.

State Bank Tax Repeal Bill Is Defeated.

SUMMARY OF VOTE IN CONGRESS.

On Final Passage of the Wilson Bill.

Quay and Peffer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In considering the Wilson bill Senator Quay presented an amendment embodying several new sections. They provide for free coinage of silver, and for the purchase of 145,000 ounces monthly and the issue of treasury notes in payment therefor, and repeal all existing laws for the issue of bonds. Peffer's resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate how many bids were received for bonds and from whom, came up for consideration.

Senate Against Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The senate debated the whole day session on the resolutions denying the authority of the secretary of the treasury to issue bonds. The principal speakers were Senators Stewart (rep. Nev.), Dolph (rep. Or.), and Allison (rep. Ia.) None of the Democratic senators appeared in the debate except occasionally to ask a question or make a suggestion. All the Republican speakers denied the authority to issue bonds for the purpose of meeting current expenses, and Mr. Dolph denounced the claim of right, under the resumption act as a bold usurpation and as a case of false pretensions. His own plan to replenish the treasury would be to denounce that there would be no tampering with the tariff and no free trade legislation. At the close of the debate the resolution went over till today when Senator Vilas (dem. Wis.) is to speak on it. There were two other resolutions on the same subject offered today by the Populist senators from Nebraska and Kansas, Allen and Peffer. These will also come up today.

After some discussion Sherman withdrew opposition and the resolution was adopted.

The Gold Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The total bond subscriptions received up to noon today is $58,002,250. The secretary may begin the work of allotting bonds this afternoon.

STATE BANK TAX.

The effort to repeal the tax on state bank circulation was beaten in the committee on banking today, 8 to 9.

The vote taken on Cox's bill, which relieves the state banks from tax but does not extend to circulating notes issued by private individuals or corporations.

THE TARIFF BILL.

The engrossed copy of the tariff bill is being compared by the house clerk. It is expected to be transmitted to the senate this afternoon, where Voorhees will probably ask it to be referred to the finance committee.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb. 2.—Catchings from committee on rules reported a rule, setting aside today, Saturday and Monday for the consideration of the McCreey Hawaiian resolution, vote to be taken at 4 p. m. Monday. Minority report to be taken up. McCreey then opened the Hawaiian debate. The subject appeared to have little interest for the house and few members remained.

Russian Thistle.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Hansbrough, of Dakota, succeeded in having the senate committee on agriculture favorably report his bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the extermination of the Russian thistle, although George, chairman of the committee, dissented.

Stagg's Resignation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Controller Eckels has decided to accept the resignation of Lionel Stagg as receiver of the Oregon National. No Portland man will be appointed receiver.

The Closing Debate and Vote.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—It was found the income tax could not be voted upon as a separate proposition, the speaker deciding in accordance with a precedent, which he cited, that the internal revenue amendment having been reported as single amendment could not be divided; the vote therefore was upon the entire rejection of the internal revenue amendment. The Republicans, with few exceptions, refused to vote, but the amendment including the income tax was adopted, 182 to 50, the Populists voting in the affirmative, as did the following Republicans: Bowers, Fletcher, Hartman, Marshal, Pickler, White, and Sweet of Idaho. Those who voted against the amendment were: Babcock, Bartlett, Beltzhoover, Brawley, Brosius, Cadmus, Campbell, Cansey, Clancy, Cockran, Compton, Coombs, Cornish, Covert, Cummings, Davey, DeForest, Dunn, Dunphy, English, Everett, Fielder, Geissenhainer, Haines, Harter, Hendrix, Lapham, Lockwood, Magnor, McAleer, McCall, McKaig, Myers, Moore, Mutchler, O'Neill, Page, Powers, Price, Raynor, Reilly, Rusk, Ryan, Schermerhorn, Scranton, Sickles, Sperry, Steyens, Talbot, Warner and Wolverton. Some cheering greeted the announcement of the vote.

The bill was engrossed and read a third time, the last stage in passage of the bill having been reached, when Covert, Democrat of New York, standing in the center aisle, moved to recommit the bill to the committee with instructions to report back with such amendments as will provide by duties levied on imports for such an additional revenue as may be necessary to support the government economically administered. Upon that motion, Cockran demanded the ayes and nays, but only 38 Democrats rose to a second demand, (principally those who had voted against the Louisiana sugar men) but not a sufficient number. The motion to recommit was then defeated on a rising vote of 103 to 177. Then came the final vote on the tariff bill itself, on which the aye and nay vote was asked and granted by rising vote. Roll call was watched with marked attention and frequent bursts of applause greeted the accessions to one side or the other. Beltzhoover was first to win applause by an aye vote, indicating that the Pennsylvanians were falling into line. Immediately after this, Blanchard of Louisiana, showed that opposition to bill was not intact. Cochran's vote in favor of the bill brought out tumultuous cheering and the climax of demonstration was reached when the name of Wilson, the author of the bill was reached, the Democrats cheering vociferously in final recognition of his leadership. The speaker asked that his name be called and answered in the affirmative. Then the speaker announced "on this question the ayes are 204 and nays 140," and the bill passed.

The Tariff Vote.

An analysis of the vote on the Wilson bill shows the following:

	For.	Against.
Democrats	196	19
Republicans	0	120
Populists	8	1
Total	204	140

National Finances.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The public debt statement shows a net increase of the debt, less cash in the treasury during January of $7,830,004. There was a decrease in the cash balance in the treasury of $6,293,455. The interest bearing debt is $585,040,000. The total debt is $965,142,525. The government receipts from all sources during the month were $24,082,738 and the expenditures $31,809,695. The receipts for the seven months of the fiscal year were $175,798,153, expenditures $220,686,478, leaving a deficiency of $44,888,297.

At Secretary Carlisle's upset price the gold received for new bonds will exceed $59,000,000. The gold reserve today is in round numbers, $95,000,000 and if the bonds were paid for today in gold at $59,000,000, the total reserve would be $123,000,000 or 23,000,000,000 more than is regarded as the customary limit.

The Louisiana Sale.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—The captain of the American ship Aryan, which arrived this morning 142 days from Baltimore with a cargo of coal, reports that three days ago he sighted the ship Louisiana, now out 208 days from New York. The Louisiana was then about 700 miles off shore. Reinsurance of 35 per cent has recently been paid on her, as grave fears were entertained for her safety.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 2.—The coal mines about Bellire, on the Ohio river are closed by a strike and over 2,000 people are out of employment.

The Hawaiian Celebration.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—(Correspondence of Associated Press via brig W. G. Irwin, Honolulu, Jan. 17.) The people have prepared for a great celebration of the anniversary of the establishment of the provisional government, which occurred one year ago today.

Notice of this celebration was sent to the United States legation by the provisional government, asking that recognition be accorded it and that salutes be fired from United States war ships in port. Willis, in reply, declined to take any part in such a celebration, on the part of the United States. This answer caused much indignation in government circles, as every preparation is now complete for the celebration to be continued throughout the day, and the mass meeting to be held at Union square this evening, a number of prominent speakers will deliver addresses. Chief among these will be a speech by Walter G. Smith, leader of the American league and party of Hawaii. Smith will call attention to the fact that on the 17th of January, 1789, the French people beheaded a despotic king, and one hundred years from that day, here in Hawaii, the last independent sovereign on the western hemisphere, lost her throne.

Minister Willis' Latest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The president today transmitted to congress a dispatch received from Minister Willis last Saturday. The letter from President Dole is not included for lack of time to transcribe it, after Willis received it. Willis' dispatch is dated at Honolulu, January 12th. It says: "Yesterday at 6:30 p. m. I received Hon. S. A. Dole's answer to my letter of January 1st, requesting him at his earliest convenience to give me specifications contained in his prior letter. His answer is about 50 pages of closely written official paper and has been delivered too late either to copy or reply to in time for steamer leaving at 2 p. m. today."

"There is one extract however to which I think your attention should be called wherein it is stated: 'This government has been and now is subjected to the necessity of increased watchfulness and large additional expense which, but for such attitude, would have been unnecessary.'"

"In a previous letter, December 27th, Minister Dole had stated: 'The government offices have been placed and still continue in a condition of defense and preparation for siege and the community has been put into a state of mind bordering on terrorism.'"

"Some portions of letters from which these extracts are made confirm the above statement, while others seem to negate them. With this explanation I submit them to your consideration. The next steamer leaves here February third, which would place you in possession of Dole's letter and my purposed reply thereto about February 18th."

The Panama Scandal.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—L'Intransigent says Dr. Herz is printing three volumes of letters received from prominent politicians in regard to the Panama canal affair. It says ex-Premier Dupuy is implicated through having solicited favors for his colleagues. Herz is said to hold a large number of checks from which the recipients of the money can be identified. Some of the documents are said to have been sent to Chicago, whence they have been returned. Roebefort is said to have seen a telegram from Bournemouth, from a representative of an English newspaper stating he had arranged a compromise of the Reinach family civil suits which will be dropped if there is no exposure. The civil suit against Herz was brought by the liquidation of the estate of the late Baron Reinach, who committed suicide to escape exposure. The liquidator claims Herz obtained large sums illegally from Reinach, and has brought suit to recover.

A British Captain's Story.

LISBON, Feb. 2.—The British steamer Trent from Buenos Ayres, via Rio Janeiro, from which port she sailed January 11, has arrived here. Among her passengers was Captain Wm. L. Lang, who is proceeding to England on leave of absence. Captain Lang was the senior British naval officer at Rio Janeiro. He was interviewed by the representative of the United Press and said the insurgents had plenty of money resources, while Peixoto's funds were low. Admiral Da Gama, Captain Lang added, was the mainstay of the insurgents. He was well backed by the navy and general sympathy with him is expressed on shore. The insurgents captured the islands of Conceicao and Moncaogue on January 10. These positions, he added, commanded Niteroy. Should that place be taken the insurrection would end, it being the key to the whole situation.

Rebels Take Niteroy.

BUNOS AYRES, Feb. 2.—It is reported here that Niteroy, which has long been the object of the main attack by the rebels at Rio Janeiro, has yielded and has been occupied by the insurgent forces. It is also reported the government troops there joined the rebels.

By Way of New Zealand.

AUCKLAND.—The steamship Mariposa, arrived from Hawaii, bringing news to January 20th. When the Mariposa left, Hawaiian people were restlessly awaiting the decision of the United States congress.

FROM FULLERTON'S COURT.

An Unheard of Proceeding in an Assignment Case.

CORVALLIS, Feb. 2.—(Special) In the circuit court here yesterday: The case of Benton county vs. J. R. Bryson, assignee of Hamilton, Job & Co., consumed the afternoon and evening sessions. It was argued, on demurrer, submitted and taken under advisement by the court.

In the matter of Hamilton, Job & Co.'s assignment, argument is being heard today upon objections made by Ladd & Tilton to claims and off-sets of certain creditors.

The assignee of S. N. Wilkins, F. M. Johnson, today began suit against the sheriff to recover possession of the stock of goods heretofore assigned. The sheriff is holding possession under a writ of attachment instituted by H. L. Sabin representing Portland creditors. This is an unheard of proceeding, as under our statute, an assignment of the benefit of all creditors, dissolves the attachment.

A BULLET WILL DECIDE.

Fate of a Life Insurance Case Turns Upon Its Identity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—The McWhirtler case seems at present to turn upon the identity of the seventh bullet. L. P. Reel testified that the bullet, which was found in a sack, struck the fence diagonally instead of horizontally, contradictory of all previous testimony. He added that the bullet was a very old one. Asked how he could positively testify to the state of the bullet he answered that he saw fly specks on it. Shows a book he was unable to read it owing to defective sight. W. H. Bear was placed on the stand to prove that one of the pistols found in McWhirtler's yard was part of a consignment said in this city, one of which was subsequently sold when McWhirtler was in town. The court sustained the objection to the question.

ALL ACTION POSTPONED.

According to our dispatches yesterday all further proceedings in Judge Fullerton's court on Oregon Pacific matters are put off to April 9th. Feb. 1st was the day set by the court to order a new sale. Ten days before that time THE JOURNAL began a daily investigation of Oregon Pacific affairs with a view to forcing a more honest line of action. It was necessary to tell some plain truths in a plain way and that always hurts. But the truth can hurt none but villains and those who cry out the loudest always have most cause to fear exposure. If we have forced all those responsibilities for the mismanagement of this property into their true relation before the public and their real and true relation to that property we have accomplished our purpose for the present.

THE JOURNAL has engaged a competent man at Corvallis to send us all the facts and information that can be had about O. P. matters and the people will get all the news in these columns.
