Hawaiian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—The Hawaiian debate was resumed by Morse, Republican of Massachusetts, who had five minutes, but before he proceeded one, Outhwaite, Democrat of Ohio, called him to order for unparliamentary language. The language to which Outhwaite objected was as follows: "Strange to tell, at command of their master, the Great Grover Cleveland, his cuckoos in the house and senate, staunch southern Democrats, who are the loudest shouters for a white man's government, disregard all their ancient traditions about the white man's supremacy and white man's government." The speaker ruled that the language was unparliamentary. Meanwhile Morse's time had expired.

Debate in Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—McGann, Democrat of Illinois, tried to secure unanimous consent in the house for consideration of a resolution to investigate the action of Judge Jenkins in the Northern Pacific railroad case, the employes which road he had enjoined from striking, but objection was made.

Federal Election Law.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—It is believed the bill repealing the federal election laws will be passed by the senate Tuesday, as it has already passed the house and as there is no fear of executive opposition it is highly probable it will become a law.

SILVER THIS WEEK.

Bland Reports the Bill to Coin the Treasury's Seigniorage.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The silver question is again presented to the house. Stone of Pennsylvania has presented an adverse report from the minority of the committee. The majority report says: "The measure provides for the issue of silver certificates in amounts equal to the gain or seigniorage that may accrue on the coinage of the silver bullion now in the treasury and purchased under the Sherman act of July, 1890. This seigniorage is stated, by Secretary Carlisle, to be $55,156,891. The object of the bill is to make immediately available for the current expenses of the government silver certificates of this amount. The certificates are authorized to be issued on the bullion in advance of the coinage, should the exigencies of the treasury require it. It is not likely, however, that this will be necessary, since the bullion may be coined at the rate of $8,000,000 or $10,000,000 per month if necessary. There is no question at all that the coinage can be executed, far beyond any probability whatever of the demand for the redemption of the certificates in silver dollars. The bill in no respect, alters the final result that would be obtained by the execution of the law of 1890 authorizing the purchase and disposition of the bullion bought under it. It is clear that the bullion was dedicated to the redemption of the treasury notes issued in the purchase of the bullion in the coinage of the bullion for such redemption, and the law itself provides for the payment of any gain or seigniorage in the treasury. The bill does not change the terms of the law in this respect, but simply hastens its execution. This view of the law is held by the secretary of the treasury and is so stated in his annual report. The law is plain that no notes shall remain outstanding beyond the amount of dollars coined from the bullion held for the redemption of the notes and cost price of the bullion." According to Bland's plans the silver question will be taken up Tuesday. Bland expects the debate on the seigniorage bill will last two days, so that the final vote can be taken Wednesday afternoon. Bland said today:

"There is no doubt of the passage of the bill. The feeling is far different now from that at the time of the repeal of the Sherman act. If the repeal bill were heard today it would be likely to pass. Many gentlemen have heard from their constituents since then. I expect the bill to pass by Wednesday night." Stone, who wrote the bill is preparing for a sharp contest beginning Tuesday.

Harrison out of the Race.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 5.—The secret of the visit to Columbus of J. C. Gowdy, chairman of the Indiana Republican state executive committee, is out. Chairman Gowdy was an accredited messenger from ex-President Harrison and he carried with him assurance of good will and substantial aid in the governor's coming flight for the presidential nomination, two years hence. Harrison does not want the nomination and would not accept it, and so he has informed Governor McKinley that since his great bereavement he has no ambition except to live a useful and dignified life, devoted to his profession and his studies, and furthermore, he believes he could not survive the worry and work of another campaign and term as president.

HULL, Tex., Feb. 5.—Explorer Jackson has arrived here after a short exploration of Waigatz island, in the Arctic ocean, 800 miles north of Trondjhe. He said he intends to proceed to Franz Joseph Land in July and push northward, leaving food depots at convenient distances behind, in order to admit of his retreat. He is of the opinion that in proceeding from Franz Joseph Land he will encounter a huge continent. He expects to be absent four years.

Oregon Pacific News.

CORVALLIS, Feb. 5.—Special.—In the circuit court in the matter of the Hamilton, Job & Co. assignment, the assignee, J. R. Bryson, was directed to pay a dividend of 10 per cent. This means a distribution of about $22,000 among creditors of the defunct bank.

Circuit court has adjourned to sit again on the 2nd of March, at which time the Oregon Pacific sale will again be considered, but it is the impression among the legal fraternity that the sale will not be ordered to take place earlier than June. Any sale made sooner it is thought, will result as the sale of December 15th. It is rumored that by that time the Hogg faction will be in a position to bid upon the properties.

JUDGE FULLERTON'S DEFENSE

In the Matter of the Oregon Pacific Attorney Fees.

A FORMER SUP'T'S. STATEMENT.

Discusses Mr. Bingham's Source of Information.

FULLERTON DENIES THE CHARGES.

We have received the following letter from Judge Fullerton, dated at Roseburg, Or., Jan. 27, 1894.

"In the State Journal of Jan. 27th I find an article headed, 'The Oregon Pacific and Judge Fullerton.' This was called out by something in the CAPITAL JOURNAL a few days prior.

"The facts are that the article in the Salem paper as it refers to me, is untrue and unjust. I have not allowed any extravagant attorneys fee. I have only allowed, during the year and a half that I have had charge of the Oregon Pacific matter as judge of the court, $2,000 as fees to attorneys and the further sum of $1,000 on account of expenses of attorneys. The receiver did allow his attorneys something more in addition on account of expenses, but it was not allowed on order of the court and his accounts have not been approved by the court.

"These are the simple facts in the case, and if you feel like giving the same to the public I would be glad to have you do so."—Eugene Journal.

Receiver Hadley allowed and paid Gest & Fay in all about $7,000, only $2,000 of which was ordered by the court. Being allowed by the receiver and already paid out of the receipts of the road, how can it be recovered? It is gone and will have to be ordered paid. So with the bills for attorney fees that will be put in by McFadden, and by Hon. Jo. Simon as referee, and the $10,000 additional claimed by Hadley, and the $48,000 filed with the referee by Fay & Gest. This will make in all $62,000, without Simon's fees as referee, and McFadden's bill yet to come, all contracted under the receivership under Fullerton. As Judge Fullerton did not limit any of these lawyers in advance, but allowed them to serve at their own terms, how will he be able to reject their fee bills? It is the duty of a judge managing a receivership to demand that the payroll of all persons to be paid out of the receipts of the property be first submitted to the court and approved and authorized by the court.

If we are in error about this we would like to have some legal authority correct us in this respect.
