

THE CAPITAL JOURNAL. PUBLISHED DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY, BY THE Capital Journal Publishing Company. HOFFER BROS., - - - Editors.

5,000 OPINIONS WANTED. THE JOURNAL will publish the opinions of five thousand men, or as many more as will express themselves, as to the best way to elect the next United States Senator from Oregon.

THE JOURNAL was last night awarded the contract for the printing of all city advertisements, being the lowest bidder. This makes the JOURNAL the official paper for six months and all legal notices published by authority of the city council or its officials will appear in this paper.

As long as gold and silver are not kept at a parity, silver and wheat will be. It is a noticeable fact that the Salem Young Men's Club has again invited two certain young Salem newspaper men to discuss Governor Penney's record.

"What are the Russian thistles anyway?" asks the Eugene Guard. We have been informed by one who has had experience with them, that they can never become a nuisance in any country where it rains in the late fall and winter.

Reforms must come from the people. When will they get through hoping for reforms at the hands of those who seek office. The man who seeks political office and power seeks it as he pursues any other desired object to be gained, not for the benefit of others.

Chief Justice Marshall once declared that he objected to the United States going into partnership with any private corporation. Yet that is the way the United States is trying to manage the Pacific railroads, and the proposed Nicaragua canal.

180 World's Fair Photos For $1. These beautiful pictures are now ready for delivery in ten complete parts—18 pictures comprising each part—and the whole set can be secured by the payment of one dollar.

Hair Death. Specially improved and forever destroys the scurf which makes the hair fall out. It is a sure cure for itching scalp, dandruff, and all other troubles of the hair.

The Genuine and the Sham. Every good thing has its best of imitations, every genuine article its counterfeit. The imitations always choose the most valuable and popular article to counterfeit, so that when they claim their sham to be equal, or as good, or the same as "do-and-do's," the public may depend upon it that "do-and-do's" article is the best of the kind.

The Painless Man's Job. A man strolled into the office of the United States Express company on Sherman street and asked for work. He said he had not eaten for several days. He wore a clean shirt and looked bright, so the depot agent put him to work sorting freight.

The Painless Man's Job. He tossed the bags to another man a few paces off, who in turn passed them along. As each bag flew from hand to hand an ominous rattle and clink was heard.
