It Is Said That Speaker Crisp Is Ill.

CANNOT PRESIDE IN HOUSE.

Laid Up Like the Author of the Wilson Bill.

THE DEVILISH DEADLOCK CONTINUES.

A Bill to Tax Notes and Bank Currency.

Speaker Crisp Ill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—In the house it was announced that Speaker Crisp is confined to his house with a severe sore throat and cold. He sent a note, appointing Richardson, of Tennessee, speaker pro tem for the day.

EXCITING SCENES CONTINUE.

The galleries are crowded in anticipation of the repetition of the exciting scenes of yesterday. As soon as the journal was read, Adams, of Pennsylvania began clamoring for recognition on the question of personal privilege. He was being tried when the house adjourned yesterday. He yielded, however, to Wells, of Wisconsin, who said he was erroneously reported as voting no on motion to adjourn. He declared that he had taken any part in the proceedings, but said that he would have voted, if at all, to adjourn in order to "put a stop to the disgraceful performance."

ANOTHER TAX BILL.

The sub-committee of the house committee on banking and currency will report to the full committee favorably the bill of Cooper of Indiana to permit states and territories tax United States note and currency.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUSES.

Gorman, chairman of the democratic caucus committee says he thinks caucus on tariff and other matters of party policies be insisted on and that a call for a caucus be issued for Monday morning.

Finally on motion of Bland, the order of arrest was vacated and all congressmen under arrest discharged. The fight on the seigniorage bill was resumed. The vote on Bland's motion to close debate at 5 tomorrow resulted 170 to 8, no quorum. Bland moved a call of house. Bland moved to adjourn. Confusion reigned again for some time.

Bland Roasts the Democrats

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23.—On request of Cummings, Sickles was excused on account of sickness. The speaker declared the pending question of the motion to discharge Adams from custody. Bland moved a substitute to discharge all members under arrest. Reed made the point of order that the amendment is not germane and the question was argued at some length. In the course of the debate Bland denounced the New York delegation in heated words. He was called to order several times by Coombs of New York, amid general uproar.

Bland's speech was sensational in its criticism of disorder which prevailed yesterday. He declared that the men who were obstructing legislation and defying the house were anarchists and revolutionists. They were worse than the criminal who would throw a bomb from the galleries. There were hisses at this which grew louder and culminated in cries of "Shame!"

Bland proceeded in his impassioned utterances. He declared a monarchy had taken possession of the house. The speaker frequently called him to order, and he was finally compelled to take his seat and then to proceed in order. He was applauded in his milder criticisms, but silence followed his more violent utterances. The aisles of the house were choked with members, while he was speaking, and the galleries were crowded.

Democratic Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—A call is circulated for a Democratic caucus on the tariff for Monday at 10 a. m.

The Silver Failure.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The break in silver in London and the consequent drop in prices here is said by dealers of this city to be due to the collapse of the bull movement being manipulated by Indian banking houses, and mercantile firms on the strength of the probable duty on importations to India. The failure of the India council to favor such action and the fear of other changes likely to be made in the financial system of India, has, it is thought, brought on the liquidating movement on the part of the holders of silver, which brought about the heavy fall in prices.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—In Wall street the heavy break in silver bullion is by far the most striking financial incident of the day. As long as the recent market weakens, ascribed to liquidation sales by Bombay speculators, there is reason to believe the lowest price has been seen a week ago, but the London market authorities have plainly been on a false scent, and this week almost for the first time accustomed heavy and sudden increase in production overwhelmed the market. Not the least significant is the known fact that this week's break in silver has been largely caused by cable offers from New York, at prices below the earlier London market. It rests now, perhaps, on the bottom figure, at which large American producers are content to sell for the future price of silver.

Incendiary Work.

FORT WAYNE, IND., Feb. 23.—Early this morning the stores of Vordermark & Bros., shoe dealers, the central telephone exchange, Myers Bros., haters, S. B. Thing & Co., shoe dealers, were burned. It is believed all the fires were incendiary.

Canada's New Canal.

TORONTO, Feb. 23.—The canal scheme to connect Georgian bay with Lake Ontario has passed the committee stages. It has now to go to the council for ratification. If successful the promoters promise to spend $65,000,000 on it. The canal will be diverted to Lake Ontario and through the St. Lawrence river to Europe, a route 839 miles shorter than by the Lake Erie canal. The promoters expect to get all Western traffic.

A Silver Congress.

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—The government commission formed to consider the price of silver held its first sitting. Count Von Posadowsky, secretary of the imperial treasury, presided. Parker, American prospectors, have arrived here and announce that they have discovered a long-lost Spanish mine of fabulous richness in the mountains near the village of Perado, in a remote part of Sierra Madre, by accident. A short distance from the mouth of the mine they found the ruins of an old smelter. Still on the dump are many thousands dollars' worth of ore. The old works were thoroughly explored. The men brought with them samples to be assayed. After completing arrangements for working the old mine on an extensive scale they will return.

acres of land in Chiapas, Southern Mexico. A member of the syndicate, C. H. Durst, sailed for England, where, with the aid of General Booth, plans will be perfected by which 5000 families from England and the United States will be put on the tract, operating under the direction of officers of the Army. The plan is the outcome of General Booth's hope to relieve the congested condition in the city poor districts.

The Fusion Program.

PORTLAND, Feb. 23.—A meeting of the Tammany society of this city and a number of old line democrats was held this afternoon for the purpose of considering and adopting plans of campaign in county and city elections. Speeches were made by a number of gentlemen. Some favored fusion with the Populists, while others were opposed to fusion.

E. H. Flagg, of Salem, said the Democrats of Salem with a large majority of Democrats throughout the state are opposed to fusion with the Populists on the state ticket. They desire to elect a United States senator without damaging the Democratic organization, and they believe the only safe method of accomplishing that end is to nominate a straight state ticket and fuse with Populists to beat the Republican nominees for the legislature in those countries that the Democracy cannot carry in a three cornered fight.

W. D. Fenton attorney for the Southern Pacific, moved for the appointment of a committee of five to make overtures to the Populists, to secure a fusion on a fair basis. The whole matter was finally referred to the state, county and city committees, and is not likely to come up again.

New Light on the Coast.

The lighthouse board has given notice that on or about March 30, 1894, a light of the first order, showing one white flash every minute, will be exhibited from the structure recently completed on the westerly projection of Hecla head, about seven and one-half miles northward of the mouth of the Siuslaw river, Or. The light will illuminate 183 degrees of the horizon, and will therefore be visible from all points along the coast within its geographical range. The focal plane is 210 feet above mean high water, and the light may be seen in clear weather, the observer's eye fifteen feet above the sea, twenty-one miles.

THE COUNTRY'S NEED.

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, in a review of the present situation of our country in the latest number of Harper's Weekly says: "The needs of the country are the opportunity of the Republican party." He also says aptly and truly: "Whenever the country has wasted something done it has turned to the Republican party to do it." In speaking of the elements that formed the Republican party that paper says:

"It was distinctly a combination of antislavery Whigs, antislavery Democrats, and Free-Soilers, who, sinking minor differences, united for a well defined specific purpose. In the first Republican administration the president was a former Whig, the vice-president a former Democrat, and of the members of the cabinet four were former Democrats and three former Whigs. The party before the civil war had indeed more Whigs than Democrats, but the Democratic element was in point of ability and zeal, and also of numbers, an exceedingly important one, and it increased in numerical strength during the war, especially through the accession of Democratic soldiers."

He makes the point that the party was defeated in 1892 by voters who had never known what Democratic supremacy in the nation means. Of these he says:

"They are finding out what tariff reform means when interpreted by a Democratic house. They are discovering the full beauties of Democratic financial management, and they have opportunity to note the differences between Democratic civil service reform in campaign speeches and Democratic civil service reform in action. The elections of 1893 indicated that the impression of Democratic performance up to that time upon the mind of the average voter had not been wholly favorable. Many men had then for the first time the opportunity to make comparisons, and to find out that it was quite possible that even if the Republicans had made mistakes, they might still be in this comparative world better and safer than their opponents."

Our country's need is undoubtedly outlined in the above paragraph, so far as national affairs go. But the thinking Republican will not be controlled by the tariff issue in securing certain "needs" in state affairs. He has never been so controlled in Oregon because he has chosen Democratic state officials repeatedly when the state was strongly Republican. He has some times made mistakes even in so doing. For instance State Treasurer Webb was chosen to bring about certain reforms in the state treasury and in the management of the state school land board. Whatever abuses there were under his predecessors he continued, even when with Governor Penroyer he composed a majority of the board. When the office of attorney general was created the political managers at Portland selected their man to fill the office and had he been elected to that state office in control of all litigation to protect the interests of the state, no doubt many matters would have gone much more to their liking. But the independent Republicans elected Chamberlain attorney general and his course often opposed to Governor Penroyer, who originally appointed him, on all important matters has been in the interest of the people and has not been dictated by the corporations or Portland money-interests. So while Republicans are going to do all in their power to right matters in the affairs of the nation. As Mr. Lodge indicates, a large element in Oregon will reserve the right to exert a wholesome influence upon their state government. In matters of legislation and taxation it is going to require good management and a clear, strong and able ticket to ensure a Republican victory. Because people do not like the Cleveland far-off administration, they are not going to ignore the needs of the state nearer at home.
